“Buy shares?”

When the man heard this, he suddenly became stupid again, thinking: “What the hell are these questions? They are beyond the scope, my dad! Why didn’t you pass the homework you prepared when you came? It feels like It’s like taking the fucking driver’s license test subject one, and all the questions that come up are questions about chefs, and I can’t do these questions...”

Jacob said at this time: “I am getting more and more unsure. What is this bastard thinking? Is he really willing to pay 250,000?”

Zhang Ermao (Cade) smacked his lips and said, “Maybe this grandson is fishing. Do you think that if we agree, will we have to give it to him? ” Leave your contact information?”

“What if he lies to us and says that this thing was sold for 10 million and asked us to come and get the remaining 5 million?”

“We are coming, what if he really does?” We called the police, took away 250,000 yuan from him, and left the evidence of the Buddha statue with him, and then we threw ourselves into a trap. Isn’t this... a gunshot?”

Jacob felt uncomfortable hearing this. , all the facial features were twisted into a ball, and he smacked his lips and said, “Didn’t you say that the police don’t care?”

Zhang Ermao (Cade) said, “Yes, generally they don’t care much, and according to our rules, no one will call the police if they are really slapped. It’s all about being dumb, so as not to ruin your reputation and ruin your job. It’s embarrassing for an antique collector to receive fake antiques. If the industry knows how to mess around in the future, who will call the police... ..”

After saying that, he pointed at Zhou Liangyun on the screen and cursed: “But we can’t stand someone who doesn’t play according to the rules!”

When he said this, Zhang Ermao (Cade) became a little excited and said: ” President Xiao, you don’t know that there are a lot of stupid people these days. A few days ago, I went to a prostitute alone. I obviously paid extra hours but was unwilling to pay for the extra hours. The girl refused to give up. , grabbed his waistband and refused to let him go. He also called the police to report extortion, and both of them were arrested.”

“Last week, a buddy who was reselling fake Maotai was deceived. They said he was selling fake Maotai. He was given a batch of punched Moutai in original bottles and original boxes. When the goods arrived, he discovered that most of them were not original bottles and original boxes. He was so angry that he called the police. The police caught the seller who had sold the fake goods to him but did not catch him. His warehouse was seized and is still in it. The lawyer said that if the bail cannot be transferred out, he will definitely be sentenced to actual imprisonment.”

“A few years ago, there was an old man who pretended to be methamphetamine with alum and sold it online. He thought that addicts would definitely not call the police if they bought counterfeit goods. However, there was that short-sighted old man who was not convinced and called the police and arrested him. , I also went in, what can you do if you meet someone like this?”

Jacob asked again: “What should we do?”

Zhang Ermao (Cade) smacked his lips: “He did it on purpose ? If he wants to mess with us, we can’t take the 250,000. There is no need to provoke a stubborn person for the 250,000. But if he is really blind and thinks that the things made by Teacher Cheng are from the Northern Song Dynasty, then We still have a chance to do more with him.”

Jacob asked: “How to do more?”

Zhang Ermao (Cade) picked up the phone and typed another line.

After a while, the boy in the store said anxiously: “Oh, no, my elder brother sent me a WeChat message to ask me to go back and take inventory together. I definitely can’t keep this thing, and I can’t let him know. Boss, you don’t have to follow me either.” Tell me how much it is worth, let alone tell me about investing in it, I just want to sell it, so be it! I will give you another 100,000 yuan, and you can take it for 400,000 yuan, okay?” At this time, my heart was already in my throat.

In their opinion, it all depends on how Zhou Liangyun answers.

If Zhou Liangyun wants to invest in the stock together life and death, then he must have bad intentions; but if Zhou Liangyun accepts the price reduction and really buys it, then everything is a false alarm. Although there is a slight deviation in the process, the final result is still According to the plan, as long as this little brother doesn't let Zhou Liangyun run into him in the future, there won't be any trouble.

At this time, Zhou Liangyun said a little worriedly: "Oh, 400,000, I really can't afford so much. I told you just now that I have nothing in my store, so I have to spend a lot of money to fill it. And I took it from someone else with a little rent, and I will have to pay the rent to the landlord soon. If I really take out 400,000 yuan, everything will be affected."

The man subconsciously said: "You are not saying that this thing is from the Northern Song Dynasty. Is it worth tens of millions? Can't you just resell it?"

Zhou Liangyun sighed: "How can something worth tens of millions be so easy to sell? A humble guy like me can sell it to the outside world. People don't believe it at all. Even if I look for an auction, I still have to wait for their next auction to start, and there is a cumbersome appraisal process;"

"I just feel that it is the style of the Northern Song Dynasty, but what I say is not authoritative. In the end, if it needs to be appraised by experts or an appraisal agency, if I misjudge this thing, it will basically be thrown away."

