The A350 is the largest twin-engine passenger aircraft with a very large cabin area. After the modification, two-thirds of the cabin area was directly made into a private space for passengers. Here, there are not only multiple bedrooms, but also conference rooms and reception rooms. It is more than enough for two people.

After the two boarded the plane, they came to the reception room located in the middle of the plane. After sitting down here, the plane began to roll out and took off to Northern Europe.

Lin Wan'er seemed particularly excited to be able to return to Northern Europe again. In the closed cabin with a very high level of confidentiality, only she and Charlie Wade were left, so Charlie Wade asked her: "Miss Lin seems to be looking forward to going to Northern Europe?"

"Yes!" Lin Wan'er couldn't hide her excitement and said to Charlie Wade: "To be honest, Sir, Northern Europe is my favorite place in recent years. If it weren't for Sara's discovery, I even planned to live there until 2050."

Charlie Wade asked her curiously: "What is it about Northern Europe that attracts Miss Lin?"

Lin Wan'er said: "Northern Europe is vast and sparsely populated. Its area is fifty times that of Aurous Hill, but its population is only half of that of Aurous Hill. As long as you avoid the city of Osu, there will basically not be many people. It is particularly suitable for seclusion, and the natural environment there is very good

, there are not too many signs of over-exploitation and development."

Speaking of this, Lin Wan'er said again: "By the way, the most important thing is that the climate there is too comfortable. Although it is located in northern Europe, it is close to the warm current of the Atlantic Ocean. The temperature there is much higher than that in northern China. The coldest in winter is about minus ten degrees, and the highest in summer is only more than 20 degrees. You never feel hot, unlike Aurous Hill, where the hottest temperature in summer is nearly 40 degrees, like a big steamer."

Charlie Wade smiled and asked her: "Miss Lin is afraid of heat?"

"Yes." Lin Wan'er nodded and said shyly: "I am from southern Yunnan, and the climate is like spring all year round, so I am not used to particularly hot places for so many years, but southern Yunnan is full of mountains. If you live there for a long time, you will feel bored. Relatively speaking, the geographical environment of Northern Europe will be more diverse, with mountains, seas, islands and few people. At present, it is the most suitable for me to live."

charlie Wade nodded and said with a smile: “When we get to Northern Europe, I will ask Helena to help and the royal family will buy a farm in Northern Europe. If you like, you can come over anytime.”

For Lin Wan’er, who had saved his life and shared the biggest secrets with him, charlie Wade could say that there was nothing he was reluctant to give up. Whatever she wanted, charlie Wade would try his best to satisfy her.

Lin Wan’er also knew that charlie Wade cared about her. She nodded slightly and said softly: “Then I would like to thank you first, sir! After you solve the Po Qing Society, I will come to Northern Europe often to visit.”

Then, Lin Wan’er said: “I have always wanted to raise a few Jersey cows, and I will be able to do so by then. This kind of cow is originally produced in Europe, and the climate in Northern Europe is still very suitable. “charlie Wade smiled and said: “If you want to raise a few cows in Northern Europe, why wait until the Po Qing Society is wiped out? You are willing to raise them, but you are afraid of the heat, so I will ask Helena to buy them now, and you can come to Northern Europe to escape the heat next summer. “

Lin Wan’er looked at charlie Wade expectantly and asked him, “If I come to Northern Europe to escape the heat next summer, will you come?”

charlie Wade said, “Leave a room for me on the farm. I’ll stay there for a few days if I have nothing to do.”

charlie Wade said, “After the AI model is implemented, I should have more opportunities to come to Northern Europe. The AI model is not only a secret weapon to deal with the Poqing Society, but also the killer of Changying Automobile’s future car-machine system and intelligent driving. Its importance is self-evident. So I plan to prepare a base in Northern Europe and transfer some people from the Wanlong Palace to secretly protect this data center. Just in case, it will be safer for you to come to Northern Europe.”

When charlie Wade and Lin Wan’er arrived in Northern Europe, it was exactly three o’clock in the afternoon local time.

Although Northern Europe has already entered winter, the temperature is not low. It is even warmer than Jinling, and the perceived temperature is more comfortable than expected.

