

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 627

"Are you sure he is fine? Why doesn't he wake up if he is fine?" Selena was dead-worried as she kept asking Zara. After Kalliyen closed the battle by threatening the Beast Coven with Alton's life, it was so unexpected where the beastmen followed the human loyally. They surrendered in order to save Alton's life.

Just like that, The Kirin took over the charge to organize the beastmen. With her status as the Guardian Beast, they listened to her more than the others. After the conclusion of the battle, Zara brought Tang Shaoyang to the Beast Coven's territory. They were now in Alton's house, tending their unconscious leader.

The spirit armies were also ready outside the house, ensuring no one came closer, including Aki. Of course, Zara had to calm down the two women, Selena and Ashley, who were freaked out after being informed that Tang Shaoyang was unconscious.

"He is fine, as you can see. Don't you cast your healing spell as well?" Zara rubbed the space between her eyes. It was a pain in the ass to face these two women... They were not the only ones who worried about Tang Shaoyang. "I told you, he is in the process of evolution. Can't you hear it? Three hearts are beating down in his chest. We can only trust him to overcome this."

"How is it possible for him to have three hearts?" Ashley, who had a lot of knowledge from the Royal Family Library, never heard about someone with two hearts, let alone three. She did not know if this was a good thing or a bad thing.

"The world or universe, to be more exact, is vast than you thought. Lukan and Earth are just small parts of the universe. Who knows, but maybe there's even someone with five hearts." Zara shook her head, and her eyes never left the man on the bed. "However, I believe this is a good thing for him. That means his body is adapting to a new power. It's just that the timing is rather unfortunate."

Zara had just finished her words, and soon she noticed the man had opened his eyes. She was the first one to notice that, and her figure blurred toward the bed. "How do you feel? Can you hear me?" She waved her hand toward Tang Shaoyang, and he turned toward her.

Zara noticed the noticeable change in Tang Shaoyang, and it was his left eye. The left eye turned black, losing the characteristic of the dragon eyes. It was a black eye with a red pupil, similar to the demon's eyes.

It took a while for Tang Shaoyang to adapt to the light. He followed the voice and looked toward Zara's flawless face. He blinked his eyes a few times before he smiled. "I thought I was dead, but I'm glad to see you again." Those were his words after he woke up.

"Why would you say something horrible like that?" Selena was standing behind Zara and scolded him. However, tears gathered in her eyes. She was dead-worried, and that was his words the moment he woke up.

"Hah..." Tang Shaoyang let out a long relieved sigh as he looked at the ceiling. He subconsciously put his right hand on his chest. Now he sensed it; he had three different heartbeats that were beating at the same time. One of them beat weaker than the other two, and he figured that must be his original heart.

"What happened? Why did you fall unconscious in the middle of the fight?" Ashley was more collected than Selena. She had asked Alton what had happened to Tang Shaoyang. The old knight told her that he did not do anything as Tang Shaoyang fell by himself.

Tang Shaoyang looked toward Ashley and smiled. "Don't worry. It's nothing terrible, a fortune in the worst timing. I have evolved into a new race that even the System does not know."

When he said that, Zara looked at him intensely as Ashley and Selena exchanged glances. They tried to figure out the meaning of his words, evolving to a new race that even The System did not know. It was something hard to believe as they thought The System knew everything.

"Yes, I am the first of my race. Apparently, I have three hearts, my original heart, Dragon Heart, and Demon Heart." Tang Shaoyang nodded his head and explained.

"Then are you no longer a human?" Ashley looked at Tang Shaoyang weirdly. The fact that Tang Shaoyang's left eye turned dark concerned her. Now she found the truth, and it was more concerning. No matter what, the demon race was never good in her eyes, even until now. A quarter of her man was a demon now, and she did not know how to react to this.

"I am not a human, I am Tang. The System asked me to name the new race, so I named it after my family name and empire. You can say that Tang is a branch of evolution from a human." Tang Shaoyang tried to explain to them what happened when he was unconscious.

"If one of you bears my child in the future, they might be born as a Tang instead of a human." He grinned ear to ear.

Zara furrowed her brow for a moment before she shook her head. "I never heard of this before. What if I bear your child? Will our child be born with a new race?"

As soon as she said that, Selena and Ashley looked toward the Angel of Death. They thought Tang Shaoyang was talking to two of them, but they did not expect the angel would include herself.

Selena squinted her eyes and observed Tang Shaoyang. The fact he did not refute or say anything about it confirmed the angel's relationship with her man. 'Wait, don't tell me they have done it?'

"We don't know unless we tried it. I should start to rack up my Spirit Energy to revive you, though. It will take a long time before we find out about that." Tang Shaoyang merely grinned.

"You two..." Ashley reacted strongly when she found out about the angel's relationship with her man. "Don't tell me..."

Zara made it simple by admitting straightforwardly. "Yes, you two have to share him with me as well."
