

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6821

By / June 4, 2024

Jimmy was a little surprised. He didn't look familiar with Steve at all. This was mainly because the Rothschild family had always been very low-key.

Now it was basically impossible to search for specific information about the Rothschild family on the Internet. The information on the Internet was mostly half-true and half-false press releases and gossip. However, the introductions to the members of the Rothschild family were mostly some old-generation family members who had passed away, as well as some insignificant figures now. There was no actual information about core members like Steve on the Internet.

Matilda was also confused. She didn't know where Steve came from. When she and Hank listed the guest list, it seemed that there was no one named Steve.

Steve also saw the bride's doubts, so he smiled and said to Hank: "Old Hank, why don't you introduce the bride to me?"

Hank came back to his senses and hurriedly said: "Sorry, sorry, my negligence."

After that, he said to Matilda: "Wife, this is Steve Rothschild, he is... my... good friend in the United States..."

Hearing Steve's full name, the people around him were stunned.

The Rothschild family is so well-known all over the world, especially Matilda, Paul, and Jimmy who came here to play rogue today. They know the United States very well and have naturally heard of the Rothschild family.

Therefore, no one dared to believe that a Rothschild family member actually came before them.

Moreover, the Rothschild family made a big noise in New York some time ago and was exposed. Although everyone did not see the video materials about the Rothschild family, they knew the names of the core members of the Rothschild family from the exposed content, such as their current head of the family is named Howard Rothschild, and the heir who has been determined is named Steve Rothschild.

After Jimmy matched these information in his brain, the first thought that popped up was: "Impossible, absolutely impossible! Who is he Hank? How can he be on friendly terms with the heir and number two of the Rothschild family? Aren't you taking me for a fool?"

Thinking of this, he immediately sneered: "The name of the Rothschild family has been overused these days. Anyone who comes up with something dares to claim to be a member of the Rothschild family. You are even more daring. You actually dare to impersonate the number two of their family. Do you know that the Rothschild family has connections everywhere? You are so bold, once they find out, you will be in big trouble?!"

Steve looked at him and smiled: "To tell you the truth, we in the Rothschild family never care who pretends to be our people outside, because the people they can deceive have nothing to do with us; besides, there are so many people in the world who pretend to be the Rothschild family and commit fraud, how can we possibly control them all?" When

Jimmy heard him say this, he was more convinced that he was a fake, so he said with contempt on his face "You speak as if it were true. I think people like you dare to cheat in China. If you go to the United States, I can call 911 and send you to jail!"

Steve looked at him with interest and asked, "You seem to know a lot about law?"

Jimmy immediately said proudly, "Of course, I am the heir of the Smith family. My name is Jimmy Smith. I am a senior partner in the largest Ellis Law Firm in the United States. Three generations of our Smith family are top lawyers in the American judicial community and have a great reputation in the American judicial field."

After that, he looked at Steve and threatened, "You dare to pretend to be a member of the Rothschild family in China. You'd better pray that I don't find out your true identity. Otherwise, as long as I know that you are back in the United States, you will be in big trouble!"

Steve smiled and said, "So you are Ellis's man. Your boss has been serving as a legal adviser to the Rothschild family. He can make Ellis what he is today, and the Rothschild family has been helping him behind the scenes. If you doubt my identity, you might as well give him a call and ask him and see what he says.

Jimmy didn't care about Steve's words.

He looked Steve up and down, and said with a playful sarcasm: "You don't really think that just because I met a lunatic who claimed to be the second in command of the Rothschild family, I would call my boss to confirm, right?"

Steve nodded and smiled: "It doesn't matter, it's the same if I asked him to call you."

Jimmy laughed at this: "I intended to give you a way out, but I didn't expect you to rush to climb up. Since you don't leave room for yourself, I also want to see how you are going to end it."

After that, he pointed at hank and smiled: "It just so happens that I also want to take this opportunity to see how good the new husband my eldest sister-in-law has found is."

Jimmy couldn't believe that a university professor in Aurous Hill really knew the second in command of the Rothschild family. Based on his judgment of hank, he firmly believed that Steve in front of him was definitely a fake.

After all, outside the United States, there have been many cases of fraud by pretending to be members of the Rothschild family, so he speculated that the person in front of him was definitely fake, and the reason why he knew the relationship between his boss and the Rothschild family must be that he must have done his homework in advance. Scammers always have to make more preparations to increase their success rate.

Moreover, in his opinion, Steve has a big bug, that is, if he is really the second person in the Rothschild family, it is absolutely impossible for him to appear at this wedding alone.

