The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6431

This airport has been gradually abandoned by the civil aviation system over the years, and is currently mainly used by American private flying clubs.

Since the air traffic control did not explain over the radio why the flight was suddenly required to return, and the flight had to land at an airport that was almost abandoned by the civil aviation system, the captain asked the other party over the radio why he wanted to return.

But air traffic control only told them that the order to return was issued by American air traffic control, and they did not know it, but the crew must fly the plane back, otherwise the crew members may be arrested for refusing to obey air control.

Naturally, the pilot did not dare to disobey the air traffic control instructions, so the plane left a circular trail over the Hudson Bay and returned to the United States.

Two F35 fighter jets from the Vermont National Guard also took off immediately and headed to Canadian airspace to receive them.

At this moment, Jadiel saw on the flight software that the plane chartered by Chen Zhimin had completed its U-turn and was flying back to the United States. He reported to Sarahui: "Master, the plane has returned." As soon as he finished speaking, he received another piece of intelligence from the scouts and quickly reported to Sara: "Master, I just received the news from the scouts ahead. Two F35s of the Vermont National Guard took off in an emergency and flew north towards Canada. It is estimated that it was to monitor the plane that picked up Chen Zhimin."

Sara nodded and said calmly: "If Chen Zhimin and the treasure are really on this plane, the treasure will inevitably fall into the hands of the US military first. Rothschild The family is deeply rooted in the United States. Since they lost things, the U.S. military will definitely return them to them."

After that, Sara said coldly: "Inform Wu Yongzhen and immediately mobilize all undercover agents hidden in the U.S. security department to follow them comprehensively. In this operation, the National Security Agency first confirmed which airport the plane would land at, then found a way to confirm whether the antique that Chen Zhimin and the Rothschild family were looking for was on the plane, and at the same time immediately dispatched all available personnel to upstate New York. Be on standby, and once you are sure that the item is on the plane, take action immediately and snatch it back at all costs!"

Jadiel was horrified, and it took him a while to come to his senses, and said nervously: "Master, if you steal it directly from the hands of the National Security Agency, will things get out of hand..."

After that, he said again He quickly suggested: "My subordinates feel that if the things are really on this plane, then we can wait for the National Security Agency to return the things to the Rothschild family, and then snatch the things from the Rothschild family." Come back."

Sara said with a stern expression, without any doubt: "No! As long as the thing is confirmed to be on this plane, there can be no delay! If something happens again and I miss it, it will destroy the 300-year-old foundation of the Qing Dynasty. They will also be implicated! Therefore, we must take advantage of it before the National Security Agency knows the purpose of this thing!"

Jadiel was shocked when he heard this.

He couldn't understand why Sara, who was always cautious, took such a big risk this time.

Stealing things from the Department of Homeland Security in the United States is almost equivalent to a large-scale terrorist attack!

Once the incident occurs, no matter whether it succeeds or fails, Po Qinghui will become the number one enemy of the United States. Its nature is so bad that it even surpasses Ben Ledeng. This is almost tantamount to seeking death!

No matter what, you shouldn't take such a big risk.

However, Sara didn't think so.

Four hundred years of his five-hundred-year life span have passed.

Now we are about to enter the real middle age and old age.

The 300-year-old foundation of the Po Ching Society was certainly important, but nothing was more important than her own life.

Over the years, her efforts to find the secret of immortality and extend her life to a thousand years have been repeatedly frustrated.

The last time she was in Shiwanda Mountain, she suffered another huge blow and fright, which made her more and more anxious. She also became less and less confident about extending her life span for five hundred years, and felt that this wish was almost impossible. accomplish.

However, the appearance of the Sifang Baozhu suddenly rekindled her hope of extending her life for a thousand years. She warned herself in her heart that she must seize this golden opportunity no matter what!

Because this is probably the last chance that God will favor you and leave you! You must try your best to grasp it!

1. The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6432

Sara knew the background of the Sifang Baozhuang, and even knew that in the Tang Dynasty, the Sifang Baozhuang was an important national weapon that could protect the country and the country.

She is a master of Taoism. She knows very well that even if the magic power of the Sifang Baozhuang has declined after so many years, its remaining magic power will definitely be of great help to individuals or a small and medium-sized group.

The Rothschild family that owns it does not understand spiritual energy, cultivation, or understanding of the core formation of the Sifang Baozhu. They have flourished for two to three hundred years just by quietly holding it. This is Sifang The best proof that Baozhuang's mana still exists.

Therefore, facing the Sifang Baozhu, Sara felt that under the background that his pursuit of life extension was almost hopeless, what did the life and death of Po Qinghui mean?

A hundred years later, if he died, would he still leave Po Qinghui to the descendants of the Wu family to be free and unrestrained? It's simply a fool's dream!

