

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 620

The Elven Territory

The Princess of The Elven and the Maiden of The Moonlight Tribe gathered in one Elven's tree house room. Just like Tang Shaoyang imagined, The Elven had pointy ears and a stunning look. The only thing he was wrong with was Elven's hair, which was snow-white instead of blonde.

Across from the Elven Princess, Moonlight Maiden sat with an uneasy look on her face. She had long bunny ears that bent forward, from her elbow to her wrist covered in white fur, and the same for her knee down to the ankle was also covered with white fur. Both were stunning women from their appearance.

The Elven Princess gave off an aloof air while the Moonlight Maiden gave off a lovely-type girl.

"Do you think that will work, Princess Allisa? I don't think The Tyrant will back down easily." The Moonlight Maiden said with a concerned tone.

"Don't worry, Maiden Sylvia. Our plan is perfect. Only a madman who dares to oppose the Great Four Tribes and Two Guardian Beasts of Gigante Forest." Princess Allisa said confidently. She believed that her plan was flawless.

"B-but we can't contact the two Guardian Beasts. There's not even a response from the Dark Tribe. We are alone. On top of that, our squad found a trace of battle around Kirin's Lair." Maiden Sylvia was not convinced easily, especially with the Guardian Beast that could not be contacted.

"But The Tyrant does not know we can't contact the Guardian Beasts, and we just need their names to scare The Tyrant. That should be enough to buy us time to investigate what happened with Kalliyen and the Dark Tribe." The Elven Princess was not concerned in the slightest, and she believed the name of Guardian Beast and the Great Four Tribes were enough to scare anyone in Ortis Continent.

"I hope so..." The Moonlight Maiden muttered in a low voice. She was not that confident with their plan, causing The Elven Princess to shake her head. Allisa had heard that The Moonlight Maiden was timid, but she did not expect she would be this timid.

Tang Shaoyang's concern came true when the intruder introduced themselves. The Elven and The Moonlight Tribe came over to mess up with his plan. They probably knew that after the Beast Coven, they would be his next target.

Tang Shaoyang remained silent as he observed the intruders with his sharp eyes. The Elven named Kaylin observed the force behind him, and her jade-green eyes stopped at the sight of Zaneos.

Since The Tyrant did not respond to her, she assumed the opposite party would not speak to them. Kaylin did not care and continued. "We, The Elven and The Moonlight Tribe, condemn the act of war that The Tyrant has brought to Gigante Forest. We disapprove of your action and don't accept your presence in the forest. Leave, or else we will take action against your faction!"

Tang Shaoyang let out a sigh. "I plan to take care of The Elven and The Moonlight Tribe later, but since you come to me now. Then I will clean all of you at once."

"I might suffer a loss here, but it will hasten my plan to conquer Gigante Forest." He muttered in a low voice and glanced at Zara. The Angel of Death received her Master's signal and nodded her head.

"What?" Lusha, The Moonlight Warrior, could not believe what she heard from the man's mouth. "Do you know who we are? We are the Great Four Tribes! If you don't leave the Gigante Forest right now, even the Guardian Beast will step in since you disrupt the peace within the forest!"

When Lusha brought up The Guardian Beast, Tang Shaoyang grinned ear to ear. He immediately realized that The Elven and The Moonlight Tribe still did not know the Green Sky Serpent had been killed, and Kalliyen had become his lifelong pet.

"I see... I see..." Tang Shaoyang nodded his head as he connected the dots. These eight individuals came to intimidate him with the existence of the Guardian Beasts, and they wanted to stop the war against the Beast Coven.

'I made the right move. If I don't come for the Guardian Beast first, I will back down right now. But the two Guardian Beasts are no longer an unknown threat to him.'

"If you want to scare me away with the Guardian Beast, then you are choosing the wrong person to scare." After saying that, Tang Shaoyang yelled. "Zara!"

The Angel of Death made her move as she appeared in front of the eight individuals. Kaylin and Lusha were caught off guard as the Angel of Death was too fast. More than that, they did not expect that The Tyrant would attack them after they threatened The Tyrant.

Kaylin immediately used his Wind Elemental to push herself backward. At the same time, the other three Moonlight Warriors came forward. The three warriors took out the shield from the inventory and blocked the black sword. However, the black swords passed through their shield and stabbed their thighs.

Eight Black swords pierced through the four Moonlight Warriors' thighs and pinned them down on the ground.

"ARGHHH!!!" The four Moon Rabbit screamed in pain as blood trickled down from their thigh. It was a bizarre sight; the black sword did not break the armor, but it ripped apart their flesh. Just like that, the four Moonlight Warriors were taken down.

Kaylin and the other three Elven were shocked that the angel trounced the Moonlight Warrior this fast. Kaylin pulled out her bow and was about to take the arrow from the quiver, but she could no longer feel her left hand. She wanted to help the Moonlight Warrior, but she instead saw her left hand fall off.

Kaylin's eyes widened in shock as she witnessed her right hand that held the bow also fell from her body. While she was still confused about what had happened to her, her vision also fell off. No, it was her body that fell to the ground. Right after that, she experienced excruciating pain as she realized she had lost all her four limbs.

Kaylin was about to scream, but she heard her comrades scream instead, along with bone-crunching noise. She looked to the side and witnessed an undead step on her comrade's thigh, crushing her comrade's leg, one by one. After the legs, the undead then stepped on their arms as well.

"You should not interfere in Master's fight. He is pissed off right now." Then Kaylin heard a deep voice from the back. She turned around and saw the demon with a straw hat, looking down at her coldly.

The Elven was shocked to the core. She could not even feel the opposite party's movement, and they just appeared right behind her and cut all her limbs off. Kaylin gritted her teeth and endured the pain.

"Commendable to hold your scream." Zaneos nodded his head, but his compliment was thorns to Kaylin. "Don't worry. Master does not want to kill you, and he wants you to witness the battle against the Beast Coven. We have a healer as well, so you will not die anytime soon."

Alton took a deep breath and breathed out everything in one go. He barely saw what happened and could not react in time to help the Elven and the Moonlight Warrior. He knew they were strong, but he did not expect to be this strong.
