Chapter 1241 Let Him Learn His Lesson

“Moreover, the little duck walked on two legs.” Emmeline said. “The little frog was envious and tried to imitate the little duck. However, the little frog couldn’t walk steadily and got scolded...”

Sun already knew what the next two words from Emmeline were.

“Lie down!”

Helios immediately broke free from Erin’s arm and lunged forward. At the same time, a bullet from Abel’s gun struck Erin’s forehead.

Erin fell backward and tumbled off the building. She fell heavily to the ground and was pulverized.

Edmond fell silent.

Helios lay on the edge of the building. His body was trembling.

“Sun!”

Abel and Emmeline rushed over together.

Emmeline began to cry after hugging them. I had only looked at Abel once a moment earlier. If we did not understand each other, the only opportunity would have been lost!

Sonia and Michaela, who were behind the crowd, were stunned as they saw what had happened. They could not have imagined that Abel would have a gun at places like the wedding banquet and openly shoot and kill Erin as well! They pondered in their minds. If we go against Abel, would we end up like Erin?

Michaela took a deep breath and patted Sonia’s hand. Then she said, “Don’t be afraid. I’ll settle everything carefully. We’re not Erin! She’s just utterly foolish!”

Sonia nodded her head and seemed startled.

The sound of sirens came from the plaza of the Nimbus Hotel.

Everyone who gathered on the rooftop had all descended.

Adam was taken to the hospital.

Only Emmeline, Adrien, Lizbeth, and Edmond remained on the top floor.

“Mr. Abel,” Edmond stared at Abel and said, “Why did you have to kill Erin?”

Abel was angry after listening to Edmond’s words. He sneered and said, “Why did I kill her? Edmond, are you out of your mind?”

“Edmond!” Lizbeth frowned and said, “You’re something like this at a time like this? Didn’t you see Erin - holding Sun hostage just now?”

Adrien said, “And she even poisoned the food.”

“All of that was forced by Abel! Edmond’s face turned gloomy and he said, “I don’t understand. Why can’t you just let go of her? She’s just a weak woman with Edmond’s baby! You just killed two lives; do you realize that?”

Edmond seemed to be angry.

Emmeline restrained her anger before she lost her temper. She said coldly, “Let me tell you the reason. Erin should be the same person as Evelyn; do you understand now?”

“I agreed with what you said,” Lizbeth said. “Mr. Murphy, Erin had bad intentions from the start when she approached you. You’re being used by her!”

“Nonsense!” Edmond yelled angrily, “I won’t believe it either! How could Erin be Evelyn? She’s just an innocent woman who fell in love with me. She was even pregnant! She just wanted to have a peaceful life with me. What motives do you all have? You refuse to let her go, no matter what!”

“If she truly is Erin, we have no grudges against her!” Emmeline said, “But if she truly is Evelyn, she would destroy the Murphy family first!”

“It was all caused by Abel!” Edmond said angrily, “Abel was the one who kicked Evelyn out of the Murphy family. Shouldn’t he be guilty?”

“It is obvious that you refuse to listen to our words!” Abel sneered and said, “Emma, don’t bother with someone like him. It’s a waste of time!”

Emmeline pondered for a while. Abel’s words are true! Let Edmond face the consequences first!

At the same time, Edmond’s phone rang. It was a call from his residence at Altney.

Edmond said coldly, “Hello?”

Chapter 1242 Edmond Is Out of His Mind

“Edml”

It was Mrs. Murphy’s voice on the other end. They did not come to Struyria due to Flynn’s issue.

Edmond was the one taking charge of all matters in Stroyria.

“Flynn is in bad condition. Can you please try to ask for the help of the Wonder Doctor again? Please come to Altney to save him.”

Edmond said coldly, “You remember me now? Erin was killed by you; did you know?”

Mrs. Murphy was stunned and said, “Erin is dead.”

“Edm,” Mrs. Murphy said, “Is this the way you should talk to me? What does Erin’s situation have to do with me?”

Mrs. Murphy took a deep breath.

“How is it none of your business?” Edmond said, “It was you who disliked her and forced her to leave the Murphy family in the middle of the night! She is dead now! Are you satisfied now?”

Mrs. Murphy fell silent.

