At least half of the 15 carriages of Duke Mining were filled with mechanical equipment needed for mining, and the other half were various equipment and auxiliary materials needed for upgrading the security system.

Charlie Wade, who had already changed into work clothes, was hiding behind many goods. A cavalry guard opened the door and took a look at the documents, then said, "Commander, carriage 08 is full of engineering parts."

The commander immediately said, "Don't worry about the engineering parts, unload the monitoring equipment first."

"Yes, sir." The cavalry guard responded and opened the door of the carriage where Charlie Wade was, and then went to other carriages.

Charlie Wade originally wanted to use his spiritual energy to control this person, and then leave him here, waiting for an opportunity to sneak into Duke Mining, but thinking that the monk was on the platform and the commander of the cavalry guard was also on the scene, he planned to observe first and then wait for an opportunity to act.

At this time, seeing that the train had arrived and all the carriages were checked without any problems, Song Chenshi did not intend to stay here, so he said to the commander: "Commander Yin, you stay here to supervise in person, and you must work overtime to complete the task. I still have to continue to sort out the list of the major changes, so I won't waste time here."

Commander Yin had been extremely upset about the major changes, and was naturally full of displeasure and disgust towards Song Chenshi. Hearing that she was leaving, he immediately put on a dark face and bowed, "Okay, Song Chenshi, then I won't see you off."

Song Chenshi saw that he was very upset, and he didn't bother to take it to heart. He snorted and turned to leave the platform.

As soon as Song Chenshi left, someone immediately stepped forward and asked nervously: “Commander... this... this bastard surnamed Song, is he really going to separate us from our families?”

When Commander Yin heard this, his face suddenly turned cold, and he quickly whispered: “Are you tired of living?!” As soon as the voice fell, a burst of air-breaking sound came at a high speed, and then the questioning cavalry guard suddenly opened his mouth and stuck out his tongue.

Commander Yin was surprised, and saw that the tip of the other party’s tongue suddenly broke up and down, and a cold light pierced through the center of the tip of the tongue! Commander Yin looked closely and found that it was the thin sword on Song Chenshi’s waist!

At this moment, the thin sword flew from nowhere, directly pierced through the back of his subordinate’s head, penetrated into his mouth, and pierced his entire tongue!

The subordinate didn’t even hum a sound, and was directly killed by a sword. Because the two were whispering before, the distance was very close, so at this moment, the tip of the thin sword was less than a few centimeters away from Commander Yin’s eyebrows.

As the body of the subordinate fell to his knees uncontrollably, all the Cavalry Guards were startled.

No one noticed the approach of the rapier. At this moment, Assistant Song was standing at the end of the platform a few hundred meters away. She turned around and looked at everyone, her hands on her shoulders, her expression grim.

Then, she spread out her right hand slightly and shouted softly, “Collect!”

The flying sword was pulled out of the mouth of the corpse, and a silver light flashed in the air on the platform. In the blink of an eye, she held it in her hand.

She casually put the rapier back into the scabbard at her waist and said coldly, “Anyone who discusses the superiors will be beheaded!”

Everyone was shocked by this scene and didn't know what to do. They stood there in a daze, not daring to move or speak.

Commander Yin swallowed his saliva, and his hatred for Song Chenshi intensified.

However, the opponent was indeed very powerful. He killed someone right under his nose, and he didn't even have a chance to react. If the sword had moved forward a little further, it would have pierced his head!

Therefore, under such circumstances, he dared not disobey Song Chenshi again, and hurriedly said: "It's okay for me to discipline you, please punish me!"

Song Chenshi sneered and said: "No need to punish me, since the usurper is dead, you should take it as a lesson. Before I leave here, I don't want to hear anyone say anything treasonous again. If there is a next time, Commander Yin will also be held responsible!"

Commander Yin quickly clasped his fists and said respectfully: "I thank Song Chenshi for letting me off. Please rest assured, I will never let this happen again!"

Song Chenshi said lightly: "Remember what you said."

After that, he turned around and disappeared at the end of the platform.

Although Song Chenshi left, others still did not dare to move rashly. After all, there was a body kneeling on the ground, and everyone didn't know what to do for a while.

Commander Yin took a look at the other's body, sighed, and said, "Come two people, carry Xiao Tang's body down, find a place with open feng shui, and let him rest in peace."

One person stepped forward and asked, "Commander, do you want to notify Xiao Tang's family to come and see him for the last time?"

Commander Yin sighed and waved his hand, saying, "No need. His parents are old and can't stand such a big blow. What's more, there will be a major blood transfusion soon. Everyone will be separated from their families. After separation, there will be no news."