If he is bound to die in a hundred years, what is the significance of Poqing's existence? It would be more satisfying to let them all be buried with him!

So, what if after this operation, the Qing Dynasty will provoke the United States and be surrounded and suppressed by the United States?

With his own strength, although he cannot protect the entire Po Qing Society, it is still very easy to find a safe place to hide his name and live out the remaining one hundred years in a down-to-earth manner.

And if this adventure can allow you to obtain the Sifang Baozhu, then your overall fortune will skyrocket, and your chance of obtaining the secret of immortality will be much greater!

It is even possible that it will bring about a major breakthrough in cultivation!

As long as you find the opportunity to extend your life to a thousand years, the Poqing Society will be gone, and you can build a new one!

Moreover, what if it offends the United States?

Tens or a hundred years later, all the current high-level officials in the United States will be buried, and everything about the Qing Dynasty will be dusted by the years. Who will still miss Sara a hundred years ago?

When the time comes, I will change my appearance, create another Po Qing Society, and live another five hundred years!

Those five hundred years are the five hundred years when your hands and eyes can reach the sky, the five hundred years when you can call the wind and rain!

By that time, the Little Po Qing Society will no longer be able to catch my eye!

However, if he hesitates at all and causes any changes to the Sifang Treasure Building, it will definitely become the biggest regret of his life!

Thinking of this, Sara strengthened her belief. She stood up and said coldly: "Let's go all the way north to the U.S.-Canada border first. After the exact information comes, we will go to the airport designated by the Department of Homeland Security to see what happens!"

Jadiel said hurriedly : "Master Ying, you want to go to the scene in person? Isn't it too dangerous? In the opinion of my subordinates, let Wu Yongzhen's people handle this matter, so that you won't be exposed for this..."

Jadiel is Sara He is a junior and a loyal servant. He knows that Sara's identity is extremely special, and she also holds the shocking secret of immortality for four hundred years. He must not risk herself unless absolutely necessary.

Moreover, in his opinion, three of the four great earls have died, and Sara did not personally intervene in the first three deaths. Naturally, Sara did not have to risk his life for Uncle Sean, a mere Chen Zhimin, and the unknown treasure. .

Sara no longer concealed herself at this time. She looked at Jadiel and said in a stern and anxious tone: "Uncle Sean's life or death is not important, nor is Chen Zhimin's life or death. What is important is the antique dealer and what he has in his hands." A unique treasure that can change the fate of the Po Qing Society! Finding it may be the biggest opportunity in the more than 300 years since the Po Qing Society was founded!" "The reason why I went to the United States in person is to get it! "

1. The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6433

"If you can get it, that would be the best!"

"If you can't get it, you must find a way to destroy it!"

"If it really falls into the hands of that mysterious opponent, it will be my first chance to break the Qing Dynasty. The biggest threat in three hundred years!"

At this point, Sara's expression became extremely gloomy, and she gritted her teeth and said, "You also know that over the years, whether Lydia (Ava) ( Charlie's mom ) is dead or not has been a big worry for me! I have invested so much energy in the An family. , I have been laying it out for twenty years, just to find an opportunity to force her to show up, but the results are not what I want every time! I even have to deal with it and I will suffer heavy losses!" "

I am not worried about anything else, I am only worried that Lydia (Ava) ( Charlie's mom ) is not dead. , if that mysterious man is hers, it is the worst result for us!" "

If this is the case, Lydia (Ava) ( Charlie's mom ) will be the first enemy who has the ability to control the life and death of the Qing Dynasty!" "

And if this time If they get that peerless treasure again, the balance of victory may completely tilt in her favor!"

Jadiel looked horrified and subconsciously said: "Master Ying... the peerless treasure you mentioned, does it really have such a powerful effect?"

Sara said: " Whoever gets it will get the world."

After saying that, Sara looked at Jadiel, her tone was majestic and arrogant, and she looked down on the world, and said coldly: "Jadiel, you don't have to worry about the life and death of Po Qinghui. There is no need to worry about the life and death of other Wu family members. Today I promise you a great opportunity. If one day I can find the method of refining the Hundred Turns and Thousands of Returns Pill and successfully extend my life for thousands of years, then I will naturally refine the Eternal Green Pill. By the way, at that time, I will give you an eternal elixir and give you a life span of five hundred years!"

At this point, Sara paused for a moment, looked at him, and said: "The Po Qing Association is gone, you and I can build another one. One is! The other Wu family members are dead, but you still have the blood of the Wu family. Five hundred years will be enough for you to spread the branches and leaves of the Wu family. When the time comes, you will be the ancestor of the Wu family. This will create a new one. The Wu family is like the Wu family. If I live as long as the heavens one day, the Wu family will also live forever. Isn't this wonderful?"

Jadiel's whole body felt like it was struck by lightning, and he felt numb from his scalp to his toes!