“And what about Flynn? Wasn’t he fine? What happened to him again?”

Mrs. Murphy said calmly. “A couple of days ago, Flynn was doing well. Today, he seemed like he was about to wake up. However, he started bleeding heavily from his bowels. The doctors couldn’t figure out the cause at all. So Paul wants you to ask Wonder Doctor again to save Flynn.”

Edmond took a long sigh. Ask Wonder Doctor? It was me who begged Abel and Emmeline the last time, and only then did Wonder Doctor agree to help. But now, I already despised them so much that I could not bring myself to ask for their help again. Not to mention begging; I wanted to kill them now! I just did not have the power to do so at this”

“I can’t do it,” Edmond said coldly. “I need to handle Erin’s matters. Go and ask Wonder Doctor yourselves.”

Mrs. Murphy felt silent.

After ending the call, Edmond walked toward the security door with a gloomy face.

“Edmond!” Lizbeth said it incredulously.

However, Edmond did not look back and entered the security door.

The next day, Benjamin received a call from Paul in Altney.

After Benjamin knew the purpose of the call, he replied, “I’ll consult with Wonder Doctor. Wait for my message.”

“Please,” Paul said, “Make sure Wonder Doctor agrees. As long as Flynn can be saved, I will give him half of the Murphy family’s assets!”

“Let’s not talk about money for now,” Benjamin said.

“Then please beg Wonder Doctor for me!” Paul said, “I can’t let Flynn die!”

Paul’s voice seemed to be trembling.

Benjamin hung up the phone and called Emmeline.

Emmeline was on duty and quickly left her workstation when she saw the incoming call from this number.

“Ben, is there any business matter?” Emmeline closed the door and asked, “Is it related to the Murphy family?”

“Yes. Benjamin said.

“Agree to his request,” Emmeline said. “I’m also puzzled. Flynn should have been recovering; why did his condition suddenly worsen?”

“Should we go and take a look?” Benjamin asked..

“Yes.” Emmeline nodded and said, “You should go with Abel. Or else he won’t be at ease.”

“I won’t be at ease either. Benjamin said, “Edmond has gone mad now; he doesn’t even recognize his own parents!”

“In that case, don’t tell Waylon what was happening!” Emmeline said, “Don’t let him be worried.”

“Alright, Benjamin smiled and said, “I’ll follow your order. Besides, Waylon is busy.”

“He was busy?” Emmeline asked. I felt something odd. Imperial Palace is renovating the hospital; why is Waylon busy? Does he have anything to do with it?

“What is Waylon busy with?” Emmeline asked.

Benjamin pondered and fell silent. Waylon was secretly busy helping Doris with her house; what else could he be busy with?

“I just mentioned it casually,” Benjamin said. “Isn’t he usually doing research when he is free?”

Emmeline said, “That’s true. I’ll talk to Abel about this matter. At the same time, you can reply to the Murphy family. We are going there tomorrow.”

“Got it!” Benjamin said. Then he ended the call and called Paul.

Chapter 1243 A Needle

Paul got excited when he received the news from Benjamin. Tears swept into his eyes. If the Wonder Doctor decided to help Flynny, he would be saved!

The next morning. Emmeline and Abel and Benjamin arrived at the Murphy family’s residence.

Emmeline checked on Flynn after entering his room. From what I saw, I sensed something unusual in his abdomen.

However, Paul stated that they had gone through various examinations and only found erosion in Flynn’s intestines. They were clueless about the cause of it.

“This is not a lesion.” Emmeline said in a low voice. “It seems like something was wrong with his body.”

“Where is it?” Paul asked.

“The navel, Emmeline replied.

“But how could Flynny get injured?” Mrs. Murphy frowned and said, “No one dares to harm him! The nanny cleans him daily, and there’s no visible injury on him!”

Emmeline said calmly. “Lift the blanket and take off his clothes. I want to check on his navel.”

Mrs. Murphy quickly bent down and unbuttoned Flynn’s pajamas.

Emmeline bent her head to check his navel as well. Just as I thought! The navel is slightly swollen, with some light yellow fluid seeping out.

“It’s here!” Emmeline said, “Flynn’s navel is injured. Quickly bring me gauze, cotton wool, and iodine!”

