Chapter 7093

At this moment in the food factory, more than 10,000 people are queuing up to receive the antidote that can remove the toxins in their bodies.

After Cyprus, charlie Wade also witnessed the strong discipline of these death warriors, cavalry guards, and their families again.

Even for the long-awaited antidote, everyone completely followed the order and lined up silently. Their leaders warned them to keep quiet, so no one really spoke at the scene, not even whispering. There were more than 10,000 people at the scene, only the sound of clothes rubbing against each other when queuing slowly, and the sound of light footsteps.

In order to prepare the antidote for them, charlie Wade almost used up all the pills he brought with him.

If these pills are calculated based on the value of hundreds of billions of dollars per rejuvenation pill, I am afraid that the world's rich people will be willing to pay trillions or even more US dollars.

However, for charlie Wade, he naturally would not care so much about the cost gains and losses. The pills can be refined again, but the opportunity to save more than 10,000 people may never come again.

Once the Qing-breaking Society completes the major blood transfusion between the various garrisons, most of the Cavalry Guards will probably fight to the death with the invaders for their families. Even if the invaders bring the antidote to save them, they will most likely not abandon their families and live alone.

After receiving the antidote, everyone took it on the spot as required. It is not known whether it was agreed in advance or organized spontaneously. After taking the antidote and returning to the queue, they knelt on one knee without saying a word.

After everyone received the antidote and took it, the entire factory area was already full of people kneeling in a square formation.

Everyone knelt down in unison, looking up at charlie Wade in front of them, their eyes full of gratitude and respect.

Yin Xiaoyang, the commander of the Cavalry Guard, stepped forward, knelt on one knee in front of charlie Wade, and said solemnly: "Mr. Wade, I and all the brothers of the Cavalry Guard and the Death Warriors are willing to follow Mr. Wade all our lives and go through fire and water for him!”

charlie Wade smiled and said, “I am not a warlord, nor a bandit leader. If it weren’t for the Po Qing Society killing my parents, I would not want to be involved in these right and wrongs. The same goes for you. If you hadn’t been coerced by the Po Qing Society for generations, you would not be willing to become someone else’s killer and pawn. Starting tonight, we will send you to a safe place. If I, Ye, need your help one day, it must be to deal with our common enemy. If Po Qing will be wiped out one day, you and your families will be completely free. Where to go and what to do, wade will not interfere. “

No one does not want to have an army composed of Xiaoqi Guards and death warriors. They are masters who have been tempered and even trained in inhumane ways. They are real killing machines. Even if they are made into mercenaries and sent out to make money, they can create a steady stream of wealth.

However, charlie Wade is the only one who does not have any greed for such an army. Once Po Qing will be eradicated by himself, he does not even want to keep Wanlong Hall in his hands. At that time, he will give these Xiaoqi Guards, death warriors, and even the Wan Po Army and tens of thousands of soldiers in the entire Wanlong Hall complete freedom.

Yin Xiaoyang was moved and said respectfully: “I have ordered everyone not to speak, so I will speak for you. Mr. Wade has given us a new life. Whether Mr. Wade can use us or not, we will always follow Mr. Wade’s orders. At any time and in any matter, as long as Mr. Wade speaks, we dare not disobey! This promise will not only be kept by us, but also by our descendants!”

After speaking, he clasped his hands and raised them above his head.

In the factory, a gust of wind suddenly rose, which was the strong wave caused by everyone clasping their hands and raising them above their heads at the same time.

charlie Wade knew that this promise was more important than Mount Tai. Although he was unlikely to use them, this promise was still touching. So he did not shirk it, nodded slightly, and said, “Then I would like to thank you all first!”

After that, he said to Yin Xiaoyang, “Commander Yin, you will make a list of the first batch of evacuees tonight and be ready before dark.”

Yin Xiaoyang immediately said, “I obey your orders!”

At this time, a soldier from the Wanlong Hall came in quickly and said to charlie Wade and Li Yalin, “Mr. Wade, Inspector Li, a car is coming, and there is only the driver in the car.”

Li Yalin immediately asked vigilantly, “Are you sure there is only one person?”

The soldier said, “Yes, our soldiers have sentries at the commanding heights, and they can see everything clearly within a radius of ten kilometers. There is indeed only one person and one car.”

As he said that, his satellite phone suddenly vibrated, and he immediately turned on the phone, and a picture was transmitted to his phone via satellite.

That photo was a photo of the driver’s face captured by the sentry with a high-power camera.

Li Yalin took a look and breathed a sigh of relief. He said, “This man is the former boss of the food factory. He is probably here to see the progress of the upgrade.”

