Steve quickly said, "Father, I am here to share the family's worries, and it won't be hard anywhere."

"Very good!" Howard was very satisfied with his attitude and said with a smile, "You don't have to stay in Aurous Hill any longer. Today, the Hogwitz family received a message from the kidnappers that the father and son are not in Aurous Hill, but at sea. You can prepare and come back as soon as possible."

Steve already knew about Charlie Wade's arrangement, so he was not surprised to hear this, but he still pretended to be depressed and cursed: "Damn kidnappers! I thought they hid the people in Aurous Hill. I almost dug up the land of Aurous Hill, but I didn't expect that they had already moved the people out. How cunning!"

"It's okay." Howard said with a smile, "Letting you go is nothing more than setting an example for the collateral families, letting them know that we care about them. As the designated heir of the family and the second most important person in the family, you personally went to help them find someone, which is already a great honor. Now it's proven that it's not that you are incompetent, but that the intelligence was wrong, so you can come back openly."

"Okay, father." Steve said, "Since Aurous Hill is fine now, I will prepare to go back to see you as soon as possible."

"Okay." Howard said with satisfaction: "When you come back, we will hold a banquet to entertain those collateral families and once again deepen their gratitude and dependence on us. This will also lay a good foundation for you to inherit the family in the future."

Steve quickly said in a very grateful tone: "Thank you, Dad! Thank you for your hard work!"

When he said this, Steve cursed in his heart, and said depressedly: "You said it so sanctimoniously, do you just want to fool me into being the so-called designated heir? If he can let you live another 50 years, you will never let me become the patriarch in the next 49 years. It's better to rely on Charlie Wade than on my biological father."

After Steve exchanged some polite words with his father on the phone, he hung up and quickly called Charlie Wade.

At this time, Charlie Wade was driving on his way to Zijin Villa. Ten minutes ago, Lin Wan'er sent him a message, saying that there were some new clues and asked him to go to Zijin Villa for an interview. The thoughtful Lin Wan'er also prepared snacks and dinner, and invited Charlie Wade to sit around the fire and make tea. Charlie Wade readily agreed.

As soon as the call was connected, he quickly said, "Mr. Wade, my father called and asked me to go back. It seems that I can't stay with you and share your worries."

Charlie Wade smiled and said, "I don't have any worries for you to share with me. Since he asked you to go back, you should go back quickly."

Steve quickly said: "Mr. Wade, can I treat you to a meal before?"

Charlie Wade said: "There's no need to eat, just cash it in."

Steve was stunned, then laughed twice and said, "Mr. Wade, you are such a joker. I really want to treat you to a meal, and I hope you can do me the honor."

Charlie Wade asked him: "When will you go back?"

Steve said, "If there is nothing important, I should go back tomorrow. Otherwise, it will be difficult to explain to my father. In his impression, I definitely don't want to leave here all the time."

Charlie Wade said: "Then let's do it at noon tomorrow, what do you think of Tianxiang Mansion?"

Steve said excitedly: "Great! Then let's meet at Tianxiang Mansion tomorrow at noon."

"Okay." Charlie Wade said, "See you tomorrow then. I have something else to do so I'll hang up first."

“Okay Mr. Wade, see you tomorrow!”

The weather was getting colder, and there were few green leaves on Zijin Mountain. Except for some pine trees, most of the trees had lost their leaves, leaving only bare trunks and branches.

When Charlie Wade arrived at Lin Wan'er's top-floor villa in Zijin Villa, he was shocked to find that the mother of Pu'er tea that he had brought back from Dianchi Lake was still growing lushly, with many more leaves than before, and they were also much larger.

Lin Wan'er, dressed in a girlish manner, was guarding the mother of Pu'er tea at this time, boiling tea over a low fire beside it. She was also roasting some ginkgo nuts next to the stove, which gave off a faint burnt aroma.

Seeing Charlie Wade coming in, she smiled like a flower and said happily: “Mr. Wade, please take a seat. I have already made tea and am waiting for you.”

Charlie Wade nodded and sat down on the stool in front of her. Lin Wan'er carefully picked up a few yellowed ginkgo nuts from the iron net of the oven. The temperature of the ginkgo nuts was quite high, so she didn't dare to hold them all the time, so she hurriedly switched them between her two hands, as if she was juggling.

After she turned the ginkgo nuts back and forth between her hands for a few times and cooled them down a bit, she held them to her lips and blew on them. Then she peeled one of them and handed it to Charlie Wade, saying with anticipation, “Sir, try it. I just picked it up from the mountain at noon.”

Charlie Wade couldn't refuse the kindness, so he opened his mouth and ate one. It was bitter and fragrant, and quite chewy, and it had a unique taste.

As soon as he ate one, Lin Wan'er peeled a few more and handed them over, then poured Charlie Wade a cup of tea. Her delicate hands had been busy since Charlie Wade entered the room.