It's just that the latitude of Northern Europe is very high, and when winter comes in the Northern Hemisphere, the daylight hours are relatively shorter. Although it is only three o'clock in the afternoon, it is already dusk and the sun has already reached the horizon.

It was Charlie Wade's first time to come to Northern Europe in winter. He couldn't help but look at the clock on his phone that had switched to the local time, and exclaimed: "This place is really interesting. It's dark at three o'clock..."

Lin Wan'er smiled and said, "Osu City is in the southern part of Northern Europe, so there are still five hours of daylight in winter. In the northern part of Northern Europe, it will soon enter the polar night, and the sun will not be visible for about one or two months."

Charlie Wade sighed: "I'm afraid I'll get depressed if I stay here for too long."

"No." Lin Wan'er said with a fascinated look on her face, "My lord, you don't know that polar night is actually quite good. In the villages covered with ice and snow near the poles, you can see the aurora at any time. The villages are sparsely populated, and there are often more sled dogs living in the villages than people living here. For someone like me who is always being hunted and lacks a sense of security, the one or two months of living in the polar night is the most relaxing time for the whole person."

Charlie Wade instantly understood Lin Wan'er's words, and felt a little distressed for her. He sighed and said, "So, the night is indeed safer for those who need to hide."

Lin Wan'er smiled and said, "Now is the season for viewing the aurora. When you are done with your work, could you accompany me to the northern part of Northern Europe?"

"Okay." Charlie Wade agreed without hesitation.

Lin Wan'er was extremely happy, and her heart had already flown to the magical polar regions where ice, snow, pine and cypress trees, and the aurora complemented each other.

As soon as the two got off the plane, the Nordic royal family's vehicle was already waiting there. A capable middle-aged woman was waiting for them. She walked up to Charlie Wade and said respectfully, "Mr. Wade, I am Susan White, the housekeeper of the Nordic royal family. You can call me Susan directly. Her Majesty the Queen asked me to pick you and Miss Lin up at the airport. She is already waiting at the palace."

Charlie Wade nodded and said politely: "Thank you for your hard work."

Susan said very modestly: "It's my honor."

After that, she and another accompanying driver took the initiative to open the back door of the car for Charlie Wade and Lin Wan'er and invited them to get in.

After the two got in the car, Susan and the driver also returned to the car. The driver started the car, and Susan, who was sitting in the passenger seat, said, "Mr. Wade, Ms. Lin, Her Majesty the Queen has already informed the customs, and you two do not need to go through the entry procedures."

As she spoke, she turned around and handed two certificates to the two of them, and then said, "This is the relevant certificate for diplomatic immunity. If you two plan to travel freely in Northern Europe these days, if you encounter the police or other government departments asking for your certificates, you can show these certificates to them, and they will give you the greatest convenience."

"Okay." Charlie Wade nodded and took the two certificates. He sighed in his heart that Helena was indeed attentive. He and Lin Wan'er both had oriental faces, and Charlie Wade did not speak Norwegian. If he left the royal family and moved freely, if he encountered the police or other public officials checking his passports, they would probably find that he had no entry record and be regarded as illegal immigrants.

With these two certificates, there will naturally be no such hidden dangers.

It just so happened that Charlie Wade was indeed planning to take Lin Wan'er around. After all, she had deep feelings for this country, and she might also want to travel around and see the sights.

The royal vehicle drove straight out of the airport and sped all the way to the royal palace in the center of Osu.

At this time, Helena had already been looking forward to meeting Charlie Wade in the palace. Also looking forward to meeting Charlie Wade was her grandmother, the old Queen Iliad.

Seeing Helena pacing in the main hall of the palace, sometimes happy and sometimes shy, the old queen couldn't help but step forward and said, "Helena, when you see Charlie Wade later, you should be more reserved and show the temperament that a queen should have."

"Ah?" Helena asked shyly, "Did I...did I behave very obviously?"

The old queen teased her, "All you need to do is write 'My lover is coming, I'm very happy' on your face."

"No way..." Helena quickly defended herself: "Grandma... I am still very reserved..."

The old queen shook her head and sighed, "You are usually very reserved and have the demeanor that a royal family should have, but when you are in front of Charlie Wade, you become a foolish little girl."

