

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 279

Wen watched everything from above, the man was coping with the human pretty despite being alone. Then he glanced toward his friend, Kairu. The Flaming Lion took the six Grand Royal Knights alone, and he held his ground well.

"Well, they seem fine for now. I will watch in the meantime and help whoever needs my help," he muttered in a low voice while watching Tang Shaoyang. From the situation, Tang Shaoyang was in a more dangerous situation than Kairu, "This is my chance as well to observe how strong this man is."

At the Spearmaster's call, the two archers barraged Tang Shaoyang with their mana arrows. The latter avoided every shot with his agile movement and [Spirit Eyes]. With [Spirit Eyes], he did not have any blind spot and avoided all attacks.

Tang Shaoyang spat out annoyingly. He was getting away from the injured swordsman by the arrows and the mages. Each time he was about charge forward, the mage would assist the archer to fill the gap.

Thanks to their perfect coordination, the two clerics managed to reach the wounded swordsman. The two clerics immediately healed him, at this point, all his effort went to waste.

'Tsk, I thought I could take one of them without using my surprise move,' while thinking so, he scanned the surroundings with his [Spirit Eyes]. He tried to find the hidden assassins that might hide, 'They surely have patience even after their friend was injured. This is quite troublesome.'

'Let's lure them out then,' he glanced toward the two mages and the two archers who were still in a group.

[Flash Step]

His figure blurred, but the two mages had prepared for his insane movement skill. The Archmage cast a shield wall while the Master Elementalist cast a wind wall. Even though they did not know where Tang Shaoyang would come from, they could counter him by casting a wide range of defensive skills.

'Smart but also stupid I would say,' Tang Shaoyang thought as he appeared in front of two layers of the wall. Even with the protection skill, he was ready with his [Invisible Slash]. He swung his scythe horizontally, the two layers of defense were ripped apart by the scythe.

"Be careful of his [Invisible Slash]!" The Spearmaster yelled while rushing toward the mage group, "Damn, how could he be that fast!"

To their friend's reminder, they just realized that they made a fatal mistake. The two mages were about to cast another shield, but it was too late as they felt a gush of wind approaching their neck.

Dang! Dang!

Two figures appeared in front of the two mages and read the [Invisible Slash]. They used their daggers to block the slash and saved the four. However, the impact of the [Invisible Flash] sent the two assassins flying.

"Finally baited them out," Tang Shaoyang grinned at the two girls, "You two are strong!" He complimented the two mages, "What about ditching your party and following me instead?"

These two magic users would be a big help to him if he could bring them back to the Earth. But his offer received an attack as the two immediately cast the next spell.

"That's unfortunate..." his voice faded along with his figure blurred as he cast [Flash Step]. He was chasing after the two assassins and ignored the two mages and two archers.

That was so unexpected that he did not go after the ones closest to him. This sudden move caught the Red Chivalries off guard.

"Fight me if you dare, coward!" The Spearmaster tried to provoke Tang Shaoyang. But such a cheap provocation did not work on him. He caught the two unprepared assassins with his hands and twisted their necks.

[You have leveled up!]

[You gained four attribute points!]

[Your second class [Slayer] has reached level 80!]

[You gained four attribute points!]

[Your second class [Slayer] has reached level 84!]

[You gained four attribute points!]

Hearing the series notification in his head, Tang Shaoyang was surprised. He just killed two of them, and he gained five levels for his second class but also two levels for the main level. This was unexpected for Tang Shaoyang.

The Red Chivalries watched their friends being killed before their eyes. They never expected this day would come after they ranked up to Diamond Rank. On top of that, the one who killed their friends was one person. He single-handedly took their party without significant injuries, he suffered nothing but killed their two friends.

"YOU B*STARD!" The Spearmaster was about to charge at Tang Shaoyang but there was a hand holding his shoulder. The Magic Swordsman was healed and recovered, "Calm down, Callop!"

"How can I calm down after-" the words stopped halfway after Callop noticed the fierce glare from his friend.

"Calm down! I am not telling you to retreat but calm down. He is not someone you could take down easily. Don't let your anger possess you, we are stronger if we fight together! We are Red Chivalries, not a loner adventurer! We will avenge our friends together!" Wayne tapped Callop's shoulder, "Get in the formation, now we will fight to kill, not to capture him!"

The two knights took the frontline, the Spearmaster Callop on the left, and the Magic Swordsman Wayne on the right side. The two Grand Clerics in the center while the two mages and the two archers at the backline.

Right after they were in the formation, the two Grand Clerics put buff skills on the four vanguards. Tang Shaoyang had no way to know what buffs those were, but he could tell they had more than three buffs for sure.

Tang Shaoyang stayed on his spot while observing the party. He did not know what would change whether they were in the formation or not. Just as he was wondering what the opposite party was doing, he noticed the Vermilion Knight was glowing in bright crimson while the Cerulean Knight was glowing in the light blue.

—I have a bad feeling about this, you better run away.

Zowen voiced her concern as she watched the party. She could feel that they were truly going for the kill.

—Yeah, you can run away or you can block all their attacks and counter them. They are going all out, but if you survive their attack, they would be exhausted, and that's your chance to kill them all.

Zaneos gave Tang Shaoyang's tempting idea, and of course, Tang Shaoyang would not run in front of the adversary.

Soon, a giant crimson shield and giant light blue shield formed, surrounding the party. That was protection, they did not go for the attack from the start.

[Grand Skyfall] [Grand Skyfall]

The Vermilion Knight and the Cerulean Knight shouted the same skill at the same time. Their figure dispersed into a crimson light and light blue light. Just like an aurora, the sky turned crimson and also, mixing together, creating a beautiful phenomenon.

But soon, the crimson light formed a sword and the blue light formed a lance. Many of them, the sky suddenly filled with swords and lances. It covered a ten thousand meters area, escaping was impossible.

Swoosh! Swoosh! Swoosh! Swoosh!

Just like rain, but this was sword energy and lance energy, raining down Tang Shaoyang.
