

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 5146

The wife also took the opportunity to choose to accompany her daughter to study in Houston, and began to separate from him in fact.

But fortunately, the two sides have only been separated for a long time, and it has not risen to the point of needing a divorce.

Li Yalin's daughter is not very good in her studies. She was rebellious when she was young, and her father is a resolute detective who is more strict than ordinary parents. Therefore, although her rebelliousness is struggling, she has never had a chance to emerge.

Although Li Yalin has lived in the United States for most of his life, he is a downright Chinese-style parent. The way he treats his daughter's education can be summed up in the words 'excessive intervention and strict restraint'.

And because of the high pressure he brought, his daughter turned from rebellious to a relatively decadent school-weary mentality. Because of this, the relationship between father and daughter has never been eased.

Li Yalin's income before retirement was almost $400,000 to $500,000 a year.

Although this income level is not low, it also firmly welds his family's social stratum to the middle class.

His daughter got married last year to a young Chinese man who graduated from a prestigious university and worked for NASA.

Although his son-in-law is somewhat talented, he is too high-spirited. In addition, he is not valued very much in NASA, and he is even marginalized and discriminated against, so he is often depressed.

Li Yalin understands his son-in-law quite a bit. He is a professional in aerospace and has excellent education and skills. However, because of his Chinese identity and his unrelated background, he has been suppressed in the NASA.

In fact, Li Yalin was the same when he first became a detective.

In the American police system, although ethnic minorities are rarely subjected to obvious discrimination, the repression of the general environment is everywhere.

Most police officers from ethnic minorities hold relatively low-level jobs. If they want to climb up, they must pay far more effort than others.

After returning home, Li Yalin left his family in the living room, said with emotion, "It's hard to come back, let's have a meeting with everyone first." The wife, daughter and son-in-law agreed without hesitation, and sat on both sides of Li Yalin.

Li Yalin took out the $10 million check given by Fei Kexin from his arms and said, "As for this money, my current idea is to leave it all to the baby in Lexi's womb and make him a family trust."

The daughter hurriedly said, "Dad, the child hasn't been born yet, you don't have to think about him in the long run..."

Li Yalin said solemnly, "This is something I must consider. Before, I thought too little about you, so that led to our family. The relationship between people is so alienated, besides, I didn't do it for you, but for your children and his future children..." After speaking, he sighed, "I have more contact with your Uncle An and his family, and I understand a truth. The reason why rich people in the West can keep getting rich is because their asset inheritance pays more attention to contracts rather than blind inheritance, so starting from the baby in your womb, we should also make a family trust to put the ten million All the dollars are invested, and before the child turns 18, all this money will be used for the lowest-risk investment, and by the time he turns 18, it should be at least doubled."

Li Yalin's son-in-law couldn't help but said at this time. "Dad... I have something to tell you on the way back. Don't be mad at me..."

Li Yalin looked at his son-in-law and nodded, "Archer, tell me."

Son-in-law After hesitating for a moment, he bit his head and said, "When I was in the Anbang Building, Mr. Asher from the An family talked to me, and he said that the An family was willing to take out 100 million US dollars and make a trust for me and Lexi's children, on the condition that if the child in Lexi's womb is a boy, he must be surnamed Li with Lexi, if it is a girl, you can choose the surname Li, or wait for another boy, and let the boy be surnamed Li..."

Li Yalin and his wife and daughter are both surnamed Li. It was a surprise.

Li Yalin was even more guilty. He didn't expect that Asher told his son-in-law about this in private, and quickly said, "Archer, don't be angry, your uncle An told you this, mainly because your grandpa An is a little old. Feudal, don't take it to your heart, let alone blame him..."

"No..." The son-in-law said awkwardly, "Dad... I... I have... I have made my own decision... I have agreed... .."

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 5147

“You agreed?!”

Li Yalin was surprised and excited when he heard his son-in-law’s answer.

Although he said that Mr. An was an old feudalism, he was actually told by Mr. An for a long time.

He knew that the old feudalism should be criticized to some extent, but he also agreed with the logic of Mr. An, that the surname needs to be inherited.

Whether it is a man or a woman, as long as there are descendants of the surname, then this line will surely be passed down.

However, once there is a break in the middle, this vein will completely withdraw from the stage of history within a few decades.

Therefore, if the son-in-law promised to give his daughter’s child the surname Li, then his family’s surname could continue to be passed down.

Because of this, he was very excited when he heard that his son-in-law had agreed.

However, he didn’t expect that his son-in-law, a talented son-in-law who had always regarded himself very highly, would be so easily persuaded by Asher.

The son-in-law also seemed a little ashamed at this time.

He took the initiative to explain embarrassingly, “Dad, it’s not that I have no prospects... It’s just that the conditions offered by the An family are too tempting... Even if I work hard all my life, I can’t leave so much money for future generations...”

” Shi’s son-in-law is just eager to give himself the reason for compromising money.

But he didn’t realize that his compromise was the result Li Yalin was most looking forward to.