Mrs. Murphy quickly told the nanny, "Hurry up! Do as the Wonder Doctor says!"

The nanny did as instructed, soon returning with cotton wool, gauze, and iodine.

Emmeline dried the fluid from Flynn's navel and found an ulcerated wound. She frowned and pondered what she saw in the wound. Who could be so cruel as to do this to Flynn?

Emmeline said, "Someone must have inserted something sharp into Flynn's navel. However, his navel shouldn't be examined during regular checks."

Mrs. Murphy was stunned after listening to Emmeline. She almost fainted. Why is life so tough for Flynn?

Paul asked Emmeline, "Wonder Doctor, now that you've identified the issue, what should we do?"

Emmeline replied. "It's simple. Take him to the hospital and surgically remove the object."

Paul immediately contacted Murphy Hospital and urgently sent Flynn over there.

After X-rays, they found a needle just below Flynn's navel. After the surgery, it turned out to be a sewing needle.

Mrs. Murphy fainted at the news. Who could be so wicked as to harm Flynn like this?

Paul remained calm, although he was worried and heartbroken.

He called the nanny immediately.

The nanny was terrified and said. "Mr. Murphy, I've been with the Murphy family for years and helped raise Mr. Flynn. Why would I harm him?"

"Think carefully," Paul said. "Aside from you, who else has been near Flynn?"

"Only you and Mrs. Murphy. No other people have entered this room."

"Think again," Paul said, "Did you forget someone?"

The nanny suddenly remembered and said. "Erin helped me to clean Mr. Flynn when the day Ms. Lizbeth returned."

"Erin? Why did you let her into Flynn's room?"

The nanny explained, "I met her in the corridor and she kindly offered to help. I thought it'd be difficult for me alone to clean Mr. Flynn, so I agreed."

"Idiot!" Paul said angrily. "She can't be trusted!"

Paul felt upset.

Chapter 1244 Visiting Doris' New House

Everyone returned to Struyria after Flynn was healed.

Emmeline and Abel went to the hospital to check on Adam.

Ysabel was guarding him by his bedside.

Adam felt annoyed by her presence. He tried to chase her away a few times. However, she would not leave at all. She kept begging him to stay with her.

“Mr. Adam, I don’t want to leave you. Can you let me stay with you?”

“Mr. Adam, let me feed you. You’ve lost weight; be a good boy. I’ll massage your legs to help you relax.”

“A little kiss for you...”

Adam felt exhausted. He had no choice but nodded reluctantly, agreeing to let Ysabel stay.

“Fine, you can stay, but please be quiet. No talking until dinner!”

Ysabel immediately covered her mouth and nodded.

Adam could not help but smile inwardly. Why did Ysabel insist on staying with me? It’s so annoying! I wish I had not gotten involved in the hero’s matter in the first place. Now I am trapped! What else could I do?

Adam was sleeping when Abel and Emmeline arrived. He finally had a moment of peace when Ysabel stopped talking. But Adam was willing to chat with them instead. Especially with Emmeline, Adam was attracted to her sweet voice. Adam felt somehow energized after listening to Emmeline’s words.

They chatted for a while. Then Abel and Emmeline left after leaving some nutritional supplements.

“Mr. Abel, Emma!” Ysabel rushed over and said, “I’ll take care of Mr. Adam here; don’t be worried! I won’t leave him alone.”

Emmeline smiled and said, “Thank you so much!”

On the other hand, Adam felt helpless on his bed.

Later in the evening.

Doris returned to her new house after a busy day at work. She changed into casual clothes and was about to play with Una and Nessa for a while. Suddenly, the doorbell rang.

“Who is it?” Doris asked.

“It’s me, Daniel.”

A man’s voice came from outside.

Doris asked, “Mr. Daniel? Why are you here?”

“Are you going to talk to me like this through the door?” Daniel said, “Are we not friends. anymore?”

Doris was surprised by this unexpected visit. She opened the door and said, “Mr. Daniel, hello.”

Daniel had three bags in his hands. He said, “Why are you acting so strange? Can’t I come and help you settle into your new house?”

“You’re too kind,” Doris smiled and said.

Daniel frowned and said, "Aren't you going to invite me in first? My fingers hurt from carrying all these things."