A life span of five hundred years was something he didn't even dare to think about!

After all, he knew that Sara relied on Patriarch Meng's everlasting elixir to live up to five hundred years, so how could he have such an incredible opportunity?

However, once Sara truly masters the method of living to a thousand years, she will become a being like Patriarch Meng.

By then, wouldn't he have become the same existence she was back then?

If Patriarch Meng can give her the Eternal Eternal Life Pill, then she can naturally give herself the Eternal Eternal Life Pill!

Patriarch Meng could give her five hundred years of life, so she could also give herself five hundred years of life!

Thinking of this, Jadiel could hardly control himself. He wanted to kneel in front of Sara and knock his head to the ground one by one until his head was smashed.

Sara saw his excitement and ecstasy, and also saw that he wanted to kneel down.

Sara held up Jadiel's body with a spiritual energy, preventing him from kneeling down. At the same time, she said: "Tianlin, remember, I will only say this to you, and I will also say it to the second person in the future, and you, you must also keep it in mind and do not reveal anything to anyone, do you understand?"

Jadiel's voice trembled with excitement, and he said repeatedly: "Don't worry, Lord, I understand! I am willing to go all out to assist Lord, through swords and mountains of fire, Even if you die!"

Sara nodded with satisfaction, and said: "From today on, you must correct your mentality. As long as you and I can live forever and defeat more than ten thousand people in the Qing Dynasty, even if they all die, it will not be a pity! These things People are cannon fodder that I have trained for more than three hundred years, and when it's time for them to die, they will just die!"

1. The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6434

The life and death of more than 100,000 people in the Qing Dynasty, told from Sara's mouth, are nothing more than trivial matters.

It seems that she is not talking about the lives of more than 100,000 people, but more than 100,000 ants.

What's more important is that quite a few of them are direct descendants of the Wu family, and they are also the younger generations of Sara!

Although Jadiel has long been indifferent to the life and death of those around him, he has not yet reached Sara's level.

At this moment, he finally realized the difference between himself and the hero.

I don't care about the life and death of some people;

but the hero doesn't care about the life and death of everyone at all.

In Sara's view, as long as he can get the next five hundred years of life, he can sacrifice the lives of more than 100,000 people in the Qing Dynasty at any time.

However, this did not scare Jadiel.

After all, the conditions given by Sara were so tempting that he began to look forward to the future promised by Sara.

So, he said to Sara with a resolute expression: "Thank you, Master Ying, for enlightening me. I understand!"

"Okay." Sara nodded with satisfaction.

At this moment, Jadiel received the news and blurted out emotionally: "Master, there is news! The US National Security Agency designated the plane to land at a small airport near the US-Canada border. It will take almost two days for the plane to return to the destination. Half an hour's flight time, their agents and special forces have already gathered at the airport!"

Sara asked coldly: "How many people are there?"

Jadiel said: "About 200 people, the actual difference will not be too big. "

Okay!" Sara nodded: "Two hundred people, no problem, let's go there now! In addition, let all the combatants near New York gather quickly and arrive at the target airport within two hours!"

Jadiel said hurriedly: "Ying Lord, that airport is almost 400 kilometers away from us. If you want to get there in two hours, the only way is to take a helicopter. The area is now on high alert. If hundreds or thousands of people go there by helicopter, the target may be too big. And it's not realistic to coordinate so many helicopters in a short period of time..."

Sara frowned and asked, "How long will it take to drive?"

Jadiel said, "It will take five hours at the fastest..."

"Damn it!" Sara's expression was ferocious. Unexpectedly, these four hundred kilometers turned out to be the biggest obstacle.

Jadiel was right. If we really wanted to organize hundreds or even thousands of people to fly there, we would need at least dozens or even hundreds of helicopters. This was simply a fantasy.

In desperation, Sara had no choice but to grit her teeth and said: "Ask Wu Yongzhen to immediately arrange for a helicopter to come over and pick us up on the top floor of Manhattan Hospital, and then select fifty of the best scouts to rush over and wait for my dispatch. If that doesn't work, I'll go grab it myself." !"

Jadiel did not dare to say more, and immediately said with his hands in hand: "I obey!"

Soon, a helicopter roared over, picked up Sara and Jadiel on the top floor of Manhattan Hospital, and flew non-stop to the U.S.-Canada border.

After calculation, the pilot estimated that he could arrive near the target airport within one hour and forty minutes, which made Sara relieved.

Although a large number of people can't get through it, with his own strength, it should be easy to snatch an antique from a group of agents and soldiers.

Just when she was ambitious, the helicopter pilot suddenly received a radio message: "n77dt, this is nypd, you are leaving New York airspace, please return to New York airspace immediately, land at the designated location, and undergo inspection!"

