

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 744

“Ahn~ ahn~ ahn~.” Ava’s unrestrained moan resounded in the reading room. She truly lost the capability of thinking once they started. At this point, Tang Shaoyang’s hand was caressing her back as she moved up and down on her own.

Tang Shaoyang enjoyed the former Elven Queen’s service. He looked at her face filled with pleasure. This woman who just said that ‘her love for her husband is eternal’ made this kind of face.

‘This talent is kinda crazy.’ He thought to himself amidst the pleasure.

After a while, Ava let out a long moan, and her body went weak. Her chin rested on his shoulder as she breathed heavily. She had reached the peak for the first time. Even though she had reached her peak, she knew it was not over yet. She could still feel that the little Shaoyang was still standing inside her.

“I don’t think I can move for a while...” Ava whispered to Tang Shaoyang’s ears. The signal was clear that she was asking Tang Shaoyang to move instead.

Tang Shaoyang did not respond to her as he sniffed her body. “You smell good.” He then held her cheeks and kissed her lips. She might refuse his kiss if it was before, but not with her current condition. There was no response from her at first, but she started to return his kiss after a while. Their tongues intertwined as she responded to the kiss passionately.

Tang Shaoyang lifted her body and rotated her body without getting separated. Then he walked toward the window and let her feet down to the floor while holding her waist. They were in another position, facing toward the city.

“W-we can’t do it here...” Ava was scared when Tang Shaoyang brought her to the window. The people outside could see them if they looked toward this window. They would be exposed to the people, and her husband would find out her secret deal. “The people outside can see us.”

Tang Shaoyang licked his lips and bent his body to get closer to her ears. “Don’t worry. Who will look at this window? Moreover, the room’s lighting is dim, so the people would not recognize you. No, in fact, no people in this city recognize you.” He kissed her cheek and started to move. Once he moved the little Shaoyang, she could no longer refute Tang Shaoyang.

The suppressed moan escaped from her lips, and the concern of being seen by the people instantly disappeared from her mind. The only thing in her mind was to enjoy this moment as she never felt like this when she had intercourse with her husband. She held onto the window frame as she could not hold the moan anymore.

Ava pasted her body onto the cold glasses, trying to maintain her posture. She could feel the prickling cold on her skin, but she did not care about the cold. She kept her butt high, so the little Shaoyang fully entered her body. Her bountiful butts clapped against Tang Shaoyang, adding rhythm to the room along with Ava’s moan.

They maintained the position long enough until Tang Shaoyang came out. He filled her with her liquid, and it overflowed her as it dripped onto the floor. He pasted his chest onto her back and whispered. “Now, do you understand what I mean that it could never be the same anymore once you made a deal with me, right?”

His deep voice entered Ava's ear, and her body jolted a bit. She opened her mouth to refute him, but no words came out. The former Elven Queen could not deny that as she had never felt like this before when she did it with her husband. 'No, I can't stay like this. I have to leave this place before he corrupts me more than this.'

"Get off me. We are done tonight. I am going to return to my room." Ava tried to get away, but she was too weak to break free from Tang Shaoyang. She could only tell him to get away.

"Done? Who said we are done tonight?" Tang Shaoyang's hand started to move again, creeping out to her breast. The firm breast was so comfortable to knead, and he played with it until he heard a suppressed moan from Ava.

"Hm~" Ava tried to hold it, but she could not. 'What's wrong with me? How did I become this sensitive with another man?' She could not understand her own body. "W-we are not over?" Her voice was trembling, either from the shock or the pleasure.

Tang Shaoyang took out little Shaoyang and carried her over to the bed. There was a bed at the corner of the room, and maybe it was for the previous king to take a nap after reading. He placed her on the bed, and they now were face to face. After a while, Ava tried to look away as her face became as red as a tomato. Even after the two rounds, she could not get rid of the embarrassment.

Tang Shaoyang licked her smooth cheek and whispered. "Why are you getting embarrassed after what we have done?" Then he licked her long right ear, and to his surprise, her body was trembling. He glanced at her face and realized that he had just discovered her soft spot.

He did not immediately start the third round as he started to stimulate her once again. Her breathing became hurried as her expression was intoxicated. The signal was clear, and he whispered to her once again. "Shall we start the next round?"

Ava responded with a shy nod as she spread her leg. Another girl had fallen into his hand.

*** **

For the first night that Ava did not experience a nightmare. This was the first time after the Yortuba incident. She slowly opened her heavy eyelids and looked at the ceiling. This was the first morning she woke up with a fresh mind. Then the last night's memories returned to her mind. Her eyes widened open as she reached her body and realized that she was still naked. That meant last night's memory was not false. "I did it."

"You did it." She heard the man's voice from the side. Ava looked over and saw Tang Shaoyang was standing before the window.