After that, Li Yalin said, “Notify the brothers outside. If he is just observing around, don’t worry about him. If he wants to peek inside, don’t worry about him as long as he doesn’t come in. If he wants to come in, stop him. If he says he wants to come to me, I will go out to meet him.”

“Okay, Inspector Li!”

The soldiers of Wanlong Hall immediately conveyed Li Yalin’s order. At this moment, the factory director was driving and humming a cheerful little song.

Since the factory was sold, he has thoroughly felt the joy of retirement. He doesn’t have to get up early every day, communicate with suppliers, or rack his brains to supervise employees to prevent them from being lazy and stealing.

Chapter 7094

No wonder everyone likes to lie down. It turns out that lying down is more comfortable than standing when there is no shortage of food and drink.

However, because he still had a lot of final payments to receive, he was also somewhat curious about the progress of the factory’s upgrade and transformation. Moreover, when Li Yalin took over the food factory, he left him a bug, that is, once Li Yalin’s capital chain had problems and he defaulted, he could get a deposit of 100,000 US dollars for nothing. Therefore, his mood at this time was very contradictory. On the one hand, he hoped that Li Yalin would quickly give him the final payment, and on the other hand, he hoped that Li Yalin would just default directly.

However, these two contradictory moods were good for him, so no matter how the situation developed, he could get more benefits. The only worry was that things would not develop further.

Because of this, he couldn't help but want to come and see the situation and see if the transformation and upgrading were going smoothly.

Originally, he thought that the factory was now a scene of great enthusiasm, but he didn't expect that when he was about to arrive, he found that the entire factory gate was closed, and there was no car at the door. It looked like it was directly closed.

He parked the car at the gate, then got out of the car, stopped and pricked up his ears to listen for a while, but he didn't hear any movement inside.

He was immediately delighted, thinking to himself: "Could it be that the guy's funding chain is really broken? Otherwise, there is no reason why he hasn't started work in so many days. Even if he has to wait for the equipment, at least he should dismantle the original equipment and renovate the civil engineering structure first?"

In doubt, he hurried to the door and saw that the door was locked from the inside, so he lay outside the iron door and looked inside.

At this time, a man came out and frowned and asked: "What do you do?"

The boss hurriedly said: "I am the boss here, oh no, it's the previous boss. Your person in charge still owes me a lot of balance, so I came to see."

The man said: "You want to see our person in charge, right? Wait a minute, I'll call him."

After that, he turned around and walked back.

Soon, Li Yalin came out.

Seeing the boss, he asked curiously through the iron gate: "Why are you here?"

The boss said with a smile: "I just went out to do something, and passed by here to see how the progress is. After all, this is also the hard work of half my life."

Then he asked Li Yalin: "By the way, why haven't you started the work yet? I thought the upgrade and renovation had already started."

Li Yalin pretended to be depressed and said: "Don't mention it. One of my partners had some problems and wanted to withdraw. I am doing his work these two days and contacting other people to see if I can get a new partner. But don't worry, anyway, our contract is for two months, and I will definitely pay you the balance within two months."

"Yes, yes, yes." The boss said with a smile, "I'm not worried that you won't pay the final payment, I just want to see how this place will be renovated specifically."

Li Yalin nodded, pretending to be unsure but pretending to be calm, "If everything goes well, in another three to five days, we can almost start construction. I have paid you all the flexible funds on hand. Now we just need the funds from our partners to start construction, and then I will gradually invest the funds from my other projects when they are settled. I think there should be no problem."

After that, Li Yalin said, "But don't worry, haven't I already given you 200,000? If the funding problem can't be solved, 100,000 of the 200,000 will be your liquidated damages."

The boss saw that Li Yalin seemed to have something to hide, and felt that this matter might not be as easy as Li Yalin said, and he felt a little excited.

The factory was transferred in just a few days. He smiled and said, "You are so capable, there will be no problem. I am relieved."

After that, he didn't want to stay here any longer, so he said to Li Yalin, "I have something else to do, so I have to leave first. I just squeezed out time to come and see you today. If you need any help, you can call me and I will definitely help you if I can."

Li Yalin nodded and said, "Okay, you just wait for my news about the money. Anyway, I can run away, but I can't. The factory hasn't been transferred yet. Even if you can't pay the balance, the factory is still yours. You can rest assured."

When the boss heard this, he felt that Li Yalin seemed to have encountered great difficulties. He was overjoyed and said with a smile, "I'm relieved, I'm definitely relieved! That's it for now. You are busy, I'm leaving!"