The helicopter pilot was stunned.

nypd is the abbreviation of the New York Police Department, and n77dt is the registration number of the helicopter he is driving.

This means that the police just shouted to themselves.

1. The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6435

This pilot is a member of the Seizing Society in New York. Before today, he had been silent at the New York headquarters of the Seizing Society. According to the internal regulations of the Seizing Society, during the silence, except for the scouts in charge of vigilance, no one else should Just like a silent submarine, they are not allowed to leave the station without authorization, are not allowed to take the initiative to learn about outside information, and are not allowed to take the initiative to contact the outside world.

Therefore, before the pilot was sent out to perform the mission, he had no idea that the Rothschild family had blocked New York's helicopter airspace in disguise. Except for the Rothschild family's helicopter, all other private helicopters were not allowed to leave New York's airspace.

Because of this, the pilot who suddenly received the radio message was completely confused and quickly replied: "nypd, this is n77dt. I have already applied for takeoff permission from air traffic control and am going to Burlington. Why should I accept it?" Inspection?"

The other party immediately replied on the radio: "It is related to homeland security. I can't comment on the specific reason. Please land at the designated location immediately for inspection. You can be released after passing the inspection."

Sara listened to the radio call and immediately He asked the pilot: "What does the other party mean? Why do you have to be inspected?"

The pilot was also confused. Although he didn't know that the female passenger sitting behind him was the hero of the Qing Dynasty, he still said very politely: "The other party It's related to homeland security. I don't know the specific situation."

Sara asked him: "What will happen if you ignore them?"

The pilot said: "In this case, if they refuse to cooperate, they should dispatch a police helicopter. , and even called the National Guard for support..."

As he spoke, the pilot couldn't help but wonder: "It's strange, I have been in New York for many years, and the last time air traffic control was so strict was during 911..."

Sara frowned. Wrinkled, he thought to himself: "Could it be that the news of my coming to the United States leaked out?"

Just as he was thinking about it, Jadiel glanced at his phone and said quickly: "I just received news that the Rothschild family used them to manipulate the United States. The government's influence, through the hands of various departments, has blocked New York's land, sea and air. Anyone who wants to leave New York must undergo inspection..." " Asshole! The police want to investigate me because of the Rothschild family? How could such a bastard thing happen in New York?!" Sara's expression turned extremely ugly for a moment.

She didn't expect that when she went to New York in person, she would stumble upon the Rothschild family!

This gave her the feeling of being bullied by a dog when a tiger fell to the ground, which made her extremely depressed.

At this time, another warning came from the pilot's radio: "n77dt, repeat, this is nypd, you must immediately adjust the course to 280 degrees, and at the same time descend to 2,200 feet, the speed must not be higher than 80 knots, we Our colleagues will guide you to land for inspection! If you refuse to accept inspection, NYPD will activate the police helicopter to intercept you. You will be responsible for all consequences!" The pilot had no choice but to say to the two men: "Two sirs, it seems we are now We must be inspected, otherwise things will be in trouble once they start to intercept. Not only does the NYPD have police helicopters, but the New York National Guard also has armed helicopters. They will definitely bite us to death and not let go."

"This is unreasonable! This is unreasonable!!" Sara was almost furious!

In all these years, she had never suffered such aggrievedness anywhere.

However, what made her collapse the most was that although she was extremely angry, she also knew very well that she could not twist her thigh with her arms in New York.

If you openly confront the American police in the sky, you will definitely not get any good ending.

By then, if there was another aerial chase, I might not be able to get to Burlington within two hours.

In desperation, she could only grit her teeth and say to the pilot: "Okay! Time is tight, just follow the requirements of these bastards!"

1. The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6436

The site used by nypd to inspect helicopters is the open-air helipad of a helicopter navigation company in northwest New York.

This general aviation company is very large. The apron and hangar alone are enough to park hundreds of helicopters.

The company also owns dozens of self-purchased helicopters of various types. It is the largest general aviation company in New York and is also an industry of the Rothschild family.

Helicopters are relatively popular in the United States. A large number of wealthy people and companies own their own helicopters, and the business of leasing helicopters is also very popular. Many celebrities, dignitaries, and wealthy people need to temporarily rent helicopters when they go out, so it is also very common for general aviation companies.

However, most companies or business owners who own helicopters only have one helicopter. For the parking, maintenance and upkeep of this helicopter, it is not worth investing a dedicated space and team, so it is entrusted to the general aviation company to be responsible for unified operation and maintenance. When the owner is not using it, the general aviation company will use it for leasing operations to recover costs.

In order to ensure that the blockade inspection of helicopters is foolproof, the Rothschild family provided this venue for the NYPD, and also arranged for their own people to participate here throughout the process. Every helicopter leaving New York airspace must first undergo a comprehensive inspection here. After confirming that the helicopter has nothing to do with Sifang Baozhuang, the NYPD will release the helicopter, and the helicopter can leave New York and go to its destination.

