

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 479

Ashley felt an acute pain down there as if something within her broke apart. A frown formed on her forehead, but that pain only lasted about five seconds before a gush of pleasure returned, hitting her like a huge wave. She wriggled in response to the pleasure.

If before she could still think properly, this time her mind went blank. She could feel the retreating thing inside her before it pushed deep inside her, "Hmnnn~" She tried to suppress the moan after she managed to regain some of her sanity.

Ashley realized that she was still in the knight quarter. Her subordinates might hear her from outside.

Tang Shaoyang pulled and thrust the little Shaoyang gently. He repeated the action until the woman could not suppress her voice any longer. She did not care whether her subordinates might hear her or not. She followed the rhythm with her hip for maximum pleasure.

"Hngg~" This time the different moans filled the room. From laying on the bed, she was flipped over and thrust from behind. She was being tossed around on the bed. She did not know how long it was. By the time they finished, she passed out. Even though she had high attributes, this was still her first time.

Ashley tried to pry her heavy eyelids. Her body was so exhausted that as if she had been in a war for like three days with no rest. She opened her eyes only to see a vague look until she heard a female voice entered her ears.

"What do you think? Are they betraying us? Maybe the Lionax Kingdom will send their Guardians to take care of you. Should we run?"

Ashley opened her eyes wide as she immediately stood up from the bed. As soon as she sat on the bed, she felt a sharp pain, "Urghh." She grunted in pain as a frown formed on her forehead. She looked down at the place where it was hurt. Her eyes suddenly opened wide awake upon realizing she was naked. The frown deepened as she tried to recall what happened. She remembered that she was going to meet Tang Shaoyang but...

Recollections of scene after scene replayed in her mind. Anger rushed out toward her head, but she recalled the face she made while doing it with the man. She was even more shocked when she remembered everything. The main problem was that she was the one who asked for that.

"You should get more rest. It will take some time for you to fully recover since that was your first time." Ashley heard the man's voice. She took a sharp glance at the man. He was dressed in the Earth's clothes. The same for the woman, both were dressed while she was the only one who was naked.

Ashley wanted to vent her frustration on the man but it was useless. She was the one who asked for it. Now she thought it again, how could she be willing to do that with the man she just met. Not even a month since their first meeting, and it was not date either, it was a battle where she lost many subordinates in the process.

'Ashley oh Ashley! What have you done? How are you going to face your subordinates in hell later?' She was supposed to avenge her man, not having sexual intercourse with the man.

"What's wrong, girl? Are you okay?" Tang Shaoyang was concerned with the woman who seemed to lose in her thought. Selena was also a bit concerned, "Should I check her?" She was about to stand up to check on the woman.

However, Ashley had collected her thoughts and waved her hand toward Selena, "I am fine." She stood up and looked around the room, looking for her clothes. She found it near the door, where the man undressed.

"Huh!?" Tang Shaoyang caught up on something. He felt that the cold voice was somehow familiar. Then he came up to a realization. It was Commander Ashley's voice. "Are you Commander Ashley?" He asked the woman to confirm his suspicion.

"I am! Don't you know the woman you f*cked?" Ashley replied curtly. It was a lie if she was not angry. But again, she could not blame everything on the man because she was the one who took the initiative after Tang Shaoyang made his move on her instead of rejecting him.

"How am I supposed to know the person I never saw her face even once?" Tang Shaoyang rolled her eyes and smirked, "But you actually made a good voice while we-"

"Don't you want to meet with the current Ambrose Family's head? I will bring you to meet my father," Ashley dressed and walked toward the window. She let out another sigh, "We suppose to meet him a few hours ago..."

"Then what are waiting for? We have been waiting for you," Tang Shaoyang stood up and followed with Selena. Ashley nodded and turned around. In her third step, she paused. She creased her eyebrow.

"Do you want me to heal you? It could heal the pain and remove the uncomfortableness," Selena walked toward Ashley. The cold Commander shook her head as she continued walking. However, she stopped again when she reached the door. She turned around and said to Selena politely, "Can you heal me, please? I don't want my father to know about this..." her voice was getting smaller and smaller as she spoke.

"Quite cute for a cold Commander," Tang Shaoyang grinned as he teased Ashley. His words earned a sharp glare from the commander as Selena cast [Healing] on her private area.

"Thank you," Ashley thanked Selena as the soreness was truly gone. She said nothing to Tang Shaoyang and opened the door. Tang Shaoyang stopped her before she could open the door, "Should we have our armor on or?"

"It's fine. The Malone Family's residence is safe from the royalty's ears and eyes." Ashley did not think much about it, but Tang Shaoyang was not assured by her casual dismissal, "Don't open the door. We will wear our armor, just in case." He started to take out the armor from the inventory and put on the armor.

Selena also did the same. They wore the armor as Ashley waiting for the two to finish. It took them less than five minutes to have their armor back. Ashley said nothing and opened the door. To their surprise, there were many knights gathered in front of the room.

Tang Shaoyang found familiar faces such as Captain Knight Morris, Captain Knight Reed, and Captain Knight Weed. As for the others, he did not know much about them.

"What are you doing here!?" Ashley's eyes turned increasingly old as she scanned the knights. None of the knights dare to meet with her cold gaze, let alone answer her. All the knights had their heads down.

Tang Shaoyang was surprised by the knight's response. It was actually amazing that Ashley had much respect from her knights.

"Don't get too harsh on them, Ashley. They gathered here under my request. We thought something bad happened to you after you did not show up," A man's gentle voice flowed into the air. After the voice, the knights made a path for a middle-aged man to walk.
