

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 667

'As expected of a married woman, they are excellent on the bed.' Tang Shaoyang thought to himself as he held her head on the crotch. He then pulled her up on the bed. "That should be enough. Let's get to the main course."

The man picked her up easily to the bed. She anticipated the next course for sure after what she felt just now. "Nnggg." She could feel that the man was rubbing his things on hers. Even so, her body was electrocuted by the pleasure as she twisted her body a little bit. She never felt like this before, this was-

"Ahhnnnnnn~" Viona lifted her body up from the bed when the man's thing entered her. However, she immediately covered her mouth, fearing others might hear her.

Tang Shaoyang grinned and whispered. "Don't worry. I can't sense anyone near us, so you don't have to suppress your voice. You can go crazy." After whispering that, he started to pick up his pace.

At first, Viona was still suppressing her voice. However, as he was going faster, she could no longer suppress her voice. She could no longer think rationally and let her voice out. Amid the night, in the middle of the forest, Viona's moan echoed from the top of the tree. Just like that, fifteen minutes passed, and Viona had reached her climax for the first time.

"Hah... Hah... Hah..." She breathed erratically and looked at the man above her. He was smiling at her. She was supposed to resent this man for replacing her husband, the man she loved on the bed. However, there was no resentment in her. It was more a desire, the longing desire, hoping she owned this man. 'Have I gone crazy?'

"We are not done yet, baby." Tang Shaoyang whispered her in the ear as he picked her up again. Of course, she knew they were not done yet because she could feel that his thing was still hard inside her. He picked her up and flipped her position without taking out his thing. The rubbing sensation inside her caused her to moan. "Hnggg~"

"Hold on the tree. We will start the next round." Viona followed his instruction. She held her position with her knee as she put her hands onto the tree. "Ahhnn~ Ahnnn~ Ahnnn~" As they were in the position, the man started to move again. At this point, she did not bother with how loud she was.

While Tang Shaoyang said, there was nothing to worry about because he could sense no one near them. It was practically true, no one near them in the radius of a hundred meters area. However, there was someone near them, and that someone could not hear their voice, but she could see what they were doing.

She was standing around three hundred meters away. "I see, so you like that kind of thing, huh!?" After saying that, the figure turned around and left.

Viona had lost the ability to think as she did whatever the man instructed her. They maintained this position for another twenty minutes before she reached climax once more. "AHHNNNNNN~" She could feel the warm liquid pouring into her as her body twisted in pleasure.

Her knees went weak as she fell on the bed. She could no longer hold her position. She could also feel the man's body on her back, plastering on her back. But there was another thing she could feel, and it was the man's thing that was still hard inside her. Before she could say anything, the man started moving again.

Viona thought that she was at her limit, but she realized that there was no limit to her body when having sex with this man. They started the third round on the bed and ended the third round on his embrace.

She had her back on the man's chest as he held her thigh up. It never crossed her mind before that she would try this position. Viona looked down at her private region. The white liquid was spilling from there, and she immediately looked away. She was ashamed to see that and looked up to the sky.

'I am sorry, Robin. I don't think I can't resist this anymore.' Viona said in her head as she looked at the full blue moon. "We haven't done yet, babe." He said that as he turned her body, now they were facing each other. His hands were on her butts right now, and he started to move again.

By the time they finished, Viona immediately fell asleep. Her erratic breath calmed down as she slept with a smile. Tang Shaoyang sat on the edge as he started to look at the moon again.

—Why are you doing that?

Rosalie questioned Tang Shaoyang. "Doing what?" He replied calmly.

—The woman, why do you want her when you have gorgeous wives waiting for you? Sylvia and Aleesa will not stop you if you want them. Why do you choose this woman instead?

"Because I am bored." Tang Shaoyang replied as he glanced at the lady who was sleeping peacefully.

—What do you mean? You are bored with your wives, so you are looking for new women!?! Will you do the same to us too?

Rosalie raised her voice. She was angry when she heard his reply, and without realizing it, she regarded herself as one of Tang Shaoyang's women already.

"No, I am bored because I have nothing to do. We will start a big war, but I can't join the battle unless those two Lionax Kingdom's guardians join the fray as well. I can only watch from the sideline, so I decided to start a new project for myself." Tang Shaoyang got up and started to dress up.

—A new project? What do you mean? What's the relation between the new project and this woman?

"A hidden force that only listens to the Emperor's command. So no one could order them but The Emperor. They work in the dark to do the dirty thing for the Emperor or something like that. So you know my perverted ability, right? This perverted ability will make them loyal to me. But of course, I am not going to force anyone, I am just giving the offer to the desperate one, like this lady... Or maybe, I will force someone to join if they have an ability I desire."