Charlie Wade took a sip of tea, then put down the teacup and asked her: “Ms. Lin said there are new clues, what are they?”

Lin Wan'er said, "The shipping company in Singapore that the Po Qing Society had found out earlier has been sold to a French company. The French side seems to be quite anxious. As soon as the company was changed, they couldn't wait to use the company's planes to start transportation."

charlie Wade frowned: "Hasn't the Poqing Society entered a dormant period? Why did they suddenly sell the airline?"

Lin Wan'er said, "This is also what I don't understand. Logically, the Poqing Society is not short of money, so there is no need to sell the company. Moreover, this company is the core transportation capacity of their global transportation. And now it is dormant, so they shouldn't make such a move. So I wonder if they have realized that the airline is no longer safe?"

After hearing Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s guess, charlie Wade thought for a while and said, "I have always felt that the Poqing Society will sooner or later realize that it was the shipping company that exposed their every action. I just thought that before they realized this loophole, we could use as much information and intelligence as possible from the loophole. But I didn't expect that they would go dormant after three of the four earls died. They are now dealing with the shipping company. I think they should have reviewed the series of situations at that time during this period and realized that something went wrong."

After that, charlie Wade changed the subject and said, "But this matter is indeed very strange. If you realize that there is a problem, you can continue to keep your hands off, or even pretend that you are still in the dark. Selling it, as you said, doesn't seem to be necessary."

Lin Wan'er (Alani) said, "It's hard to guess what their intentions are for the time being, but I think we should not let down our guard against this shipping company. We should continue to keep a close eye on every move of this company and its aircraft."

"Okay." charlie Wade nodded and said, "We don't have many clues at the moment. This shipping company is the most valuable one. If they have some unavoidable personnel and material transfers during their dormant period, they will most likely find a way to clean up this company and use it again under a new guise. Let's keep an eye on it."

Lin Wan'er (Alani) said with some concern: "I am also afraid that they will use this shipping company as bait. Like you just said, if they review everything and realize that the airline is a loophole, they may not really want to fill the loophole. There is a certain probability that they will use this loophole as bait to lure you out from the dark."

charlie Wade pondered for a moment and nodded, "This possibility cannot be ruled out. The person Sara wants to find most now may not be you, but me."

Lin Wan'er (Alani) chuckled and said, "I have no ability to fight her. For more than three hundred years, I have been running away. What she really wants is the ring that my father left me. If I had given it to her, or left the ring somewhere she could find it over the past three hundred years, she would definitely not have bothered to hunt me down. Now you are the biggest threat to her, so she naturally wants to find you the most."

charlie Wade asked curiously: "You have traveled all over the world to avoid her, why don't you just leave the ring to her and give yourself a stable life?"

Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s expression reflected on the girl's face suddenly became resolute, and she said in a resounding voice: "Because I remember clearly that she is not only the one who hunted me, but also the enemy who killed my father. I know that I am too weak to kill her to avenge my father, but I know that the secret in the ring may be related to whether Sara can live another 500 years. Even if I can't kill her, I will definitely not let her live another 500 years. Therefore, even if I die, I can't let her get the ring."

charlie Wade nodded and said seriously: "Don't worry, Miss Lin, I will definitely kill Sara with my own hands to avenge your father and my parents."

Lin Wan'er (Alani) said seriously, "My lord, remember, safety always comes first when it comes to revenge. Sara has lived for four hundred years. Judging from your future life span, her life has already come to an end. It doesn't matter whether you kill her or not. In a few decades, she will begin to age and become weak, and eventually die alone and unwillingly at the moment of her death. If nothing unexpected happens to me, I will be old and frail by that time. But it doesn't matter. As long as I can live longer than her, then this three hundred years of escape and pursuit will be the victory of me."

After that, Lin Wan'er (Alani) looked at charlie Wade with bright eyes, and said with concern: "So, sir, today the Poqing Society has realized the loopholes of the shipping company, so you must be cautious and cautious with the Poqing Society in the future. If there are any clues behind this shipping company, you must not act alone, and you must discuss with me before making a decision!”

charlie Wade smiled and said, “Don’t worry. The Nordic AI model will be delivered in a few days. At that time, it will be used to analyze all information related to the Broken Clearance Society. This shipping company is no exception. If they have any other operations behind the scenes, I believe they will not be able to escape the computing power of AI. If there is any conspiracy, we can take the opportunity to use it against them.”

Lin Wan’er (Alani) asked hurriedly: “Sir, the AI model will be delivered soon. Are you planning to go to Northern Europe?”

charlie Wade nodded: “I do have this idea. After all, this AI model is still very important. Not only will it be used against Poqinghui, but Changying Automobile will also need it next, so I want to go and take a look in person.”

Lin Wan’er (Alani) asked expectantly, “Can I go with you, sir?”

charlie Wade asked in surprise: “You want to go to Northern Europe?”

