

The amazing son in law - The Amazing Son In Law

Chapter 7132

As he spoke, he suddenly thought of something and said, “Oh, Miss Lin, you said before that cultivators who failed in the tribulation can disintegrate into a scattered immortal. Are scattered immortals like ghosts, invisible and intangible to ordinary people or cultivators with insufficient cultivation? If so, then I can’t be targeted by a scattered immortal, right?”

Lin Wan’er (Alani) said, “The term ‘loose immortal’ is just a legend I found in some rare and unofficial history books. I don’t have any evidence to prove its existence. Moreover, the probability of surviving the tribulation is one in a hundred, and the remaining ninety-nine will basically end up being reduced to ashes. The probability of being able to disintegrate into a loose immortal in time after failing the tribulation is probably even smaller than the probability of successfully passing the tribulation, so we shouldn’t be so lucky to bump into one, right? Moreover, according to the records in the book, although a loose immortal is forced to disintegrate, his strength is second only to that of a cultivator who successfully passed the tribulation. The reason why he is called a loose immortal is because he is an immortal trapped in the mortal world.”

At this point, Lin Wan’er (Alani) looked at Charlie Wade and said cautiously: “Sir, I don’t mean anything else... Even if we really met an immortal in Northern Europe, that immortal would not look down on the spiritual energy in your body...”

Charlie Wade nodded in agreement: “Meng Changsheng (Willie) has been practicing for a thousand years and still hasn’t reached the stage of transcending tribulation. This shows that cultivators in the stage of transcending tribulation are extremely powerful, not to mention the Loose Immortals. It is very likely that even Meng Changsheng (Willie) cannot be considered by the Loose Immortals, let alone someone like me.”

Lin Wan’er (Alani) continued, “In this way, we can basically rule out people or ghosts, so the only possibility is ‘things’. And if it is a thing, it is definitely not an ordinary thing. The ring left by my father can’t do this. So the ‘thing’ behind this is very likely to be much more powerful than that ring. Sir, you should think about it carefully. Have you come into contact with any magic weapon? Could it be that the magic weapon is left in your body or even hidden in your sea of consciousness?”

Charlie Wade racked his brains for a long time and muttered, “To be honest, I haven’t seen many good things since I started practicing. There is really nothing that can be related to this matter.”

As he spoke, he also thought of the Four-sided Treasure Banner, so he subconsciously said, “If I were to talk about the best things I’ve ever seen, the Four-sided Treasure Banner would definitely be one of them. It was a national treasure created by Master Xuanzang and countless monks, but I have already returned the Four-sided Treasure Banner intact.”

Although the Four-sided Treasure Pagoda is a magic weapon, it is a Feng Shui treasure built for the country's destiny, and Charlie Wade has quietly returned it to the country. Charlie Wade never found any abnormalities in it during his contact with it, and naturally he did not believe that this incident was related to the Four-sided Treasure Pagoda.

Lin Wan'er (Alani) did not give up and asked Charlie Wade: "Sir, when you were in contact with the Four-sided Treasure Tower, did you find any abnormalities in the Four-sided Treasure Tower that you did not understand?"

"No." Charlie Wade shook his head and said, "Besides transmitting to me a video of that year, there is nothing special about the Four Directions Treasure Tower. Moreover, when I entered it with my spiritual energy, I only activated one of the formations that hid the video. In theory, it was like the Four Directions Treasure Tower played a documentary recorded on it for me. Apart from that, I had no other interaction with it, and I didn't notice anything special about it."

Lin Wan'er (Alani) asked, "Since then, have you discovered anything unusual about yourself?"

"No." Charlie Wade said confidently: "My consciousness withdrew from the Four-sided Treasure Tower after watching that video footage, and I didn't find anything unusual."

Lin Wan'er (Alani) said, "The Four-sided Treasure Banner was jointly created by Master Xuanzang and the top monks of the Tang Dynasty. To a certain extent, it can be considered a Buddhist instrument, and what we saw in the sky above Northern Europe was also a Buddhist handprint. Maybe there is really some connection between the two."

Although Charlie Wade could not sense any existence related to the Four-sided Treasure Tower, Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s mention of this did make him a little suspicious, so he said, "So, the Four-sided Treasure Tower is a little suspicious. Logically speaking, there are no countries in Europe that believe in Buddhism. Even if there are strange phenomena in the sky near the Arctic Circle in Northern Europe, the aurora should turn into a Christian cross, not a Buddhist swastika. But I really don't feel anything related to the Four-sided Treasure Tower. I am really confused."

Lin Wan'er (Alani) asked him, "Sir, how about I contact Old Sun and see if I can arrange for you to take another look at the Four-sided Treasure Tower to see if there are any details that were missed at the beginning?"
