Chapter 7071

Song Ruyu nodded and said, “Mr. Wade, don’t worry. I won’t fall behind.”

charlie said to Abbas again, “Abbas, you will lead the team tonight. Take everyone to the food factory immediately after the explosion. Don’t wait for me. I will catch up with you.”

Abbas immediately said respectfully, “Okay, Mr. Wade!”

At ten o’clock in the evening.

Yin Xiaoyang received a call from a special envoy of Moore Trade. On the phone, he told Yin Xiaoyang that Moore Trade’s convoy had set off from Casablanca and was expected to arrive at Duke Mining on time.

At the same time, all the cavalry guards had made the final preparations before evacuation.

Yin Xiaoyang handed a remote control to charlie and said respectfully, “Mr. Wade, this is a detonator. Explosives are placed underground, in the factory, and in the office building. When you press the detonator, all the explosives will detonate at the same time.” The remote control device of the wireless detonator looks like an outdoor satellite phone. It is as big as a big brother in the 1990s. There is an LCD screen in the middle and a vertical high-power antenna on the top, which is much larger than the antenna of an ordinary walkie-talkie.

Yin Xiaoyang told charlie how to operate the detonator. After confirming that there were no problems with the unlocking and detonation process, he said to charlie, “Mr. Wade, please be careful.”

Abbas came to charlie and said respectfully, “Mr. Wade, I will go ahead with them. Please be careful!”

charlie nodded and said, “Be sure to pay attention along the way and don’t leave any traces or clues.”

“I understand!”

A few minutes later, Abbas left Duke Mining with Song Ruyu and a group of cavalry guards who held on to the end.

charlie was the only one left in the entire Duke Mining.

charlie came to the mining area of Duke Mining, found a tower with the best view, and waited there with the remote control.

Time passed by minute by minute.

At 11:45, a series of lights appeared at the end of the dark road in the distance, and a convoy of more than a dozen vehicles was driving towards the main gate of Duke Mining.

charlie, who was lying on the fence, smiled slightly and watched the long-awaited convoy getting closer and closer.

At this time, in front of the convoy, there was a Toyota Land Cruiser leading the way. Dong Mingchao, the person in charge of Moore Trade and the special envoy for Duke Mining, was sitting in the co-pilot seat.

In addition to him and the driver, there were three people sitting in the back seat. These people were the backbone of Moore Trade and Dong Mingchao's confidants.

Seeing that they were not far from Duke Mining, Dong Mingchao said, "You guys, cheer up for a while. This time, Duke Mining is not only about Yin Xiaoyang's group of cavalry guards, but also a gilded assistant from the Governor's Mansion. Perform well in front of the assistant and don't let her be dissatisfied with you."

Several people nodded immediately, and the driver said, "Don't worry, Special Envoy, we will definitely not let you down."

"Yeah." Dong Mingchao hummed with satisfaction, then looked around and asked in some confusion, "Doesn't Duke Mining work 24 hours a day? Why is the mining area so dark and all the lights have stopped?"

The amazing son in law - The Amazing Son In Law

Chapter 7072

The driver hurriedly asked, "Isn't there a major blood change tonight? It's normal to stop for a while. After sending this batch away, we have to wait for the next batch to be delivered. It's definitely more convenient to stop work for various scheduling arrangements."

"That's right." Dong Mingchao sighed and said, "The major blood change is indeed a bit cruel to these cavalry guards. I have been in contact with Yin Xiaoyang for many years and I have a good temper with this person. I feel bad about their change. Now I can only pray silently that it doesn't happen to us."

A man in the back seat asked nervously, "Sir, will it happen to us?"

“How should I know?” Dong Mingchao said helplessly: “For this kind of thing, they will tell me only if I need to cooperate with them. Otherwise, I won’t get any news. If it really happens to us one day, we can only obey.”

The man said sadly: “My son is not even one year old yet. If it really happens to us, we may never see him again in this life...”

Dong Mingchao coughed twice and said: “Ahem, okay, there is no point in saying these nonsense. Just listen to the arrangements of the Lord. Before a clear order comes down, cherish the days ahead.”

Several people nodded dejectedly.

At this time, the first car had arrived at the gate of Duke Mining.