After that, she couldn't help but sigh: "Last time I asked you to find a way to get closer to Charlie Wade. If you had listened and done as I said, maybe your belly would be bulging now."

"Grandma..." Helena remembered that her grandmother had been persuading her to get pregnant with Charlie Wade's child and leave a descendant for the Iliad royal family, and she almost did it. She couldn't help but feel extremely shy, and her cheeks turned red with embarrassment.

Even though she has reached a high position, she is still a girl who longs for romance and true love in her heart. If she is asked to give up all her sense of shame and take the initiative to get pregnant with Charlie Wade's child, it is really difficult for her to make this decision, and she doesn't know how to face Charlie Wade in the future.

So she hurriedly said, "Grandma, Mr. Wade has been very kind to us. Your awakening from coma and my succession to the throne all depend on his help. I hope that our Iliad Royal Family can maintain a long-term friendly relationship with Mr. Wade. This will be the best outcome for you. If you are ill in a few years, I can still shamelessly ask Mr. Wade for medicine based on our friendly relationship over the years. I believe that Mr. Wade will not refuse. But if our little action causes a rift between the two sides, it may not be so easy to ask Mr. Wade for medicine again."

The old queen's expression froze, and she also figured out the subtlety. The Chinese people often care more about feelings than interests. If the Iliad royal family continues to maintain a good relationship with Charlie Wade, with this relationship, if she has any health problems in the future, as Helena said, Charlie Wade will certainly lend a helping hand.

Thinking of this, she immediately realized and said, "Helena, you have considered it more thoroughly than I have. Just follow your own plan."

As she spoke, she could not help but remind him in a low voice: "You are only in your twenties now, so having a child is not a matter of urgency, but before you turn forty, you must solve this problem no matter what. Otherwise, even if you are not anxious, so many people in Northern Europe who love you will be anxious for you."

Helena nodded: "It's still more than ten years, there's no rush."

As he spoke, the captain of the guards stepped into the main hall and said loudly to Helena: "Your Majesty, the guests have entered the palace."

Helena was instantly overjoyed. She quickly lifted up her skirt and walked quickly out of the palace, saying to the chief guard, "Tell everyone to stay away. No one is allowed to approach without my order."

"As you command, Your Majesty!"

At this time, the vehicle Charlie Wade was riding in drove into the palace and arrived at the square in front of the main hall.

As soon as the car stopped, Helena and the old queen and her granddaughter came out to greet them.

Charlie Wade and Lin Wan'er got out of the car, and Helena came forward and said respectfully: "Mr. Wade, welcome to Northern Europe again."

After that, she looked at Lin Wan'er beside her and said with a smile: "This must be Miss Lin, right?"

Lin Wan'er smiled sweetly, bowed slightly, and said, "I am Suman, the commoner, meeting Her Majesty the Queen."

Helena didn't know Lin Wan'er's background. She only heard Charlie Wade say that the person accompanying her was a sister who loved Northern Europe very much, so she brought her here to see the world. When she saw her, she found that she was indeed not very old, and looked to be only seventeen or eighteen years old.

But this girl is really beautiful, and her every frown, smile, and gesture are all indescribably noble. Helena herself is from a royal family, and she can see that Lin Wan'er has an extraordinary temperament that is not possessed by children from ordinary families.

Moreover, although she spoke good Chinese, she didn't really know what the word "minnu" meant. She thought it was just some kind of self-deprecating way of speaking in Chinese, so she took the initiative to extend her hand to Lin Wan'er and said with a smile, "Miss Lin is not a Nordic citizen, and you are Mr. Wade's sister. You don't have to be so polite to me, and you don't have to be polite. Just call me Helena. I think Miss Lin should be younger than me. If you are not shy, you can call me sister."

Lin Wan'er was startled for a moment, then looked at Charlie Wade, then looked at Helena, and said with a smile: "That's good, Sister Helena."

Helena saw that she was beautiful and charming when she smiled, and her dimples were like they were filled with wine, making her, a woman, a little intoxicated. She liked this “little girl” very much in her heart, and couldn’t help but gently touch the top of Lin Wan’er’s head. She said lovingly like an older sister: “Little sister, just treat this place as your own home. I have asked someone to prepare a dinner, let’s go to the banquet hall now!”

