By / July 3, 2024

Lydia (Ava) ( Charlie's mom ) knew that people's joys and sorrows were never mutually intelligible.

When people are in the same situation, they will share joy and sorrow, but once someone gets ashore first, the people left behind will only feel more and more lonely.

If Gao Youruo from high school failed the college entrance examination together, and everyone faced the same situation together, it would make everyone feel much more relaxed.

But if others waited for the opportunity to be admitted to the university, and only one of them was left to board the train to work in the south at the end of August, then even if this person was happy for his friends' situation, he would only feel more lonely and helpless in his heart.

Because he not only lost the opportunity to study, but also lost the psychological comfort that could generate strong empathy.

There are two problems that have been bothering her for twenty years. One is, when everything is over in the future, how should she face her son and explain to him that she has missed so much time in his life. The other is when facing her father-in-law Lord Wade, how to explain to him that his son Bruce has long been gone, but she has been alive all the time.

Thinking of this, her heart ached. The feeling of living alone for twenty years did not make her feel lucky at all. Instead, she was suffering all the time.

Especially not being able to see her only son for twenty years was an inhumane torture for her.

Seeing Lydia (Ava) ( Charlie's mom )'s sad expression, Sister Sun quickly spoke to comfort her: "Madam, don't think about these things for now. Now that Mr. Wade and your father have reconciled, it is a good thing for both of them. Besides, it may take many years to resolve the Po Qing Society. Why should Madam worry about what will happen next?"

Lydia (Ava) ( Charlie's mom ) nodded gently and said: "Although the Po Qing Society has lost four earls, it is not a serious blow to the Po Qing Society.

charlie will face more difficulties and obstacles in the future. Last time, Lin Wan'er said that he asked the Rothschild family for a set of the most advanced AI models. I feel that he should want to take the initiative."

Sister Sun asked her: "Madam, should we convey some of the information we have to the young master?"

Lydia (Ava) ( Charlie's mom ) pondered for a moment, waved his hand and said, "Let charlie follow his own pace. We don't know much about the Poqing Society. Giving him the clues we have will make him question and guess, and it will also interfere with his rhythm and judgment. We will just keep an eye on him secretly. If the place he is going to in the future happens to be where we know about it, we will consider whether to create some opportunities to give him the information."

As he said this, Lydia (Ava) ( Charlie's mom ) said self-deprecatingly: "In fact, over the years, we have never caused any substantial trouble to the Po Qing Society. After all, the gap between our strength and that of the Po Qing Society is too big. We are very fortunate that she has not discovered us over the years. If charlie did not have the luck he has now, I might have to hide from Sara until I die. In this matter, Lin Wan'er and I experienced exactly the same thing, but she had a harder time than me. I hid from Sara for twenty years, while she hid from Sara for more than three hundred years."

Sister Sun nodded in understanding and said: "Madam, the young master is making rapid progress now. I believe it is only a matter of time before he disintegrates the entire Po Qing Society and kills Sara."

Lydia (Ava) ( Charlie's mom ) nodded and said in a melancholy tone: "For Lin Wan'er and me, Sara is the biggest enemy, but for charlie, Sara is just the beginning. The one in the Ten Thousand Mountains is his biggest challenge..."

charlie Wade, who was in Aurous Hill, and his mother Lydia (Ava) ( Charlie's mom ), who was far away in Putuo Mountain, both stayed awake all night.

When Claire woke up, she saw charlie Wade lying beside her with his eyes open, so she subconsciously asked him: "Hubby, when did you wake up?"

charlie Wade, who had been daydreaming, didn't even notice that Claire had woken up. He came back to his senses when he heard her talking, and hurriedly said: "I just woke up a while ago, and I'm still confused."

Claire asked with concern: "Didn't you sleep well last night?"

"Not really." charlie Wade smiled and said: "Maybe I woke up a little early. I drank some wine with my clients last night, and my brain hasn't recovered yet."

Claire nodded, suddenly remembered something, blushed, and said shyly: "Hubby, I dreamed of you last night."

charlie Wade pretended to be surprised and asked him: "What did you dream about me?"

