

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 673

'Class Change Scroll!?' Viona was surprised by how fast Tang Shaoyang could get the Class Change Scroll. He promised to give her a better class, but not within a day, for sure. 'Moreover, this is a superior element in offense. As expected of an Emperor.'

'It's not just one, but two of them. He asked me to choose between the two, and now I am curious about the second class.' Viona released the scroll and reached the second scroll.

[Class Change Scroll]

Class: Elemental Knight (Shadow)

'Huh!?' Viona furrowed her brow. Both were the same class but a different element. She had never heard about Shadow Elemental before and realized that this was a rare elemental. The wind elemental was for sure more common than the shadow, but she did not know the potential of this shadow elemental.

'I hope Lilliana is around so I can ask here which one is better for me.' She let off the golden scroll because the Golden Lizard was staring at her intensely. Staring at the ceiling, she thought to herself. 'Why would he tell the golden lizard that I have to choose one of them? It's not like I can take two of them.'

Wrath gathered the two scrolls around him and closed his eyes. He slept next to Viona, who was thinking hard about which class she should choose. 'From the choice, I should choose the Wind Elemental. I can easily find the record of the Wind Elemental Knight and learn from their records, but not with the Shadow Elemental Knight.'

'However, there must be a reason why Shadow Elemental Knight is rare. This might be the class with hidden potential.' Viona could not come up with a decision after thinking about it for a while. However, she was inclined to the Wind Elemental Knight because she could easily find someone with the same class to guide her.

Viona spent four hours with her eyes open, staring at the unchanging ceiling. She could feel that energy start to return in her body, and she could move her body freely after four hours of staying on the bed.

Viona got up and sat on the bed. The golden lizard was sensitive to the movement around him, so it woke up as soon as she tried to get up. "What are you doing, Woman? Have you recovered?" That was what he asked her when he woke up. From the tone of the golden lizard, she could tell that he was displeased that she woke him up.

Viona ignored the golden lizard's words and walked toward the window. She noticed this, but the surroundings were too quiet. She looked outside and found out that she was in Bareham City, but the street outside was empty. 'What happened to the residents of Bareham City? Did they all get killed? Also, where are the beast and beastmen armies? Did they leave the city already?'

"If you are looking for the armies, they have already left the city to attack the next city. They departed two hours ago, and they were heading to a city called Yoram City. Maybe they have captured the city already by now." It was as if the Golden Dragon could read her thoughts.

"What about the residents of Bareham City?" Viona imagined that the beasts tore apart those weak civilians in her head. Her stomach started to churn up again as she imagined the slaughter. She leaned forward and held onto the window frame.

"The ones who surrendered are escorted into Gigante Forest, and the ones who resisted are killed." Wrath yawned and pushed the two scrolls away from him. "It seems you have recovered, Woman. Now choose one of them so that I can return to My Master's side. You have decided which one you want, right?"

Viona managed to suppress nausea when she heard that the residents were escorted to the forest. She turned around and walked toward the bed. Just like the golden lizard said, she had to choose quickly, or else she would miss more battles. However, Viona grabbed two of them and saved the scroll into her inventory instead of choosing one of them.

"What are you doing, Woman? You can't take them all!" Wrath stood up and hissed at Viona. He unleashed his suppressed aura and scared Viona. She fell on her butts as she gazed at the golden lizard in shock. She was not expecting that small creature to have this terrifying aura.

"N-No! I am not taking two of them. I haven't decided which one, so I saved them in my inventory." Viona hurriedly explained before things got worse. Wrath did not budge as he stared at her with his terrifying gaze.

Viona hurriedly took out the two scrolls and placed them in front of the golden lizard. "You made the right decision, Woman!" Wrath commented as he pulled the two golden scrolls away from Viona.

After putting it back, she got up and scanned the room. She was looking for her equipment and found it quickly at the corner of the room. She put on the armor and sat down on the table. Because of the Class Change Scroll, she forgot something important. The Attribute Points, she got a lot of points from killing the warriors and archers.

Viona opened her window status and was shocked to see her level. She was level 227. 'I heard many notifications back then, but I did not expect that my level would increase this much. Does that mean the people I killed are around level 300ish to 400ish? or else I will not quickly level up like this.'

She allocated the Attribute Points. It did not take a long time for her to prioritize Stamina over the other attributes. Her reasoning was the [Spirit Fusion]. If she had high Stamina, she would not be this exhausted and passed out during the battle. She chose Endurance over movement, strength, and Magic Power.

After allocating her Attribute Points, she turned toward the golden lizard. "Do you know where Bareham Tower is? I want to meet your Master now."

"My Master asked you to lead you to Bareham Tower after you choose the scroll..." Wrath paused for a moment. "Never mind, and I will tell Master that you have not chosen the scroll later."

Wrath went out of the building, and Viona followed him. When they were on the street, Wrath looked at her and commanded. "Don't get too close to me, or else Master will be angry that I hurt you accidentally. Though you are hurt mostly because of your stupidity."

Viona endured the golden lizard's blabber as she made some distance from the golden lizard. She retreated three meters away from the golden lizard. However, it only invoked the golden lizard's anger even more.

"Do you have a death wish, or what? I told you to stay away from me, and you are still too close!" Wrath felt this woman was stupid for sure. At least, compared to his Master's other women, this one was clumsier and stupid.

'Calm down, Viona! Get stronger and remember to spank this golden lizard once you get stronger.'
Viona thought to herself as she walked away ten meters back. Her thoughts changed quickly after she witnessed what happened next... She looked up and fell on her butt with her eyes and mouth widened open.
