

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6726

By / May 2, 2024

At this moment, Zhang Ermao (Cade), who hung up the phone with Jacob, felt that the sky was about to fall.

Deep in his heart at this moment, he deeply regretted that he should not have had such a relationship with Jacob.

Although Zhang Ermao (Cade) had long known that Jacob's abilities were average, his level was limited, and he loved to show off, but considering that he was charlie's father-in-law, Zhang Ermao (Cade) really wanted to curry favor with him.

Now it seems that no one should be fawning over Jacob.

He originally thought that if a normal person saw a dog that was wagging its tail and came forward to please him, even if he didn't give the stuttering food, he would at least touch the head to comfort him twice. Even if he didn't touch the head to comfort him, he wouldn't take the food from the dog's mouth. After grabbing it, kick him twice, right?

But he never expected that he, Jacob, could do such a shameless, conscienceless and bottomless thing.

Now, although he deeply regrets it, he also knows that he has no regrets about taking the medicine. The most important thing right now is to give Jacob a solution that satisfies him before he lands.

In desperation, he could only treat the dead horse as a live doctor and immediately called his younger brother. On the phone, he told the other party: "Find someone older and more vicious-looking to pretend to be your brother." That Zhou Liangyun said that you stole the things and told him to return them, otherwise he would call the police. If the police still can't solve the problem, then he would file a lawsuit and let him bear the consequences. "

I dare not disobey, hurry up ! I found a buddy who didn't look like a good guy and asked him to go to Zhou Liangyun's shop to ask for an explanation.

Zhou Liangyun's store was already overcrowded at this moment.

Among them, many are colleagues who came to curry favor with him after knowing that he had made a lot of money. Of course, there are also many collectors who heard the news and brought their collections to him to pay for appraisals.

As soon as the man entered the door, he shouted angrily: "Where's the boss? Get out of here!"

Zhou Liangyun looked at him and asked, "I'm the boss, what's the matter with you?"

The man gritted his teeth and cursed: "I Didn't my brother sell you something that my father left for me? Let me tell you, he stole it from my father's belongings. If you don't return it, I will call the police and arrest you!"

Zhou Liangyun smiled: "If your brother really stole it, then you should call the police to arrest your brother. What are you doing to me?"

"Nonsense!" The man cursed: "Didn't you collect the thing? You collected it. Do you know that receiving stolen goods is considered a crime?"

Zhou Liangyun smiled and said, "I'm sorry, it's not up to you to decide whether the stolen goods are stolen goods. I need the agency to determine it, otherwise if anyone sells something to me, and then someone says it is stolen goods and wants me to return it, then do I still want to do this business?"

The man felt guilty, but he gritted his teeth and said: "I'm warning you not to play word games with me here, that thing is mine, and my brother didn't know its true value when he sold it! You took something so expensive from him at such a low price, this is It's suspected of fraud! What's more, this thing has a bad origin, you must return it to me! Otherwise, I won't let you open this store!"

Everyone in the store looked at Zhou Liangyun.

They didn't know the secret behind the matter. After hearing what the other party said, they all felt that the reason why Zhou Liangyun picked up the big leak at a low price must be that he saw that the thing was very good, but he hid it without saying it clearly. Although there was nothing wrong with this, it was more or less A bit wicked.

“It’s a joke.” Zhou Liangyun smiled calmly and said, “It’s bright and clear in broad daylight. You said that if I can’t open the store, I won’t be able to open it?”

“What’s more, when your brother sold things to me, I already told him clearly. The thing is from the Northern Song Dynasty. I also told him clearly that it could be worth tens of millions, but he didn’t listen.”

“I even told him that if he is not in a hurry, he can put it on consignment with me. I only charge 10% of the intermediary fee. “Finally, I took a step back and proposed that I would pay for 50% of the shares, and he would keep 50%, and everyone would get half of the profit after the things were sold. He still didn’t listen, and he only wanted 300,000 yuan for the goods.” Liangqing, I have surveillance video here, how come I am suspected of fraud?”

Seeing so many people present, Zhou Liangyun said, “Since they are all here, I will ask everyone to help me bear witness. , let everyone take a look at the video now, and ask everyone to evaluate whether I deceived his so-called brother!” When the vicious man heard this, he couldn’t help but feel a little nervous, but at this time, he couldn’t help but feel guilty. Not daring to back down, he rubbed his neck and said coldly: “What are you looking at! There is no need to look at it! You collected the things, just give them back to me! I will give you back the three hundred thousand yuan!”