Doris quickly said, "Please come in!"

Daniel asked while holding a large gift box, "Do you have slippers to change into?"

Doris replied, "I bought two pairs of them." Then she quickly took out a pair of slippers.

"You're quite considerate," Daniel said. Aren't these for Waylon? But there were two pairs; it seemed like she had to prepare for me too.

However, Doris had no idea about Daniel's thoughts.

The two pairs of men's slippers were simply for backup.

Doris put the bags, which were given by Daniel, in the kitchen. Then she poured a glass of water.

Daniel put the gift box down and said, "A set of tableware. I hope you'll like it."

Doris placed the water glass on the table and took the gift from Daniel. Then Doris said, "I'm sorry to make you spend money on these gifts."

Daniel said, "You're welcome!"

Chapter 1245 Are You Investigating?

Doris said. "Have a seat. I see you've bought quite a few groceries and food items. I'll cook for you. I can have a look around my house!"

"Good idea; I like it," Daniel replied with a laugh. "It's as if you didn't break my vase for nothing."

Doris looked at the scar on Daniel's forehead. The wound had healed, but the scar was still very noticeable. It might take a year for it to recover fully. I felt somehow guilty. Hold on, Waylon knew how to make a scar removal ointment, right? I should ask for the ointment from him one day.

As the thought crossed her mind, there was a knock on the door.

"Coming!" Doris shouted while running toward the door..

When Doris opened it, she was stunned. Was that Waylon? I should shut the door immediately! Daniel is inside my house now! They didn't get along! What would happen if Waylon saw Daniel? What would he think about Daniel being here? I was afraid of what Waylon would say. He talked too much!

Waylon carried two large bags and squeezed his way in while Doris was hesitating. Waylon immediately noticed a pair of slippers neatly placed at the entrance.

Waylon's face turned gloomy when he saw the slippers and realized that Daniel was there.

"Well..." Doris hesitated and said, "Mr. Daniel is just visiting me."

Daniel stepped out when he heard their voices.

Daniel said, "Mr. Adelmarr? Did you also come to visit Doris' new house?"

Waylon replied expressionlessly, "I already did. I came to eat today."

Daniel pondered for awhile. Waylon behaves as if he's at home!

Waylon changed into slippers and walked into the kitchen with his two bags of food.

Daniel watched as he disappeared into the kitchen and pondered. Those slippers seem to fit him perfectly. Doris does prepare for him!

Waylon noticed the groceries that Daniel brought and casually tossed them aside.

Doris walked in and said awkwardly, "Mr. Adelmar, you can wait in the living room. I'll prepare the meal.

Waylon snorted and said, "Wouldn't it be awkward sitting with Daniel? I don't know him well."

"How can you not know, Mr. Daniel?" Doris said incredulously. "You're friends with Lily, aren't you?"

"Who told you that?" Waylon said it coldly.

I replied, "Isn't it true?" I've always thought so."

"And are you friends with Daniel?"

"Of course, we're all friends here!"

"Well!" Waylon sneered and said, "I'll check on Una and Nessa."

Doris said, "That's fine. Mrs. Flores had just fed them."

Waylon left the kitchen to check on Una and Nessa in their room. But they were not there.

Mrs. Flores was playing with them on the balcony.

The balcony was on the other side of the living room. Daniel was in the living room as well, so Waylon did not look that way and thus missed seeing Una and Nessa.

Waylon had to pass by Daniel in order to reach the balcony.

Therefore, Waylon had no choice but to walk toward the living room.

Daniel instinctively stood up when he saw Waylon approaching. Then he said. "Have a seat, please."

However, Waylon ignored Daniel and brushed past him toward the balcony. He had a gloomy face as well.

Daniel realized he was going for Una and Nessa when he saw his movements. I felt something odd.

Waylon is not the father of Una and Nessa, but I just felt strange.

Waylon hugged Una, and they had an enjoyable moment together. At that moment, Daniel joined them.

"So adorable..."

Waylon stared at Daniel and said, "Do you know how to hold a baby?"

"I Never tried," Daniel said honestly.

"It requires skill!" Waylon said proudly. Luckily, I had taken care of the triplets!