However, in order to wash away his shame on his dignity, he kept explaining, “Dad, what Uncle An said is almost the same as what you just said, what he means is, first take 100 million US dollars as a trust, and the trust will be handed over to Anjia’s trust company runs the business, and Anjia’s trust company relies on the entire Anjia’s resources, so their income situation is much stronger than most trust companies on the market, so they can have at least a rate of return of about 8 per year. , as long as I fulfill my promise, after 18 years, this trust can be conditionally lifted!”

After speaking, the son-in-law continued with a little bit of excitement, “Dad, I probably used a quick calculation in my heart. If the annual rate of return is guaranteed to be 8, and the compound interest is calculated, then after 18 years, the child will become an adult. The money will be changed from 100 million US dollars to a full 400 million US dollars!”

Speaking of this, the son-in-law became more impassioned, he couldn't hold back his emotions, and blurted out, “Dad, Mom, Bella! What is the concept of 400 million US dollars! Go to that At that time, even if we do not move the principal of 400 million US dollars, if we continue to calculate the rate of return of 8 every year, then the annual interest will be 32 million US dollars!”

“32 million US dollars! And it is an annual There are so many! By that time, we will be able to take out these 32 million US dollars from the bank every year!”

“Even if inflation develops further in the future, the 32 million US dollars will definitely be enough for a family. Years of daily expenses!”

“At that time, we will be able to give our children the best living standards, the best educational resources, and let them become the top few people in society! This is a step-by-step class leap. “

Furthermore, apart from the annual interest income of 32 million US dollars, the principal of the 400 million US dollars remains unchanged. In this case, as long as the Anjia Trust Company we are backing on does not go bankrupt, we can It has been going on at the interest rate of 8!”

“However, what if the trust company goes bankrupt? The law has long stipulated that the trust company's own assets and the client's trust property are completely separated, even if he goes bankrupt, the liquidated It is impossible to liquidate our money at that time! We only need to change a trust company and transfer the rights and interests.”

“In other words, as long as the United States is still there, our money will always be there! This is The assets will last forever, and the family will prosper forever!” The excited son-in-law, when he came here again, his heart beat faster and his breath was short.

His whole face was flushed and sweat was pouring down, his eyes widened to the extreme involuntarily, and all the blood vessels were faintly bursting.

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 5148

Li Yalin was a little dumbfounded when he heard it, and he couldn't help but ask, “100 million US dollars... can have such a large amount of energy?!” The son-in-law nodded his head without hesitation, "Yes! Dad! In the hands of the rich, 100 million US dollars is just like this. Great energy!"

He said, "Of course, the most important point here is that Anjia can guarantee us a net interest rate of 8 per year. Uncle An said that if the market environment declines, the net interest rate of 8 cannot be reached. , there may even be a loss, Anjia will also make up 8 of the net profit for our trust. For example, under normal circumstances, 100 million US dollars will become 108 million in the first year, but if the market environment this year does not Well, if there is only 90 million left from the 100 million, Anjia will give 18 million to ensure that our trust has 108 million remaining!"

"With Anjia as an endorsement, we don't have to worry about losses at all. It's just a matter of waiting for the trust income to be lifted in 18 years!"

Li Yalin's wife and daughter were already dumbfounded, but Li Yalin said subconsciously, "Archer, is this too much money? Our family is He De. He Neng, how can you take so many benefits from others? This is really inappropriate..."

Li Yalin was not lying.

After listening to his son-in-law finish the calculation, he realized that my family is not just giving himself a sum of money, he is giving an indefinite and eternal promise.

As long as Anjia still exists, Anjia will guarantee the interests of the trust.

This means that the An family has issued a long-term meal ticket to the Li family, and the denomination of this meal ticket is still very high.

Therefore, although he expected that his son-in-law would agree to Asher's request, when he heard this, he also felt that the affection was too heavy, and he couldn't bear it.

But his son-in-law saw that he was a little hesitant, and suddenly said nervously, "Dad! Don't forget about it, Dad! This is a great opportunity for our family to jump into the dragon gate. If you miss it, you will regret it in your life!"

Said Then, he hurriedly gave his wife Bella a wink, and blurted out, "Bella, hurry up and persuade Dad!"

Bella was also frightened by this number, but she was not the same as her father.

Li Yalin has been a policeman all his life, and he has long looked down on life and death, so he doesn't really care about money at all.

Otherwise, based on his relationship with An Jia, he could quit his job as a police officer at any time in the past few decades of his life and go to An Jia for a bite to eat.

And An Jia will definitely give him excellent treatment. With An Jia's behavior and economic strength, maybe Li Yalin is now worth billions of dollars.

But Bella is different.

Bella's living conditions and living environment from childhood to adulthood can barely reach the level of the American middle class, but there are too many middle classes in the United States.

Moreover, Bella studied and lived in the capitalist country of the United States since she was a child.

It's just that she knew before that she yearned for the return, but it was impossible to have the opportunity to achieve it.

But now, she suddenly realized that a rare opportunity is in front of her, within reach.

So she hurriedly said, "Dad...Even if it's for the sake of children, you must accept it. If we have this trust, Archer and I can have more children. In this case, our family will be full of people at once. It 's prosperous."

Son-in-law Archer couldn't help but blurt out, "Yes, yes! We must have more children! And these children can all be surnamed Li. I agree with both hands and have no opinion!"