Zhou Liangyun said calmly . He said: “If you don’t want to watch it, I will show it to everyone. If you continue to mess around, I can also call the police and show the video to the police!”

As he said that, he took out his mobile phone and opened the video that he had saved a long time ago. Click play in front of everyone.

The entire transaction process yesterday evening was presented in front of everyone frame by frame.

In fact, everyone had thought that Zhou Liangyun must have done something unscrupulous to receive such an expensive good thing for 300,000 yuan. He was definitely pretending that the good thing was an ordinary thing to lower the price, and finally deceived the other person into picking it up. Big leak.

But when everyone watched the video, everyone was shocked and speechless.

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6727

By / May 2, 2024

Because Zhou Liangyun in the video did not hide anything from the person selling the bronze Buddha. He informed the other person immediately of all information, including the actual age, actual value of the thing, and previous auction transaction information for similar items. He said it clearly.

This kind of no-hide behavior is simply unprecedented in the antiques industry.

What's even more admirable is that even after the other party learned all the information, he was still willing to sell the thing to Zhou Liangyun for 300,000 yuan, but Zhou Liangyun still kept persuading the other party, hoping that the other party could retain more benefits.

However, even though Zhou Liangyun had poured out his heart and soul, the other party was determined to sell it, and he also said it would cost 300,000.

Therefore, after seeing this, everyone knows very well that there was nothing wrong with Zhou Liangyun during the entire acquisition process.

However, there is an obvious problem with this matter.

It can be seen from the video that the person selling the thing did make it clear that this thing was stolen from his father.

That is to say, this thing did come from the wrong way.

The people who came to beg for things, like the people who came to sell things last night, all brought very hidden cameras. Zhang Ermao (Cade), who was quietly watching the live broadcast, also accurately grasped this fatal loophole and sent a message to that person. .

The man was still a little confused at first, but after seeing the message from Zhang Ermao (Cade), he immediately gained confidence and asked Zhou Liangyun coldly: “Now you admit that my brother stole the thing? Since it was stolen , then it must be returned in the same way. You’d better call the buyer immediately and ask him to send the item back to me quickly, otherwise, I will call the police to arrest you!”

Zhou Liangyun was not in a hurry about this, smiled slightly, and said. Said: “As the person selling the thing said, this thing was indeed stolen by him, and it was stolen from his father who had just died of illness.”

The man immediately said: “My father had already made a will before he died. All the products are mine, so those things are naturally mine too! It is only natural that I ask you to return them to me!”

Zhou Liangyun looked at the other person and said with a smile: “First of all, if you say that the thing was left to you by your father, then you must first present your father’s will, and it must be legally valid... ->>

A legally valid will;”

“To prove that the will is legally valid, a notary public must come forward. It is best if the will itself has been notarized, otherwise it means that you have no basis for what you say;”

“If you have no basis for what you say, then this thing It’s not yours, but your father’s;”

“Since your father has passed away and you can’t produce a legally binding will, then you and your brother each have half the inheritance rights;”

“If you still have If there are other brothers and sisters or your mother is still alive, then your inheritance rights will be further diluted;”

“Since your brother also has the inheritance rights, there is no problem for him to sell this thing to me. If you think there is a problem, you can file a lawsuit with the court. Sue him and the court will recover part of your losses from him on your behalf. “

Speaking of this, Zhou Liangyun said calmly: “So, what you have to do now is to go to court to sue your brother and deal with the obligations left to you by your father privately, instead of coming to ask me for things. “

The man was speechless for a while, and Zhang Ermao (Cade) was also a little shocked. He couldn't find a suitable retort for a while.

Seeing that the other person was hesitant and hesitant to speak, he kept looking at his phone . , Zhou Liangyun knew that the other party must still be waiting for the man behind the scenes to give him advice, so he asked jokingly: "Excuse me, don't you understand? Do you want me to explain it to you again? "

Zhang Ermao (Cade) was tearing his hair with both hands at this time. The severe pain made his brain sober. So he immediately came up with a plan to send the message to the person.