"They must have a nice-looking father, Daniel deliberately said.

Waylon fell silent. Their father?

"Mr Adelmar, do you know their father?" Daniel asked.

"Why would I Waylon replied coldly. "I've never met him before."

"So, he's still a mystery?" Daniel said.

"Are you investigating?" Waylon sneered and said

Chapter 1246 Guest

"Well, Daniel awkwardly replied. "I was just asking"

Don't ever pry into others' privacy," Waylon patted Una and said. "This is called respect!"

"That's right!" Daniel said. He felt somehow jealous after seeing Waylon have such fun with Una. Daniel reached out and said, "Let me try

But before Daniel's hand could touch Una, he cried loudly. Daniel immediately felt embarrassed and fell silent. Then Daniel extended his hand toward Nessa, who also started crying.

"Maybe you should leave," Waylon sneered and said, "They don't seem to like you. Stop forcing them"

"Why aren't they like that with you?" Daniel said enviously. "They seem close to you."

"It's fate," Waylon replied. "With fate, everything's easy. Without it, no amount of effort matters."

Daniel fell silent. I felt like Waylon's words had a hidden meaning, but I did not have any evidence. I felt uncomfortable talking to Waylon. Let's go back to the living room for a cup of tea.

When Daniel returned to the living room, Doris had already prepared the tea.

Waylon smirked behind Daniel's back as soon as he left the balcony.

In a short while, Waylon had put Una to sleep, and Mrs. Flores had done the same for Nessa.

Waylon then returned to the living room. When he saw Doris busy alone in the kitchen, he couldn't bear anymore. I must help Doris! Hold on, why should I cook for Daniel? Who does he think he is? I have no reason to cook for him! But if I do not help Doris, she will be overwhelmed. There were many dishes to prepare.

Waylon pondered for awhile and headed to the kitchen. He quickly took an apron from the wall and began preparing the vegetables.

Teaf manage." Doris said. "You should rest in the living room."

"It's fine, I'm not tired," Waylon replied..

Doris looked at him. Waylon's face was gloomy. Therefore, Doris remained silent, as she knew well about his temper

Daniel was in the living room, sitting alone. He saw them working side by side in the kitchen and felt somehow out of place. Therefore, he rolled up his sleeves and headed toward the kitchen.

Doris, let me help.”

Waylon said coldly, “This kitchen is too small to fit three people.”

Mr. Adelman, Daniel said, “You should take a rest and watch the television in the living room. You had been helping Doris all day.”

“Tis not into watching television,” Waylon responded. “I’m used to cooking. Since you’re a guest, just sit and wait”

Doris and Daniel both fell into silence. What did Waylon mean by that?

In just over an hour, twelve dishes were ready.

Doris called Mrs. Flores to eat after setting up the utensils.

Mrs. Flores felt somehow awkward and intended to eat in her room.

“Just eat here.” Waylon said. “You’re not an outsider to us.”

Mrs. Flores hurriedly said, “Thank you, Mr. Adelman.”

“Moreover, Waylon said, “From now on, I’ll handle your salary. It’ll be double the current amount. If you have any other needs, just let me know.”

Mrs. Flores was startled and said. “That’s too much!” I can’t accept that!”

Waylon said, “It’s fine. Just take good care of the kids.”

Doris said, “Mr. Adelman, how can I accept this?”

Waylon said, “I’m not doing it for nothing. I want you to work for me.”

“I understand.” Doris nodded and said. “I’d still do my best without mentioning it.”

That’s good,”

Waylon then asked Daniel, “What kind of wine do you prefer?”

Chapter 1247 From The Same Household

Daniel was stunned by Waylon and Doris. They treat each other like family. The way they talk and react couldn’t lie. I feel like an outsider. He said, “I would like to have red wine. Thank you.”

“Sure, we can try the ones I bought,” said Waylon.

Doris took the wine out; it was two bottles of Domaine de La Romance Conti. She said surprisingly. “Mr. Adelman, are you sure about it?” It costs at least half a million dollars as soon as I open them!

Waylon said calmly, “Our distinguished guest is Mr. Daniel. How could we serve him low-class wine? Go ahead and open both of them.”

Doris had no choice but to obey what he said; she took off the tags on the bottles and opened them. She poured the wine into a decanter.