Although Duke Mining was brightly lit at this time, there was no one guarding the gate. When the convoy came, no one came to verify the situation or open the door, which made Dong Mingchao a little confused.

He frowned and looked at the brightly lit gate, muttering: “What’s wrong with this Yin Xiaoyang? Could it be that he started to slack off when he knew he was going to be replaced?”

After that, he took out his mobile phone and called Yin Xiaoyang.

At this moment, Charlie’s eyes were fixed on the convoys that stopped one by one at the gate of Duke Mining, and his fingers had unlocked the detonator.

He did not have anyone install explosives near the gate, so once detonated, it would not hurt the people in the convoy. Charlie intended to keep them alive so that they could pass the first-hand news to the Right Army Governor’s Office and Sara.

In the Land Cruiser, Dong Mingchao frowned and murmured, “Strange, not answering the phone, the deputy is still here, could these guys have mutinied?!”

“Mutiny?” The driver couldn’t help but say, “Without an antidote, what’s the point of mutiny? After the mutiny, they and their families will all die within a week without the British lord sending people to clear them out.”

“That’s right...” Dong Mingchao kept sucking his teeth, making a tut-tut sound, and muttered, “What’s going on?”

Just after he finished speaking, he lowered his head and suddenly felt that the front was as bright as day. Everyone subconsciously looked up and saw that a huge fire suddenly burst out from inside Duke Mining!

Dong Mingchao yelled subconsciously: “Oh my god! Back up quickly...!”

Before he finished speaking, the explosion and the blast wave came together!

The huge blast wave directly overturned the wall of Duke Mining, shaking all the vehicles violently, and even the front glass was shattered by the blast wave!

Dong Mingchao didn't care about the wounds on his face caused by the glass, and quickly pushed the door and got out of the car. Seeing that the entire Duke Mining had been engulfed in a sea of fire, he was shocked and stood there!

At this time, the office building that was blown up collapsed in a sea of fire in an instant!

Dong Mingchao quickly stretched out his hand to cover the debris flying in the distance, and shouted to the car: "Quick, export the video in the dashcam and send it to me! I will report to the Tongzhi now!"

The huge factory suddenly exploded and caught fire in front of him, and was completely engulfed in flames. Although Dong Mingchao was shocked, he also knew in his heart that such a big thing must be reported to the higher-ups as soon as possible.

At this time, the heavy machinery also began to explode and catch fire continuously, and some even threw burning fuel tanks and mechanical parts into the sky. The entire Duke Mining was like a huge fireworks show.

The violent explosions continued. Dong Mingchao took pictures while dodging various debris falling from the sky, and then immediately called his superior, a Tongzhi who was in charge of all resident envoys.

The Tongzhi was guarding the exchange plate tonight in the office of the Governor's Office.

On the big screen in front of him, multiple garrisons of the Right Army Governor's Office were marked on the map, presented in the form of a bright spot. Above each bright spot, there were two arcs, each connected to another different bright spot, one of which was marked with an outward arrow, and the other was marked with an inward arrow.

The outward arrows represent the destinations of the first batch of Cavalry Guards to be replaced from this garrison, and the arrows inward represent the departure points of the first batch of Cavalry Guards to be replaced from this garrison.

Since the garrisons of the Right Army Governor's Office are all in Europe and Africa, and the time difference is not large, the first batch of exchanges will be completed within the next six hours, and his most important task today is to ensure that the first batch of exchanges is completed on time and smoothly.

Just as he was waiting for the envoys to report that the first batch of exchange members were ready to leave, Dong Mingchao called.

When he received the call from Dong Mingchao at this time, he was a little uneasy, because according to the agreed time, all garrisons would start ten minutes later, which is midnight Moroccan time.

At present, the first batch of Cavalry Guards from various places have not yet set off, so why did the Moroccan envoy call?

Despite his nervousness, he immediately answered the phone and asked, "What's the matter? Call me now?"

Dong Mingchao dodged the debris of the explosion and shouted, "Something big has happened, Mr. Tongzhi! Duke Mining... Duke Mining has exploded into a sea of fire!"

"What?!" The Tongzhi suddenly felt as if he had fallen into an ice cellar. He jumped up from his chair and shouted, "What's going on?! Is there a safety accident?!"

