

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 416

"Let's aim for all three, Spirit Power, Level, and also a skill. Let's double the sacrifices, I want to know how strong the spirit above Grade A+ is!" Tang Shaoyang decided to use a million zombies for the next summoning after Grade A+ Spirit.

Again, aside from sacrificing zombies and gaining levels, he also wanted to know his limit. How strong he was as he himself did not know that. Knowing his limit might save his life the other day. He did not want to get drunk with his power and made a stupid decision in the future.

"I don't know how many zombies we have here, but let's play it big!" He walked to the air again. Putting a million zombies to sacrifice in mind, he cast the skill, [Spirit Summoning].

A million zombies exploded into black smoke. The west area of Hangzhou was immediately filled with black smoke. Even Tang Shaoyang who was floating in the air blocked the black smoke and also a strong wind.

The black smoke also formed a tornado, but of course, all of this was just a harmless phenomenon. However, this was the scariest phenomenon so far.

The eerie black smoke would give a chill. Liao Zhenya and Zhen Yang were terrified of the uncommon phenomenon. They were about to escape but Wei Xi assured them.

"There's no need to worry, this thing will not harm. Lord Shaoyang once told me that the spirit and also the summoning phenomenon can't hurt anyone, even him. Just wait, the storm will subside soon," Wei Xi was still sitting on his spot.

Liao Zhenya and Zhen Yang exchanged glances. In the end, they decided to stick around. They overcame the fear with their curiosity, they wanted to know what kind of spirit would be summoned this time.

Not just the two, Tang Shaoyang was also surprised by the phenomenon. This kinda made him excited to see what kind of spirit he would summon this time.

Just like how it suddenly appeared, the black smoke also suddenly disappeared. In the area where he cast the skill, the sound of hoof resounded.

[You have summoned Grade S Spirit, Bronson the Knight Slayer!]

It was a black horse that released dark energy through his hoof, eyes, and hair. On top of the buffed horse, a figure in black armor, scanning the area. The helmet blocked his face, but his yellow eyes radiated fierce killing intent.

"The first Grade S Spirit..." Tang Shaoyang muttered as he descended seven meters away from the spirit.

Totally different from the beforehand spirits, Bronson managed to find him in the air and also the other people who came to watch him fighting the spirit.

'This one is sharp...' Tang Shaoyang thought to himself.

"Are you the one who summoned me?" A cold yet masculine voice echoed. The question was directed toward Tang Shaoyang.

"That's me," Tang Shaoyang nodded as he carefully scanned the Knight Slayer. Through the [Dragon Eyes], he could see a fierce yet wild dark energy blazing. This one was in a whole... No, far stronger even compared to Grade A+ Spirit. The gap between the two grades was just too big.

"I can feel you have sacrificed a few spirits for your personal benefit. Will you also sacrifice me?" Bronson was sane compared to the others. He would speak instead of fighting him blindly.

"That's correct. I have sacrificed a few spirits. As for you..." Tang Shaoyang smiled, "It depends! If you have potential, then I may consider establishing a contract. Let's test it out if you have that potential I want or not!"

He then took out the battle-ax, he was ready to test how strong the Knight Slayer was.

"I see, so that's how you work with the spirit..." Bronson looked around, there was a glimpse of curiosity in his eyes for a moment there, and nodded his head, "Fair enough, but before we start may I know the name of this world? There's a possibility that I will die today, so I want to know the place that will be my burial."

"Earth, this world is called Earth, and my name is Tang Shaoyang. At least you should know the name of your future Master or the name who will kill you," Tang Shaoyang grinned. He kinda liked this one, reasonable to talk with, and not that arrogant.

"Then let's start this fateful battle, Tang!" Bronson pulled out the one-handed long sword to the air, "Let's go, Darcos!"

The horse let out a snort, releasing thick dark energy from his nose.

Swoosh!

Thump! Thump! Thump!

The sound of the hoof stomping the earth resounded as the horse accelerated toward Tang Shaoyang, leaving a black streak behind.

Tang Shaoyang rushed forward as well, still with his grin. He could not hold the excitement for finding a worthy opponent.

Dang!

The sword and the battle-ax clashed, creating a spark. To Tang Shaoyang's surprise, his strength did not overwhelm the Knight Slayer. The latter managed to block the strike with the sword while holding his spot on the horse.

Within the first exchange, he managed to stop the horse, "If one is not enough, how about many of them!"

He held the battle-ax and spun in the air, swinging the Dragon Destroyer horizontally toward the knight.

Bronson immediately crossed his sword to block the incoming attack. This was the advantage of fighting in the horse, he could not dodge unless the horse moved.

Dang!

This time, Bronson, who did not have any additional momentum from the horse, was sent flying off from the house.

The horse neighed and stood up with the hind legs. The horse tried to help its master in the battle. However, Tang Shaoyang grabbed one of the forelegs with his left hand and easily threw the horse onto the building that was fifteen meters away.

"I know you are strong, but I don't know you are ridiculously strong for a human," Bronson glanced in the direction where his horse was thrown before looking back at Tang Shaoyang, "I will no longer underestimate you!"

"What's wrong with being a human?" Tang Shaoyang curiously asked amidst the battle. He had seen people who had become a God, after all.

"A human body has a limit of growth. After you reach the limit, you will be stuck there forever. But you might be an exception," after saying that, the Knight Slayer cast his skill, [Darkness Enhance].

It was a skill to increase his attributes temporarily. He realized the gap and tried to fill the gap with skill.

[Swift Step]

With the second skill, Bronson's figure blurred, but Tang Shaoyang's eyes saw the Knight Slayer's movement so clearly.

[Swift Slash]

The sword moved so fast that it blurred. However, Tang Shaoyang easily deflected the attack with his battle-ax. He brought the Dragon Destroyer to clash against the swords.

The sword was reflected by Tang Shaoyang, easily. But the moment the sword was reflected, it came back right after.

In the span of ten seconds, the sword and the battle-ax clashed hundreds of times.

"This is the first spirit that can fight the Lord equally..." Zhen Yang had his eyes widened in shock. He could not see the sword and the battle-ax movement. But from the noise and the spark, both were in an equal position.

"Do you think so?" Wei Xi asked Zhen Yang with a smile.