However, in order to prevent the helicopters that have passed the inspection from landing midway, they will require the helicopters that have passed the inspection to climb directly to more than 1,000 meters on the spot. At the same time, before arriving at the destination, the entire journey must not be lower than 1,000 meters above sea level, and there is air traffic control radar throughout the entire process. Monitoring, no one shall violate the requirements, otherwise they will be directed by nypd and subject to inspection and related investigations again.

Therefore, if Sara wanted to leave New York by helicopter, she had to go through this series of procedures, even if she was the leader of the Po Qing Society and a 400-year-old Taoist master.

Sara felt that her mentality had been cut in half again and again from the moment she got off the plane.

Now, she was almost on the verge of going berserk.

The dignified leader of the Qing Dynasty meeting was ordered to land for inspection in the United States. It felt like the traitor translator in the movie "Xiao Bing Zhang Ga", who usually didn't spend money on restaurants, deigned to come to the roadside to eat a broken watermelon, and was actually arrested. Demand payment!

At this time, the traitor translator was no longer just trying to stir up trouble.

He wanted to take out the tortoise box in his waist, smash all the watermelons on the stall to pieces, and then blow the melon seller's head off as well to satisfy his hatred.

Sara felt the same way.

She even felt that her Taoist mind, which she had cultivated for more than three hundred years, was basically used up within a couple of hours after getting off the plane.

This made her curse in her heart: "Damn Rothschild, destroy my Taoist heart! Sooner or later you will have to pay the price!"

However, Sara felt resentful in her heart, but she also understood that those who should cooperate must also Gotta cooperate.

If you really want to pull out a gun and do it, the stall owner may not be afraid. After all, they are all underground members, and the dark muzzle has long been secretly aimed at the traitor translator's head.

Sara's mood was exactly the same as the Japanese translator in the movie.

So what if you can eat out in the city without spending any money? When you get to this watermelon stall, you have to raise your fucking hands honestly. If you are asked to give money, you will give money obediently. If you are asked to cooperate, you will cooperate obediently.

Sara was filled with anger and resentment as she watched the helicopter she was riding in fly over the general aviation company as requested by the NYPD.

When she lowered her head and looked down, there were no less than twenty helicopters of different sizes and styles parked on the ground apron.

These helicopters are all civilian helicopters, and it seems that they should all be inspected.

When Sara saw this, she suddenly became angry and couldn't help blurting out: "With so many helicopters being inspected, when will we be found?!"

The pilot said helplessly: "This... my subordinates can't say..."

Sara had I have such an impulse that I can't wait to jump out of the helicopter right now and kill everyone below in order to relieve the anger in my heart.

However, she also knew that if she did this, even if she could escape unscathed, the whole thing would be dragged into an abyss of eternal destruction.

Moreover, she also saw that there were four NYPD-painted police helicopters at the four corners of the apron below. Next to the four police helicopters, there were at least 20 SWAT police officers armed with live ammunition.

What's even more terrible is that there is an Apache helicopter of the New York State National Guard parked on each side of the field. The Apache is equipped with Sea Snake 70mm rockets and Hellfire missiles, which are nearly as powerful as those made by the Soviet Union. Anti-cannon is much better.

Next to these two armed helicopters, there were more than a dozen army soldiers armed to the teeth.

As soon as Sara saw this posture, she knew that coming to this place and still wanting to refuse to cooperate and escape before the battle was a fool's errand.

With this firepower configuration, he would have to skin himself even if he didn't die.

What's more, the New York State National Guard has far more than these two helicopters. If there is an emergency, even F35s may be able to fly over in a short time.

After all, even the Vermont National Guard has completed the replacement of F35, not to mention the big guns in the guard such as the New York National Guard.

These idiots even have F22 and B2 stealth bombers. Although the command rights are in the hands of the US military, judging from the order of ownership of the equipment, it does belong to the National Guard.

In other words, if the United States breaks the Qinghui, the US military does not need to be dispatched. The National Guard of any state, that is, the militia of this state, can blow up the base of the Qinghui. m..oΓg

Just when Sara tried her best to convince herself that she was under the eaves and had to lower her head, a voice came from the radio: “n77dt, please land on the 14th apron immediately. There are police officers on the apron to guide the landing. Please pay attention. , the ground is equipped with a monitoring system with no blind spots. During the landing process, you must ensure that all windows on the aircraft are always closed and no one is allowed to open them. After landing, no one is allowed to leave the helicopter. They must wait for the inspection in place. After the inspection is completed, it is confirmed that there are no abnormalities. After that, you will be released. It is related to the homeland security of the United States of America. Please cooperate. If there is any dangerous behavior, the NYPD and the New York State National Guard will not rule out the possibility of firing first. Thank you for your cooperation.”

