

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6214

He has been the boss of the Chinese Gang for some years, but the Chinese Gang can only be regarded as the lowest level in the entire low-level gang circle in New York. It is completely the bottom of the bottom. He has long been familiar with Antonio, and in his opinion I know that I am not even qualified to surrender to Antonio.

But he could never have imagined that Antonio had become charlie's prisoner at this moment.

Antonio didn't expect that someone would recognize him here. When he saw that the other person had dark skin and was dressed, he knew he must be a gang member. He immediately realized in his heart that this person should be a member of the peripheral gangs under his command.

Thinking of this, he couldn't help but think of what he had experienced today, if it weren't for these blind bastardsThe protection fee was charged to charlie. There was no way he would suffer such inhuman torture, and he suddenly felt very angry.

He had forgotten his current situation, looked at Will Johnson, gritted his teeth and cursed, "You son of a bitch, who is your boss?! Who asked you to come to Chinatown to collect protection money?! Blind your dog Eyes, you dare to run here and act recklessly!"

Will Johnson did not expect that his idol, his boss's big boss, would insult him as soon as he opened his mouth. Naturally, he felt aggrieved and could only say bitterly, "Boss Zano , I am Will from Burning Angel! My boss is Daniel, and it was Boss Zano who asked him to take over Chinatown and Lower Manhattan, so he handed over Chinatown to me... We are all under the influence of It's your life!"

Antonio panicked in his heart, and then he remembered that he had personally defined the sphere of influence for the Burning Angels and other peripheral gangs, and asked them to completely clear out the areas he assigned to them in the shortest possible time. occupied, and the Chinatown area was indeed allocated to the Burning Angels.

In other words, no matter who this area is allocated to, the other party will definitely find this roast goose shop, and they will definitely offend charlie for it... So, he who was furious just now suddenly became silent and looked around. Dare not speak anymore.

Seeing that he was starting to act stupid, charlie slapped him in the face and said in a cold voice, "Look at how coward you are, you really embarrass the Sicilians!"

Antonio received a slap in the face, but he could only say with shame, "I'm sorry. Mr. Wade... it's all my fault..."

charlie asked coldly, "Do you know who the second boss of Burning Angel is?"

Yes." Antonio explained, "The second boss is Mike, and he grew up with Daniel. ."

charlie said in a cold voice, "Call Daniel and ask him to bring that microphone and come here to see you immediately!"

After that, charlie said again, "Tonight, I will take down all the gang leaders and secondaries below you. Handle, see them all."

Antonio is the underground emperor of the entire New York, so when he summoned the gang leaders, without exception, they all responded happily and immediately.

Moreover, the words that charlie arranged for Antonio were also quite confusing.

According to charlie's request, he told the gang leader that he had a very important big business to discuss with them, and asked them to bring one of their most trusted confidants to a roast goose shop in Chinatown for a secret meeting.

In addition, charlie also asked him to tell the bosses that the business to be discussed this time was very important, so he chose a place like Chinatown to hide his eyes. Therefore, Antonio also specifically told them not to Tell anyone except his confidants about this, otherwise he will be permanently kicked out of the Zano family.

These gang leaders all follow Antonio for a living. The reason why they can have their own territory in New York is not only their own fierce competition, but also relying on Antonio's support. If they don't have Antonio's support, then their territory will surely be contested by other gangs under Antonio's command.

Therefore, these gangs are very loyal to Antonio and are afraid that if they dissatisfy Antonio in the slightest, they will be kicked out by him.

To put it bluntly, these gangs in New York who are loyal to the Zano family are like countless evil dogs raised by the Zano family, and each evil dog has its own food bowl.

The size of the food bowl may be different, and the quantity and quality of food in it may also be different, but because everyone belongs to the same owner, no dog dares to covet the food in other dogs' bowls.

But once a dog here is abandoned by its owner, the other dogs will snatch all the food in that dog's food bowl as quickly as possible, and then tear the dog into pieces and eat them. . What

's interesting is that if there are few such dogs, they may not be able to control them, but the more such dogs are raised, the higher the loyalty of each dog will be.