Daniel sat uneasily on the chair; he felt uncomfortable. They treated me politely, but I felt something was off. Maybe I was imagining things.

After a few minutes, Waylon picked up the decanter and said, "You are older than me; I should serve you." He poured the wine for Daniel.

Daniel was flattered; he held the glass with both hands. He said, "Thanks, Mr. Ademar. Although I am a son at the official, I knew I was nothing in front of Waylon! He is a nobleman by nature.

Waylon served himself and asked Doris, "How about you? Do you want some?"

Doris quickly shook her hands and said, "Thanks for offering, but I can't get close to the kids if I smell like alcohol."

Sure, you will have some juice then." Waylon poured her a glass of apple juice.

The three toasted. Daniel said, "Congratulations to Doris for finding a new house! I wish for your happiness!"

Thank you, Mr. Daniel."

Waylon said, "I shall wish you again. I wish for the safety of you and the kids. I hope you guys are healthy and wealthy

Doris was touched; she raised her glass with Waylon. She said, "Thanks. I have been troubling you."

Waylon said, "Don't worry about it. We were from the same household."

Doris did not reply. He isn't wrong in saying that. We did live in the same house before.

Daniel knew everything, but he couldn't help but frown after hearing this.

Let's dig in!" Doris said while serving them the food.

"Let me do it" Waylon took over the spoon and served Daniel. He said, "I made the food; I hope you will enjoy it. Here, don't be shy. You should eat more, you are too slim."

"I have a small appetite," Daniel said.

Waylon said. "Men must be strong to protect their women."

Daniel took a bite and said, "Yes! That's right! This is delicious!"

"I like to cook. It is an essential skill to enjoy my life better," Waylon said.

"I agree with you. There's so much that I have to learn from you!" Daniel was jealous of how good the dishes were. He admitted his defeat and enjoyed the food to the fullest. He felt like a VIP throughout the meal.

They both drank a lot of wine, but neither of them got drunk. The night was getting darker, so Daniel took his leave.

"I will send you guys off." Doris put on her jacket.

They passed by a basketball court along the way. People were playing on the court.

"Do you play basketball?" Waylon asked Daniel suddenly. They stood beside each other, and Daniel was shorter than Waylon.

"I played in college," Daniel said drunkenly.

Waylon said playfully, "Shall we join them?"

"I don't think that's a good idea. We are in suits and leather shoes."

"What are you afraid of? The shoes might be broken." Waylon said.

Chapter 1248 Stubbornly Not Admitting His Defeat

Daniel said. "Of course not. Let's do it. It's not like I'm afraid of him.

Doris frowned. "Seriously? You guys wanted to play basketball now while in suits?"

"That's right! Take care of my jacket. Waylon tossed the jacket to Doris. He walked straight into the court.

Daniel had no choice but to follow him. He took off his jacket and gave it to Doris too.

Doris asked worriedly. "Mr. Daniel, are you sure about it? Can you do it?"

Daniel refuted, "How could you question a man's ability? Do I look like I am losing?"

Doris fell silent. Alright. I shouldn't have said anything.

"Hey! Do you mind if someone joins you guys?" Waylon asked the boys on the court.

They stopped and turned around. They were high schoolers, and they were tall. Both of them were about 511" tall. When Waylon walked closer, he had long legs and was obviously taller than them. He gave off an athletic vibe, and the boys were amazed at first sight.

They replied excitedly. "Sure!"

Daniel unbuttoned his sleeves and rolled them up. He said, "Count me in as well!"

"He shall be my teammate," Waylon said, pointing at Daniel. He continued, saying, "You guys shall team up, and we can start the game."

"Alright! Let's go!" The boys accepted the challenge.

Doris carried the jackets and watched the match from the sidelines.

One of the boys was named Waylon. Waylon feinted the ball and tossed it to Daniel. He said, "Here you go!"

His pass was strong, and the boy failed to block it. However, Daniel couldn't catch the ball as well. He did not get to dodge the ball. It hit his face. It was painful, but he was not injured. For a split second, I thought that Waylon had done that on purpose. However, I have no evidence! We are playing basketball; it's normal to get hit by the ball. I should be imagining things.