Seeing Helena touching Lin Wan’er’s head naturally, charlie Wade couldn’t help but sigh in his heart: “If Helena knew that Lin Wan’er was almost 400 years old, I wonder what she would feel in her heart?”

Lin Wan’er didn’t expect that Helena really treated her like a little girl. She hadn’t experienced being gently touched on the head for hundreds of years. However, although she was surprised, she didn’t feel offended. After all, she could see that Helena’s friendliness and enthusiasm were sincere and not fake at all, and she had a very good impression of her in her heart.

So, she looked at charlie Wade quietly, and when no one was watching, she secretly stuck out her tongue.

charlie Wade smiled and shook his head, then said to Helena: “It’s only four o’clock, isn’t it too early to have dinner?”

Helena looked up at the starry sky and said with a smile, “Mr. Wade seems to need to adapt to the pace of life in Northern Europe. It’s already evening, and we can go enjoy the night view of Osu City after dinner.”

At this time, the housekeeper Susan stepped forward and whispered, “Your Majesty, Mr. Howard Rothschild of the Rothschild family would like to come to the palace later to greet you.”

Helena waved her hand and said calmly, “Tell him I have other plans tonight, and we can meet directly at the data center tomorrow.”

the Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6934

Susan didn’t expect that Helena would reject the visit request from the current head of the Rothschild family without hesitation.

After all, he is the helmsman of the world’s top family, managing assets of more than trillions, and no one in the world can match him. Such a person taking the initiative to visit is a great honor to the Nordic royal family, not to mention the British royal family.

When Susan learned that Howard was coming to visit, she was surprised and happy, and hurried to report the good news to Helena, but she didn’t expect that Helena was not interested at all.

So, she quickly reminded Helena in a low voice: “Your Majesty, the other party is the current patriarch of the Rothschild family, and he came to ask for a visit in person. Isn’t it inappropriate to refuse him like this...”

Helena said calmly, “There’s nothing inappropriate about it. Just tell him exactly what I said.”

Out of common sense and professional ethics, Susan felt that Helena should not refuse Howard’s request to meet, but Helena’s attitude was very firm. She knew that she should not persuade her anymore, so she could only look to the old queen for help, hoping that the old queen could persuade Helena.

Susan didn’t know why Helena rejected Howard, but the old queen knew it very well. The reason why Howard lowered his posture to ask for an audience with a Nordic queen in her 20s was not because he really valued Helena. Everything was because of Charlie Wade behind Helena and Charlie Wade’s magic elixir.

Therefore, it is reasonable for Helena to be a little arrogant towards Howard. After all, when you become the spokesperson of the strong, you must be strong enough when facing other people. Otherwise, what you lose is not your own face, but the face of the strong man behind you.

So she winked at Susan and asked her to leave first.

Seeing that the thoughtful old queen also had this attitude, Susan knew that it must be intentional, so she immediately accepted the order and left.

Helena smiled and said to Charlie Wade, “Mr. Wade, I guess Howard probably wants to confirm the details of the pill with me again. What he is most worried about now is that I will find a reason to block his acceptance and handover, and then find a reason to delay his half pill.”

Charlie Wade nodded and said, “Now he is like a construction party who has paid all the project fees in advance. He has done everything he can, and what he is most afraid of is that Party A will delay his payment after acceptance.”

Helena asked him: “Mr. Wade, should I drag him for a while?”

“Yes!” Charlie Wade nodded and said, “After the AI model is handed over, we will not only hand over the control rights, but also conduct in-depth test runs on its model. All of this takes time. Before we ensure that everything is running normally, we will not give him the elixir. When the time comes, let him stay in Northern Europe and wait for your call at any time.”

“Okay, Mr. Wade!” Helena naturally obeyed Charlie Wade’s words and carried out whatever Charlie Wade decided.

Afterwards, the four of them moved to the banquet hall of the palace. In order to make the conversation more convenient, after the meal was served, Helena dismissed all the servants and personally stood up to pour wine for Charlie Wade and his grandmother. Then she looked at Lin Wan'er and asked her with a smile: "What would you like to drink, Suman? How about orange juice?"