Seeing the boss driving away, Charlie Wade walked out of the factory. Charlie Wade walked out and stood beside Li Yalin and said, "Inspector Li, this man seems very happy."

Li Yalin nodded and said, "He must think I'm in trouble. I just said that we should be able to start construction in three to five days. He will definitely remember it and come back to have a look in three to five days. If we can evacuate before then, when he comes next time, this place will be deserted. By that time, I'm afraid he will be grinning from ear to ear!"

Charlie Wade smiled and said, "Inspector Li's move is really a stroke of genius. We suddenly disappeared, and he got an extra $100,000. By then, he will definitely keep his mouth shut more than anyone else."

Li Yalin smiled and said, "Don't worry, Mr. Wade, he will keep this matter to himself and won't tell his own father even if he comes. As soon as we leave, he will definitely arrange for the workers to resume work immediately. By then, there will be no worries!"

Chapter 7095

Although Morocco is not big, it is not small for hundreds of people.

Most of Wu Shutong's attention has been distracted by the so-called clues in Casablanca. It is basically impossible for the remaining people to find the food factory chosen by Li Yalin in a short time.

That night, Li Yalin began to evacuate these cavalry guards, death soldiers and their families in batches according to the established plan.

The food factory seemed to be empty during the day, but under the cover of night, one by one, the figures in black robes left in an orderly manner like a forced march, and got on the vehicles that had been prepared a kilometer away.

Afterwards, cars of people were quietly transported to the fishing port in the northeast.

The management of the northeast coast of Morocco has always been lax, and there are many fishing boats, so the army and anti-smuggling departments can't keep an eye on it. In addition, most of Morocco's local specialties are minerals, which are products with very low unit quality prices and can only generate profits in large quantities. Therefore, there is a default habit on the northeast coastline, which is to only care about inbound and not outbound.

There is nothing good to export, so there is no worry about smuggling out of the country. Their energy is focused on the entry line.

The evacuation route arranged by Li Yalin just perfectly matched the official habits.

When the fishing boats went out to sea, even if they happened to pass by the anti-smuggling ship, the person in charge would not even take a second look. However, when a ship entered the port, they would randomly board the ship for spot checks to see if there were any goods smuggled into the country.

Boat after boat of people left the Moroccan fishing port and met the freighter that passed by at the right time on the route. Then, the strong death soldiers, cavalry guards and soldiers of the Wanlong Hall, with the elderly, weak women and children, carried people on the freighter without stopping the freighter. In this way, even if the people of the Poqing Society checked all the freighters passing by, these freighters did not slow down or stop throughout the journey, and they could not find any suspicious clues at all.

The efficient operation mode sent away one-fifth of the people in one night, but Li Yalin was still not satisfied. He hoped that the speed could be as fast as possible, so he led Wan Pojun and Yin Xiaoyang to reorganize and optimize the entire process to make the entire link more compact and efficient.

So, on the second night, a quarter of the total number of people were successfully sent away.

Although the remaining people could not be sent away in one night, two nights were more than enough.

At this time, the troops of the Tiger Guards of the Right Military Governor's Office had not even completed the inspection of the ten-kilometer radius around Duke Mining.

According to this progress, they would need at least two months to inspect the food factory.

When the fourth night came, Li Yalin prepared to send all the remaining people on board according to the plan.

At the same time, he received an early warning message from Ai, so he immediately found charlie Wade and reported: "Mr. Wade, Ai has found something in Naples." charlie Wade asked: "What did you find?"

Li Yalin said: "Didn't Miss Song say that the headquarters of the Right Army Governor's Office is in Naples, so I specially asked Ai to pay attention to all the information that can be obtained in Naples. It just so happens that our vending machines have also covered Naples Airport. Ai used the data uploaded by the vending machines in real time to analyze the daily passenger flow of Naples Airport by counting heads and recording faces to remove duplication. It turned out that the passenger flow in Naples in the past two days was much higher than the previous two days. It was also a weekday. The daily passenger flow was about 26,000 to 28,000 people. The passenger flow in the past two days was about 29,000 to 30,000 people."

charlie Wade frowned and said: "The passenger flow has increased by less than five percentage points. It's not outrageous if you look at it alone. Are there any other clues?"

"Yes." Li Yalin said: "Although the overall passenger flow has only increased by a few percentage points, the passenger flow to Spain has increased by 60%! On previous working days, there were only seven or eight hundred passengers going to Spain every day, but in the past two days, it has soared to more than a thousand people."

"Oh?" charlie Wade became interested and asked him with a smile: "How did Ai come to this conclusion? Did it hack into the information of Naples Airport?"
