

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 233

Despite the temptation of obtaining the second class, Tang Shaoyang was not in a hurry to test Zowen Theory. He called his four subordinates to his room, "Tell them about the blessing." He told Arina to explain about blessing.

While the girl was totally confused, she followed the order. She repeated the explanation regarding the blessing and the class to the four people.

After she was done, Tang Shaoyang asked Ariana to leave, "Leave us," she nodded and left the room. Despite the curiosity she had for the party, she left the room.

With five of them left in the room, Tang Shaoyang took the pouch from the inventory. He took 1 platinum coin that was worth the same as 100 gold to Cao Yuntai, Gu Yingjie, Fan Rui, and Liang Suyin.

The four caught the platinum coin with a surprise, they certainly knew the worth of 1 platinum coin, "That's your share from me, you can use the money to get blessing, skill, or even new equipment, that's your choice. I am not going to meddle with your path."

"Alright, that's it. You can think of that yourself," he waved his hand to the four, "Liang Suyin can stay while the others can leave."

Cao Yuntai, Gu Yingjie, and Fan Rui nodded and left the room. Liang Suyin looked at the man, wondering why he asked her to stay, "Actually, I have prepared a class for you, Flame Mage," Tang Shaoyang started to speak.

"With your talent, the mage is the suitable class for you. However, now the situation has changed, we are not going to wait until the Trial Game is over, we will get your class now," He forked out 9 platinum and handed the coins to the girl, "You will get Normal Blessing with this."

"But-" she was surprised, but the man pulled her into his embrace and whispered to her ears, "You are my woman, of course, I am going to treat you better than the others."

Liang Suyin was flustered at first, but when her voice entered her ears. It calmed her down, relaxing in his embrace. She could never think that a simple hug from him would be this comfortable.

"Alright, let's go to the temple to get your class," Liang Suyin nodded and followed Tang Shaoyang out of the room.

When they reached the first floor, Fan Rui, Gu Yingjie, and Cao Yuntai were waiting for the two with Arina next to them. They had reached an agreement to get the class as well.

"Are you sure, you are not going to save up for a better blessing?" Tang Shaoyang asked.

Cap Yuntai responded with a shake of his head, "I don't know what we will face later on, getting the class is my top priority. Moreover, I can get skills from the class." The older man explained while the two younger men nodded their heads.

Arina just watched from the side, saying nothing. It was until Tang Shaoyang called her out that she responded with, "Yes!?"

"Lead us to the Radiant Temple, you said Waskin City has one," she responded with a nod, "Yes."

From the kitchen, Elin and Delia came out together, "You are leaving already?" Elin asked while her eyes roamed around Tang Shaoyang's body, "I thought you were going to take a bath," she was pretty observant as she immediately noticed Tang Shaoyang had not taken a bath.

"Later, we are heading toward the Radiant Temple," Delia's eyes brightened and rushed toward Tang Shaoyang the moment Radiant Temple was mentioned, "Can we follow you?"

He glanced toward Elin, he could see the calm in her eyes wavered. It was clear she wanted to visit the temple as well, but she said nothing of it, "Then, let's go? We are going right now."

Delia was cheering up while Elin's smile was getting wider. Then the group of seven heading out together toward the Radiant Temple. The temple was located on the opposite side of the inn, in the western part of Waskin City.

Walking through the street, they passed through many people, adventurers were among the many.

"I thought you have a class already?" Elin asked curiously. The party went to the temple, meaning they were looking for the blessing to get class. It was basic knowledge that everyone knew despite the high-price blessing.

For someone who easily twisted Dire Wolf King's neck, she believed Tang had a class already. She was curious as to why he wanted to go to the temple. Arina who ahead of them put her ears. She wanted to know as well.

"I do have a class, but I just want to try out of something, and they haven't gotten their classes yet," he pointed at his party member.

"I see," Elin could tell that the man was hiding, but she was not going to blame him to not trust her, "How about you? Do you have a class?"

"I do have a class, but I gained my class through hard work instead of the blessing from the Radiant Gods. Level 37 Cook, I got the class after creating five new menus for the inn," from her tone, there was a pride in her words despite her gentle demeanor.

He was surprised that the fact class could be obtained naturally instead of a blessing. An idea crossed in his head, 'Then, can I obtain a swordsman class by learning your technique, Teacher?'

—That's worth a try, but can you learn my swords technique in two months? Your time in this world is limited, and you have to master five sword techniques at least.

Zaneos did not mind teaching Tang Shaoyang his sword technique. Just like Zowen said, the stronger Tang Shaoyang became, the better for him. His plan to come back to his world was on Tang Shaoyang's shoulder.

'Let's try that out for later, we will try the blessing first,' while he exchanged words with Zowen and Zaneos, the group started to enter the western side of the city. The ambiance between the two sides was totally different, while the east side was bustling and boisterous, the west side was quieter and more organized.

Not only the people but the building as well. There were no stalls on the side of the street, and there was a special line for the carriages, not jumbling together with the people. He noticed more guards were placed on the west side.

The reason Delia and Elin wanted to follow was that the shops in the west were more like high-end shops compared to the ones in the east. Tang Shaoyang could tell with their eyes that roamed around, especially at the clothing shops. Their eyes were glued to the fancy dress behind the glass.

"Let's stop at the shop later," Delia's eyes brightened as she nodded her head repeatedly. The little girl could not hide her emotion well, the opposite of Elin who hid her happiness behind her gentle smile.

"What about you, Delia? Do you have a class?" He immediately returned to the class topic as Arina informed him they were about to reach the Radiant Temple, "I don't have class," she shook her head.

"What about trying Minor Blessing? 10 gold is quite affordable for me," he could see the excitement behind the girl's eyes but she shook her head, "It's okay, I am content with what I have now."

He was about to persuade the girl to get Minor Blessing, but Arina interrupted him, "We have arrived at the Radian Temple."
