While President Pei was actively preparing for the evening dinner, charlie Wade took Jacob and Elaine to a restaurant near Tomson Yipin and sat down.

Claire had to work overtime at the Dihao Group in the evening. Seeing that it was just time for dinner, it would take too long to cook at home, so charlie Wade simply took the old couple to eat outside.

After sitting down in the restaurant, Jacob sighed and muttered, "I never want to go out again. This trip to Dubai made me almost die."

Elaine complained about him, "If you hadn't messed around, you wouldn't have ended up like this. I gave away tens of millions of things. I still feel sad when I think about it now."

"Hey!" Jacob waved his hands, "Don't mention it anymore. Let me live two more years."

After saying that, he remembered something, looked at charlie Wade, and asked him, "Good son-in-law, do you think Master Don Albert can help me get back to the Calligraphy and Painting Association?"

charlie Wade smiled and said, "Such a small thing should not be a big problem for him." Jacob nodded and said, "I will be satisfied if I can go back to the Calligraphy and Painting Association. If I can't go back, it's still an unknown what I will do in the future... It's so worrying..."

charlie Wade asked the waiter to order a few hard dishes, and then said to Jacob, "Dad, don't think so much for now, just wait for the news steadily."

"Okay."

One of them said, "President Pei, Jacob has poor business ability and bad character. We finally kicked him out. We can't let him come back no matter what!" Others noded in support.

Not only did they hate Jacob, they also didn't want him to threaten their current positions after he came back.

President Pei said helplessly, "Let's put it this way. Master Don Albert's methods are well-known in Aurous Hill. If we don't take him seriously when he speaks for Jacob, then he will definitely come to do it himself. Who of us can withstand this pressure?!"

Everyone looked at each other for a while.

Master Don Albert's strength is indeed extraordinary.

Moreover, there are rumors in the world that he is now a member of the Wade family in Eastcliff, which means that he can connect to the resources of the Wade family in Eastcliff, and his connections are much stronger. If he really wants to lead the personnel transfer of the Calligraphy and Painting Association, it must be easy.

At this time, Huang Qiuyun on the side said: "Everyone knows that Jacob was the executive vice president before, and the crime he committed last time was not defined by the judicial department, so strictly speaking it is not a scandal, it is just a rumor. If Master Don Albert helps him from above and lets him return to be the executive vice president, I believe everyone will be beaten back to their original state."

As soon as Huang Qiuyun said this, everyone's expression suddenly became tense.

Except for President Pei, everyone else is the direct beneficiary of Jacob's resignation. If Jacob is reinstated, everyone will return to their original positions, and this promotion will be in vain.

Seeing that the atmosphere had been set right by his wife, President Pei said, "I think, for everyone's sake, I should try my best to find a way to ensure that Jacob will not be reinstated. So my idea now is to find him a director's position first. If Master Don Albert is satisfied, then we can avoid losses to the greatest extent."

As soon as Jacob was mentioned as the director, Xiao Liu asked nervously, "Chairman Pei, if you let Jacob be the director, then don't I have to give up my position to him?"

President Pei said, "Xiao Liu, it's true that I will give up my position, but it doesn't necessarily mean you will have to give up your position. If your position doesn't satisfy them, then we have to raise it up."

Having said that, President Pei said, "We all have to have a consensus. No matter who gives up his position, it is for the sake of all the people working here. We must remember his favor and find an opportunity to repay him in the future."

Everyone nodded. At this time, there seemed to be no other good way.

Chairman Pei then looked at Xiao Liu and said, "Xiao Liu, if you have no objection, I will start with your position. If giving your position to Jacob can satisfy him, then this matter will end here. We will all remember your kindness in the future. When I get the transfer order one day, my position will be vacated for the executive vice president, and the positions of others will be increased accordingly. But don't worry, the vacant vice president position will definitely be reserved for you. You can bypass Jacob, the director, and directly become the vice president!"

Xiao Liu felt relieved when he heard this. In his opinion, Chairman Pei was about to be promoted, and it was necessary for him to give up the position of vice president at that time. Moreover, as long as he agreed to this matter, he could make the chairman and all the vice presidents owe him a favor, which was a great thing. So it seemed that there was nothing unacceptable for him to give up his position to Jacob. Thinking of this, Xiao Liu said without hesitation, "Chairman Pei, since it is a sacrifice for everyone, then I, Liu Haitao, have no choice but to give my position to Jacob!"

Xiao Liu willingly gave up his position, which made President Pei and his wife feel relieved at the same time.

The other vice presidents at the scene were also relieved instantly.

They were also afraid that President Pei would ask one of them to make room for Jacob. Although everyone disliked Jacob, no one wanted to offend him publicly when they thought that Don Albert was behind him. If one of them really had to give up his position, no matter who it was, they would not dare to refuse.

Seeing that the matter had been temporarily resolved, President Pei could not help but give a thumbs up to his wife under the table.

It must be said that his wife's plan was indeed comprehensive. With Xiao Liu's words, they could just make a job adjustment tomorrow and let Jacob come back to work, and the thorny problem would be solved.

At this time, President Pei's wife deliberately said, "Why don't we all toast Xiao Liu together! This time, it's all thanks to him!"

"Yes, yes, yes!" President Pei came back to his senses, immediately picked up the wine glass and stood up, saying to everyone, "Come on, everyone, let's toast Xiao Liu together, thank Xiao Liu for his active contribution this time, and I also hope that everyone can remember Xiao Liu's favor. Since it is a favor, everyone must repay it in the future!"

As soon as President Pei said this, Xiao Liu suddenly felt an impulse to die for his friend.