He has never met a member of the core layer of the Rothschild family, but he has seen the pomp of the Rothschild family members when they go out. It is no exaggeration to say that when those collateral family members go out, the number of bodyguards they bring with them is even no less than that of the President of the United States.

Therefore, he is absolutely sure that Steve is a liar. Since he is determined to make a splash, he will take this opportunity to expose his and hank's hypocrisy.

It would be great if he could ruin his wedding with Matilda, so that the equity issue of Smith Law Firm would not be further complicated. Otherwise, once hank became Matilda's husband, even if the equity of Smith Law Firm was determined to be Matilda's pre-marital property in terms of law, once the two became husband and wife, hank would still have a great chance to intervene.

Steve hadn't seen a loser like Jimmy who was both inexperienced and playful for a long time, which made him curious like a higher organism discovering a new lower organism. As the heir of the Rothschild family, he had been exposed to the top of all social classes since he was a child. He really had no chance to come into contact with people like Jimmy. After all, the Rothschild family raised so many elites in order to completely filter out losers like Jimmy from them.

So, he asked Jimmy with great interest: "I'm very curious. You are so determined that I am not a member of the Rothschild family. If I am, how will you end it?"

Jimmy said disdainfully: "I am actually a very cautious person. As long as I am not 100% sure of a matter, I will be cautious, cautious and cautious again. But unfortunately, in my opinion, the possibility that you are a member of the Rothschild family is zero."

After that, he asked Steve impatiently: “You are talking nonsense here. Are you trying to find a way out for yourself? Sorry, it’s too late now. I have to see how you step down today!”

Steve nodded and smiled: “To be honest, I really don’t have your boss’s phone number.”

When Jimmy heard this, he immediately laughed: “Haha, what? Are you starting to make excuses for yourself again? It doesn’t matter if you don’t have a phone number, I can give it to you. What excuses do you have next? You’re not going to tell me that you’ve been cheating in China for too long and can’t speak English anymore, right? It doesn’t matter, let me remind you that our boss speaks fluent Chinese. In the past 20 years, we have served as legal counsel for many American companies investing in China. Chinese is a necessary language skill for senior partners of our law firm. I can give you his phone number, and you can call him directly and speak Chinese. “

Steve waved his hand and said in a flat tone: “Your Ellis Law Firm is just another breed of watchdog for the Rothschild family. He is not qualified for me to record his phone number, let alone for me to call him directly.”

Jimmy was furious and said to Steve, “If you insist on pretending, I’ll call my boss and have him tell you directly.”

Steve laughed, “No need. I’ve never met him or spoken to him. He can’t recognize my voice.”

Jimmy was so angry that he laughed at Steve and nodded repeatedly, “You are really good. You can say anything. You don’t have his phone number because he is not qualified. You don’t want to call him because he is not qualified. I help you call, but you say he can’t recognize your voice. How do you solve this problem? You said you are a member of the Rothschild family, but you always... You need to come up with something to prove it, right? Otherwise, wouldn’t everyone become a Luo...”

Steve stretched out his hand to interrupt him and said, “Well, I’ll let the butler call your boss and let your boss talk to you directly.”

Jimmy seemed to have heard a big joke and sneered, “Haha, butler? Haha, you... you are really good at pretending! Come on, I’ll wait for my boss’s call here today. I want to see how capable your butler is, oh no, how capable you are!”

Steve ignored him, picked up the phone, and called his butler directly.

The call was quickly connected, and a respectful voice came from the other end:
“Master, what do you want?”

Steve said lightly: “Call the boss of Ellis Law Firm and tell him that he has an employee named Jimmy Smith who makes me very dissatisfied. If this employee is not properly resolved, he and his law firm will no longer have any connection with the Rothschild family in the future.”

The other party immediately said, “Please wait, I’ll call him now!”

Steve didn’t say anything, but hung up the phone and said to Jimmy, “Remember, you fought for it yourself.”

Although the ringing and vibration rhythm of the phone now did not change from usual, Jimmy felt that the phone was ringing more and more urgently, and it seemed to be getting more and more urgent and anxious.

At this moment, the anxious ringing of the phone finally stopped, leaving a missed call on his phone screen.

Then, he received a text message from his boss, which read: “Connect your damn phone! Immediately! Right now!”

Seeing this message, Jimmy swallowed hard subconsciously, even though his mouth was dry. He had said too much before, and his throat was dry and tearing.

But he could not care about these things at the moment, because the boss called again.