"Even if I am lucky and this thing is really from the Northern Song Dynasty, then I have to wait for the auction to finish the appraisal. It will take at least several months to receive the money after the auction is successfully completed, so the risks are still very high."

Zhang Ermao (Cade) touched the half-tied beard on his chin and muttered: "Damn it. Did we think Zhou was too clever? He seemed to think this thing was from the Northern Song Dynasty."

Jacob said hurriedly: "I thought he was a fierce general, and I studied the art of war for him for a long time, but I didn't expect it to be two hundred and fifty. He can get it for 300,000 yuan! It's safe to pay!"

Zhang Ermao (Cade) felt that 300,000 yuan was a very ideal thing after going through a rollercoaster in his heart.

After all, the main purpose was to embarrass Zhou Liangyun and help Jacob make some money. He couldn't get a cent of the 200,000 profit margin. Jacob didn't have any objections. What else could he hesitate about?

What's more, if this matter fails in the end, I will have to pay Jacob 200,000 yuan, which will be an even bigger loss.

Just when Jacob was taking revenge for cheating Zhou Liangyun and earning two hundred thousand, charlie, who was sitting in the teahouse drinking tea, couldn't help but feel a little confused.

He had long seen that the person who just entered Zhou Liangyun's store to buy something was a liar, but he didn't understand why Zhou Liangyun bought his stuff.

Could it be that that thing is really from the Northern Song Dynasty?

As soon as he thought about this, charlie almost immediately thought to himself: "With Uncle Zhou's attainments in the field of antiques, it is absolutely impossible for him to set eyes on Aurous Hill Antique Street. Presumably, the bronze Buddha must be from the Northern Song Dynasty."

So, he couldn't help but sigh. : "This situation seems to have been hatched by my sworn father-in-law and Zhang Ermao (Cade). If they knew that the items sold to Zhou Liangyun for 300,000 yuan today were worth tens of millions, I wonder how they would feel?

" At the same time.

Zhou Liangyun saw that the man had gone away, so he stood up and closed the store door from the inside, and then carefully looked at the bronze Buddha he had just received.

He firmly believed in his vision that this was a gilt-bronze Buddha from the Northern Song Dynasty, and what he just said was a little conservative. The production technology of this thing was definitely extremely sophisticated in the context of the Northern Song Dynasty. In that era The era can be regarded as the pinnacle of bronze ware.

Very few bronzes from the Northern Song Dynasty have been preserved, and even fewer are so exquisitely crafted. Many people who play antiques may have never touched one in their lives.

But to put it another way, this leather shell is indeed a pity.

Zhou Liangyun speculated that it was likely that this bronze Buddha passed through the hands of people who did not understand it after a long period of time. The gilt on the surface was not well maintained, so it fell off. After it fell off too much, he simply stopped working on it. All the mottled gilt layers were peeled off.

There is no gilding, and the leather shell has been damaged during peeling. People who have not studied the Northern Song Dynasty bronzes in depth, even veteran players in the antique industry, I am afraid that most people's first impression when they see this thing will be that it is modern. Imitation.

Therefore, Zhou Liangyun speculated that it must be an antique dealer who specializes in counterfeiting. When he accidentally obtained this bronze Buddha, he judged it to be a modern object, and then remade it based on it, and paired it with an unknown object collected from somewhere. They made a set of copper bases made in the Xuande year to deceive others that they were made in the Xuande year.

Zhou Liangyun also judged based on this point that the person who came to sell things just now must have come to deceive him.

The man said that he was selling his father's relics for money, but he knew the bronze Buddha very well in his words. He knew the age and the background. He could even use a few professional terms like "open the door". Even Xuande Year Bronze Buddha He can give a relatively accurate range for the price of the artifacts. It stands to reason that he should be involved in antiques.

However, this person did not know the chronology of the Northern Song Dynasty, and it was obvious that he did not understand the most basic history at all.

Those who are a little dabbled in antiques will not only memorize the emperors, reign names and times of the past dynasties, but at least have a relatively clear concept. Just mention the reign name of any emperor and you will have a rough concept of time in your mind. You can't think of the year when you mention the era name, but it is absolutely impossible to understand the five major dynasties of Tang, Song, Yuan, Ming and Qing.

Therefore, according to common sense, it is impossible for that person to talk about the Northern Song Dynasty, and he does not even know the corresponding year of the Northern Song Dynasty in AD.

In addition, the man made important decisions several times after looking at his mobile phone. Zhou Liangyun speculated that he was just a tool under the instructions of others, and the person who ordered him must have thought that this thing could scare him and make him He was blind, so he was asked to complete this scam.

Thinking of this, Zhou Liangyun also began to guess the mastermind behind it.