"No!" Dong Mingchao looked at the flames in front of him and murmured, "This... this doesn't look like an accident. Everything is burned down. The office building, refinery, warehouse, dormitory, oh yes, the office building seems to have collapsed..."

"Shit!" The Tongzhi said in a panic, "Could it be... Could it be the same as Cyprus?!"

Dong Mingchao is the special envoy to Morocco. Although he has heard about what happened in Cyprus, most of it was from outside news. He doesn't know the specific situation, so he didn't dare to respond casually at this moment.

After thinking for a moment, he said to the Tongzhi, "Sir, I have a live video here. The explosion happened after we arrived. The driving records in the car should be very clear. I will export it and send it to you!"

The Tongzhi hurriedly said, "Quick! Send it to me!"

Dong Mingchao immediately said, "Okay, sir, please wait."

After that, he hurriedly said, "By the way, sir, I think the enemy may be watching nearby. Do you want me to take people to evacuate first?"

The Tongzhi blurted out, "You stay where you are and wait for me to ask the commander-in-chief!"

After the Tongzhi finished speaking, he hung up the phone directly.

Dong Mingchao was speechless at this time.

He was very familiar with the situation of Duke Mining. There were more than 10,000 people including the Cavalry Guards, the Death Guards and their relatives. Since the other party could wipe out the entire Duke Mining, the few people he brought were not enough. Now he must have been exposed. If he was still allowed to wait here, what was the difference between waiting to die.

Dong Mingchao was speechless at this time.

Since the other party could wipe out the entire Duke Mining, the few people he brought were not enough. Now he must have been exposed. If he was still allowed to wait here, what was the difference between waiting to die.

However, since the Tongzhi had said so, he had no choice but to urge the driver to quickly send him the video taken by the dashcam, and at the same time, he also sent all the content he had just taken when he got off the car to the Tongzhi.

At this time, the Tongzhi did not contact the Grand Commander Wu Shutong immediately. He was not at the scene and had not seen the situation on the scene. He did not dare to report casually. He had to wait until he saw the situation on the scene before reporting to Wu Shutong.

Soon, two videos of the scene were sent to his mobile phone.

When he saw the video, he was already on pins and needles.

I never expected that the scene of Duke Mining would be so tragic. Judging from the degree of damage, the entire Duke Mining has been completely ruined.

The loss of a dead soldier station is already very heavy. The key is whether those cavalry guards and dead soldiers have disappeared like the station in Cyprus.

So, he did not dare to delay for a moment and called Wu Shutong immediately.

At this time, Wu Shutong was still suffering in the oil fields in Nigeria.

Just when he was lying in bed tossing and turning, his mobile phone suddenly rang.

Wu Shutong picked up the phone and saw that it was Sun Tongzhi, one of the two Tongzhis of the Right Army Governor's Office. He answered the call and asked him directly: "Tongzhi Sun, what's the matter so late?"

Sun Tongzhi said on the other end of the phone in a voice that was almost crying: "Grand Commander, it's bad! Something big has happened!"

Wu Shutong's heart skipped a beat and he sat up suddenly, asking subconsciously: "Something big has happened? What big thing has happened? Where did it happen?!"

Sun Tongzhi hurriedly said: "Something big has happened at Duke Mining in Morocco! I think it's probably the same as the situation in Cyprus!"

"What?!" Wu Shutong suddenly felt a blackout in front of his eyes and he almost fell backwards onto the bed uncontrollably. Fortunately, he stretched out his hand to support himself and stabilized his body.

He subconsciously said, "How could it be Duke Mining?! Even if something went wrong, shouldn't it be Nigeria?! Shouldn't it be this shitty oil field where this governor is?! How did they find Morocco?!"

Sun Tongzhi hurriedly said, "Replying to the Grand Governor, I don't understand either!"

Wu Shutong quickly asked, "You... what you said... is the situation true?!"

Sun Tong knew, “It’s absolutely true! The Moroccan envoy just went there to take the first batch of the cavalry guards to the airport. As soon as he arrived, the entire Duke Mining exploded into a sea of fire, and the building collapsed! I will send you the live video now!”

“Quick, quick, quick!” Wu Shutong urged impatiently, “Send me the video quickly!”

