

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 570

This was Tang Shaoyang's first time using Dragon Transformation after he unsealed his bloodline. He did not know what the Black Storm Dragonewt felt as he was not in that position but he was positive that [King of Beast Aura] had become a lot stronger than [Dragon Aura] to tame the Grade S+ Spirit.

"At this point, I am waiting for the Grade SSS Spirit..." Tang Shaoyang was anticipating summoning the Grade SSS Spirit. There was a chance that he would fail to contract that level of spirit but it was worth a try. The Grade SSS Spirit was about as strong as Rumru the Black Dragon. He could not help but compare himself to a few months back when he was in Arkania Continent.

At that time, he was still level 200++ but now he had reached level 1000, "Maybe I have a chance against Rumru..." Tang Shaoyang immediately shook his head after that.

Rumru's existence was equal to a God or even stronger than one God or else the God of the Arkania Continent would directly kill Rumru instead of scheming from the dark. It was clear that Rumru was much stronger than a God and yet Tang Shaoyang was still far from Demi-God Rank, "There's no way I can win against Rumru," He admitted and shook his head.

Tang Shaoyang canceled [Slayer Touch] but Maldros did not stop shaking even after that. The shock from the pain was still there. He let off the Black Storm Dragonewt and placed his palm on the magic circle.

[You have established a contract with Grade S+ Spirit, Maldros the Black Storm Dragonewt!]

The Black Storm Dragonewt burst out into the black mist and entered Tang Shaoyang's forehead. A chatter rang in his head as the other spirits seemed to be greeting the newly arrived spirit. He cut off the connection temporarily as he knew it would be noisy.

Tang Shaoyang looked at his own palm as he clenched and opened his palm. He was curious how strong he had become after unsealing the bloodline and also reached Legend Slayer. He might put his current power to a test against the tenth wave.

"That's a good idea, let's start the next wave immediately," Tang Shaoyang nodded his head and flapped his wings back toward the stone pillar. He landed next to the stone pillar and placed his palm on it.

[The Trial of the Epic will continue to the tenth wave!]

[The Tenth wave will spawn in five minutes!]

The notification was the indication that the next wave would start. He did not pay much attention to the notification as he opened the tenth wave composition.

[Tenth Wave]

Composition: 180,000 Stage 4 Monsters, and 130,000 Stage 5 Monsters, 50,000 Stage 6 Monsters, 20,000 Stage 7 Monsters, 7,000 Stage 8 Monsters, 2,500 Stage 9 Monsters, 5 Epic Rank Monsters

Countdown: 00:04:55

Tang Shaoyang rubbed his chin. He did not see a significant number on the wave. Only five Epic Rank Monsters and 2,500 Stage-9 Monsters, the others were not a threat to him. The real challenge was the Epic Rank Monsters and the Stage-9 Monsters. The other monsters were easily killed by him.

"Five minutes..." He muttered in a low voice as he leaned his back against the stone pillar and closed his eyes. Five minutes was like five hours to him, he felt he had been waiting too long until the ground vibrated.

Tang Shaoyang opened his eyes and looked toward the source of the vibration. The tenth wave monsters came from the south of the stone pillar. The direction where they came from was for sure random.

He did not waste his time as he immediately flew toward the monster wave. With his current speed, it did not take ten seconds for him to reach the tenth wave. Through the [Spirit Eyes], Tang Shaoyang immediately detected the Epic Rank Monster.

"Huh, still the same Epic Rank Monsters?" Tang Shaoyang muttered in a dissatisfied tone as he found five Warbears. Five Warbears with the same class, War Master. On top of that, the five Epic Rank Monsters were walking side by side instead of spreading out like the beforehand wave.

"Better than nothing, I guess," As he said that, Tang Shaoyang's figure dived into the five Epic Rank Monsters.

Boom!

He landed between the five monsters then he raised his right foot and stomped onto the ground. As his foot stomped on the ground, the ground where the five Epic Rank Monsters were standing. The five Epic Rank Monsters did not expect that the ground would yeet them to the air. All of them lost their balance and were flung to the air.

Tang Shaoyang's gathered the Slayer Energy in his right as he looked up. The five Epic Rank Monsters were free-falling toward him. He could see the Warbears were kicking their feet and hands in the air. He did not move as there was one Epic Rank Monster that would fall right in front of him.

When the one Epic Rank Monster was three meters away from the ground, Tang Shaoyang jumped while executing an uppercut punch toward the Epic Rank Monster. His fist landed right on the Epic Rank Monster's head.

The scenario in Tang Shaoyang's head was that the Warbear would suffer a fatal injury from this strike. Even with his Slayer Energy, his opponent was still an Epic Rank Monster. It was hard to kill an Epic Rank with one hit as he at least needed three hits to kill one Epic Rank.

That was the scenario in his head but the reality was totally different. The Warbear's head flew off as blood spurted out from the neck. Yes, the Warbear was killed with one strike, one punch. Tang Shaoyang was not expecting this to happen.

One Epic Rank Monster died and the other four Epic Rank monsters landed at the other monsters, crushing the weaker monsters below them.

Tang Shaoyang still could not believe this. He immediately looked for another Epic Rank Monster as he gathered the Slayer Energy on his right foot. He dashed toward the second Epic Rank Monster and stomped its head.

Splat!

The Warbear's head shattered with a stomp from him, one hit one kill even though his opponent was Epic Rank Monster.
