ARMIPOTENT Chapter 132

While the Orcs poured out, Zhang Mengyao led the people to enter the fortress. With a shield in her left hand and the lance in her right, she charged forward fearlessly.

[Unbending Strike]

She raised her lance, and her body flashes forward, leaving a blue streak behind.

Shrush!

Her lance tore ten Warriors at once, killing them instantly. At this moment, she was in the middle of orcs.

[Shield Wall]

The transparent blue shield formed, blocking the spears that came to claim her life. The [Shield Wall] protected her from the enemy in the front while her back was exposed. However, Zhang Mengyao remained calm, she completely trusted her back to her subordinates.

Howl!

At this moment, Moon crushed every orc on its path. Activating [Charge] and [Flame Armor], the Mystical Bear was covered in blue flame. The pattern on its body lit up in flame, burning every orc that touched the blue flame.

Following Moon closely, Li Na kept shooting the crossbow at the surviving orc. Her shoot was accurate as each arrow would pierce the orc's face to the brain, instantly killing the orc.

Wei Xi and the others followed Li Na closely. Despite being outnumbered by the orc, they crushed the orcs on their path. None of the orcs could touch Zhang Mengyao's back.

Lu An soon joined the rank as well, quick and deadly, each of his slashes would bring an orc down.

Meanwhile, Tang Shaoyang left his people behind as he rushed to the center of the fortress. With a swing of his battle-ax, five orcs flew to the side. He cleared the path easily until he met his target.

[Basic Detection]

[Monster - Orc]

Affiliation: Orc Tribe

Evolution: Stage 3

Class: Orc General

Level: 59

Skill: [Berserk Strike] [Berserk]

————————

Three Orc Generals rushed out of their huts and met with Tang Shaoyang. Brown plate armor covered their body complete with the helmet while carrying axes in both their hands.

Compared to stage-1 and stage-2 orc, Orc General had a bulky and more muscular body. They were two heads taller than the normal orc as well.

Noticing Tang Shaoyang, the Orc General in the middle charged toward him. It raised the two axes that were covered in a red aura before hammering it toward him.

Tang Shaoyang did not falter in the slightest. He brought the battle-ax upward, meeting against the Orc General's axes.

Clank!

A loud noise was created as the axes clashed. Despite the momentum, Orc General's axes were deflected by Tang Shaoyang. It even got pushed backward.

At this moment, the other two Orc Generals were caught. They were about to launch their attack until Tang Shaoyang opened his mouth, releasing a lion-like roar that stunned the three Orc Generals.

[War Cry]

The three Orc Generals' bodies swayed to the left and right as the dizziness assaulted their heads. Tang Shaoyang did not waste his chance as he leaped toward the Orc General in the middle. He raised his two knees and took the Orc General down.

Not wasting any time, he raised the pointy part of his battle-ax toward the gap of the helmet and armor.

Swoosh!

The pointy battle-ax pierced the Orc General's neck pierced through to the ground. The Orc General released his grip on its axes, trying to pull the battle-ax out of his neck as it growled in pain.

Instead of pulling his battle-ax, Tang Shaoyang used his two hands to shove the Destroyer to the side, tearing the Orc General's neck.

He did not stay long on the Orc General's body as he leaped back. He distances himself from the remaining two Orc Generals. At this moment, the effect of [War Cry] had worn off.

They charged again, this time not only their axes shrouded in red aura but their bodies too. Tang Shaoyang noticed they were getting faster as well.

'It should be their skill, [Berserk],' he thought to himself while smirking at the two incoming enemies. He raised his right foot and slammed it down to the ground.

[Earth Split]

He activated yet another skill in his arsenal. The ground in a twenty meters radius shook as crack started to spread from the foot. The shake caused the two Orc Generals to abruptly stop to balance their bodies.

Tang Shaoyang then cast his third skill [Wild Axes]. He aimed at the Orc General on the left.

Swoosh!

Transparent blue axes were spinning in the air, accelerating toward the Orc General on the left. Tang Shaoyang did not aim for the vital spot but the armorless thigh of the orc.

He did not wait for the [Wild Axes] to hit the target as he rushed to the Orc General on the right. As soon as he arrived in front of the orc, he swung the Destroyer upward.

Clank!

The battle-ax hit the armor and to his surprise, his battle-ax failed to pierce the armor. It was tougher than he thought. However, the Orc General was thrown back from the impact.

It crashed onto the ground seven meters away from him. Instead of chasing after the fallen Orc General, Tang Shaoyang turned to the side. Next to him, the other Orc General fell with its knees with its thigh bleeding profusely. Tang Shaoyang kicked the orc in the chest as he pulled the helmet.

With no helmet protecting its head, Tang Shaoyang swung his battle-ax downward to the head.

Splat!

While the armor was tough, the orc's head was not. The head split open as blood spurted out. The Orc General died instantly with its head crushed.

"Gruoorrrhhh!" The remaining Orc General witnessed how his kin was being ruthlessly slaughtered. It let out an angry roar and threw one of his axes toward him. The ax that was shrouded by a red aura flew toward him.

The ax quickly arrived in front of him. He did not have a chance to dodge, so he crossed the battle-ax horizontally to block the incoming ax.

Clank!

"Urghh!" Tang Shaoyang grunted slightly, not expecting the huge force behind the ax. His hand was trembling to block the flying ax.

At this moment, he noticed a shadow hovered from the top. He looked up, The Orc General was in the air. It raised the ax, wanting to hack his head with the ax.

"You should not have done that, stupid pig!" Tang Shaoyang smirked. At the same time, he stored the battle-ax in the inventory and rolled forward.

Boom!

The Orc General landed and hit the empty spot. Meanwhile, Tang Shaoyang immediately got and rushed back toward the Orc General who just landed. He jumped and sent a flying kick at the joint of the orc's legs.

The kick caused the orc to kneel. Tang Shaoyang immediately stood up, he pulled up the helmet and put his knees on its back. Then he held the Orc General's head before he pulled the head to the back with all his might.

The Orc General roared in pain. It tried to hit Tang Shaoyang's hand but it was too late.

Crack!

Tang Shaoyang broke the neck and pulled the head off from the body. Blood spurted out and the lifeless body fell backward. He killed the three Orc Generals alone.

When he stood up, he smiled ear to ear. He was not expecting to hear the cold notification in his head after killing three Orc Generals.

He then checked his subordinates, despite being outnumbered the orc was helpless in front of his subordinate. The Orc was still low-level compared to his people. However, he noticed Moon was the one who killed the orc the most.

Since his subordinates won, he decided to not join the fight. He got three Orc Generals and got one level, so he let them have their share.

Fifteen minutes later, a notification rang in everyone's head.

[Congratulations! You have captured the fortress!]

[You have acquired the reward: +1 Level for everyone who participates in the battle]
