

Army 54

Chapter 54

Level-Two “Man Xiong”

“Keep firing,” Jiang Li yelled excitedly.

Poof! Poof! Poof! The bullets of the machine guns pierced through the armor of the nineteen perfected-stage totem warriors. Blood flashed in all directions and they almost became sieves.

However, they hadn’t died yet. They were unusually strong. These were only Barbarian totem warriors of perfected-stage level one.

“The Barbarians are really tough...”

Jiang Li issued an order seriously. “Aim at their vital points, like their hearts and heads. You can’t kill them if you hit other spots.”

Meanwhile, down in the valley, the army from Pingding City heard the noises from the mountain and they looked up, but the moonlight was dim. They couldn’t see anything clearly. They only saw some sparks there.

“What’s going on with the Barbarians?”

“Is someone here to help us?”

“...”

The soldiers wondered.

...

At the center of the military camp. In the main tent.

“Commander, what should we do?”

The Deputy Commander of Pingding City, Li Xin, asked with a deep voice. His armor had a few holes on it and his face was stained with blood.

“Dugu Huangcheng colluded with the Monsters,” the Military Advisor, Ge Dinglai, said furiously.

“Send someone to the Barbarians to see what’s happening first. If the reinforcements are really here, we’ll take all the soldiers there immediately.” The Commander, Dong Lin, took a deep breath. “Also, keep an eye on the Monsters.”

“Yes.” Li Xin nodded. “I’m on it.” He then left the tent.

“Commander, it’s dangerous for us to attack,” Ge Dinglai said. “If we attack the Barbarians, the Monsters will definitely come to help. As for the reinforcements, I have no idea where they’re from. What I worry about the most is that this may be a trap. The Barbarians may be luring us to attack from the left side.”

“We have no choice.”

Dong Lin clenched his fists tightly.

“Yes,” Dong Lin took a deep breath and said.

...

In the mountain on the right, at the military camp of the Monsters.

“There seems to be a battle on the Barbarians’ side?”

Hu Wu looked up. It was a bit far and the moonlight was blocked by the clouds, so he could only hear noises and see some sparks.

“Has Dong Lin led his army to attack the Barbarians?” another monster guessed.

“That’s impossible.” The other monsters shook their heads.

“Hu Wu.” Hei Zong’s huge body looked even more frightening in the dark.

“Yes.” Hu Wu knelt.

“Take a group of soldiers to the Barbarians to see what’s going on,” Hei Zong said.

“Yes, General.” Hu Wu nodded and took a hundred monsters with him immediately. They disappeared into the dark and rushed towards the military camp of the Barbarians.

Clomp, clomp... In the dark, footsteps sounded.

“Dugu Huangcheng.” Hei Zong turned around coldly. “You better hope Miss Qing Ya is fine. Otherwise, you’ll get nothing and you’ll be finished pretty badly.”

“Hei Zong.” Dugu Huangcheng said, “We can’t be sure yet.”

“Hm!” Hei Zong grunted and went into the tent.

“Damn it.” Dugu Huangcheng clenched his fist. “Don’t let me find out who caught Qing Wenling’s only daughter. If not, I’ll kill him.”

“My Lord, my Lady ran away,” then a soldier came and said anxiously.

“You’re useless. You can’t even keep an eye on a person.” Dugu Huangcheng slapped that soldier and yelled, “What are you doing here? Send someone out there to find her.”

...

At the military camp of the Barbarians, the battle was still continuing.

Boom! A thunderous sound came.

“Come here!”

Boom! A giant iron hammer that was two meters long fell onto the battlefield. The ground shook violently and created a terrifying energy wave.

“Argh!” Everyone screamed and was knocked away. They were seriously injured.

On the battlefield a three-meter giant showed up. He was wearing a black armor that covered his entire body. Only his eyes, nose and mouth could be seen. The weapon in his hands was a giant black hammer.

Man Xiong! The General of the Barbarian army of Deserted City. A strong totem warrior at the early stage of level two.

Since he needed time to put on his armor, he had just come out.

“General!”

“Haha, General is here.”

“Brilliant.”

The Barbarian warriors cheered.

“Level... Level two...” Everyone’s eyes popped out and they were trembling.

“Why is there a level-two warrior?” Long Chongzhen was astonished. “How can we beat him?”

Hua Tian also felt hopeless. “There’s no way we can win. There’s a huge difference between level one and level two. With the other Barbarian warriors, it’s impossible for us to win.”

...

“...”

Yu Shulan turned pale.

“Looks like I’m going to die here today.” Hong Tianqi held his crescent painted halberd in his hand and his eyes were full of viciousness.

“Barbarians, follow me and kill all our enemies.” Man Xiong raised his hammer and shouted, “The weak humans are vulnerable. Kill them.”

“Kill!”

“Go!”

A few thousand Barbarian warriors yelled.

“Fall back...” The normal gang members were completely frightened by Man Xiong.

“Level-two totem warrior, I’ve waited for you for a long time.” Jiang Li said as he clenched his fists and issued an order. “All soldiers, go and kill all Barbarians.”

“Long Chongzhen, Hong Tianqi, Yu Shulan, Hua Tian, leave that level-two totem warrior to me. You just have to deal with the other Barbarian warriors. Attack now if you don’t want to die!”

“Jiang Li, you...” Hua Tian was shocked.

...

“Chief Jiang.” Yu Shulan was startled.

“Well...” Long Chongzhen opened his mouth wide.

“Okay.” Hong Tianqi shouted, “I’ll help you stop them with my life.”

Bang! His internal force surged out. His hair fluttered in the air and he swung his crescent painted halberd around. He sped into the battlefield fiercely and killed a few Barbarian warriors at once.

“Kill them!” The reserve soldiers followed.

“Let’s go.” Hua Tian rushed ahead.

Poof! Poof! Poof! As the six hundred early-stage meches entered the battlefield, they were like six hundred Martial Artists of the same level. They formed a formation and cooperated with one another. They became extremely powerful.

Bang, bang, bang!

The Firearm Meches fired and shot the Barbarian warriors in their vital points. They could shoot very accurately when they performed the gun art.

“How strong!”

“Chief Jiang’s men are all Martial Artists at early-stage level one.”

“There are six hundred level-one Martial Artists!”

“That’s terrifying.”

“Chief Jiang has so many strong soldiers. No wonder he has the guts to come and attack the Barbarians and Monsters.”

“We still have a chance of winning.”

Everyone cheered.

“Humans, you deserve this.”

Swish! Man Xiong looked up and stared at Jiang Li. His invisible level-two energy gave Jiang Li great pressure.

Jiang Li used his vital energy to withstand that power, but a level-two enemy was indeed terrifying. The energy was strong enough to make Jiang Li feel like his vital energy was frozen.