Wu Shutong did not hang up the phone, but kept staring at the internal dedicated software, waiting for the video sent by Sun Tongzhi.

The thirty seconds of waiting were the most tormenting thirty seconds Wu Shutong had ever experienced in his life.

When the video came, he clicked it and felt a burst of anger in his stomach rushing to the top of his head!

Duke Mining in the video was already a purgatory. He was extremely shocked and murmured, “It’s over now... That mysterious man must have seen through the Lord’s mind and knew that the Lord had an ambush here, so he didn’t come to Nigeria at all, but instead destroyed the Moroccan base. If the Lord knew, he would be furious. I don’t know if he would blame me for not doing my job well...”

As he said that, he suddenly woke up with a start and subconsciously yelled to Sun Tongzhi, “Oh no! Song Qianshi was at Duke Mining before! Quick! Send someone in to see if she is still there! Quick!!

At this time, Duke Mining was on fire.

When Dong Mingchao received an order from Sun Tongzhi to go in and find the whereabouts of Song Qianshi, he was stunned for three seconds.

Looking at the raging fire, he murmured, "How the hell do I get in?"

As he was speaking, the huge steel structure of the refinery was severely deformed due to high-temperature fatigue of the metal, and then it collapsed with a loud bang. A huge sound wave came over, and the fire in the factory was briefly suppressed by the collapsed roof, and then it quickly rose into the air, and the flames burned higher than the original factory.

Dong Mingchao hesitated again and again, and could only shoot a video to reply to Sun Tongzhi: "Mr. Tongzhi, it's not that I don't want to go in, the key is that the fire is too big, and I can't get close at all!"

The situation was passed on by Sun Tongzhi and reported to the Grand Commander Wu Shutong.

Wu Shutong saw the fire and knew that it was a pipe dream to go in and find someone. The crematorium's incinerator was probably not as hot as Duke Mining's. The most urgent thing now was to report the situation to the Lord. As for Song Ruyu, she could only wish for good luck.

But when he thought of such a big problem under his rule, Wu Shutong was very timid. If he was really punished, he didn't know how to punish him.

However, he knew in his heart that he had to report truthfully no matter how scared he was, otherwise he would be charged with another crime of delaying military intelligence.

So he could only pick up his phone and call the chief steward of the Lord, Jadiel.

Jadiel, who was more than a hundred years old, had been with Sara for nearly a hundred years. He knew Po Qinghui and Sara very well. He knew that starting tonight, the Right Army Governor's Office would take the lead in changing blood, and now the three elders were also on the territory of the Right Army Governor's Office. It must be no good for the Grand Governor Wu Shutong to call him at this time.

Jadiel, who had a bad feeling, sent a message as soon as the call was connected: "Shutong, what happened?"

"Grandfather..." Wu Shutong cried with a choked voice, and said: "It's over, Grandfather, there is a problem with the death squad station under my grandson's command, almost the same as the one in Cyprus..."

Jadiel is the eldest son of the Wu family.

Sara brought him to her side, led him to enlightenment, guaranteed his longevity, and cultivated him as a confidant, but Jadiel also lost the right to reproduce.

Although he is not a eunuch, Sara does not allow him to marry and have children. This is the price he has to pay for Sara's training.

With Sara as an example, Jadiel has no interest in mundane things such as marrying and having children. It is better to follow Sara and seek immortality. If Sara dies of old age and he is still alive, he can inherit the Poqing Society and become the next leader.

Wu Shutong and other descendants of the Wu family are actually the bloodline left by Jadiel's younger brothers.

It is natural to call him grandpa.

Hearing that something happened in the garrison, Jadiel immediately asked: "That man is moving again?! Didn't he go to Nigeria?!"

"No!" Wu Shutong said very aggrievedly: "The mysterious man seems to have seen through our thoughts. He has not come to Nigeria for such a long time. Although the three elders are in seclusion, they take turns to use spiritual energy to explore the surroundings almost every hour. They have never found any cultivators coming. Just now, my grandson received news that the Moroccan death camp has been destroyed, and even Song Ruyu is missing..."

Jadiel exclaimed: "What did you say?! Song Ruyu is also there?! Isn't she in the governor's mansion?! How could she be there?!"

At this time, Duke Mining was on fire.