Claire said: "At first I dreamed that we went to dinner together, and Ruolin was at the dinner table. Ruolin had a new boyfriend and said she would bring him to us. As a result, as soon as we sat down to eat, you suddenly asked me a question..."

charlie Wade He probably guessed what was going on, but could only pretend to be stupid and ask her, "What did I ask you?"

Claire hesitated for a moment, his eyes evasive, and said, "I forgot the details. It seemed quite inappropriate. Ruolin also teased me. I felt very embarrassed in the dream at that time..."

charlie Wade smiled awkwardly and said, "Fortunately it was a dream. Under normal circumstances, I would definitely not ask inappropriate questions with outsiders around me."

Claire nodded and smiled, "Dreaming is not very appropriate to begin with."

As he spoke, Claire sat up and stretched, said: "Hubby, I have to go to Dihao Group this morning. Do you have any plans in the afternoon?"

charlie Wade shook his head: “I don’t have any plans, what’s wrong?”

Claire said: “There is a press conference at Buckingham Palace in the afternoon. The An family in the United States and the Wade family in Eastcliff seem to be announcing a major cooperation together. One of my clients happens to be in the financial media. She will attend this press conference in the afternoon. There are many media invited to this press conference, and each media has a lot of quotas. It just so happens that their unit can vacate two quotas. I want to see the world. Do you want to accompany me?”

charlie Wade was a little surprised. He didn’t expect Claire to want to watch the press conference in the afternoon.

Originally, he also planned to go to Buckingham Palace to attend an internal meeting in the morning, and then be a spectator in the media seats during the press conference in the afternoon.

But he didn’t expect that his wife was also interested in this press conference.

He asked curiously, “Wife, you didn’t seem to like to join in the fun before, why do you suddenly want to go to the press conference today?”

Claire said seriously, “The Wade family in Eastcliff is one of the strongest in the country. The Dihao Group is actually theirs. As for the An family, I don’t know if you have heard of them. They are the most powerful Chinese family in the world, much stronger than Miss Fei’s family. They have been developing in the United States before and rarely made any moves in China. However, these two families have decided to invest in Aurous Hill together. Everyone who cares about the development of Aurous Hill wants to know what industry they are going to invest in Aurous Hill. And it is certain that the two families joining forces will definitely be a big investment!

”, Claire said again: “I heard that the transactions of new and second-hand houses in Aurous Hill have basically stagnated in the past few days. The developers of new projects and the sellers of second-hand houses are now waiting for this press conference. Once the two families really announce that they will cooperate to develop a super project in Aurous Hill, Aurous Hill’s housing prices will inevitably rise, and the closer the real estate is to the project, the greater the increase will be. Now the details of the cooperation have not been announced, and no one knows where this big benefit will fall. They are afraid of selling houses at a loss, so they are waiting.”

charlie Wade couldn't help but sigh: "I didn't expect that these two families coming to Aurous Hill to invest would have such a big impact on Aurous Hill's housing prices."

Claire smiled and said, "We will know how big the impact is after today's press conference, so husband, are you free this afternoon?"

"Yes." charlie Wade nodded and said, "I'll go with you!"

As Claire said, the entire Aurous Hill, and even the entire China, are paying attention to the specific content of the cooperation between the An Family and the Wade family.

The relationship and grievances between the two families for so many years have actually been popular all over the country as early as 20 years ago.

At that time, various newspapers, magazines and gossip news did not do much to sort out and analyze the grievances between the two wealthy families. Even now, a random search on the Internet can find a lot of related articles. Many of these articles have been artistically processed on the things of that year, with extremely high distortion and low credibility.

But the more this kind of wealthy gossip that is unclear about the truth, the more people can use it as a topic of conversation after dinner.

However, in the 20 years before this, the two families have never responded to the grievances between the two sides, and there has never been any substantial evidence to prove that the two families still have any exchanges.

So although everyone does not know what happened back then, everyone knows that the two families have long reached the point of not communicating with each other.

Now that the two big families have suddenly announced that they are going to have a strategic cooperation, it is really surprising. Not only major media outlets are paying attention, but also the spectators.

