

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 571

Hahhhhh...

Tang Shaoyang let out a long sigh. It was a disappointment as even the tenth wave could not become a test for him to go all out. How was he supposed to be going all out if the enemy was killed in one hit? It was not a fight at all, as if he was an armed adult against the innocent kindergarten kids.

It was the right analogy for his situation since no monster could withstand his fist. Of course, this came with a big advantage for him, "At least, I can quicken the trial by finishing the wave faster,"

That was a big advantage as he finished the tenth wave within ten minutes by using the Dragon Transformation. He then flew to the sky and extended his hand wide and cast his skill, [Epic Summoning].

Swoosh!

The corpses burst out into the red mist. It was just the same phenomenon as before with the color difference. The red mist swirled into one spot and a figure came out from the swirling red mist. The figure was flying in the air, having a ten meters wingspan, and the figure was in flames, like a phoenix.

[You have summoned Grade S+ Spirit, Vera the Legendary Beast (Adolescent Stage Inferkost)!]

"Huh, so it's a beast instead of a monster this time," Tang Shaoyang muttered as he looked at the giant bird in the sky. It said that the bird was still in the adolescent stage yet it was so big that he almost thought the bird had reached adulthood instead.

—Inferkost, huh!? You summoned one of the rarest birds, Master.

Maldros' voice rang in his head. From the way he talked, the Black Storm Dragonewt seemed to know more about this Inferkost.

"One of the rarest birds? Not one of the strongest birds?" Tang Shaoyang noticed in the dragonewt's wordings. It said that Inferkost was one of the rarest birds instead of the strongest, meaning Maldros did not acknowledge the creature's strength.

—Don't get me wrong, Master. Inferkost is strong but that bird is still nothing in front of a dragon race. They are not a phoenix that could rival our predecessor, the Dragon. However, I never saw an adult Inferkost during my lifetime.

Tang Shaoyang rubbed his chin, "Then how do you know that Inferkost is inferior to a dragon and phoenix when you never encountered an adult Inferkost? Also, what makes this Inferkost one of the rarest creatures?" He was piqued by Inferkost's background.

—Because the Human Race keeps hunting them down. At least, Inferkost in my world has been hunted down by the empires and kingdoms. I heard that the human is aiming for Inferkost's heart. They would transplant the heart to their future generations as Inferkost's heart can help to increase human power in magic. I am not sure either but that was what I heard.

"What? Transplanting a beast heart into a human's body? Is that even possible?" Tang Shaoyang was baffled by the story. One was a bird and one was a human, transplantation was not possible. Even though he was not a doctor, Tang Shaoyang understood that much.

—Right? I was confused as well. If I have not fought a human with Inferkost's heart, I will not believe it either. The human is capable of using Inferkost's fire, the Eternal Fire.

"Then this bird will hate me for sure..." Tang Shaoyang then noticed the bird was looking at him as well. The flaring crimson eyes locked on him but he did not detect hatred from Inferkost's gaze, "Ah, I see. I am still in the Dragon Transformation," He then realized that he was not in his human form.

"Let's not waste our time and finish this with a fight!" Tang Shaoyang was about to fly until he heard a boy's voice rang, "Wait. I don't want to fight. As long as you can promise one thing, then I am willing to be your contracted spirit,"

From the way Vera talked, Tang Shaoyang could tell that this was not the boy's first summoning but he did not want to make any promise from the spirits. He had made many promises, and he still was not able to fulfill one of them yet. He was not going to add his debt.

"Please, I just need you to do one thing. If you ever visit Eudduron once, can you search for my sister? I just need to know whether my sister is still alive or not, that's just a simple request," Vera pleaded with a begging tone.

"That's it?" Tang Shaoyang was baffled by the request. If he ever visited the world called Eudduron then he just needed to search for Vera's sister. That was indeed a simple request but an arduous task for sure. Unless this Eudduron was a small world.

—Don't worry, it's not hard to find my sister. She's the hope of our tribe and the strongest Infernost has ever been born into a world. If she managed to escape alive from the human's encirclement, then she would grow into one of the strongest in my world that could rival even a God. So it will be easy for us to find out whether my sister is still alive or not.

"I see," Tang Shaoyang nodded his head and motioned Vera to come down, "Alright, I promise. As long as I visit Eudduron, I will find out whether your sister is still alive or not," That was an empty promise as the possibility of visiting Eudduron was minuscule.

Vera the Legendary Beast came down and offered the glowing magic circle above his head toward Tang Shaoyang.

[You have established a contract with Grade S+ Spirit, Vera the Legendary Beast (Adolescent Stage Inferkost)!]

Vera's figure turned into red mist and entered his forehead. Maybe Vera's appearance was so daunting that no Grade B spirit dared to welcome or even greet the Inferkost.

"What do you want to do after knowing your sister is still alive?" Tang Shaoyang was curious as this Grade S+ Spirit's request was unique to him. Also one thing, the bird was not expressing his hatred to humans who seemed to be the culprit of his death.

—I just want to know what kind of life she has. I hope she does not live with a vengeance but live to find her happiness instead of wasting her time to avenge our tribe. I want her to be safe and meet her partner, if possible I want to meet with my nephew or maybe niece...
