Seeing this, the father and son immediately stopped talking and stood up together.

Helena came to the two of them with her skirt lifted up, and said with a smile, "You two don't have to be so polite, please take a seat."

The two of them sat down again, and as soon as they sat down, Howard couldn't help but say, "Your Majesty, now the cooperation has been basically completed. I don't know if there is anything else you need to do on your side. Please feel free to tell me. After finishing the work, I need to go back to New York first. After dealing with the New York affairs, I will come to Northern Europe to start a new round of investment."

Howard's words were very obscure, but Helena could easily hear the subtext in it. He just wanted to ask when he could fulfill his promise, and it would be best to fulfill it as soon as possible so that he could return to New York as soon as possible.

So Helena smiled and said, "I don't have any other needs here. If Mr. Rothschild has something to go back to the United States, he can go back tomorrow."

Howard heard this, and instinctively felt happy, thinking that Helena said that she must be fulfilling her promise, but then he felt uneasy. What if Helena meant it literally and asked him to go back tomorrow? After all, she didn't mention any cryptic information about the pill.

Just when Howard was unsure of Helena's intentions and didn't dare to agree casually, Helena said, "By the way, Mr. Howard, please reserve a little more time after the dinner. Regarding the previous cooperation, there are some things that need to be reviewed with you. It won't take up too much of your time, probably just ten minutes, should it be convenient for you?"

Howard was immediately excited when he heard this, and nodded quickly, "Convenient, convenient!"

"That's good." Helena nodded and smiled, "Then Mr. Steve, please wait for a moment. After the review is over, you two can go back to pack your luggage and prepare to return to the United States."

Steve nodded respectfully and said, "Everything is in accordance with the instructions of Her Majesty the Queen."

Helena's dinner with the Rothschild father and son was coming to an end, and Charlie Wade and Lin Wan'er (Alani) also returned to the palace.

Li Yalin and An Kaifeng were still in the data center. Li Yalin was communicating with the technicians about how to set a complex screening rule for the AI model. Once the rule was established, it would start to retrieve corporate information worldwide, striving to screen out the list of companies that might host a death squad station, and then do the elimination method little by little to narrow the target range as much as possible.

Charlie Wade didn't understand technology, nor did he know how to operate AI to complete complex calculations and deductions, so he handed it over to professionals to do it, and he had already arranged people to help him solve the problem of vending machines according to the plan. It wouldn't be long before vending machines all over the world would upload a large amount of video materials to the AI model through the Internet, and then they would be able to grasp Sara's personal whereabouts.

Once Sara appeared, it would not be as simple as her appearing alone, but would bring a series of clues, and at that time, more information related to the Broken Qing Society would be brought out.

Charlie Wade knew that her plane usually took off and landed in Argentina, and her base must be not far from Argentina. Moreover, she must use Argentina as a springboard every time she flew across the continent. So when the entire Argentine airport was under his surveillance, her whereabouts would be clear to him. When Charlie Wade returned to the palace, the housekeeper reported to Helena immediately.

Helena said to the Rothschild father and son, "Wait a moment, I have something to do, so I will be gone for a moment."

After that, she stood up and walked out of the banquet hall gracefully.

Helena came all the way to Charlie Wade's guest room, knocked on the door gently, and saw Charlie Wade sitting on the sofa in the living room, so she hurried up to him and said respectfully: "Mr. Wade, the Rothschild father and son are still in the banquet hall. Old Howard is looking forward to your half pill and has been looking forward to it for a while."

Charlie Wade nodded, took out a blood-dispersing and heart-saving pill, handed it to Helena, and reminded: "Invite him to the study later and take out the pill in front of him. Remember, you must take out the whole pill. After he pays the money, cut it in front of him."

At that moment, she was not decisive enough and was hesitant, so nothing happened in the end.

At this moment, she suddenly felt a little regretful in her heart, thinking: "Should I have been like Mr. Wade said, more decisive, more decisive..."

Thinking of this, Helena was confused, and she couldn't help but look down at the pill in her hand, then looked up at Charlie Wade, her expression and tone suddenly became very firm and said: "Mr. Wade, don't worry, Helena will never hesitate again in the future, and will definitely be decisive to the end."

Charlie Wade didn't know what she was thinking, but nodded with some relief and said: "You are the queen now, loved by millions of people and respected by tens of millions of people. Decisiveness and determination are necessary qualities. They must always be reflected in your aura for everyone to see."

Helena nodded heavily: "Mr. Wade, rest assured, Helena knows!"

After that, she said in a very firm tone: "I will give half of the pill to Howard, and then take the other half in front of Howard. I will also keep the 30 billion US dollars last time as you said, Mr. Wade. I will never hesitate to do anything you ask me to do in the future."