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6689

By / April 20, 2024

In the antique street, some people make a living by defrauding individual customers, but there are also people who make a living by defrauding merchants.

It has long been common in this industry to deceive antique dealers with fake items.

If you open the door to do business by yourself, it is not uncommon for someone to deceive you.

But the strange thing is that I have just barely opened my business today, and I have no reputation. I don't even have a serious sign. How come someone is targeting me so quickly?

This made him realize that there must be someone specifically targeting him in this game.

As for who was targeting him, Zhou Liangyun felt that it was most likely Zhang Ermao (Cade).

There was no other reason. The main reason was that Zhang Ermao (Cade) had been to his store before and asked him about the scale of his investment in opening a store. In order to keep a low profile, he lied to him that it was only a few hundred thousand.

The man just now came with the item and offered a price of 500,000 yuan. It seemed that he wanted to defraud all of his hundreds of thousands of investment in one step.

Moreover, in the antique business, being defrauded of some money is not the most fatal thing. The most fatal thing is to have an unprofessional reputation.

Everyone knows that you are not professional, and people who really want to buy good things will definitely not come to you. Those who are looking for you are liars who want to deceive you.

And just because they all know that you are not professional, people who really want to buy good things will not come to you. You, he's afraid that you bought a bunch of fakes without knowing it and took them out as genuine.

Therefore, the sinister intentions of those who engage in this kind of scheme are clearly revealed. Not only do they want to defraud all their money, they also want to lose their footing in the antiques industry in Aurous Hill.

But Zhou Liangyun murmured in his heart, he had never offended Zhang Ermao (Cade) before, why would he target him like this?

What's even more ridiculous is that he made a plan against himself, but unexpectedly sent a good thing from the Northern Song Dynasty. This is really unheard of.

The reason why he just told the truth in front of that person was that, firstly, he concluded that no matter what he said, the other party would definitely not believe it, and secondly, it was also to leave a piece of evidence for the future.

At the four corners of the store's ceiling, several sets of surveillance cameras on the first floor were not removed when the previous owner left.

In the words of the shop owner, it only cost a few hundred yuan in total when I bought it. Not to mention that I had to carry a ladder to climb it up after dismantling it, and I couldn't even get a few bucks from it; after all, they were all bought several years ago. , a camera that only cost one or two hundred yuan a few years ago, but now no one wanted it for a hundred yuan, so he simply made a favor and gave Zhou Liangyun the account and password of the monitoring software.

In the conversation just now, Zhou Liangyun had already been recorded by the surveillance camera and told the person clearly the stakes of the bronze Buddha. Not only did he tell the person what age it was and how much it was worth, but he also gave it to the person. The other party's proposal of half for each person can be said to be very kind and far beyond the average level of the entire antique industry.

The reason why he told the other party the truth was that he saw through the other party's conspiracy, so he simply used the trick to create a conspiracy.

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6690

He said everything that should be said and shouldn't be said, just because the other party couldn't believe it, so he said it with sincerity and sincerity.

The other party did not believe that this thing was from the Northern Song Dynasty at all. They only wanted to deceive themselves, so no matter how hard they tried, the other party insisted that it was only 300,000 yuan. After being informed of the true value of the thing, they still said that as long as Three hundred thousand, so with this chain of evidence, if the other party finds out the truth and comes back to cause trouble, he doesn't have to worry. Even if the lawsuit goes to the United Nations, he can't lose.

He has been doing antiques for a long time and has seen all kinds of weird things, so he has always been wary of others and considered everything very carefully.

After Zhou Liangyun downloaded all the surveillance videos to his mobile phone, he made a decision to get rid of the bronze Buddha as soon as possible.

The reason for taking action as soon as possible was not that he was short of money, but that he realized that someone did not want him to gain a foothold in the antique street.

I received this bronze Buddha today. It won't take long for someone to spread the news in the antique street, letting everyone know that they have been cheated.

If you want to make a good comeback, there is no point in saying that things are from the Northern Song Dynasty. No one will believe it. What's more, Zhou Liangyun, the antique dealer here, also knows that his professional level cannot reach the top, so the best way is Get rid of this bronze Buddha as soon as possible. Once it is successfully sold, your reputation in Aurous Hill Antique Street will be instantly established.

As for whether becoming famous will reveal his identity, Zhou Liangyun is not worried.

Although I picked up a leak, this kind of leakage worth tens of millions of yuan can only have some influence in the antique circle in a place like Aurous Hill. It is nothing in the national perspective, let alone the European and American antique circles. Collections can easily cost tens or hundreds of millions of dollars each.

The game Zhang Ermao (Cade) made for himself was just enough to make him famous in Aurous Hill without being spread too widely. The scale was perfect. This was not a timely help. It was snowing. I sent him a set with a heater. villa.
