When Mia heard charlie's words, the feeling of reluctance in his heart was even stronger.

She pretended to be relaxed and said with a smile: "Okay, then I'll take you there tomorrow night."

After speaking, she suddenly found that she and charlie seemed to have no topic of conversation.

She didn't dare to ask about the previous topic, but now, she doesn't know what to talk to charlie.

In fact, she wanted to ask charlie a lot, for example, where did he come from in the Mainland? Did you get married at the age of 28, or did you have a girlfriend who was dating.

Or, ask him if he would like to stay longer on Hong Kong Island, because he still has a lot of places that he has never shared with others, and he wants to take charlie for a walk, take a look, and taste it. taste.

However, none of these questions was something she dared to ask.

First of all, she didn't dare to ask, and secondly, she didn't dare to hear charlie's answer.

So, the car suddenly fell silent.

It was rainy on Hong Kong Island, and when the car was halfway through, raindrops began to fall from the sky. Mia, who was still peeking at charlie from the corner of his eye, looked at the raindrops on the car window and was a little lost.

charlie looked at the car and glanced at her from the corner of his eye from time to time. Seeing her absent-mindedness, he subconsciously asked, "What are you thinking about?"

"Ah?" Mia suddenly came back to her senses and straightened her soft hair. , smiled at charlie, and whispered: "Nothing, I'm watching the rain."

charlie was very curious: "What's so beautiful about rain, do you like rainy days?"

Mia shook his head: "I don't like it, I hate it It's raining."

charlie smiled and said, "It's raining on Hong Kong Island, and it doesn't seem to be very friendly to someone like you who hates rain."

"Yeah." Mia pursed her lips and smiled bitterly: "A lot of bad things. If it happens on a rainy day, it will make people more frustrating, and then it will make people hate the rain."

charlie seemed to have guessed something, nodded lightly, and immediately changed the topic: "By the way, Miss Mia, your doctorate is about to graduate, what are your plans after graduation?"

Mia was suddenly jumped by charlie's topic After blinking for a while, he realized that charlie had changed the subject and definitely didn't want to remind himself of sad things, so he said with a smile, "I will graduate this summer, and after graduation, I plan to follow the

The original plan before, to go to Africa, to further implement the charity that has been doing, and then come back to find a job related to my major, While working, continue to do some charitable work within your means. "

charlie asked curiously, "Why are you still looking for a job? Wouldn't it be better to go to your dad's company? You are the eldest daughter in the family, and his business will most likely be handed over to you to inherit in the future. "

Mia shook his head and said with a smile: "I'm not very interested in his tricks, and I have been studying Chinese until my master's and doctoral degrees. "

Speaking, Mia joked with some self-deprecation: "Besides, look at me, I am a suitable business person. Up to now, there is still a monthly deficit of 200,000 Hong Kong dollars that needs to be filled by my father. If he really inherits the business to me, I'm afraid it won't take long before he loses his family property. "

charlie asked curiously: "How long have you been buying at the snack street? "

Mia thought for a while, and said, "I have it for more than ten years. It was bought by my father the year he got married." " charlie asked her: "Do you know how much it cost when you bought it? "

I forgot..." Mia said embarrassedly: "Actually, I was not sensitive to this aspect, and I was not too old at that time. I just thought that I wanted to keep the street, so I let my father out." I don't know how much it cost to buy it. "

charlie asked again: "Then how do you know that there is still a deficit of 200,000 per month? "

"The manager told me." Mia said: "Before I was an adult, my father let me run this snack street. After I became an adult, he gave it to me to manage it, but I didn't know how to manage it. What I thought of was nothing more than guarantees." Everyone is doing business as usual, not going to increase their rent. In addition, the general environment of the snack street is quite messy, especially with a lot of garbage and mice and cockroaches, so I asked the manager to arrange a special cleaning staff to help everyone clean up and clean up the garbage every day. , catching mice and cockroaches like this..."

After speaking, Mia said again: "Oh, yes, I didn't need to lose so much every month before, but now most of the losses are because the labor price has been increasing, and the cleaners cost more than 10,000 Hong Kong dollars a month, so the deficit is getting bigger and bigger. The more, from tens of thousands at the beginning, to 200,000 now." As soon as and can't help but say with some shame: "Is it a failure to do business like me?"

charlie smiled: "I don't think so, you That snack street is so prosperous and well-maintained, I believe that the land price has risen a lot over the years, maybe it has doubled many times. As for the loss you mentioned, it is very likely that it is not even a fraction of the profit. Arrived ."

"Really..." Mia suddenly came back to his senses and said with a little annoyance: "You're right... Why haven't I thought about this for so many years... All I've thought about for so many years is, Fortunately, my dad's business is getting bigger and bigger, and he doesn't care that the snack street loses so much every month, but he has never considered the issue of the value of the whole snack street increasing in value..."

After speaking, she couldn't help but shake her head with a smile: "I am right. Doing business is really lacking in sensitivity and belongs to the category of lack of talent..."

charlie asked him, "What about your sister? Does she have talent in this area?"

"Yes." Mia nodded and said with a smile: " My sister is very good, studying finance in the UK, her biggest dream is to take her father's class, so she works very hard in this regard."

charlie smiled and said seriously: "If you don't like doing business, you can really choose yourself. The career you like." After speaking

, charlie asked her, "What is the job you want to do the most?"

Mia said earnestly: "The Chinese department actually has a relatively narrow employment scope. In Hong Kong Island, the most common employment direction is similar to that in the mainland. , they are all civil servants. In addition, the media and schools are also two more common employment directions. If you get a doctorate, then going to a first-class university to be a teacher is actually a good development direction, and I myself tend to this aspect.

charlie asked in surprise: "Do you want to be a teacher?" "

Yes." Mia nodded and said very solemnly: "Teaching and educating people is a very sacred thing in my mind. I am satisfied to be a university teacher."

charlie asked her with a smile, "I heard that you are studying for a Ph.D. at the University of Hong Kong, do you want to stay at the University of Hong Kong to teach in the future?"

Mia was silent for a moment, shook her head gently, and said, "After all, Hong Kong Island is too small, and staying here all the time will make you feel a little bit watching the sky." After speaking, she looked at charlie, and said in a strange way, "Actually... ..I want to go to the mainland to have a look, I wonder if Mr. Ye is welcome?"
