

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 696

[Your Gunslinger Skeleton has advanced to Elite Gunslinger Skeleton!]

After killing the eight people with the gun, Keeper evolved to the next stage. Tang Shaoyang noticed a change in Keeper after the evolution. This guy had become taller, around two meters tall.

"You are right about the bullet. It's not a bone or steel bullet, but a mana bullet." Tang Shaoyang glanced at the eight dead bodies. Four people died with their heads exploded, and the remaining four had a hole with seven centimeters in diameter on their foreheads. Weird enough, the smaller gun caused the head to explode while the sniper gun just left behind a hole. The sniper should have more firepower than the smaller gun.

"I told you, right? Don't you get excited for Keeper's growth then? I am curious about Keeper's final evolution. Because if the only thing he can do is shoot a bullet made of mana, then this class is surely trash. I kind of understand why you are so disappointed when you find this class in the option." Zara nodded her head in response.

"I think Keeper can do more than that. He may imbue the Elemental Power in the future, maybe. What if Keeper gets a new type of energy like Slayer Energy and makes the bullets from this Slayer Energy? That should be strong enough to kill a dragon, right?" Tang Shaoyang remembered the day he killed Rumru. He had to imbue Slayer Energy to pierce that hard shell.

"That's possible, but Slayer Energy originates from a class, and I don't think Keeper can get a second class just like you did." Zara nodded her head as she agreed with the Gunslinger's potential. The class could be stronger than this, but this Skeleton had a limitless path. The Skeletons had a specific path they had to follow, and they could not get like bloodline or talent, or even second class.

"Not necessary Slayer Energy. I think there are other energies aside from Slayer Energy, but who knows? We can only wait for the future." Tang Shaoyang voiced out his thoughts as he extended his hand to the group of the captured knights. He pulled eighteen knights and placed them in front of Keeper.

Keeper did not wait for Tang Shaoyang's order as it aimed the gun toward the eighteen people's heads. It shot eighteen people with its smaller gun and reached level 400. This proved that Kaiser and Keeper had the same experience bar since both killed thirty-three people to reach level 400.

Tang Shaoyang opened Keeper's status window and compared it with Kaiser. He realized that Keeper had more Magic Power and Agility than Kaiser, though the other three attributes were lower. "I think Keeper is stronger than Kaiser." He muttered in a low voice.

"That depends..." Zara paused instantly as she looked at Kaiser, who was making a clanking noise next to Skelly2. "This time, I agree with you. Choosing a class from the start is not necessarily weaker than evolution. However, it is because Kaiser does not have its specialty yet while Keeper has it."

"Good, you can go back for now." Tang Shaoyang said to the kneeling Keeper. The latter nodded his head and walked back to the group. "It seems I have to make something for Keeper." He commented as he looked at the naked Keeper.

"You can ask the dwarves to make something for him. They have become even more docile to you after seeing Kalliyon face to face. I think they can make something for the Skelly Family." Zara gave him an idea about the equipment.

"That's a good idea. Let's visit the Dwarves later." Tang Shaoyang nodded and motioned Skelly1 to come over. The Elite Skeleton came over, no, he was running. This one seemed to be excited after seeing Kaiser and Keeper killing those knights. The Elite Skeleton stopped a meter away from Tang Shaoyang and kept looking toward the captured knights. If not for Tang Shaoyang's presence, Skelly1 would run over and start the slaughter.

"Stay there!" Tang Shaoyang gave his command. The Elite Skeleton straightened his backbone and stood still while holding the bone spear with his right hand. When the two bodies landed right before him, the skeleton was trembling in excitement. Yes, it was visibly shaking, and as soon as Tang Shaoyang said, "Go ahead," the Elite Skeleton moved as fast as it could.

The first thing Skelly1 did was stomp the knight to the right, and the head exploded like a watermelon. Then, it raised the bone spear and thrust the remaining knight.

"I see, so this one is the same as the Steel Skeleton." Tang Shaoyang nodded before choosing the evolution option. Skelly1 was immediately enveloped with a bright light for ten seconds.

[Your Elite Skeleton has evolved to Great Skeleton!]

The 2.8 meters Skelly1 transformed into a 4 meters tall Skeleton. The size of the spear also adjusted to Skelly1 size. Skelly1 had become bigger with the following evolution. Then it knelt toward Tang Shaoyang, and even though it knelt, they were about the same height.

Tang Shaoyang pulled another five knights for Skelly1, and it trampled quickly after. Five of them died after the giant Skelly1 trampled them.