The Wade family and the An family are also very high-profile this time. The press conference used the largest banquet hall in Shangri-La. After it was arranged as the press conference site, it can accommodate at least more than 2,000 reporters.

This time, all the media with a certain reputation in the world were invited. There are more than 2,000 media reporters and staff who are confirmed to attend the press conference. It's just that Charlie Wade didn't expect that his wife, who has never liked to join in the fun, would be interested in this press conference.

Anyway, he originally planned to go to the press conference as a spectator, and it wouldn't matter if he went with his wife.

Claire went out early after breakfast. Not long after she left, Charlie Wade also drove away from home and went to Shangri-La.

Today, Shangri-La has completely stopped all external business. Security personnel are deployed in three layers inside and outside to ensure the safety of important figures of the An family and the Wade family. Even relevant departments have specially sent a large number of security personnel from Yanjing to be responsible for security work on site. It can be said that this greatly highlights the importance that China attaches to the An family, the largest foreign investment.

This is also equivalent to sending a strong signal to the outside world and those who have ill intentions towards the An family. The An family is a distinguished guest in China who brings huge investment to China, and no one is allowed to endanger their safety.

When Charlie Wade arrived at Shangri-La, his grandfather's family and his grandfather had already taken their seats in the largest conference room.

Hank also came early with his newlywed wife Matilda. Today, not only will the cooperation projects of the two families be announced to the public, but also the personnel appointments of the two of them will be announced to the public.

After charlie Wade arrived, everyone began to sort out the process of today's press conference and the detailed information disclosed to the public one by one.

charlie Wade's second uncle Homula spoke first: "Everyone, let me first introduce the main process of today. The press conference will start on time at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. There is no external host for today's press conference, so I will be the host. From 2 o'clock to 2:20, I will give a welcome speech to the media friends, and then announce the cooperation project between the An family and the Wade family, which is the bruce car brand;"

"Next, I will ask Uncle wade to speak first, and then my father will speak. The content of your speeches will mainly revolve around our

I will introduce Professor Matildak and Professor Matilda to the media friends, and introduce their resumes and the positions they will hold in bruce Automobile. After the two of you finish your speeches, I will once again give a summary report on the first phase to the media friends. At that time, I will use PPT to make all the data of our bruce Automobile public on the spot, including but not limited to our investment scale, hardware scale, team scale, and future planned vehicle models. "

"After that, I will introduce Professor Matildak and Professor Matilda to the media friends, introduce your resumes, and the positions you will hold in bruce Automobile. After the introductions, you will each have five to ten minutes to speak. After the two speeches, I will still make a final summary. "

"After I make my final summary speech, we will move on to the media question session. We plan to have half an hour to answer ten questions for this media question session. I will randomly decide who will ask questions, and we will not make any prior arrangements. However, I will explain the basic rules of asking questions to everyone in advance. They can ask me, Uncle wade or my father, or Professor Matildak and Professor Matilda. The questions must be about bruce Automobile. If anyone asks any questions that are not related to bruce Automobile, or deliberately wants to bring up the past grievances between the two families, I will directly refuse to answer and pass the right to ask questions to the next person. We are also equipped with a large number of security personnel and staff to maintain order on site. If a reporter keeps pestering about some inappropriate questions, I will directly arrange to mute the microphone on site. When he asks anyone, please don't be disrupted by the other party. We will just move on to the next question. "

In addition, when answering questions, please stick to the core of Bruce Automobile and try not to spread the topic. After answering the ten questions, I will thank all the media friends present and announce the successful conclusion of this press conference. This is basically the process. If you have any questions, please feel free to ask.”

Homula has been the agent of Anjia for many years and is experienced. His process has been very clear, and the parts that everyone needs to cooperate with are also explained very clearly, so everyone expressed that they had no questions.