Soon, the Burning Angel boss Daniel, who was the first to be notified, drove to Chinatown with his confidant Mike.

On the way here, the two of them had been speculating on Antonio's specific purpose of letting them come this time. After all, Antonio only said on the phone that he had important business to discuss with them, but did not disclose any specific information.

Both Daniel and Mike felt that Antonio suddenly summoned them in Chinatown, probably because they had made good progress in Chinatown recently, so they had gained Antonio's special regard.

After all, the Chinese Gang lost completely this time. The Burning Angels conquered cities and territories in Chinatown and the entire Chinatown area, and the progress even exceeded their own expectations.

In their own eyes, this was a great victory for them. After a victory, it is natural for the commander to reward the commander based on his merits.

Therefore, the two people were extremely excited along the way, constantly thinking about the bright future of Burning Angel in their hearts.>

When they parked the car in front of the roast goose shop, they first saw the motorcycles of several of their men. Mike was a little surprised and said, "Boss, these cars seem to belong to Will and the others."

Daniel Not surprised at all, he said, "In the past few days, Will has been in Chinatown to eliminate those Chinese gang members and disobedient Chinese vendors. Maybe they did a better job, so the boss was impressed." Mike quickly reminded in a low voice

. Said: "Boss, although Will's sister is your mistress, I still want to remind you, be careful of this guy Will. This guy is very ambitious and will never be willing to be a little boss under you. Maybe His ambition is greater than your current achievements, and this time he has been appreciated by his boss. I am afraid that he will be more like a fish in water in the future. You must be careful!" Mike's words immediately made Daniel's expression stern

Daniel is not a smart man.

His biggest advantage is that he dares to kill and fight. He did gather a lot of gangsters who were loyal to him on the streets.

Coming from a grassroots background, he didn't know much about tactics. He just felt that if the brothers followed me and worked hard, I would not treat them badly. If I, Daniel, had a bowl of rice, my brothers would have a mouthful of soup.

But Mike is much smarter than him.

When Mike graduated from high school, he was the only top student in his black neighborhood who was admitted to a serious public university in the same year.

In that neighborhood, the crime rate and divorce rate are almost sky-high. Many young people learn to shoot guns and take drugs before their hair grows. If there is not a gunfight in the neighborhood every day, everyone living here will. Insomnia due to not being used to it.

In such an environment, Mike was able to be admitted to the university, which shows that his mind is beyond the reach of ordinary people.

However, after Mike went to college, he felt a huge gap in college due to his family poverty. He saw the rich people's extravagant pursuit of money and the fanatical pursuit of the rich by female classmates, but he, because of Due to lack of money and skin color, he was alienated and ostracized by his classmates.

From that time on, Mike went astray. He began to steal other students' belongings on campus, including mobile phones, computers, and bicycles. As long as they could be converted into money, he would not let them go.

So in the second year of college, he was expelled from the school.

Desperate, he simply joined the gang he met when he was writing off his debts, which was the predecessor of Burning Angel.

Relying on his own mind, Mike gradually became the second-in-command of the Burning Angel, winning Daniel's respect.

But

Mike has always been worried that his position as second boss is not stable enough, and he feels that his biggest threat is Will.

Therefore, Mike took the opportunity to say something bad about Will and asked Daniel to be more wary of Will.

But what the two of them don't know at this moment is that Will's life is already hanging by a thread, and their current situation will also undergo great changes.

Soon, the two of them entered the roast goose shop.

On the first floor of the roast goose restaurant, Antonio, who had broken his leg and lost two ears, was sitting behind a table in the deepest part of the hotel, facing the door, wearing a woolen hat. The two came in and recognized Antonio at a glance, but they didn't feel anything unusual about Antonio. The only thing that was a bit confusing was why he wore a woolen hat, which looked nondescript.

As soon as Daniel came in, he said to Antonio very respectfully, "Hello, boss!"

Mike also said respectfully, "Hello, boss!"

Antonio glanced at the two of them with complicated eyes, and said, "Daniel, when we arrive in Syria in the future, how can you do this?" Don't blame me."

Daniel was confused and asked subconsciously, "Boss, what do you mean? Who is going to Syria? Are we going to Syria?"

