

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 476

"We will wait." Tang Shaoyang started to take off his armor as he replied to Selena. He was not used to wearing plate armor. He felt that the armor was restricting his movement, not worth it for the protection it offered compared to the skill he had.

"Can we trust them though? Even in my world when the game has not started, we have gods, how could a world with two hundred years of history with the game not have a single god?" Selena was suspicious. It did not make sense.

"The Lionax Kingdom is located away from the main continent. They are just a minor kingdom on a remote island with limited resources. God should exist, but only people and the force in the main continent know about this god." Tang Shaoyang explained to the girl as he laid his back on the bed, "Whoa! I am expecting a hard bed, but we get a decent bed." It was soft though it could not be compared with his king-size bed.

"As for whether we can trust them or not, you should know more about it than me. You are the one who created the oath," Suddenly Tang Shaoyang sat up. Selena had taken off her armor. As someone who always wore a robe, she was also uncomfortable with the plate armor.

Her red-brownish hair had grown longer to the back, her bright red eyes remained enchanting. She had a loose white robe, the robe she bought from the General Store from the base. Tang Shaoyang stood and sat next to her.

Selena looked at him and he looked at her. Without any words, he brought her into her embrace and cuddled her as they fell to the bed. Their faces were only a few centimeters away. He could feel her breathing on his face, her breath smelled nice and hot.

"We have nothing to do, at least a few hours until Ashley sends the Crown Prince away," Tang Shaoyang whispered. Selena understood what he tried to say to her and she nodded, agreeing.

—Hey! Hey! We are here! Don't ignore our existence. How can you do such a thing in front of us!?

Of course, not everyone agreed with his action. Rosalie the Flam Queen protested inside his head.

'What? Do you want to join too? [Spirit Manifestation] allows the spirit to have a physical body, we can try that,' Tang Shaoyang boldly replied to the virgin Queen. Yes, the Queen remained unmarried until she suicided. He did not mind trying to have sex with the Spirit. After that, he no longer heard Rosalie's voice. She must run away from the embarrassment.

Tang Shaoyang focused back on the girl in front of him. Selena's breathing turned erratic by just a simple touch on her waist. She then got her lips closer to his and kissed him. She was aggressive as her tongue tried to pry his lips and enter his mouth. Quickly their tongues intertwined.

At the same time, through [Mana Manipulation], he coated the room with his mana to isolate the room, making sure that the others could not listen to them. His hands moved down toward her thighs and pulled the robbed up, showing the smooth white thigh. He caressed the thigh as his hand slowly moved upward to the private region.

The panties became a barrier between his hand and Selena's Private Region. It did not stop his advance as he caressed her private region, causing Selena to release a muffled moan. Soon he could feel the wetness on her panties. That was a sign that she was ready for the real battle.

Tang Shaoyang stood up and took his pants down as his hand raised her robe up to her belly. He did not bother to undress her as the Little Shaoyang came out in his beast form. He rubbed little Shaoyang against her private region, causing Selena to moan even louder.

"Don't tease me any longer, please put yours inside me," Selena could no longer handle the teasing, pleading to Tang Shaoyang to put it in. With a smile, Tang Shaoyang pushed little Shaoyang inside her.

"Ahhnnn~" A long moan escape from Selena's mouth. This was not the first time, but the feeling and the sensation were as if this was her first time feeling this good. No, this was much better than before. She followed his rhythm and enjoyed divine pleasure.

"Ahn~ Ahn~ Ahn~" She tried to suppress her voice but it was no use. This was just too good and she could not suppress it. Tang Shaoyang got closer and whispered, "Don't worry, the room is soundproof."

When she heard those words from him, Selena no longer held her voice back. The unrestrained moan filled the room as the two lovers spent their afternoon. Ten minutes later, they changed position. He brought her up and had Selena face the wall and thrust her from behind.

Selena was holding onto the wall as she stuck up her butts. She let Tang Shaoyang do the rest as she enjoyed his manhood. Tang Shaoyang could feel that his manhood was being clamped tightly. This was the sign that Selena was about to reach climax again. He hastened the thrust as he also almost reached the climax.

The sound of her moaning and also her butts getting bumped by Tang Shaoyang's thigh filled the room. He moved faster and faster as he finally reached his first climax.

Selena could feel the warm liquid pouring inside her, even so, the thing inside her was still erecting hard.

Tang Shaoyang leaned forward and turned her head toward him. They exchanged a hot kiss as his hand entered her robe toward her chest. He played with her nipples as her body shuddered as his hand touched her nipple. He could feel that her private region started to clamp little Shaoyang again.

He held her thigh up, carrying her up as she circled her hands around his neck. Tang Shaoyang used his free hand to pull her robe off, exposing her body with only bras. With a quick flick, the bras also fell off while Selena also started to pull his shirt off.

He buried his head to her breast as she started to moan again. The room filled with her voice again.

"Again~ Again~" Selena whispered to his ears. She hugged her head tightly that his face pasted onto her big breast.

Tang Shaoyang pushed her, her back leaned back against the wall as he positioned Little Shaoyang toward her private region. Just like that, they started the second round, at least that was Tang Shaoyang's second round.

Ashley Malone, that was her name in this Kingdom. She was adopted by the head of the Malone Family and now she had become the hope of the family. At least, that was what people of this kingdom saw her. No one knew that she was the descendant of the fallen Ambrose Family.

Ashley came out of the main building. It took her three hours to get away from her fiancé. After that, she immediately went to the west side of the Malone Residence. That was where the knight quarter was.

She walked quickly and soon reached the knight quarter. Captain Knight Morris was standing at the door, waiting for her.

"Where is he?" She asked Captain Knight Morris. She was asking about Tang Shaoyang. They had to go to the next plan as soon as possible before the Crown Prince got suspicious.

"He is in the Captain Knight lodging in the seventh room." Captain Knight Morris replied, "Do you want me to accompany you, Commander Ashley?"

"No. I am fine alone, what do you think he would do to me? Kill me? Our lives are in his hands right now, we would die already if he wants us to die." Commander Ashley shook her head.

She walked into the knight quarter, leaving Captain Knight Morris outside. She walked into the dim hallway as her eyes looked at the door. The Captain Knight lodging was on the first floor and there was a number on each door. She kept looking at the door until she found the seventh room.

She stood in front of a door with the number seven on it, the seventh room where Tang Shaoyang stayed in. She knocked on the door three times and waited for the response. She heard no response from inside.

Ashley frowned and knocked on the door again, three times. Still the same, there was no response from the other side. She was worried that something happened. She opened the door and barged in.

When she was inside, she rooted on the spot as her eyes widened in shock. Her hand was still on the door's handle.