Seeing that everyone had no questions, Homula nodded and said, “Since everyone has no questions, let’s move on to the next link, which is the synchronization of specific information disclosed by Bruce Automobile to the outside world. “

After a pause, Homula continued: “We have announced that the total investment of Bruce Automobile is expected to be 40 billion US dollars, with a first-phase investment of 20 billion US dollars, which will be jointly funded by the An family and the Wade family, each holding 50% of the shares;”

“The initial 20 billion US dollars will be mainly used to prepare for the construction of a super factory and supporting facilities in Aurous Hill. We refer to the time node of the Tesla super factory, and the goal is to achieve groundbreaking and production within one year;”

the Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6895

By / July 5, 2024

“As for the remaining 20 billion US dollars, it will be mainly used to increase production capacity, upgrade products, and penetrate and develop upstream and downstream industries such as auto parts, vehicle logistics, and vehicle sales. “

Charlie Wade said at this time: “Second uncle, I propose to add 2 billion US dollars of education funds to the first-phase investment to carry out in-depth cooperation with major universities and vocational and technical colleges in Aurous Hill. On the one hand, we will invest in them, let them upgrade and strengthen their related majors, and on the other hand, we will invest in these colleges and universities to jointly establish automotive-related majors based on our actual needs;”

“A part of this will also be used to establish special scholarships and subsidies

Scholarship projects are used to support outstanding and poor college students who are willing to study in Aurous Hill and choose automobile-related majors. This is relatively important. We have not had time to communicate deeply with these colleges and universities, but I believe that with the real financial support and employment opportunities, they will not refuse to cooperate with us. So at the press conference, please ask Professor Matilda to call on the relevant persons in charge of all colleges and universities in Aurous Hill to communicate with us face to face after the press conference. ” “

Good!” hank said excitedly: “I have been teaching in colleges in the past few years, and I know the needs of schools and students very well. For schools, the employment rate and quality of graduates have a great impact on the overall attractiveness of schools. For young people, excellent and stable employment opportunities are extremely rare. To be honest, it is not common in previous school-enterprise cooperation. Most companies only provide employment opportunities for graduates during school recruitment, and they think it is already very remarkable. We can not only provide financial assistance, but also provide employment. For colleges, it is comparable to living Bodhisattvas, and they will definitely attach great importance to it. “

That’s good.” charlie Wade said: “The assistance and support from many companies have many preconditions, and many companies are just seeking fame and reputation, but they don’t really have that sense of social responsibility. Our own positioning is to be the leading car company in China’s new energy vehicles, and we also bear the reputation of An and Ye. Naturally, we can’t be stingy when it comes to school partners.”

hank lowered his head and calculated, and said: “Mr. Ye, to be honest, 2 billion US dollars in education funds seems a bit too much. The number of relevant talents that Aurous Hill can train each year should not exceed 10,000, and we can’t recruit them all. We still have to recruit based on merit. I estimate that about 200 million US dollars will be enough. “

charlie Wade nodded: “It certainly won’t cost so much money just to subsidize colleges and students, but what I think is that we should carry out deeper cooperation with schools that are interested in developing automotive-related majors. A very important point is to provide them with scientific research funds;”

“So my idea is that we can carry out in-depth cooperation with the expertise of these colleges and universities. Both parties can jointly invest in the establishment of laboratories, or we can simply invest in the establishment of laboratories and hand them over to them for use. The laboratories must be as world-leading as possible;” “

A considerable number of local companies do not attach importance to scientific research. They earn hundreds of billions of dollars every year, but they do not use the profits to develop new science and technology. Instead, they use them to develop new game products, fast-moving consumer goods, and live streaming. Although I am not qualified to judge whether they are right or wrong, I don't want us to be the same as them. 2 billion US dollars is just a start. If these colleges and universities work hard and can make full use of the hardware and funds we provide to develop better technology, I am willing to increase this amount fivefold next year. “

Speaking of this, Charlie Wade said seriously: “Our cooperation with the colleges this time is to position ourselves as real living Bodhisattvas, giving money to the colleges to strengthen their school strength and giving money to students to solve their life difficulties. Regardless of whether these students come to Bruce Automobile to work after graduation, we will ensure that they can study wholeheartedly until graduation. Even if they do not come to Bruce Automobile after graduation and are diverted to other car companies, they are also contributing to the Chinese automobile industry. If they are willing to stay in Aurous Hill and join Bruce Automobile, then we can be regarded as saving others and saving ourselves, and our merits are immeasurable!”