Sara fisted Holding tightly, the Taoist heart has collapsed, and only the rationality to understand current affairs is barely maintained.

The pilot had no choice but to obey the instructions and slowly land the helicopter on the 14th apron.

Before the helicopter landed, several soldiers with live ammunition were already waiting nearby. After the helicopter stopped, they immediately sealed all the doors and windows with strong tape to prevent the people inside from taking advantage of the chaos to throw anything out of the helicopter, or Draw out your weapon and attack.

Seeing the other party sealing the doors and windows, Sara immediately asked: “Don’t you want to check? Why don’t you check quickly? What are we doing by sealing our doors and windows?!” One of the soldiers replied: “There are more than ten helicopters waiting for inspection ahead. When you are queued up, we will let you get off the plane for inspection.”

Sara was immediately furious and asked angrily: "This is unreasonable, my time is very precious, why do you let me wait here for you to be inspected one by one?!"

The soldier deliberately showed off the assault rifle on his chest and said coldly: "It is related to the homeland security of the United States of America, and everyone must obey it unconditionally! If you have any objections, we can provide a free venue and give you 24 hours of Time to calm down!"

1. The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6438

At a certain moment, Sara wanted to cut off the soldier's head with a slash in the air, and then charge all the way to Burlington.

However, her reason quickly calmed her down.

Because in this case, it is almost impossible for you to bypass the other party's inspection.

It was possible to carve out a bloody path, but in the next second it was very likely that a dozen armed helicopters would bite him and not let him go. At that time, he would have no choice but to run for his life. How would he have the chance to find the Sifang Treasure Tower?

At this time, there was another roar in the sky.

A large Bell civilian helicopter was slowly falling from the sky and parked on the parking space behind Sara.

Several soldiers outside the cabin immediately divided the work, leaving one person to guard the helicopter Sara was riding on, while the others went to the next apron and blocked the helicopter using the same process as Sara.

The soldier who stayed outside the cabin used the walkie-talkie on his shoulder to say: "We need to add some more manpower here. The operation speed here is too slow. On average, three new helicopters will come in every time it takes to check one helicopter."

Walkie-talkie Nei replied: "Four Chinooks and four Apaches from the Third Squadron have arrived in New York to support them. They are expected to arrive in twenty minutes. The Massachusetts National Guard has also entered a state of combat readiness. If necessary, they will come to support at any time. "It doesn't matter if your operation speed is slower. Just let those people wait in the helicopter. It doesn't matter how long they wait, as long as they don't come out or escape before being inspected."

The soldier was startled in surprise. He was startled, and then asked: "Are the New York State National Guard not enough? Do you need support from Massachusetts?" The walkie-talkie replied: "Reliable information was received dozens of minutes ago that someone was trying to steal national defense secrets and leave the country. At present, We are forcing the other party to return. The Department of Homeland Security has analyzed that once the plane is forced to return to the United States, the other party is likely to organize armed manpower to seize it, so now we need to mobilize a large number of reinforcements to ensure that nothing goes wrong."

After that, the other party added: "This time The noise is really loud. You should all overcome it. In addition, the Rothschild family's technical team has begun to train artificial intelligence to be responsible for detection. After training, the efficiency will be greatly improved." The soldier had no choice but to say: "I hope they move faster."

Sara heard the conversation between the two word by word. At this moment, she suddenly realized that she seemed to have shot herself in the foot.

If I had known that the damn Rothschild family had blocked New York, I wouldn't have let people describe the matter so seriously.

Now I won't be able to get out of New York for a while, and the other side is constantly strengthening its defense. Even if there are a thousand dead soldiers by then, I'm afraid it won't be enough for the National Guard to fill the gap between the teeth.

Thinking of this, she decided to try to see if she could leave here first.

Although helicopters in New York cannot fly out, it does not mean that helicopters outside will also be subject to this restriction. As long as I can get out, I will ask Wu Yongzhen, the Grand Governor of the Left Army Governor's Mansion, to arrange helicopters from other places to wait outside New York in advance, and I will use them. Leave the New York blockade as quickly as possible, and then take a helicopter to your destination.

After making up her mind, Sara immediately used spiritual energy to control the helicopter pilot and the soldier left behind outside.

Immediately, he asked the soldiers outside through the window: "Is there any way you can get me out of here now?"

The soldier shook his head: "Our person in charge has clear regulations that helicopters and individuals arriving here for inspection must be inspected. After a very strict inspection, and at least three soldiers responsible for the inspection confirm that everything is correct at the same time, the helicopter and passengers can leave."

Sara gritted her teeth and said: "If I ask your soldiers responsible for the inspection to let me go, can I leave?"