After reading it, the person raised his head He came, regained his fighting spirit, and gritted his teeth and said: "You are unjustly enriched. If you don't return the things, I will first call the police and ask the police to come forward. Secondly, I will report to the industrial and commercial department, and I will also go to court to sue you." ! "

Zhou Liangyun nodded, his eyes suddenly became sharp, his tone became aggressive, and he said coldly: "No problem, how about we call the police now. I suspect that you are not that person's brother. Since I have In the video, that person's appearance was also taken, so we will ask him to bring him over to verify the identities of the two of you and see if you two are brothers:" "

To say the least, if you two If they are indeed brothers, then we have to check whether your father has really just passed away;"

"If your father is still alive, it proves that both of you are lying;"

"If your father has passed away. After a while, it will prove that you two are lying! "

"Take a step back and say it again! If your fathers have indeed just passed away, then you need to further check the direct evidence that your father owned this collection during his lifetime! "

Modern technology is so advanced that a three-year-old child can take photos with a smartphone. Your father has kept this collection for decades, so you should at least have a few photos of your father with this product at home, right?” “

Even if there is no group photo, you still have to have video evidence that this collection has appeared in your home, right?” “

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6728

By / May 2, 2024

“If you can’t produce any video data to prove that this thing appeared with your father or in your home, it also proves that you are lying! “

At this point, Zhou Liangyun raised his tone a bit, and said coldly with a bit of scolding: “If you are indeed lying, then I have reason to suspect that your motive from the beginning was to deceive me! Because when I collected this thing, it itself had a layer of artificial distress! Who would normally reverse-distress a Northern Song Dynasty antique to make it look like something from the Ming Dynasty? So I have reason to guess that you must think that this thing is not a good thing, and you took it just to defraud me of hundreds of thousands! It’s just that you didn’t expect this thing and you yourself are mistaken! Since this incident has aroused everyone’s attention locally, I might as well ask the TV media to intervene and trace the origins of this incident together!

“Who has ulterior motives? “

“Who is it again? ” Control everything behind your back!

“In the end we have to find out whose hands this thing came from! ” See if the other party is a criminal gang with rich experience in fraud! “

As soon as Zhou Liangyun said these words, the man was pale with fright, sweating profusely, and trembling all over.

And Zhang Ermao (Cade), who was secretly monitoring everything, was also scared to death.

He didn’t expect Zhou Liangyun’s logical thinking to be so rigorous, and he directly I started to dissect the fatal bug of the whole thing.

If I want to prove that this thing is really stolen, the person who comes to ask for it today must be my younger brother's brother, and the person who comes now has nothing to do with my younger brother. Blood relationship.

What's even more damning is that my younger brother doesn't have a biological brother, he only has two sisters. What's even more damning is that his younger brother's father is still alive...

So, once this happens. Really call the police and get the police involved. The police only need to take down the household registration information of his younger brother, and they will be able to see that all the things his younger brother told when selling things last night were lies.

Of course, he also has a desperate person . The way is to let the younger brother directly admit that he stole this thing from a stranger's house, and then find someone who has no relationship with the younger brother to pretend to be the owner.

However, in this case, the younger brother is finished, because he. The crime was theft, and the amount involved was extremely huge.

What's more, even so, he might not be able to get the thing back, because no matter who he found to pretend to be the owner of the bronze Buddha, as Zhou Liangyun just said, he had to at least be able to get it. If you need to produce some image data to prove that this thing is indeed his, then whoever tells the police that this thing was thrown away will have to produce photos and videos to prove everything.

This is like going to the police station to report a crime . You say that your child is lost, and that Zhang San's child is yours, but you can't even produce a photo of you and the child. How can this be justified?

If you keep going like this, you will really involve the police. If so, not only would the things not come back, but my younger brother would also have to be investigated, either for theft or fraud, and either way he would be jailed. Besides, even though the younger brother was under his control, he would be in jail.

After all, he is Don Albert's man. If he wants to put Don Albert's people in jail, let alone whether this younger brother agrees with it, how can other brothers and Don Albert himself agree?

Thinking of this, he finally thought of it. Realizing that Zhou Liangyun's ability to control the situation was much stronger than he thought, he realized that from the time his younger brother walked into Zhen Baoxuan with the bronze Buddha, everything was actually going according to Zhou Liangyun's instructions. The rhythm has developed.

Zhou Liangyun is a master of strategizing and planning. Zhang Ermao (Cade), who relies on cleverness and the help of noble people to get to the top, is no match for him. Therefore, Zhou Liangyun uses every trick to reduce dimensionality. A blow.

Knowing that he had offended a master, Zhang Ermao (Cade) immediately decided that he would never have to deal with Zhou Liangyun on this matter again, so he immediately sent a message to the younger brother.

When the boy received the message, his expression was filled with surprise and hesitation. However, after hesitating again and again, he gritted his teeth and said to Zhou Liangyun: "Forget it! I don't want the things! I'll give you an advantage this time!"

