For Bruce Automobile, a project with a scale of at least tens of billions of dollars, the time left for charlie Wade and the An family to prepare in the early stage was actually quite tight.

Even though the press conference was about to be held, many details still needed to be communicated and perfected, and it was not ruled out that some places would need to be temporarily changed and adjusted.

charlie Wade spent a whole morning with everyone to finalize all the details that could be thought of at present, and then stayed in Shangri-La to have lunch with his grandfather and grandfather. His wife Claire drove herself when she went out in the morning, so charlie Wade did not need to pick her up, he just needed to wait for her at Shangri-La.

While charlie Wade was still having dinner with his family, the press conference site had begun to allow engineers from the media to enter in advance to set up equipment.

Although there were many media reporters participating this time, the staff of Shangri-La still made an orderly response plan. Each media had its own exclusive seats and camera positions, with seats reserved for reporters and camera positions for photographers. In addition, several hotel rooms were opened for media to do behind-the-scenes work, where some behind-the-scenes directors could remotely direct reporters to ask questions, direct photographers how to operate the camera, and focus on whom to focus the camera.

Therefore, at noon, the staff responsible for shooting equipment and lines had already begun to enter the venue and set up equipment at their designated camera positions.

Because the cooperation between the two companies has received widespread attention, although the press conference has not yet begun, the media that have set up the equipment in advance have already started online live broadcasts, pushing the video of the press conference to the Internet in real time. Many people have also entered the live broadcast rooms of major media early to watch, just like the crowds who are usually keen on watching mobile phone and car manufacturers' press conferences.

Even Sara, who is far away near the poles in the southern hemisphere, is paying close attention to the cooperation between the two companies.

At this time, she was watching the press conference in front of a huge screen.

Although neither the An family nor the Wade family appeared, she still watched intently.

Next to her was her most trusted military advisor, Jadiel, the direct descendant of the Wu family.

The over 100-year-old Jadiel said to Sara respectfully, “My Lord, I have learned that the An family and the Wade family are going to cooperate in the field of new energy vehicles. They have reached an agreement with Jinling and obtained the land and relevant approval documents. At present, this matter is still in the confidentiality stage. Today’s press conference should be to announce this action to the public.”

Sara nodded and said grimly, “I didn’t expect that the An family and the Wade family would join forces again. There has always been a rift between the two families. I didn’t expect This rift was gone just like that.”

Jadiel said, “My Lord, there is indeed a rift between the two families. It seems that from the beginning, the An family had a lot of opinions about Ye Bruce bringing Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom) back to China. Later, Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom) and Ye Bruce were killed by Changshengbo, and their children were missing. The An family became even more dissatisfied with the Wade family. “

Sara asked back, “Then why do you think they are reconciled now and even want to work together?”

Jadiel said, “My Lord, in my opinion, it is not surprising that these two families have joined forces. There are three reasons: “

“First, the An family has escaped from several exterminations by chance, and their morale must have been greatly damaged. They may have been high and mighty in the past, but now they must be much more low-key. Facing the Wade family, they should not be as domineering and arrogant as before.

“Secondly, they have encountered the crisis of extermination several times, and there is a mysterious person secretly helping them. Perhaps they have already known the hidden truth of the year and know that the deaths of Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom) and Ye Bruce were not caused by the Wade family. This will also give the An family a lot of room to ease their attitude towards the Wade family; “

“Third, the An family must be very afraid of you now, so they moved their family to China and even invested a lot of money in China in exchange for official recognition and protection. Since they have begun to make long-term arrangements in China, it means that they will use China as their base in the future, so they must consolidate the safety and reliability of the base as much as possible. It is human nature to show goodwill to the Wade family at this time. In times of crisis, one more friend is much better than one more enemy. “

Sara nodded slightly and did not delve into the matter. In her opinion, neither the An family nor the Wade family was the most important. The most important thing was to find out the mysterious man behind the An family. He was her biggest worry.

At this time, in the live broadcast of the press conference, a background voice suddenly came from the scene: “Media friends, please start entering. The countdown will start one hour before the press conference.”

Sara stared at the video screen and said to herself: “Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom) must be somewhere now, watching the same live broadcast screen, and seeing her family and father-in-law reconcile, she should be very relieved. “

Jadiel said: “Lord Ying, since you have always believed that Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom) is still alive, then this cooperation between the An family and the Wade family, could it be that Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom) secretly arranged it?”

“No.” Sara said firmly: “Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom) is a rare talent in this world. If she were still alive, she would definitely be able to distinguish the pros and cons. She has endured for twenty years and would never lose her mind at this time. “

At this point, Sara said with a worried expression: “What I am most worried about now is whether she has any connection with the mysterious man. If not, it’s still easy to say, but if so, it will be really tricky. “

Jadiel hurriedly said: “Lord Ying, I feel that now that we have entered a dormant period as a whole, the mysterious man may not know how to stop when he is ahead. Maybe he is now secretly plotting and wants to find an opportunity to continue to attack us. Our death squad bases distributed all over the world may be his next attack targets. If we can predict his next target and let the three elders ambush in advance, we may be able to accomplish our goal in one battle!”