“Yes!” Lin Wan’er (Alani) nodded heavily and said, “I also want to see this cutting-edge modern technology. Besides, I have lived in Northern Europe for a long time and I actually like that place very much. It would be nice if I could go back and take a look.”

As she spoke, Lin Wan’er (Alani) said in a depressed tone, “Although I haven’t lived in Purple Gold Villa for a long time, I am indeed a little depressed. I have been hiding in many places in the past, but I have never hidden in a place like this. There are only a few rooms and a yard. It’s not as good as when I was in Northern Europe. At least I had a farm.”

charlie Wade could probably understand Lin Wan’er (Alani)’s depression. She had traveled around the world for hundreds of years. Although she was in a mess most of the time, she had seen the vast sky and sea. It was indeed a torture for her to live in such a villa on the top of a mountain.

charlie Wade originally planned to go to Northern Europe alone this time. After the entire set of models was delivered to Helena, he would let his second uncle bring the An family's technical team and Inspector Li Yalin to officially receive it. Although the AI model would be deployed in Northern Europe at that time, after receiving it, the practical team could easily call it even in China.

Since Lin Wan'er (Alani) also wants to go out and relax, why not take her with you first?

Although Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s identity is sensitive, she now has a new identity after all, and going to Northern Europe is not like going to other countries. Helena is the Queen of Northern Europe. Although the power of the royal family has been weakened a lot, with special diplomatic conveniences, going to Northern Europe to see her does not even require going through entry procedures at the Nordic customs.

In this way, it will be safer for Lin Wan'er (Alani) to go to Northern Europe.

Just when Charlie Wade had almost made up his mind, Lin Wan'er (Alani) saw that he didn't say anything, and she felt a little worried. She asked nervously, "Sir, are you worried about my safety? Or are you afraid that I will cause trouble for you if I follow you?"

Charlie Wade smiled and said, "I'm not afraid of you causing trouble, but I'm definitely worried about safety. But I think it should be easy to solve. How about this, I'll make the arrangements and tell you the day before departure!"

When Lin Wan'er (Alani) saw that Charlie Wade agreed to take her to Northern Europe, she was immediately extremely happy and said, "That's great! Thank you, sir! I'm looking forward to your notification here!"

the Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6920

Within a dozen hours, Jenny Hogwitz couldn't wait to deliver $1 billion in cryptocurrency to Wanlong Palace.

It was not unfair to say that she was impatient. She had handled payments for many families in her life, but never had she been so happy to pay as she was today.

This was mainly because Howard's promise to her worked. Facing those reporters who followed her closely and took pictures from multiple angles, Jenny felt excited and thrilled. She seemed to have seen herself becoming the most respected and beloved wife and mother in the United States.

Howard did fulfill his promise and demonstrated the Rothschild family's mastery of manipulating public opinion to the fullest.

The moment Jenny delivered the 10 billion U.S. dollars in cryptocurrency, several major U.S. media outlets began to provide intensive and detailed coverage of this kidnapping case involving an extremely large amount of money.

Once the news was broadcast, it caused a huge sensation across the United States. At first, people were shocked by the seriousness of the kidnapping case, but the American media soon shifted the focus to Jenny, so people were even more shocked by Jenny, this strong old woman.

For a time, the story of Jenny saving her husband and son became popular throughout the United States, and Jenny's calmness, tenacity and determination to do everything for her family in front of the camera also won widespread praise from the American people.

When Charlie Wade received the news that one billion US dollars had arrived, he was on his way to Heaven Springs. Steve Rothschild was holding a banquet at Heaven Springs and wanted to treat him to another meal before leaving, so Charlie Wade drove to the Antique Street and called Zhou Liangyun who was watching the store.

Asking Zhou Liangyun to attend Steve's dinner was nothing more than taking the opportunity to spur Steve on. Charlie Wade had a thorough understanding of the general character of the Rothschild family. To sum it up, there were only a few points: they were all selfish, ruthless, and lacked a true spirit of contract:

The first and most important point is that the spirit of contract is not strong and there are extreme double standards.

Generally speaking, if the contract is beneficial to them, their spirit of contract will be extremely strong. Even if the other party is already poor and destitute, or even about to be buried, they will not lose a penny of the money they owe them, including the principal and interest.

But if the contract is not in their favor, they will definitely think about how to avoid fulfilling the contract as much as possible, or even try every means to cancel the contract.

Judging from Charlie Wade's experience in dealing with them, whether it is Howard or Steve, they are almost identical in terms of the spirit of contract.

So he had to seize the opportunity and keep pushing Steve to ensure that he would not do anything rash after returning to the United States.

When Charlie Wade and Zhou Liangyun entered the box together, Steve, who had been waiting in the box, was slightly surprised, but soon understood Charlie Wade's intention, so he stood up and said respectfully: "Mr. Wade, Mr. Zhou, please take a seat!"

Charlie Wade nodded and said to Zhou Liangyun very politely: "Uncle Zhou, please go first."