After that, he didn't wait for Zhou Liangyun to speak. , turned around and ran out, disappearing quickly...

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6729

By _ / May 3, 2024

Now Zhang Ermao (Cade) has completely given up in his heart.

He knew that his rank was no match for Zhou Liangyun, and if he continued to struggle with him on this matter, he might cause even greater trouble for himself.

So now he knows very well that if he wants to solve this matter, the only breakthrough point is Jacob.

We can only think of ways to make Jacob accept this reality, but there is no other way.

Therefore, he could only wait for Jacob to land in Dubai, and then call him to beg for mercy.

If it didn't work out, I would give him all the cash I had on hand, thinking it was just a way to save money and buy a lesson.

At this time, the story of Zhou Liangyun spread again in Antique Street.

Originally, many people thought that Zhou Liangyun must have concealed something from the original blogger when he received the Northern Song Dynasty bronze Buddha. However, once the video was released, everyone saw his extraordinary personality and business ethics.

Based on his performance in the video, if you look at the entire antique street, you will definitely not be able to find anyone else.

You know, Zhou Liangyun made several different offers to the other party in succession. In the one with the largest profit, he was only willing to keep 10% of the profit.

As for this kind of business ethics of honest management, I am afraid that no one in the country can match it. There is no problem in being a moral model in the intrigue and deceitful antique industry.

As a result, all the rumors about Zhou Liangyun in the Aurous Hill antique industry turned into purely positive comments. For a time, both his peers, collectors, and sellers who were interested in selling antiques all agreed with him.

This can be regarded as completely helping Zhou Liangyun gain a reputation.

So starting from the afternoon, there was an endless stream of customers coming to Zhen Baoxuan to appraise treasures.

It is also a paid treasure appraisal. Naturally, everyone is more willing to find an appraiser with excellent professional level and high enough ethical standards.

After all, it is not uncommon in the antiques industry to hear about appraisers cheating and deceiving people. There are always those treacherous people with excellent professional skills who, when they see a customer's good things, deliberately conceal the facts and talk about the collection in a bad way, using all their words. PUA customers, brainwash customers, and finally buy customers' items with high potential value at extremely low prices, making huge profits.

In comparison, Zhou Liangyun has an absolute advantage.

And just as Zhou Liangyun was becoming famous in Antique Street, another person's fame was also rising.

This person is the current manager of Ji Qingtang, Chen Yufei.

However, Chen Yufei's soaring reputation is all negative.

Now he has become the biggest joke in the entire Aurous Hill antique circle.

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6730

By _ / May 3, 2024

He rejected a bronze Buddha from the Northern Song Dynasty. Not only did he fail to see its true age and value, but he also mistook it for a modern imitation of the Ming Dynasty. He talked eloquently to the camera and was stunned. He didn't say anything right. It was really embarrassing for such a parallel importer to be the manager of the largest store in the antique street.

So now looking at the video posted online yesterday, it is simply a public execution of Chen Yufei.

Now, the comments under that video have begun to take a 180-degree turn.

Originally, everyone was praising Chen Yufei for his sharp eyes and criticizing Zhou Liangyun for being deceived. But now, everyone has gone to the bottom of this video and ridiculed Chen Yufei.

A comment posted in the morning quickly became the most liked one. The comment read: "Zhou Liangyun has sold the bronze Buddha in the video and sold it for a total of 20 million. Looking at this video now, this manager Chen is really a Aurous Hill antique." This is the biggest joke in the past few years! He regards things from the Northern Song Dynasty as modern imitations, and yet he speaks plausibly and logically, and drives away 20 million people with such a tough attitude. This Chen Yufei is probably going to make me laugh for a year! “

Many people responded to the post below, almost all of which were mercilessly mocking Chen Yufei.

Someone said: “The last time I watched a video I laughed so much that my stomach hurt, and it was still the little guy with a waist and a horse!”

Some people also said: “This Chen Yufei can almost make his debut. From now on, he will be the comedian in the Aurous Hill antiques world!”

Others said: “This Chen Yufei is really fucking amazing. His professional skills are so bad, yet he still has the nerve to come out to be the general manager of Ji Qingtang. Can Ji Qingtang not find anyone? If not, let me be the general manager!” “

Some people lamented: “If I were that Chen Yufei, I might as well find a piece of tofu and kill him. How can I have the nerve to join the antiques circle in the future?”