

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 755

“You don’t have to be cautious, and they are my spirits.” Tang Shaoyang smiled while shaking his head. He could feel the fear from Ava and tried to explain. “They are more like a summon to me, so yeah, they are allies.”

“Your summon? Are you a summoner?” Ava immediately shook his head. “No, you are not a summoner.” She remembered Tang Shaoyang’s fight against the Legend Rank from the Revolution Army. Even though she did not watch it from the start, the fact that the Left-Wing Guardian had to run from Lord Tang Shaoyang was enough proof to know how powerful Lord Tang Shaoyang was.

“Similar but different.” Tang Shaoyang replied in a nonchalant tone. “Summoner calls a living being, but I call the dead spirit. They are the spirit of the dead, so it’s kinda similar but different in a certain aspect. Also, I need a certain sacrifice to summon the dead spirit.” After saying that, he took out an unrecognizable body, left with skin and bone. This was Robert Kingsley’s body.

“I am going to summon a new spirit, so you can stay and see if you want.” Tang Shaoyang extended his hand to the body and activated the skill. The body disappeared into black mist, and a horned demon came out from the black mist. The demon had four hands with a horn curved upward. The red blood eyes scanned the surroundings and stopped at Tang Shaoyang.

[You have summoned Grade S Spirit, Axolotol the Wrangler Fiend!]

“What!?” Tang Shaoyang was baffled that he only managed to summon Grade S Spirit from the Legend Rank body. He thought it was a guarantee of Grade SS Spirit as the Primordial Rank body was enough to call Grade S+ Spirit. Everyone glanced toward Tang Shaoyang, wondering what made Tang Shaoyang react like that.

“It’s only Grade S Spirit.” He let out a disappointed sigh.

“Maybe because you use [Slayer Absorption] on that body, My Lord. The Slayer Absorption damages the quality of the sacrifice, so you only manage to summon Grade S Spirit.” Zaneos was the first one to give a plausible explanation. To be honest, he was surprised that the one that came out was a Grade S Spirit.

“Arkanos and Maldros, you two face this demon.” Tang Shaoyang waved his hand at the two spirits. Arkanos was reluctant to work together with Maldros only to face a Grade S Spirit, but he did not dare to complain. However, he was well aware that his Master was not in a good mood because it was just a Grade S Spirit, so he did not want to make it worse by simply executing the order.

“Huh!? Arkanos?” Ava looked at the knight with widened eyes. She was sure that Tang Shaoyang called the knight Arkanos. She was familiar with that name, the past ruler of the Ortis Continent before it split into three kingdoms. The famous tyrant of the human race was constantly at war against Gigante Forest. She heard the man died after someone staged a rebellion. She was unclear about the details, but she heard the tyrant die under a woman’s hand, the previous Lionax Kingdom’s Queen.

“Do you know Arkanos?” Tang Shaoyang was surprised and looked at Ava. Then he realized that this woman was a few hundred years old, so it was normal for her to know the history of the Ortis Continent. “I called his spirit through this summoning, and we made a contract.”

“Then, is it possible to summon my father, who had died a few hundred years ago?” Ava blurted out without thinking.

“Hmmm. After doing this summoning for a few months, I learned that to summon an Elf Spirit, I need the Elf’s bodies for the sacrifice. If I use the elf as the sacrifice, there’s a chance for me to summon the Elf Spirit. However, I can’t specifically choose the spirit I want to summon.” Tang Shaoyang explained. “Ah, one more condition. Did your father die with resentment? Or did he have a wish to be fulfilled? If your father died in peace, I don’t think I can call your father spirit.”

“Ah, I see. That’s just a random thought of me, Your Majesty.” Ava shook her head after hearing the condition. There was no way she would let Tang Shaoyang use Elf for the summoning, and she thought her father died in peace too. She then looked toward the spirit called Arkanos and Maldros only to find they had beaten the demon spirit.

“Usually, I establish a contract with the spirit as I want to form Spirit armies, but I need something from them so that I will sacrifice them.” Tang Shaoyang said as he approached the beaten-down demon. He immediately activated the skill as soon as he was in range.

[You have sacrificed Grade S Spirit, Axolotol the Wrangler Demon!]

[You have gained two levels, a random skill of Axolotol the Wrangler Demon, and fifty Spirit Power!]

[You obtained a new skill, [Titan Grip]!]

After he was done with it, Tang Shaoyang immediately went for the second summoning. He took out the Right-Wing Guardian of the Lionax Kingdom, Lorian. He proceeded with the summoning immediately.

[You have summoned Grade SS Spirit, Galeon the Great Demon!]

“This is weird. Why do I keep summoning a demon spirit instead of a human spirit? Is it because there’s no Grade SS Human Spirit?” Tang Shaoyang wondered.

“That may be the case.” Zaneos and Bronson walked past him toward the Great Demon. The Great Demon had two black goat horns, black eyes with red pupils, and was four meters tall. The Demon Swordsman and The Undead took the initiative as they were afraid that the next spirit would be lower than Grade SS Spirit. If that was the case, they could not enjoy the fight if they let Zara take this one.

Tang Shaoyang threw another body toward the other side, the last body of the Legend Rank, Sir Powan of the Revolution Army. He activated the [Epic Summoning] as the body burst out into the red mist.

[You have summoned Grade SS Spirit, Yu the Ancient Alchemist!]

“Huh!? Alchemist?” This was the first time that Tang Shaoyang summoned a non-fighter spirit.