Because of the text message, Jimmy didn’t dare to hesitate any longer and could only answer the phone in panic. Looking at Steve with a proud face, he said tremblingly to the phone: “Boss... Boss...”

Immediately there was a hysterical roar from the other end of the phone: “Smith, what the hell did you do out there?! Why did the Rothschild family call and say that the eldest young master is very dissatisfied with you? I have worked diligently for the Rothschild family for so many years and I haven’t had the opportunity to meet the eldest young master. How the hell did you offend the eldest young master?!”

Jimmy’s heart finally fell heavily.

He was still hoping that the boss’s call at this time was just a coincidence, and had nothing to do with the man in front of him who claimed to be a core member of the Rothschild family.

But as soon as the boss said this, he knew that he had really offended a big shot today.

He looked at Steve with eyes full of despair and pleading, and could only say with a crying voice: “Boss, this... this is a misunderstanding, I will personally explain to Mr. Rothschild...”

“You explain your ass!” The other party scolded: “Is it your turn to explain? I tell you, you have been fired by the Ellis Law Firm! You don’t need to go through the resignation procedures, I will have someone send your things to your home. From now on, I don’t want to see you again, and you don’t let me see you!”

When Jimmy heard that the boss wanted to fire him, he subconsciously said: “Boss, you have no right to do this! I have always done my work very well, and I can get A+ in every annual assessment. I have the firm’s options and I am still a senior partner of the firm. You are not qualified to fire me directly! If you want to forcibly fire me, I will sue the law firm and ask you to pay a huge compensation!”

“I’m not qualified?” The other party sneered, “Jimmy, let me remind you that in all these years at the law firm, you have won over five clients who bypassed our company. Let’s not talk about other things, but in the patent dispute between Mel Goodman and IBM last year, if I remember correctly, our law firm offered him a 20% risk agency. He felt that the share was too high, so he privately reached a 10% risk agency cooperation through you and a small law firm opened by your college classmate. You were secretly responsible for all the work outside the trial, and your college classmate came forward to participate in the trial. In the end, you helped him get 45 million US dollars in patent royalties from IBM, and got a return of 4.5 million US dollars. I didn’t wrong you in this matter, did I? But just this case can send you to jail!”

Jimmy was so frightened that cold sweats broke out. He subconsciously argued, “How is this possible! What you said is complete nonsense! At that time, Mel Goodman felt that his chances of winning were very high and he was unwilling to give up 20% of the profits to Ellis, so he chose to cooperate with other law firms. As for who he cooperated with, I don’t know at all, let alone participate in it. Don’t slander me here!”

The other party laughed, “Jimmy, come on, we are all adults, there are some things I don’t need to make too clear. Mel Goodman has met with you and your college classmates many times in private, and you have also held many closed-door meetings to discuss the litigation direction and breakthrough points of the entire case. Mel Goodman has recorded all of these, and I have all the recordings in my hands.”

Jimmy was terrified and blurted out, “You...you must be lying! How is this possible? “One!”

The other party said: "Jimmy, mature, all partners, who want to be promoted to senior partners, must have enough handles to be in my hands. Otherwise, even if the business ability is strong, I will not give him this opportunity. What senior partners will grab my resources at critical moments, or you want to bite me when you kick away! When did you become a senior partner? Les, this bastard! We work as a law firm, and you still deliberately framed us! " " Can't talk about it. " Is it? "

After that, the other party continued, "Jimmy, what you should pay attention to now is not that I fire you. This is just the smallest punishment you will receive. If you offend the Rothschild family, they will not let you off easily."

At this point, the other party continued, "Oh, by the way, I have handed over all the evidence of the Mel Goodman incident to the Rothschild family's butler. If they are still not satisfied with the way I handled it, they may put you in jail. In that case, I advise you not to return to the United States. For such a large amount of money, you will not be able to escape life imprisonment. You are already fifty years old. Even if you have the opportunity to be released on parole in the future, it will probably be over seventy-five years old. Although you and I are colleagues, I can't help you much. You'd better take care of yourself."

Jimmy broke out in cold sweat and his legs were shaking like sieves. He wanted to say something else, but the boss on the other end of the phone had already hung up.

Jimmy was already in a state of panic at this moment. He never dreamed that he would actually offend the second-in-command of the Rothschild family in Aurous Hill, a Chinese city. Looking around the world, there are only a handful of people whose status and position can be compared with Steve Rothschild. The probability of provoking him in such a place is probably lower than the probability of winning the Powerball lottery in China and the United States. At
