

ARMIPOTENT Chapter 835

"Look who's finally talking? The Emperor is finally talking, buahahaha...." Dae-Jung laughed as he looked toward Tang Shaoyang. "Just because your subordinates are calling you Emperor, do you think we will listen to you like an obedient dog? This is never your territory but ours! We will never leave, you idiot delusional Emperor. Who would use the Emperor this day? What are you? A chunibyo?"

Tang Shaoyang just turned his back and walked two steps, but he halted his steps when he heard. Dae-Jung did not hide it anymore as he aimed for Tang Shaoyang from the start. A deep eerie silence followed after that as Park Nam Hoon, Yoo Kwang Sung, Yu Jin Sang, and the other members had their eyes widened in shock. After the initial introduction, they did not expect The Haven to openly mock Tang Shaoyang.

"Look what have you done, Park Nam Hoon. You ask me not to kill them, but look at what they have done. Not only do they disrespect The Emperor, but they also dare to mock and disparage The Emperor," Aleesa was the first one to respond to the ridiculing remark. She put back the bows into her inventory and took out two short swords. Her words were toneless, but her eyes were icy as she eyed Dae-Jung.

At the same time, Sylvia's hands moved to her dual swords as well. She did not say anything, but her eyes locked on Dae-Jung. Park Nam Hoon panicked, and he signaled to Yeon Hee to persuade her comrades to back down and apologize.

"What are you looking at, bitches? Haven't you seen a handsome man?" Dae-Jung grinned madly as he eyed the two beauties. "What a rare beauty and you guys are a waste by following that delusional Emperor. What about leaving that delusional Emperor and following me? I will make sure to make you two happy." Dae-Jung became even more brazen as he kept provoking Tang Shaoyang.

Aleesa and Sylvia were about to make their moves. They wanted to silence the man forever until they heard a sigh from Tang Shaoyang. "Hah...." He turned around and looked at Dae-Jung expressionlessly. "I want to hurry because I have to visit Japan after this, but I will spare my precious time playing with you. The Haven, is it? You have messed with the wrong person."

Wrath opened his eyes and hissed at The Haven members while Greed jumped off his shoulder toward Sylvia's embrace. The Dark Predator was cowering in her embrace, "No, Wrath. Just stay still; I will take care of them by myself. You guys just need to watch, especially you guys," Tang Shaoyang looked at Park Nam Hoon and his friends. "This is a warning for the Legion Guild if you guys dare to betray the Tang Empire."

Tang Shaoyang released his concealed aura and let it flare up wildly. The Dragon Aura and also the Slayer Domination mingled together in the air. Park Nam Hoon and the others were shocked by Tang Shaoyang's aura, and they subconsciously took a few steps back to the edge of the wall. They could never sense his aura before, even when they were in the arena for the Earth Tournament.

It was the same for The Haven members as they took the exact ten steps away from Tang Shaoyang. Yeon Hee's face under the clothes turned ugly. She realized why the Legion Guild chose the Tang Empire instead of joining the other four guilds with the World Government. She knew a little about what happened in the Earth Tournament, but this was the first time she felt such power. Based on the aura only, it was clear that Tang Shaoyang was in a different league.

"What's wrong? Why do you back down? Don't you want to fight me?" Tang Shaoyang stared at Dae-Jung. "Do you feel that I am too weak? No worry, I will use my Bloodline Transformation."

The aura was amplified by ten times, or even more. The others did not know how they felt about the aura because this was their first time facing such a strong aura. This was the strongest aura they had ever encountered in their lives.

Tang Shaoyang opened his wings that spanned up to six meters, his tail was moving around in the air, and his deep purple pupils locked on the man who just fell on his butts. Dae-Jung fell on his butts because the aura was directed at him. His face paled as his eyes widened in terror and fear. That was just an aura, but the aura suffocated him and pressured him.

"Come on, get up and fight me," Tang Shaoyang motioned to Dae-Jung to get up. "Ah, if you are too scared to fight me alone, then you can come together with your friends. I don't mind if you five come at me together too."

Dae-Jung's friends helped him get up, but it took him an effort to stabilize his breathing and stand up properly. His instinct was screaming at himself to run away from the man in front of him. 'I can't win against, but can I escape from him?' He thought of escaping, but he quickly realized it would be hard to escape from Tang Shaoyang.

"I apologize on behalf of my friend, Sir. I know he has done something he is not supposed to, but I wish for your magnanimity to forgive my friend. We will listen to your advice and leave South Korea," Yeon Hee also had the same thoughts as her friend. They could not win against the Emperor, so the only thing she could do was ask for forgiveness. At the same time, she secretly glanced at her friend, signaling him to apologize too.

"No, no, no," Tang Shaoyang repeated no three times. "Don't apologize now; do you take me as a fool? Do you think I will forgive him after what he said to my wives? Do you think I will forgive you all after your friend ridiculed me in front of my subordinates? Come on, don't lower yourself like a coward. Where's your arrogance just now? The Haven, is it? I will make sure there's no place for each of you on Earth. Don't worry, I will not kill you guys because I need you to be alive to serve as a reminder for the others."

"So, let's stop with the meaningless talk because you can undo what you have said and done. Let's end this with a fight, shall we?" Tang Shaoyang looked at the other four Haven's members too. "Since none of you come at me, then I will come at you guys."