He felt that President Pei was really a good person. He was promoted by him. Now that he asked him to go down, he actually had nothing to say, but he didn't expect President Pei to give him face like this. In front of so many people, he said it so thoroughly, which touched him deeply.

Others also knew that Xiao Liu's initiative to give up his seat this time really helped everyone solve a problem, and it was natural for everyone to remember him as a favor.

So, everyone started to agree, and in their words, they all praised Xiao Liu and promised to repay him in the future.

Xiao Liu's eyes were red with emotion, and he stood up with his glass raised, saying loudly: "Thank you, President Pei, my sister-in-law, and all the leaders for your care. I, Liu Haitao, have no way to repay you, so I'll drink first to show my respect!" After that, he raised his head and drank all the white wine in the glass.

Others did not hesitate at all and drank it all at the same time. The atmosphere was very friendly and warm.

At this time, someone suddenly asked, "By the way, Chairman Pei, if we let Jacob come back to work, will the people below have any objections? What if they get upset again or complain? It will be very troublesome, right?"

Before Chairman Pei could say anything, his wife Huang Qiuyun said, "Don't worry, although the previous incident with Jacob was indeed a scandal, it has not risen to the level of a criminal case, let alone a civil dispute, and it was only Zhang Ermao ( Cade )'s one-sided statement. Without official intervention in such matters, those rumors will always be rumors. Anyone who goes to sue with unfounded rumors will never win."

Huang Qiuyun said, "Let's take the currently popular practice of keeping a mistress as an example. If Jacob was exposed to have a mistress outside, and there was solid evidence, and his original wife also went to the association to ask for justice, then the association would definitely fire him. But if only a woman came out and said that she was Jacob's mistress, without any other evidence, and even his original wife did not admit it, then in this case, no one would do anything to Jacob. "

Huang Qiuyun said this, and she also wanted to remind the others present, in case someone was upset and reported Jacob, and finally caused trouble for President Pei. After all, in her opinion, once Jacob returned to the Calligraphy and Painting Association, someone would talk about Jacob's return, and the first person to bear the pressure would be her husband. She wanted to prevent this from happening as much as possible.

When the others heard her words, they felt that what she said did make some sense. Once they subconsciously agreed with Huang Qiuyun's point of view and felt that complaining to Jacob would be useless, they completely extinguished the little spark in their subconscious.

The group reached a consensus, and the atmosphere soon became heated. Everyone toasted each other and drank very happily.

President Pei had a good alcohol tolerance, but he deliberately controlled himself tonight and did not really drink enough. However, in the second half of the drinking party, he deliberately pretended to have reached his limit. He lay on the table for a while, and then rubbed his temples pretending to have a headache. Even his wife was deceived by him. She poured him warm water and patted his back, showing great concern.

Seeing that President Pei seemed to have drunk too much, everyone stopped toasting him. Instead, after the others shared the remaining wine, they ended the drinking party early on the grounds that President Pei was unwell.

Everyone escorted the drunk President Pei out, sent him to the passenger seat, watched his wife drive away, and then went back to their own homes and mothers.

After the car drove a few hundred meters, President Pei, who was originally slumped in the passenger seat, sat up straight and said to Huang Qiuyun beside him: "Wife, turn right ahead."

Huang Qiuyun was startled by his sudden words and asked in surprise: "Old Pei, didn't you drink too much?"

"Not much." President Pei said: "This is not my capacity. If you want me to drink more, you have to drink at least half a catty of Moutai."

Huang Qiuyun shook his head helplessly: "Tonight, everyone at the table is your subordinate. Do you still need to hide your capacity? If you don't want to drink, just say you don't want to drink. Who can force you to drink?"

President Pei said: "Oh, you don't understand. Today I have to show that I get along well with them. Of course, I can't act like a leader. If they drink, I can do whatever they want. This shows that I am not approachable enough, and they won't really treat me as a big brother."

Huang Qiuyun nodded gently and said, "If you have the opportunity, you should strive for further progress. You won't make much money if you work in this position until retirement, and your retirement benefits will not be that high. Look at Lao Qin, he used to be your old superior, and he has made a lot of money over the years. Now that he has retired, his benefits are also frighteningly high. His children and grandchildren are like the moon surrounded by stars, and they are so well-nourished every day. And you see that he doesn't have to queue up to register when he has a headache or fever. If he encounters a disease that cannot be cured by the designated hospital, his doctor will help to arrange an expert from the tertiary hospital for consultation, and he doesn't have to spend a penny. If you can retire at his level, your son will definitely wish you to live to be a hundred years old!"

"Yes..." President Pei also agreed and said, "At my age, I still have some chance, but I don't know how long I will be delayed because of Jacob this time. It's okay if I delay for three or two years in the Calligraphy and Painting Association, but if I delay for more than five years, I will be completely out of luck."

Huang Qiuyun comforted, "It's okay, everything depends on human efforts, let's take it slowly!"

Tangchen Yipin at this time.

Jacob returned home and lay lazily on the sofa, fiddling with his phone alone.

He has been paying attention to his WeChat, wanting to see if President Pei and other colleagues from the Calligraphy and Painting Association would contact him. In his opinion, after all, his son-in-law has said hello to Master Hong Wu, and if Master Hong Wu tries hard, maybe he can really go back.

Once the internal discussion decides to let him go back, someone will definitely contact him and inform him.

So, he waited eagerly, hoping to get good news.

This state is very similar to a girl who broke up with her boyfriend out of anger and looked forward to her boyfriend sending messages to ask for reconciliation all day long.