Jadiel is the eldest son of the Wu family.

Sara brought him to her side, led him to enlightenment, guaranteed his longevity, and cultivated him as a confidant, but Jadiel also lost the right to reproduce.

Although he is not a eunuch, Sara does not allow him to marry and have children. This is the price he has to pay for Sara's training.

With Sara as an example, Jadiel has no interest in mundane things such as marrying and having children. It is better to follow Sara and seek immortality. If Sara dies of old age and he is still alive, he can inherit the Poqing Society and become the next leader.

Wu Shutong and other descendants of the Wu family are actually the bloodline left by Jadiel's younger brothers.

It is natural to call him grandpa.

Hearing that something happened in the garrison, Jadiel immediately asked: "That man is moving again?! Didn't he go to Nigeria?!"

"No!" Wu Shutong said very aggrievedly: "The mysterious man seems to have seen through our thoughts. He has not come to Nigeria for such a long time. Although the three elders are in seclusion, they take turns to use spiritual energy to explore the surroundings almost every hour. They have never found any cultivators coming. Just now, my grandson received news that the Moroccan death camp has been destroyed, and even Song Ruyu is missing..."

Jadiel exclaimed: "What did you say?! Song Ruyu is also there?! Isn't she in the governor's mansion?! How could she be there?!"

Wu Shutong explained, "My grandson wanted her to go out and see the world and gain some experience. I thought it was just a formality, but I didn't expect to encounter such a thing..."

Jadiel paced back and forth in the room anxiously, and said angrily and hatefully, "You...you are confused! Song Ruyu's talent is rare among millions of people. The Lord has long wanted to bring her to his side to train her, but the Lord has not been able to take care of her for some time, so he asked you to temporarily settle her in the Governor's Mansion. How could you send her out?!"

"I..." Wu Shutong didn't know how to explain for a moment.

Arranging Song Ruyu to Duke Mining was completely to get close to Song Ruyu and pamper her like his own niece. He thought she must be bored in the Governor's Mansion all day long. She only had the identity of a deputy, but she could not find the kind of existence that everyone bowed to, so he took the initiative to arrange her to Morocco for a stroll. It was said to be a mission, but in fact it was just to let her take a vacation and find a sense of superiority.

I thought that with her ability, it would be easy for her to carry out such a mission in Morocco, but who would have thought that such a thing would happen.

It felt like a boss wanted to please his top salesperson and arranged for her to go on a trip at public expense, but she didn't expect that she would have a plane crash. This feeling made him regret it.

But it was useless to regret now. The thing had already happened. The only thing he could do was to ask the British Lord for instructions. If the British Lord punished him, he would accept it quickly to avoid penalty interest if he delayed for too long. If the British Lord had any other instructions, he would do it quickly, maybe he would have a chance to make up for his mistakes.

Jadiel was also a little panicked. He whispered, "Shutong, the Lord Ying is very confident about the layout of Nigeria. She has been waiting for the good news of the three elders' victory in recent days. If she knew that all the plans had been seen through by the enemy, and that the enemy had stolen another base, and even lost the genius Song Ruyu, she would definitely be furious..."

Wu Shutong was even more panicked and asked quickly, "Then what should I do, Grandpa... I... I really can't do it! I have been in Nigeria these days and dare not leave, but you also know the strength of my subordinates. There are not many real cultivators, and their strength levels are relatively low. The mysterious man is powerful, and the four earls can't do anything to him. I don't have anyone who can match him. No matter which base he goes to outside Nigeria, The ending is the same..."

Jadiel asked him: "The garrison under your command should strictly implement the confidentiality plan and not disclose any clues to the outside world. Why did he find it? This alone can cure you of a serious negligence!"

Wu Shutong cried and said: "Grandpa, this... this can't be blamed on me... That person has great magical powers. No matter how careful I am, I can't hide it from him!"

As he said, he asked in panic: "By the way, Grandpa... If the other party knew that Nigeria was a trap a long time ago, then... Then would he have been secretly monitoring this place? ! The three elders are here now. If they are targeted, then... Wouldn't it be endless trouble? ! "

Wu Shutong's heart skipped a beat and he blurted out: "It's bad! This might be too passive! You wait, I'll go and ask the Lord of England!"