At the same time, Waylon blocked the boys from shooting the ball. He dribbled and did a graceful jump shot. It went in.

Their opponent praised, "Damn! You've got some skill!"

Waylon laughed. "Thanks! It's a pity that my teammate didn't have it!"

Daniel shut his mouth. He is talking about me, isn't he?

Another game started, and the boy got the ball and shot. Waylon blocked the ball again and tossed it to Daniel.

Daniel hurriedly rushed to receive it. It seemed to be a normal pass. However, it became stronger and faster when it appeared in front of Daniel. Daniel was startled. What the hell is this? How did he make a pass like this? The ball hit his chest when he was hesitating. It was painful, and he nearly vomited.

Waylon frowned. "What are you doing? You couldn't catch a pass?"

Daniel was embarrassed. He could not make a fuss about the pain he felt from the pass. The boys were laughing at him.

Waylon said, "Well, let's stop here!"

The boys asked, "We shouldn't! Aren't we having fun? Why are we stopping now?"

"Can't you see how useless my teammate is? It's spoiling my mood!" Waylon said it angrily.

Daniel did not dare to say a word.

They walked out of the basketball court. Waylon casually held the jacket on his shoulder. Daniel, on the other hand, put his coat on.

Waylon asked, "Don't you feel hot after playing the ball?"

Daniel replied, "Not really"

"You have to exercise more. Your body is too stiff."

Daniel wanted to defend himself. He gave up as he recalled how skillful Waylon was when they were playing. He is indeed better than me in many aspects. Be it cooking or playing basketball. I was just stubborn enough to not accept my defeat.

Doris was trying to keep laughing. Mr. Adelmarr is a meanie; he would mock anyone he wanted.

Chapter 1249 You Are a Blessed One

Daniel called a driver to get him home after drinking.

Waylon called his driver as well. His driver was nearby and reached him shortly. Waylon leaned on his car and said, "Let's wait for a while. Mr. Daniel's driver has yet to arrive. He was drunk, so I am worried about him."

Daniel was touched. "I will be fine; thanks for worrying. Mr. Adelman, you may leave."

Waylon thought to himself. Who cares about you? I am worried about Doris. He turned to Doris and said, "You shall go back then. The night is getting darker, and it's dangerous for you to stay outside. Send me a message when you are home."

"Alright. Have a good rest. Good night to both of you," Doris said.

Waylon nodded. Daniel waved to Doris and said, "Good night. See you!"

Doris smiled warmly and said, "Good night. Thank you for coming."

Waylon cut Daniel off before he could say anything. "Your driver is here; you should get in the car now."

Daniel turned around, and Waylon was right. He got in his car and left.

Waylon got into his car as well. He watched Doris walking toward her house and said, "Don't go yet. Wait for Doris to get home."

The driver answered, "I understand, Mr. Adelman."

After a few minutes, Waylon got a message. It was from Doris, "I have reached."

Waylon replied, "I am leaving now."

Doris was stunned. Was he waiting for me?

The next day in the Nightfall Cafe it was past tea time, and there were not many customers.

Emmeline was spending her free time reading a book on the third floor. A voice appeared, "I am envious of your life! How leisurely is this?"

Emmeline recognized the voice; it was Janie! She turned around, and a gorgeous woman in a suit was standing behind her.

Emmeline laughed. "Janie! Welcome; I haven't seen you for a long time."

"I am busy with work every day." I am at the edge of losing my mind." Janie said while sitting on the chair across from Emmeline.

Emmeline teased her, "It's time to quit your job then. Just stay at Glenbrook to enjoy your life as Mrs. York!"

Janie laughed, saying, "I don't think I could enjoy my life at Glenbrook. Benjamin is busier than me. We had our lunch together in Glenbrook, and all we talked about were projects and products. We couldn't run away from work."

Emmeline said, "It's my fault! How could I leave the Adelman Group to you guys and have fun on my own?"

“You are a blessed one. I have no complaints about working for you!” Janie smiled.

“Come on, do you know how many women were jealous of you? Everyone was dreaming of being the wife of the CEO of the Adelmor Group! You are obviously a blessed one as well.”