Sara frowned and said: “The Poqing Society has built dozens of death squad bases of all sizes all over the world for hundreds of years. Who can guess where his next target will be? Since the four earls are not his opponents, the only ones who really have a chance to defeat him, except for me, are the three elders. There are only four of us in total, and we can ambush at most in four bases. The probability of winning this bet is less than one in ten. “

Jadiel suddenly had an idea and said, “Lord Ying, can we deliberately release some clues for him to catch? If we lead him by the nose, he will definitely fall into our trap!”

Sara nodded and subconsciously said, “It’s a good idea, but how can we release clues so that he won’t be suspicious? This person is not only cautious, but also must have grasped some of our loopholes, otherwise he would not be able to appear in Northern Europe in time to save Lin Wan’er, nor would he be able to find our base in Cyprus. For such an enemy, it is not so easy to lure him into the trap.”

Jadiel thought of something and hurriedly said: “Lord Ying, if he really knows our loopholes, as we enter the dormant period, those loopholes will also be closed. In this case, we should restart all the people and things related to the capture of Lin Wan’er and the Cyprus station during that period. In that case, the loopholes will definitely be reopened.”

Sara’s eyes suddenly flashed with a light, and she blurted out: “I suddenly thought of a problem. The first time we suffered losses at his hands was when he sent death squads to New York to catch the An family in one fell swoop.”

“That’s right.” Jadiel nodded and said: “That time all the death squads were missing.”

Sara said again: “According to common sense, the death squads could not know where they came from, so they could not leak the information to that person, but that person was able to appear in Northern Europe in time, rescued Lin Wan’er, and later found Cyprus...”

At this point, Sara asked Jadiel: “The Cavalry Guards who went to capture Lin Wan’er that time were sent from Cyprus, right?”

“Yes.” Jadiel said, “The intelligence came urgently at that time, and Lin Wan’er was already packing her luggage to leave Northern Europe. Although we wanted to send the four earls, it was too late. In order to avoid missing the opportunity to fight, we transferred people from Cyprus.”

Sara frowned and asked him, “Could it be that he got the clue about the plane we used to send the death squad and the cavalry guards? If he located our plane, he would get the information wherever our plane went!”

Jadiel’s eyes widened instantly, and blurted out, “The plane... Damn it! I have been wondering who leaked the information. , why didn’t you think that the problem might be with the plane!”

Then Jadiel said: “During that time, our personnel and material transfers were all carried out under the name of Singapore Yuantai International Express. Now it seems that the biggest possibility is that he knows that this airline is under our command, so he has mastered our every move through the planes of this airline!”

Sara clenched his fists and said in a cold voice: “Even a passing goose leaves a trace, let alone a hundred-ton plane! I didn’t think of this a long time ago!”

Jadiel hurriedly said: “My Lord, you don’t have to blame yourself, “I think it’s not too late to mend the fold after the sheep have been lost. We can take advantage of this hibernation to seal up all the previous planes and stop using them to prevent future troubles. However, we can deliberately put the Yuantai Express planes into operation. Once they move, the other party will definitely know. At that time, these planes will become the reins for us to lead the other party by the nose!”

Sara said seriously: "These planes can be used, but it is impossible to use them so simply and directly. The entire Po Qing Society has been dormant, and only these planes have moved. The other party will definitely suspect that this is a conspiracy." A trap. If we know it is a trap, no matter how much we do, the other party will not take the bait."

Jadiel asked: "Lord Ying, what do you mean?"

Sara said: "To set a trap, we must increase the credibility as much as possible. First, let the Central Military Governor's Office in charge of this airline secretly transfer this airline, and then let the North American Left Military Governor's Office appoint a shell company to buy this company back. First, complete the left hand to the right hand transfer, and then find some serious logistics business to get the plane moving first. After each plane is moving, we will set a trap for him and see if he will fall into it!"

At this moment, charlie Wade and Claire met at the entrance of Shangri-La.

Her media friend was a reporter from a newspaper in Aurous Hill and also her middle school classmate. Although the newspaper could have four staff members enter the press conference, the newspaper was on the verge of bankruptcy and could not send extra reporters, so the other party gave the quota to Claire.

When charlie Wade met Claire, her classmate who was a reporter was standing beside her. Seeing charlie Wade coming, she smiled and asked Claire: "Claire, is this your husband?"

Claire nodded and introduced her: "Ningning, let me introduce you, this is my husband charlie Wade."

After that, she said to charlie Wade: "Husband, this is Yohana, Ningning, my high school classmate, now working at Aurous Hill Morning News, and is the chief reporter of the Morning News."

Yohana waved his hands repeatedly and said self-deprecatingly: "Don't laugh at me, Claire, what chief reporter, our newspaper now has only two full-time reporters, both of whom are chiefs, and there is no second position. Maybe one day it will be closed and even the chief will not be needed."

