

the Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6973

When Steve returned to the banquet hall, his father Howard had not returned yet.

After he sat down, Howard came back with the pill in his pocket, feeling mixed joy and sadness.

Steve kept staring at his father's face, trying to see if he had become younger after meeting Helena in private. If so, it would prove that he must have obtained Charlie Wade's elixir from Helena.

But the strange thing is that my father looked no different from ten minutes ago.

He couldn't help but think to himself: "Father is so devoted to Northern Europe this time, can't he get a pill from Charlie Wade?"

Thinking of this, he couldn't help but feel a little happy. He felt that Charlie Wade did not give his father the elixir, but met with him privately. Maybe he was planning to increase his leverage on him in the future?

He didn't know that half of the pill was being kept very carefully by his father.

Although Howard couldn't wait to take the pill, in order to take his eldest son's feelings into consideration, he decided to take the pill back to the United States and find a suitable opportunity to take the pill after Steve went to China.

At this time, Helena had not returned to the banquet hall. After Howard sat down, he whispered to Steve, "Let's go back early tomorrow morning. There are still many things waiting for me to deal with at home. Don't you also want to go back and prepare as soon as possible and leave for China as soon as possible?"

Steve nodded and said, "I'll follow my father's arrangements."

As he spoke, Steve remembered what Charlie Wade had said, and said, "By the way, father, after returning to New York, I have to go to Houston. I want to acquire a remote sensing satellite company, and I hope you can approve it."

Steve knew clearly that although the remote sensing satellite company that Charlie Wade wanted was worth only three to four billion US dollars, he was not yet the patriarch of the family. This kind of acquisition must not be carried out without the authorization of the family, otherwise his father would easily think that he did not take him, the patriarch, seriously.

This is different from investing in China by myself. This time when I go to China, my father agreed to let me manage an investment fund of 50 billion. Since my father has given me the right to decide, I can invest the 50 billion in China at will. But if I spend the 50 billion investment in China elsewhere, my father will definitely be dissatisfied.

Therefore, he must first obtain his father's consent before he can acquire the company openly.

Howard was a little surprised for a moment. He asked Steve puzzledly: "Why do you suddenly want to acquire a remote sensing satellite company? This kind of company should not be of much help to our existing business, right?"

Steve explained seriously, "Father, I think that the satellite field will definitely be a huge market in the future. We are a little late to enter the market now and have missed Musk's business. So I want to acquire a related company first to practice and get familiar with satellite-related businesses and upstream and downstream industries, including satellite manufacturing and satellite launch businesses."

Howard said calmly: "It's too late to enter the satellite industry. No matter how profitable this industry is, it can't be as profitable as oil and finance, and it's not as stable as the latter."

Seeing that Howard didn't seem to be interested, Steve quickly said, "Father, the company I plan to acquire is estimated to be worth no more than 5 billion US dollars. I know this industry cannot be compared with energy and finance, but I still want to give it a try. I hope you can approve it."

When Howard heard that it was only 5 billion U.S. dollars, he thought for a moment and said, "Since you want to explore more, I, as your father, should give you more support. Just go ahead and do it. I will increase the budget for you. You can make your own decision within 10 billion U.S. dollars."

Howard was indeed gradually feeling more at ease with Steve. Sometimes he even felt that his son was too sensible, so he really wanted to be nicer to him. Since his son wanted to do something that interested him, giving him more help would be a way of compensating him.

This was the statement Steve was waiting for.