Janie said. “I was just joking with you. Benjamin treats me well; I am the one refusing to be a stay-at-home wife. I couldn’t imagine a life waiting for my husband to come home every day.”

I hope you are having fun being Ben’s right-hand man!” Emmeline said.

Sam served them coffee and dessert. When she was about to leave, a woman appeared. It was Lizbeth.

Emmeline laughed and said, “I am sorry, Sam. You couldn’t rest. Get another coffee and dessert for Liz.”

“Sure. Have a seat, Madame Lizbeth.”

Lizbeth stomped her feet shyly and said, “Don’t call me that. Liz is enough.”

Sam smiled and said, “Liz, please enjoy your time here. I will be back with coffee and dessert for you.”

Lizbeth said. “Thank you, Sam”

Emmeline stopped Sam before she left and said, “You may leave early today. Why not have a date with Luca later?”

Sam blushed and said, “Ms. Louise! It’s work time now!”

Emmeline said teasingly. “So you are rejecting my offer, isn’t it? I am about to ask Abel to let Luca leave earlier as well. I guess I shouldn’t do it then.”

Chapter 1250 Flynn Gains His Consciousness

“Ms. Louise! You are such a meanie!” Sam stomped her feet.

Emmeline laughed. “Haha! Be patient and wait for Luca!”

Sam went downstairs while blushing.

Janie said, “Liz, have a seat.”

Lizbeth sat beside them. Three of them enjoyed the view of the garden while chit-chatting. They felt relaxed around each other. The garden was well organized by the gardener, Mateo.

Emmeline asked, “Liz, are you planning to have a baby soon?”

Lizbeth said, “Adrien has just started quitting smoking and drinking. The soonest will be in a month.”

I am not expecting that from Adrien. He is getting more reliable and responsible. Is this the power of love?”

Lizbeth smiled gently and said, I was shocked too. I left the Murphy family to avoid getting into a fight with Evelyn. I married him in a hurry. I am grateful that a playboy like him is becoming a better man for “Adrien wasn’t born bad. He was just spoiled. A rich man like him is popular among women,” Emmeline said.

“That’s right,” Lizbeth sighed, “at least he isn’t another Edmond.”

Her phone suddenly rang; it was from Altney. What a coincidence! Is Daddy and Mummy looking for me? Lizbeth picked up the phone and said, “Hello?”

“I have fantastic news! Liz, Flynny is awake!” shouted Mrs. Murphy with uncontrolled joy.

After a brief moment of shock, Lizbeth got up from the car and asked, “Flynn is awake? How is he doing?”

Mrs. Murphy said tremblingly, “Flynnny has gained consciousness; his overall state is good!”

Lizbeth cried uncontrollably while saying. “Fantastic! The Wonder Doctor is our benefactor! He saved Flynn! How could we thank him? No one is aware of her location.”

“We are able to express our gratitude only through the Wonder Doctor’s assistant.”

“We should hurry up and share the good news with him!”

“Paul is on the phone now,” Mrs. Murphy said. “I have something to tell you, Liz.”

Lizbeth said, “What is it? I am all ears.”

“Are you certain that Erin is Evelyn?” Mrs. Murphy asked.

Lizbeth was stunned, and she asked cautiously, “Mom, why do you ask so?”

Mrs. Murphy lowered her voice. “Flynn told us that it was Evelyn who nearly murdered him! She kidnapped him to blackmail the Murphy family for one billion dollars!”

“It was her who did it?” Lizbeth was terrified. Evelyn, who appeared kind and soft, was fake! She was a devil!

Mrs. Murphy whispered, ‘I need to know now. Is Erin the Evelyn we know? If she passed away, we would have nothing to fear. If not, we have an enemy in the dark now! Liz, please be extra careful wherever you

“I will, mom” Lizbeth could sense her worry through the phone.

Mrs. Murphy sighed and continued, “I advised Edmond to do the same. Instead of listening, he said lots of hurtful words to me

Lizbeth asked. “What did he say?”

He was upset with me. He accused me of disliking Erin, which forced her into a dead end. I felt uncomfortable thinking about what he said.”

“Mom, please ignore everything he said. Even if Erin isn’t the Evelyn we know, what she did to us was unforgivable! She made Edmond delusional and put the blame on us before she died. She is a devil!”
