

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 478

In the spirit space, while it was said to be a spirit space, it was a whole world. A space dedicated to the Spirit Contractor's spirit. The world was created once an individual accepted the Spirit Contractor Class.

In this space, the spirit could modify a land dedicated to them. The land was distributed to them once they made a contract with Tang Shaoyang. In a plot of land, there was a simple house from the medieval era. The house stood in the middle of a big plot of lawn. Yes, only a house for a family of three that stood in the middle of the lawn. The house stood out by how small the house was.

Inside the house, Rosalie the Flame Queen sat at a round table. She crossed her leg as she scanned the room. She recognized the house, this was his friend's old house when she was still living with her parents before she became a knight. Rosalie often played with the commoner Crystal when she was young.

"You choose to duplicate your old house rather than duplicating your old mansion? I thought you loved your husband the most?" The Queen asked. The old mansion had precious memories of Crystal and her husband. Her husband was also a commoner, the most skilled hunter in her village.

Crystal sat across Rosalie the Flame Queen. She sipped the cup of tea before she answered her friend's question, "I have spent enough time with my husband, more than the time I spent with my family." Her answer was clear, she wanted her lodging to have the ambiance of her family as she had spent enough time with her husband.

"Are you sure you are not going to stop them?" Rosalie the Flame Queen asked her friend, Crystal the Frost Knight, changing the topic swiftly. They did not cut off the connection between them and Tang Shaoyang. They just straight ignored him even though they could see what happened outside.

From their Master's thoughts, Crystal and Rosalie were aware that Tang Shaoyang did not know that the woman he kissed right now was Commander Ashley. However, Crystal and Rosalie knew who the woman was. Crystal chose not to tell her Master.

"No, this might be good for both of us. This way Master can fully trust Ashley, and Ashley has a place to return if we fail." Crystal replied.

"If we fail, that man will die," Rosalie rolled her eyes at her friend's thoughts. There was no way he could escape from the Lionax Kingdom's Royalty if the plan failed.

"You are wrong!" Crystal's tone was firm, "Even if we fail, he will survive. Even if his Empire is destroyed, he will come back stronger. You just don't know our Master well, Rosalie."

"Huh? Why do you address me so casually? I am your Queen." Rosalie furrowed her brows, "Also, you seem to have high confidence in him even though you just met him. This is suspicious, do you have a leg with him?" The Queen squinted her eyes at her friend.

"You were my Queen. You are now no longer the Queen, but a vengeful spirit that wishes for vengeance. I don't have a leg with our Master, as long as he can avenge my husband's death, then I am willing to give my body to him." Crystal answered plainly, "It is not a bad choice actually, he is spectacular on the bed."

As the two old friends chatted, the outside was in heat. Especially, Ashley, was in heat as her mind was in chaos. She could not think and reason properly. She wanted to refuse the man's advance. Her mind was screaming but her body did not listen to her.

Her body did not and would not move, no, in fact, she was responding to him. From the kiss, she tried to respond to the kiss despite her clumsy attempt. Her eyes suddenly widened as a foreign finger touched her private region. A big jolt of pleasure rushed toward her mind as the thought of refusing the man's advance instantly vanished. Her mind was whispering inside, 'Accept him and enjoy your life! You are about to put your life in line, just enjoy it for now.'

Being fingered by this man was much better than doing it by herself. Out of her subconscious action, a moan escaped from her mouth. She was shocked when she heard her own voice. She did not expect to make such a sound. It was a similar moan to the woman's early.

"Raise your hands." The man told her. She followed the command willingly and raised her hands. The man pulled off her clothes and she did not resist that as her face flushed red. This was the first time she showed her body to a man. The further thing her fiance did to her was holding hands, no more than that as she refused to make an intimate action before they officially married.

Tang Shaoyang was bewildered when he saw the big breast was gauzed by white clothes. There were no bras in this world. As he was confused about how to untie the gauze, he chose to pull down the pants. Fortunately, this world had panties even though the model was old-fashioned. He pulled the panties as well, exposing the pinky and hairless private region, 'This was a high grade!' Tang Shaoyang exclaimed inwardly.

He broke off from the top-grade private region and stood up. He then whispered to the girl with his deep voice, "Can you untie your gauze?"

Her hand moved like she was hypnotized but in fact, she moved based on her will. She was excited about what he would do to her next after she untied the gauze on her chest. It was crazy to have such a thought but that was the truth. The gauze slowly fell off and showed the breast.

Tang Shaoyang's eyes locked on her breast. He thought it was D but no, it was E. It became bigger without the gauze. Then he locked on the pinky yet tiny nipples. It was beautiful. He buried his face on her breast as her lips started to suck the pinky nipple gently.

"Ahn~ Ahn~ Ahn~" Consecutive moans escaped her mouth as she was not expecting that her breast being sucked could be this good. This was even better than rubbing her private region with her finger.

Ashley circled her hands onto his head, pushing his head tighter as she asked for more. She only loosened her hands when she heard the man's voice, "Calm down, girl. We haven't reached the most exciting part.

"Then let's proceed to the most exciting part. I can't wait any longer," She whispered seductively to his ears.

Tang Shaoyang parted with the nipple and grinned at the girl. From her reaction and response, he could tell that the woman was a virgin. Since she was a virgin, he was not going to try any position. He carried the girl to his bed and let her lay down.

"Spread your legs." Tang Shaoyang instructed and the woman followed his instruction. She spread the leg as per his instruction. Then he positioned little Shaoyang to her private region, rubbing against the pinky region. Her body wriggled as he noticed that her hand tried to reach little Shaoyang. She wanted to push little Shaoyang into her private region with her hand.

Tang Shaoyang did not let the girl wait longer as he pushed little Shaoyang into her private region.

"AHNNNN~~~"