"No." The soldier said: "Not only are we in charge here, but also the NYPD and the Rothschild family's subordinates. They require that inspections must be carried out in order. Whichever helicopter's turn it is to be inspected, they will send representatives and our ten. Several soldiers surrounded the helicopter with professional equipment and carefully inspected the helicopter and passengers."

Sara did not expect that the situation was more troublesome than she imagined, so she couldn't help but ask: "Can you inspect my helicopter first? Helicopter, after the inspection, let me go first?"

The soldier shook his head without hesitation and said: "No, because there are regulations that no one is allowed to jump in line. The inspection must be carried out in the order of landing, and the order is supervised by three parties. Others in line Helicopters will also monitor, so it is impossible for anyone to jump in the queue in any form."

Sara asked angrily: "Can I sneak away from here quietly?"

1. The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6439

The soldier shook his head and said: "Which helicopter is checked, the personnel on board can open it When you leave the cabin door and leave the cabin, you will undergo a body search. Those who are not in line with other helicopters cannot even open the windows, let alone get off the helicopter.”

Sara asked again: “What if you didn’t tell me?”

The soldier shook his head again: “It’s useless if I don’t say it. Others will stop them if they see it.”

Sara asked again: “What if other people don’t say anything if they see it?”

At this time, Sara was thinking that at the worst, she would control more people. As long as she could just cover yourself and get out of here.

The soldier said: “Then there are people from the Rothschild family. Their people are scattered everywhere, and they also have their people in several nearby high-rise buildings. Even we don’t know exactly where they are, and their people are not very clear at all.” They are constantly monitoring every move of every helicopter here. If you push the door to leave before they detect you, they will lock you in and at least a hundred people will be watching you, covertly or covertly. Watch your every move.”

As he spoke, the soldier added: “Actually, before yesterday, it was possible to sneak out quietly, but the Rothschild family just used the artificial intelligence technology they invested in Silicon Valley this morning. Using artificial intelligence for AI monitoring, their artificial intelligence system can actively and intelligently monitor every helicopter that lands;” “

To put it bluntly, your helicopter will be automatically locked by AI the moment it lands. , and the AI can automatically trace the main outline of the helicopter and lock it within a few milliseconds. Once the main outline of the helicopter changes, the AI will immediately send information to the Rothschild family and the NYPD at the same time. Call the police with our three parties;”

”As long as you put down the window and stick a finger out from the crack of the window, the AI will determine that the outline of the target subject has changed and trigger the alarm immediately, let alone a person coming out of it. .”

Sara was confused after hearing this, and gritted her teeth and asked: “Is there no way to crack this system?! What if I can make everyone waiting for inspection run out of the helicopter? Is that possible? Disturbing their judgment?”

The soldier shook his head and said: "The order we received is that once someone does not obey the order and gets out of the helicopter, we will shoot. It is a matter of homeland security. We have the right to shoot first. , so if these people really opened the hatch and ran down, they might have been shot before their feet even landed on the ground."

Sara felt uncomfortable in her heart. According to what the other party said, if she used psychological suggestion to make these people jump out of the helicopter, If you provide cover for yourself, the group of people will be subdued by the soldiers in an instant and will not be able to protect you at all.

Thinking of this, she asked again: "What if I just let them open the window and extend their hands to interfere with the artificial intelligence's judgment? Can that cover my departure?"

The soldier shook his head again: "Artificial intelligence has priorities. If more than a dozen targets all call the police, it will automatically analyze the changes of more than a dozen targets at the same time. If among the dozen targets that call the police, only one of the targets has someone gone. If it comes out, it will think that dealing with this target has the highest priority, and then lead everyone to attack this target first."

Sara almost collapsed, gritted her teeth and cursed: "What's wrong with the Rothschild family's brains?! They are just looking for something. That's all, is there any need to develop so much high technology?!"

The soldier said: "We don't understand either. They just urgently transferred people from Silicon Valley in the middle of the night last night. It is said that the other party is from the most popular AI company nowadays, and it is All the top engineering teams came. After a large group of people arrived, they immediately started training their self-developed AI model based on the existing monitoring equipment. After working on it for several hours, it was put into use directly this morning."

Sara also Knowing that technology is developing very fast nowadays, Po Qinghui also has its own software development team, but in her impression, software development and application is a very long process. It takes at least several months to develop, test, go online, and improve. The time was reasonable, and it was unheard of for her to put it into use directly in one night.

So she asked: “Are you sure it will work for something that was put online in such a hurry?”