Charlie Wade was a little surprised at her change. While feeling happy for her, he also praised her: "I am very happy to see such a big change in you in such a short time."

Helena winked and smiled playfully, then put away the pill, lifted her skirt with both hands, squatted down to salute Charlie Wade, and said: "Mr. Wade, wait a moment, I will go to see Howard now!"

A few minutes later, the royal housekeeper Susan walked into the banquet hall. She came to Howard and said respectfully, "Dear Mr. Rothschild, Her Majesty invites you to move to the study to discuss something."

Hearing Helena speak directly about what was in her mind, Howard hesitated for a moment, then stopped hiding it and said respectfully, "Your Majesty, to be honest, I am old, but the reason why I am still working so hard and coming to Northern Europe to oversee the delivery of the entire AI model is because I really hope to get that half of the magic pill as soon as possible.”

He paused for a moment and continued, “Now the AI model has been delivered, and this AI model uses NVIDIA’s latest and best chips, which is much better than the one in Silicon Valley. Take the video processing demonstrated that day, for example. Compared with the AI processing that is widely circulated on the Internet, it is completely different. Although those AI videos on the Internet look very realistic, they are like movie special effects. If you look closely, you can see many flaws. However, the videos processed by this AI model are almost the same as the real ones. I feel that as long as the processed content is not too outrageous or inconsistent, even if you give it to professionals for analysis, they will not be able to find any problems.”

Helena nodded slightly.

What Howard said is not wrong. There are many AI models on the Internet that can process videos, but most of those AIs are just for entertainment purposes, and everyone can see the defect of lack of realism at a glance. However, this AI model in Silicon Valley is really good at processing rendered videos, and it is definitely a very high level that can deceive the public.

If this is used as the assessment standard for Howard’s completion of this mission, then it can definitely be considered a successful completion.

So Helena didn’t beat around the bush and took out a pair of disposable gloves from her pocket. She also took out the Blood-Dispersing and Heart-Saving Pill that Charlie Wade had just given her and said to Howard, “Mr. Howard, this is the pill you’ve always dreamed of. According to our agreement, you can now buy half of it for $50 billion.”

Howard became even more excited when he saw the pills, and he kept saying, “Your Majesty, please rest assured that the money has been prepared long ago and can be paid to you at any time. I just don’t know if there is any difference between your payment information this time and before?”

Helena smiled and said, “There is nothing wrong with it. Just pay according to the account information from last time. After the payment arrives, I will give you the pills.”

Howard was extremely excited and said quickly, “Okay, okay! Your Majesty, please wait a moment. I will notify my chief financial officer now and ask him to complete the payment immediately!”

As he spoke, Howard quickly took out his cell phone and made a call as quickly as possible.

A pill only weighs a few grams, and half of it is even smaller. Furthermore, Helena's cut was very center, so the weight difference between the two is even more difficult to estimate. If you want to know which one is lighter or heavier, you may have to use a high-precision device like a scale.

Howard weighed the two pills for a long time, but he really couldn't feel the difference between them. He couldn't help but regret, "If I had known this, I would have brought a small scale..."

Helena smiled and said, "Mr. Rothschild, the difference between these two pills is not that big, there's no need to be so serious."

Howard couldn't help but sigh: "Your Majesty, this pill weighs about 10 grams, and half of it weighs about 5 grams. Its selling price is 50 billion US dollars, which means that every gram is worth 10 billion US dollars. This may be the most expensive substance known in the world. Even if the difference between the two is only 0.1 grams, it is still a full 1 billion US dollars."

Helena smiled and nodded, saying, "Mr. Rothschild's words are not without reason, but sometimes people can't calculate everything, sometimes they just have to give it a try. To be honest, not long ago, someone I admire very much told me that I must be decisive and resolute. Instead of hesitating and wavering here, worrying about gains and losses, it is better to take this step and have no regrets."

Howard sighed: "Your Majesty, what you said makes sense. I was just overthinking it."

After that, he put down the half of the pill in his left hand, raised the half in his right hand and said, "I'll choose this half."

Helena asked him, "Are you sure? If you are sure, you can't regret it."

"Sure, sure! Absolutely sure!" Howard knew very well that there was no point in hesitating here. The weight difference between the two pills might really be only 0.1 grams or even less. It was impossible to find professional equipment to determine which one was heavier. Instead of hesitating here and letting Helena, a young girl, laugh at him, it would be better for him to be decisive.

Helena nodded and said, "In that case, Mr. Rothschild can take the half pill you chose."
