

the Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6971

“Your Majesty... Wait a minute, Your Majesty!”

Seeing Helena take the pill, Howard became extremely nervous and blurted out subconsciously.

After Helena waited for the pill to turn into a warm stream in her mouth and flow into her stomach, she felt the refreshing effect of the medicine and asked Howard in a puzzled manner, “What’s wrong, Mr. Rothschild? Why are you making such a fuss?”

Howard saw that Helena had eaten all the pills, and said with great sorrow: “Your Majesty...you...why did you eat that half of the pill...”

Helena asked in confusion: “What’s wrong? Mr. Rothschild only bought half of it. Is there any problem if I eat the remaining half myself? Is there anything wrong with me eating my own pills?”

Howard realized that he had offended someone, and quickly explained, “Your Majesty, I... I didn’t mean that... I just felt that since you are so young, so healthy, and so energetic, it would be a bit... a bit of a waste to take this kind of medicine...”

After saying that, Howard felt that the word “waste” was not quite appropriate, so he quickly changed his words and said, “Your Majesty... that’s not what I meant... I just... I just hope to buy that half of the pill... and I’m willing to spend 50 billion US dollars or more... but you just ate the 50 billion US dollar pill so casually... I... I do feel a little regretful...”

Helena smiled and nodded, then said, “I didn’t think about that at all when I was eating it. After all, you bought half a pill, and I was too lazy to put the remaining half away, so I just ate it.”

After saying that, Helena looked at Howard, who looked devastated, and said, “Besides, Mr. Rothschild, don’t forget that what I promised you was the right to purchase half a pill of the Blood-Dispersing and Heart-Saving Pill, not a whole pill. Even if you pay another 50 billion US dollars, I will not sell you this half pill.”

“Why ...” Howard, who was already old, was aggrieved like a seven or eight-year-old child. He subconsciously said, “Your Majesty, if you say that this pill is not yours, and you sold me half of it on behalf of someone else, and the remaining half had to be taken back to its owner, then I can understand why you don’t want to sell it to me, but...but you would rather eat it yourself than exchange it for 50 billion or even more US dollars. Could it be...could it be that 50 billion US dollars is so worthless in your eyes?”