The soldier said: “It’s more than useful, it’s so easy to use! The accuracy of this thing is 100%, and the AI model is a product they have developed for many years. , the computing power of this model is the first of its kind in the world, and the knowledge base reserve has been updated to last month. They rely on the powerful computing power and knowledge reserve of the AI model to train AI to adapt to mature monitoring hardware, and the speed is naturally super fast. It’s beyond imagination;”

“To put it bluntly, it’s not that they developed a new monitoring system overnight, but that they spent one night telling AI how to use these monitoring equipment to achieve the best monitoring effect;”

1. The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6440

”This is equivalent to the fact that the high-speed 4K camera in the surveillance equipment only needs to be responsible for taking 1,000 photos per second here, and then the AI uses super computing power to process the 1,000 photos generated per second at an almost synchronous speed. Carry out intelligent analysis, lock each target helicopter in the 1,000 photos, and compare them with each other to determine whether there are any changes in these helicopters, so as to determine whether there are any problems. If there are problems, start from each “In 1,000 photos per second, find the target and lock it in real time;”

”With a speed of 1,000 frames per second, you can even clearly capture the bullets coming out of the barrel, let alone people. Even ghosts can’t escape when they come. Drop it.”

Sara murmured: “Has technology developed so fast in recent years?”

The soldier nodded: “This AI model has been online for less than two years.”

Sara almost vomited blood after hearing this.

She didn’t know that the reason why the Rothschild family used AI to participate in surveillance was because they suffered a loss at the Zhou family’s house. A large group of people stared at the Zhou family’s villa, but they didn’t understand who got in. .

That's why the AI team was mobilized overnight to apply the most advanced artificial intelligence to the existing monitoring hardware.

It means that although the hardware has not changed, the software suddenly has artificial intelligence with super computing power.

However, Sara thought of Charlie together.

She feels that no matter how powerful the equipment is, it is still equipment and must be driven by electricity. If there is no electricity, wouldn't it be just a pile of scrap metal?

Some satellites are in the sky and can even take pictures of matchboxes on the ground. But if their batteries are removed, what else can they do?

Just like the smartphone in your hand, even if it has 10,000 apps installed, it can only be used as a brick when it runs out of power.

Thinking of this, she immediately asked: "What if I cut off the power supply around here?! Will all their equipment be paralyzed?" "

It's useless." The soldier blurted out: "It's the same as the one before last night. There is a show, but there is no show today."

Sara asked: "Why?!"

The soldier replied: "The Rothschilds don't know what happened last night, so they equipped every monitoring point near here with large-scale Emergency power supply, the emergency power supply can be switched seamlessly after a power outage to ensure that the equipment is not powered on, and the battery capacity is high, which can meet the normal operation of all equipment at the monitoring point for at least 12 hours."

After speaking, the soldier added: "Oh, right Yes, they transferred at least a dozen diesel generators this morning. It is said that there are also generator trucks. Once the power is cut off, they can use the battery to provide power, start the diesel generator to charge the battery, and refuel the generator at the same time. Anyway, that's it. Just don't let the equipment stop running at all,"

"And I didn't explain it clearly just now. They have at least dozens of high-speed cameras that take 1,000 photos per second around, and they all have independent power supply systems. That is to say, at this moment, they will take and process tens of thousands of high-definition photos per second. Even if a few devices stop running, it will have no impact on the whole.”

At this point, the soldier said with a sigh on his face: ” Artificial intelligence is really powerful. It is said that the Ministry of National Defense was shocked by their model this morning and plans to take out the Global Hawk drone for them to test and see if it can stay in the air for forty hours in the future. The Global Hawk keeps taking pictures of the target area in the sky, and then their AI model keeps processing it in the cloud. If this road is opened, even if a dog crawls into the mountains of Afghanistan, AI will be able to find it. Come out.” When Sara heard this, she felt as if there were countless huge question marks flying in circles around her, and her whole body was completely dazzled and her eyes were filled with stars.

She didn’t understand AI, but after hearing what the soldier said, she just felt that it was a bit too scary.

The ascetic cultivates to the limit of human beings, but no matter how hard she sees and hears, her eyes cannot capture thousands of visual information in one second, and her brain cannot analyze thousands of high-definition images in one second.

But for AI, it only takes one night of training.

It was also at this moment that she truly understood why she had lived for four hundred years, while the elders and earls of the Po Qing Society had lived for more than a hundred years, but the world was still in the hands of ordinary people whose average life span was no more than seventy or eighty years old. .

Science and technology are the primary productive forces. This is simply an eternal truth in modern society!

What’s the use of living for four hundred years and developing skills? At this moment, science and technology are locked to death?

This is very similar to the desperate physicists facing the proton blockade in “The Three-Body Problem”.

What's the use of studying physics all your life? The protons of advanced civilization are here, aren't they sealed for you?

Sara didn't know that her current situation was entirely due to Charlie. While she was sighing, she also couldn't figure it out: "How bad can my Sara's luck be? I just came to look for the Sifang Bao. It's just a building, why do I feel like the United States is using its entire nation to target me?!"