Antonio sighed deeply, Charlie was very calm just now revealed all his plans.

Tonight, he will use Antonio to invite the leaders of all the organizations under his command and the second boss one after another, and then seize them all. Tomorrow morning, when Wan Pojun arrives, he will take away all the bosses of these gangs and let the second boss see them with his own eyes. After watching the boss being taken away by Wan Pojun of Wanlong Palace, he promoted these second-in-commands to top leaders and asked them to take over their gang.

Charlie wanted to use this trick to make the entire gang in New York become his puppets in one night.

After these surviving second masters, the second masters who were completely shocked returned, considering that behind Charlie was the powerful Wanlong Palace, they would never dare to have any disobedience in the future, and would definitely obey Charlie's orders wholeheartedly.

And the Zano family's decades of hard work will be wiped out by Charlie after this night.

Antonio, who had already accepted his fate, could only lament to Daniel at this time, "Daniel, it's not just us, there are also leaders of other gangs. After they arrive one after another, everyone will go to Syria together and set off early tomorrow morning.” Daniel was even more surprised

. , asked him, “Boss, we are a gang, not mercenaries. What can we do in Syria? We can’t go to Syria to grab territory, right? The people there are much more fierce than us, and we use nine-millimeter pistols to grab territory. , they should have been running around carrying RG over there...”

Antonio lamented, “I’ll let Mr. Wade tell you the details..

” Mr. Wade? ” Which Mr. Wade? “

The two of them were confused and had no idea what Antonio wanted to say.

At this time, a man with an East Asian face walked out of the kitchen. He looked at the two of them and said lightly, “From tomorrow on, including you Burning Angels, All gang bosses under the Zano family will be sent to Syria. The boss’s position will automatically be taken over by the gang’s second-in-command. At the same time, the new boss will hand over 75% of the gang’s profits to the Chinese gang on a monthly basis. Who dares not to obey? , send him to Syria as well until an obedient boss is selected! “

The two of them seemed to have heard a big joke, especially Daniel, who was even more disdainful.

In his opinion, the Chinese Gang has been defeated by him, and will soon be completely driven out of Chinatown, and he will be asked to pay tribute to the Chinese Gang, and Taking out a profit of 75, this is simply a fantasy.

Daniel subconsciously took out his pistol, pointed it at charlie, and blurted out, “Where did you come from? Such a loud tone! Could it be that he is also a member of the Chinese Gang? “ charlie pulled out a chopstick from the chopstick box in front of Antonio at an extremely fast speed. With a flick of his hand, the chopstick was like a bullet, directly piercing the side of Antonio’s pistol. With a squeaking sound, Antonio only felt his wrist snap

. Ma, I lowered my head and saw that the pistol had disappeared. Then, I heard a thud from the wall behind me. When I turned around, I was almost scared to death!

My beloved Beretta pistol was hit by chopsticks from the side. He punched a hole and was nailed directly to the wall!

He looked at Charlie in horror. He really couldn't understand how humans could use chopsticks made of bamboo to blast through a pistol made of steel! And the pistol's sleeve and the barrel inside were both made of high-strength steel. Even a bullet could not penetrate it, let alone a chopstick! For a moment

, Daniel's legs became weak with fright, and he subconsciously wanted to turn around and escape.

But at this time, two men with East Asian faces walked in at the door. After they came in, one of them took out a pistol and put the gun directly to the back of the two people's heads.

These two people were Gunbir and Ni Dawei who were ambushing outside.

Immediately afterwards, the two men tied up Daniel and Mike and took them directly to the second floor.

At this time, Will Johnson and five other people had already been tied into rice dumplings and thrown on the second floor.

Before Daniel could figure out what happened, Gunbir and Ni Dawei tied him tightly with hemp rope, and stuffed a rag with a greasy smell into his mouth.

Gunbir kicked him to Will's side and took an electric kettle filled with water. , while pressing the boiling button, he said in a cold voice, "I'm warning you, there will be other gang members coming over soon. All of you are not allowed to make any sound, otherwise, after this pot of water boils, I will drink it all." Into his mouth! "