It's better to hide it for a few days, and wait for the major blood transfusion to start. His family can still think that he is still alive, so that they can keep some thoughts."

When everyone heard this, they were all silent.

Many people even had tears in their eyes.

However, with the previous experience of Xiao Tang, no one dared to speak nonsense or speak rudely.

Seeing that everyone was in low spirits, Commander Yin said quickly, "Okay, two people go bury Xiao Tang, and the rest of you hurry up and unload the goods! Let's do a big blood transfusion, at least everyone and their families can still live, think positively, life is only 30,000 days, if you can't see him, then you can't see him!"

When everyone heard this, although they were extremely depressed, they didn't dare to delay any longer. Two people volunteered to carry Xiao Tang's body away from the platform, and the rest of the people began to move all the monitoring equipment from the carriage to the platform.

charlie Wade in the carriage didn't expect that the female monk would be so cruel. The cavalry guard just called her a bastard, and she took her life. However, through the process of the woman's action just now, charlie Wade could sense that the other party's cultivation was indeed much worse than his. Since she was the person with the highest status and the strongest strength here, the situation was completely under his control.

As for the big blood exchange they were discussing just now, charlie Wade also heard a general clue from the dead man's complaint. He thought that Po Qing would separate these cavalry guards from their families in order to tie them up tightly and completely cut off their thoughts of betrayal.

Using family members as a threat was indeed too cruel. Once the big blood exchange was completed, if he came to such a place again, he would definitely be attacked by all the cavalry guards.

Even if I tell them that I can help them detoxify and keep them from being controlled by the Poqing Society, what can I do?

As long as they dare to follow me, their families who are nowhere to be found will probably be slaughtered.

In this case, most people are probably unwilling to give up their relatives and survive alone.

Wu Feiyan's move is really cruel. It is not enough to control these cavalry guards. She also threatens them with their families and implements the collective responsibility system. She has already lost all her humanity.

charlie Wade's consciousness has been quietly staring at the deputy official Song until he left the refinery and came to the office building outside the refinery.

Commander Yin prepared an office for her here. All the list information of the cavalry guards and the family registration booklet were handed over to her. At present, she is drawing up the list of personnel and batches for the major blood transfusion.

charlie Wade could feel that when the deputy official Song just left, he was still staring at the cavalry guards on the platform with his spiritual energy, but now he has completely withdrawn his spiritual energy and no longer asks about what is happening there.

So, he also has his own plan.

While no one was paying attention to his carriage, he quietly used his spiritual energy to give Commander Yin a psychological hint, and then stepped out of the carriage and headed straight for Commander Yin.

charlie Wade suddenly came out of the carriage without any cover or psychological hints to others, which made several cavalry guards notice his presence. They were a little stunned for a while, not knowing where this strange face came from, but they soon realized that this person might be an outsider who sneaked in with the train, so they subconsciously moved towards charlie Wade.

charlie Wade had already come in front of Commander Yin at this time. He clasped his hands and said loudly: "Commander, I am back to report to you!"

The few people who noticed charlie Wade were about to come over to control him, and suddenly saw him reporting to Commander Yin, and were even more surprised for a while.

Duke Mining has nearly a thousand cavalry guards, including their families, there are as many as three or four thousand people. Although it is impossible to know every one of these cavalry guards, the dozens of cavalry guards in charge of the platform belong to the same organization and are familiar with each other. They have never seen charlie Wade's face.

However, when he reported to Commander Yin, he sounded like a comrade-in-arms, so I don't know if he is a brother from another organization.

So, several people looked at Commander Yin, waiting for his statement.

Commander Yin laughed at this time, stepped forward and patted charlie Wade's shoulder enthusiastically, and said loudly: "Good brother, you have been out for these years, it's really hard for you!"

After that, he said to the others around him: "Listen to me, this brother is my spy outside. Now that a major change is imminent, I will call him back from outside. There is a great chance that he can help us completely reverse the current situation. Don't tell anyone about this, especially that Song Chenshi, understand?"

When everyone heard this, they immediately let go of all their guard.

Moreover, after hearing Commander Yin say that charlie Wade might be able to completely reverse the current situation, everyone immediately asked with great expectation: "Commander, could this brother break the plan of this major change?!"

Commander Yin smiled and said: "Brothers, you can boldly look forward to it. In short, I, Yin, will definitely work hard for all the brothers here until my death. Brothers, please don't be pessimistic. As long as I am still here, we will definitely have a chance to turn the tables!"
