

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 471

"Alright, I have gotten what I want. I will give you some space to catch up, but we will continue the talk later, Rosalie and Crystal." Tang Shaoyang stood up and left the room.

He stood up and left the room. The two friends had become stiff after a long time of separation. It was better to let the two catch up and get more information from them later. These two would be crucial pieces to fight against the Lionax Kingdom.

Of course, he left them because he also had matters to take care of. The Territory War Game was not over yet and the matters regarding the prisoners. He had to make great use of the prisoners.

As he closed the door, he found out that Wen was standing next to the door. The Jade Eagle stood there, waiting for him. Tang Shaoyang shook his head, "What are you doing here?"

"I am waiting for you, My Lord!" The Jade Eagle replied dutifully. It was as if he was working as his bodyguard.

Tang Shaoyang tapped Wen's shoulder two times, "Good Job!" he knew that the Jade Eagle meant well for him. He could not scold him for doing something like that, "Can you bring me to General Zhang."

"Yes, My Lord." Wen nodded and led him to another room. Zhang Mengyao stayed on the same floor as the two quickly arrived. The Jade Eagle did not barge in like he did when they came to Commander Ashley's room. He stayed next to the door, "General Zhang is inside the room."

Tang Shaoyang nodded and smiled at Wen, "You can also take a rest, Wen. We have won the battle, you deserve a break too." After saying that, he twisted the doorknob and entered the room. She could hear Jiaying's laughter inside.

He walked into the room slowly and finally got to see Zhang Mengyao and Jiaying were playing together. Zhang Mengyao was sitting on a single couch with Jiaying clung to her feet. She rocked the little girl with her feet, invoking the girl's laughter.

Tang Shaoyang observed the room and found the mother was sleeping on the long couch. She had a tired look while sleeping soundly, unperturbed by the laughter.

"Daddy!" Jiaying noticed his arrival and called him out excitedly. She came off Zhang Mengyao's feet and ran toward him with her hand opened. Tang Shaoyang squatted down and hugged the little girl.

Meanwhile, Zhang Mengyao was looking at the two in a daze, "Daddy!?" She muttered absentmindedly. Soon a frown formed on her forehead. While her brother did not come to see Li Shuang gave birth to Jiaying, she came in her brother's stead. She was sure that Jiaying was her brother's daughter.

Zhang Mengyao immediately stood up and walked toward the two, "What is this about? Since when you become her father?"

"Since a few days ago. Daddy has seen my Mommy naked so he has to take responsibility, Aunt." It was Jiaying who answered Zhang Mengyao. The little girl replied with a wide smile. She was happy with Tang Shaoyang being her daddy.

"What about your Daddy Yimu?" Zhang Mengyao blurted out but she immediately understood her mistake. She was not supposed to bring this matter to Jiaying. She was still too small.

"Daddy Yimu?" The little girl paused and thought, "Who is Daddy Yimu? Mommy said I don't have Daddy until now," Jiaying said in a confused tone while clinging onto Tang Shaoyang.

"You are right. There's no Daddy Yimu, only Daddy Shaoyang!" Tang Shaoyang followed up and brought the little girl to another room. Fifteen minutes later, Jiaying was sitting on the bedside with a carton of strawberry juice this time. Not far from the bed, Zhang Mengyao and Tang Shaoyang sat at the small round table.

"So you are going to adopt her?" Zhang Mengyao asked Tang Shaoyang while looking at the happy little girl who kept sucking the straw.

"Of course. Since Li Shuang is now my lover, it's natural Jiaying is also my daughter. There is no need for me to adopt her. There's no such law to say that I have to adopt her for her to be my daughter. If I say she is my daughter then she is. That's how things work now." Tang Shaoyang shrugged.

"If you are concerned about your brother then your concern is unnecessary. If your brother did not even care about them before the Game, let alone now."

"Let's not talk about the unpleasant thing. We have defeated the Lionax Kingdom. It's time to finish the Territory War Game and we have to talk regarding the Dimensional Gate that connected Earth and Lukan," Tang Shaoyang changed the topic.

"That unpleasant thing is my brother," Zhang Mengyao rolled her eyes, but she did not pursue the matter about the adoption nor her brother. She responded with the subject, "Let's talk it with Wei Xi as well. What about this Lukan, have you gotten information from the prisoners?"

Tang Shaoyang nodded and explained about the Lionax Kingdom, the Pyrolis Kingdom, and also the two spirits that came from Lukan, "We have their Prince as well. This prince is willing to do anything to keep his life.

That is not the problem, the main problem is their main force. Even though the Lionax Kingdom is a minor kingdom in Lukan, they still have a hundred and twenty thousand armies with thirty thousand of them are Elemental Knights. We can't face them head-on, we are too weak and we don't have the numerical advantage as well."

"Let's talk it out with the others and find the solution." Zhang Mengyao nodded, "What about the prisoners, what we should do about them? They might fight back when you recall your spirits, we have to do something about them."

"Contract! We can make the contract in exchange to not kill them," Tang Shaoyang had his own plan for the prisoners, "Selena and Arina could help us to draw the contract if they want to keep their lives."

"For now, let's end this Territory War Game, and then we will search for the Dimensional Gate. We have to make sure the Lionax Kingdom to not sneak into our territory." Tang Shaoyang shared his thoughts, "We will return to Hangzhou and get rid of the Bombyx Mori Tribe and send a few teams to capture the remaining cities."

"Alright, what about the survivors of Ningbo City? They can't fly and the road is too dangerous for them. They are too weak to face the mutated animals," Zhang Mengyao was concerned about the survivors. Over two thousand survivors in the city and they needed a lot of Warriors to escort them to Hangzhou City.

"We have Yu Shun for that. I have called and he is on the way to Ningbo... No, he should arrive at Ningbo today," He had prepared the escort for the survivors to transfer them to Hangzhou City, "Yu Shun can do the job with his zombie armies. Wen can also help him."

Tang Shaoyang just finished his words then he received a message. The message was from Yu Shun.

[I have arrived in the city, where should I go, My Lord?] That was the message from Yu Shun.

"Speak of the devil, he just arrived," He replied the message and told Yu Shun where they were.