Claire asked in surprise: "Is the performance of your Morning News so poor?"

"It's more than bad." Yohana said, "Not many people read newspapers now, and our circulation is relatively small in Aurous Hill. After no one reads newspapers, our circulation is even worse. Bigger newspapers can cooperate with government agencies, railways, civil aviation, and long-distance passenger transportation. With fixed purchases, circulation must be guaranteed. With circulation, there is advertising income. Ours is not possible. No one buys advertisements, and the income is negligible. If this continues, we will definitely stop publication within a year."

Claire comforted him, "It's okay. The paper media is in recession. You can switch to new media. I've seen many traditional media reporters and hosts set up their own self-media accounts on short video platforms. It is said that once their number of fans increases, their income is still considerable. "

Yohana smiled and said, "We really want to go together, but I'm still working and can't register an account on self-media because the company has regulations that the ownership of self-media accounts operated during employment belongs to the company. Let's talk about it after leaving."

Claire reminded, "Then you can use your spare time to plan the content direction of your short videos. It would be even better if you can write some scripts and save them when you leave. You can start right after you get the job."

Yohana said in surprise: "Claire, how do you know so much about short videos? Let's have a good chat if there is a chance, and you can give me more advice."

Claire said modestly: "I just heard a little bit from others, and I don't have any practical experience."

Yohana smiled and said: "After the press conference, I will go back to the station to write the manuscript. If you have nothing to do in the evening, I will treat you and your husband to dinner, and we will talk in detail then."

Claire said: "We should treat you to dinner, after all, we still have to thank you for helping us to see the world today."

Yohana said with a smile "Well, let me tell you the truth. Our leader is on a business trip and can't come. He specifically asked me to find two more people to make up the four places. Don't let my colleagues see the joke and say that we can't even get four people together at Aurous Hill Morning News. I have to thank you for helping me to get the people together. Besides, the company will reimburse the meal tonight. I told my leader that it's okay to find someone, but at least one meal should be provided. He agreed. I will just issue an invoice for reimbursement when the time comes."

As he said this, Yohana opened

By / July 7, 2024

He said, "Claire, it's almost time, let's go in first!"

"Okay." Claire didn't say anything more, and followed charlie Wade and Yohana to the entrance of the press conference.

When they were almost at the entrance, charlie Wade took out a mask from his pocket and handed another to his wife Claire, saying, "Wife, let's wear masks. After all, we are not real reporters. Don't turn around and be recognized."

Since this press conference is the first cooperation between the An family and the Wade family in 20 years, the outside world's attention is already very high. charlie Wade believes that the people of the Poqing Society will definitely pay attention to this press conference. Because he looks very similar to his father, he plans to wear a mask to avoid being recognized by those who are interested.

Claire didn't know charlie Wade's real purpose, but felt that what charlie Wade said made sense. Aurous Hill was not big, and he might run into other acquaintances. If acquaintances saw him sneaking into the press conference with media reporters, it would be a bit embarrassing. Wearing a mask could avoid this trouble.

So, the couple each wore a mask and walked into the venue.

At this time, the press conference was already crowded, with media reporters and photographers everywhere. Yohana took the couple to find the seating area of Aurous Hill Morning News, and the three of them sat down side by side.

Yohana whispered to Claire, "Today's press conference is really a big deal, and many foreign media have also arrived."

Claire nodded and said, "The two families at this press conference are both very powerful. The media must be very concerned about what projects they are going to cooperate on." Yohana waved his hand and said, "In fact, it's far more than that. I have studied the grievances between these two families before. These two families used to be relatives. You should know, right?"

"I know." Claire said: "You have also seen some of my gossip articles saying that they used to be relatives, but later they had a falling out. It seems that the An family accused the Wade family of killing their daughter."

"Yes." Yohana said: "In fact, 20 years ago, the second young master of the Wade family and the eldest daughter of the An family were both killed, and their children were also missing. Many people also said that their son was actually killed, but the body has never been found. Some people also said that the culprit who killed their family had a close connection with the Rothschild family, but in the final analysis it was the inaction of the Wade family that caused it. "

Claire said: "I seem to have heard of this incident, but the rumors are too weird, and I don't know who to believe, so I didn't take it seriously. "

Said, Claire asked again: "Did their children also encounter an accident?"

"It is said." Yohana said: "Think about it, since the other party has killed the couple, how could they let a little boy go? According to the plot in the TV series, the younger the boy, the more likely he will be the main force for revenge in the future. Since those people are so cruel, they will not leave any hidden dangers. "

Claire nodded gently and said, "What you said seems to make some sense."

Yohana said mysteriously, "Claire, do you know why these two families, one from New York, USA, and the other from Yanjing, China, finally reunited and wanted to start a new project, why did they choose to hold a press conference in Aurous Hill?"

“I don’t know.” Claire shook his head and said, “It should be because they think Aurous Hill has development prospects, so they invested in Aurous Hill together, right?”

“No.” Yohana curled his lips and said, “Our Aurous Hill’s GDP is not even ranked in our province
