

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 5983

Aasif scolded angrily, "It's a bunch of nonsense! Master saved us, brought us into Taoism, and helped us fight against the Qing Dynasty. This kind of kindness is like recreating our parents. How can you say such rebellious words!" "I'm wrong Is it?!" Sara roared angrily, "He is going to die, and he is so stingy to you and me! What are you doing with those exercises and treasures? Are you really going to hide them somewhere and wait for someone who is destined? ! If you say fate, don't you and I have enough fate with him?!"

Aasif gritted his teeth and said, "Sara, what you said today made me dumbfounded! I really didn't expect you to be such a rebellious bastard!"

Sara I was also full of anger, so I said coldly, "Brother, you don't have to look at that old thing. Now that he is dead, then you and I should take this Eternal Green Pill, and then hurry up to improve your cultivation, and get rid of it as soon as possible." Find the good things hidden in this old thing!"

Aasif was extremely disappointed, "Sara, from today on, I am no longer your senior brother, and you are no longer my junior sister. From today on, your Wu family, I only recognize you. Aamir is alone, and the others have nothing to do with me!"

Sara became anxious immediately, and blurted out, "Senior Brother! Why are you so dull?! That old thing has lived for a thousand years by himself, why did he only give us five? A century-old elixir? It is clear that I have reservations about you and me, and it is a great reservation!"

Aasif waved his hand, "Sara, I will have a game with your brother and brother. Here, you have been filial piety for the master for three years, and you can leave on your own."

Sara stomped her feet angrily, and blurted out, "Senior brother! How can you let me go alone at this time? Don't you still not understand the affection I have shown you these years? Do you know? Since you think I blame Master, okay, then I take back what I just said, since Master gave us two pills that can live for five hundred years, why don't we take the pills together, and from then on Get married and live the five hundred years?"

Aasif said with a cold face, "Sara, since Wan'er's mother passed away, I have sworn that I will not continue in this life. In this life, I only have one wish, besides fighting the Qing Dynasty and restoring the Ming Dynasty.", is to take good care of Wan'er. Although this pill can live for five hundred years, I don't know how to take it. I can't live to see Wan'er grow old and die. If you want to live for five hundred years, you can live well by yourself ! "

Sara gritted her teeth and questioned, "Brother, you still don't want to marry me when I've talked about this point?"

Aasif nodded, "I said, in this life, I won't continue. "

Sara asked him, "What about your elixir? " Are you really not going to eat it? "

Aasif nodded again, "His honey, my arsenic, this eternal green pill will make a father watch his daughter grow old, and his daughter's daughter grow old. This kind of elixir, for me, It's no different from arsenic, so of course I won't eat it. "

" Good! "Sara said coldly, "Since senior brother doesn't think highly of this elixir and won't let me give it to me, if I can find a good husband, I can live with him to five hundred years old and enjoy all the glory in this world!" "

Speaking, Sara said again, "That's right! And the ring that Master gave you! Since you have no fighting spirit, it is useless for you to keep this ring, why not leave it to me! As long as you give me these two things, I will leave Shiwan Dashan immediately. From today on, you will walk your Yangguan Road, and I will cross my single-plank bridge. In this life, I will never bother you again! "

Aasif shook his head, looked into the distance, and murmured, "The reason why the Everlasting Green Pill is arsenic to me is because I have a daughter named Wan'er, but Wan'er is only seventeen years old, and she is not yet married. After three years of filial piety for my master, I will give her this elixir so that she can live well for five hundred years. "

Sara stood behind Aasif, her veins bulging!

She quietly clasped one hand on her waist, and said coldly, "Senior Brother, you really broke my heart. I, Sara, live such a big life, and countless young talents want to Marry me through the family, but you have never put me in your eyes from the beginning to the end, and today you have ruined my Taoist heart so much, how can I live the remaining four hundred years well! "

After that, without waiting for Aasif's reaction, she immediately pulled out a soft sword from her waist. With a flick of her wrist, the soft sword immediately became extremely hard. Immediately, she stabbed the soft sword into the Aasif's heart!

Aasif never dreamed that Sara, who was by Aamir's side and surrounded him all day long, and was treated as a younger sister by him, would kill him behind his back.

He only felt a sharp pain in his heart, and he couldn't help thinking of the daughter he was thinking of.

Immediately afterwards, his eyes darkened, and the person instantly disappeared from the Hundred Thousand Mountains and Sara's sword!

When Sara thought that Aasif would surely die if she was hit with all her strength, Aasif disappeared instantly in front of her without a trace!

All that was left was a dangling sword and the blood dripping from the sword...