Lin Wan'er smiled faintly, pointed at the red wine in Helena's hand, and said, "I'll just drink red wine too."

Helena asked hurriedly, "Is Suman over 18 years old? In Northern Europe, people can only drink alcohol if they are over 18 years old, and they can only drink low-alcohol alcohol."

Lin Wan'er nodded, looked at Helena's clear eyes, and said with a smile in her eyes: "Don't worry, sister, I'm eighteen years old."

Helena was still a little worried, and couldn't help but look at Charlie Wade with a questioning look on her face.

Charlie Wade coughed twice and said to Helena: "Pour it for her. Anyway, the Nordic law can't control her."

Helena didn't ask any more questions and poured some red wine for Lin Wan'er.

the Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6935

By / July 22, 2024

After drinking a glass of wine, Lin Wan'er's face became red as if she had put on blush, which made Helena quite worried, fearing that she was really a minor and could not hold her liquor.

Fortunately, Lin Wan'er only blushed after drinking and didn't look drunk at all, so Helena felt relieved.

At this time, Charlie Wade said: "Helena, can you help me find a farm in Northern Europe?"

"Farm?" Helena asked in surprise, "What kind of farm is Mr. Wade talking about? Is it mainly for growing crops or raising livestock?"

Charlie Wade said: "It's best to have everything. The scale doesn't need to be large, but the environment must be good, and the place must be safe and quiet enough."

Helena nodded: "I will ask someone to look for someone later, and if there is a suitable one, I will organize the information and send it to Mr. Wade."

charlie Wade added: "If I find a suitable one, I'll ask you to buy it for me in the name of the Nordic royal family."

"no problem."

After the four of them had dinner, Helena took the two of them in the royal vehicle to Osu City to experience the night view of Osu City.

At the same time, Li Yalin and charlie Wade's second uncle Homula also arrived in Osu City by plane.

Since the An family and Hua Xia have reached a deep investment cooperation, Hua Xia has specially provided them with a set of domestic identities to facilitate their travel and ensure their personal safety. By using their domestic identities to enter and exit customs, they can avoid the surveillance of the An family by the Qing Pohui.

Shortly after they arrived in Osu City, a technical team was transferred from Silicon Valley by the An family. This technical team will be responsible for connecting and accepting the AI model built by Howard for Helena, and they will also be fully responsible for the overall operation and maintenance in the future.

As planned, the group stayed in a five-star hotel in Osu. Homula had already begun planning to purchase real estate in Osu because after receiving the AI model, these people would stay in Northern Europe and be responsible for the operation and maintenance of the entire data center.

That night, charlie Wade and Lin Wan'er stayed in the palace. Helena prepared two guest rooms for them in advance.

The next day, when the sky gradually brightened in Osu City, it was already 9:30 in the morning local time.

charlie Wade and Lin Wan'er have already followed Helena to the data center that Microsoft had previously built in Northern Europe.

This data center is located about 80 kilometers outside the city of Osu. It covers a large area and has three large rectangular buildings. The whole thing looks like a large manufacturing factory.

Inside the three individual buildings are data processing equipment built by Howard with real money. Since all of them use the most advanced computing equipment, the computing power here is extraordinary. The Nordic country is rich in minerals and self-sufficient in energy, so it can provide this data center with a strong power supply. In addition, the climate here is cool all year round, which also saves a lot of electricity needed for heat dissipation for the data center.

At this moment, Howard and the entire AI construction team were doing the final inspection inside, and Homula and Li Yalin also arrived at the scene with technical personnel.

Howard was in the computer room with the roar of fans, watching the technicians constantly debugging parameters and testing software. His heart was already filled with excitement. What he couldn't wait to do most was to get that half pill of the Blood-Rescuing Heart Pill. In order to minimize the delay, he had already asked someone to prepare the 50 billion US dollars needed to buy the pill. As long as Helena nodded, he would arrange for someone to pay immediately.

Just when Howard was a little distracted, a staff member ran in and shouted, "The Nordic Queen is here!"
