

The amazing son in law - The Amazing Son In Law

Chapter 7140

Lin Wan'er (Alani) said: "The speed of computer improvement in recent years can be said to be the Big Bang of the universe. Maybe the problem of computing power will be solved in a few years."

"That makes sense." Li Yalin smiled and said: "I won't worry about my colleagues all over the world. I believe that it won't be long before the computing power they can allocate will increase exponentially."

Then he said: "Ms. Lin, Mr. Wade, if there is nothing else, I will hurry up and implement Miss Lin's idea and try to put it into use as quickly as possible!"

charlie Wade looked at Lin Wan'er (Alani) and gave her a thumbs up, then said to Li Yalin: "Okay, Inspector Li, you go ahead and we will contact you if we have something." After hanging up the phone, charlie Wade couldn't help asking Lin Wan'er (Alani): "Ms. Lin, the university and major that Inspector Li is going to recommend you, you must have studied it a long time ago, right?"

Lin Wan'er (Alani) has lived for so many years, and she doesn't know how many degrees she has obtained. It is not strange that she studied criminology when she has nothing to do.

When Lin Wan'er (Alani) heard charlie Wade's question, she smiled and said: "I have studied in school, but not in the major. "

After that, Lin Wan'er (Alani) explained in detail: "The UCI that Inspector Li mentioned is the University of California, Irvine. The predecessor of the University of California was called California College. I was the first student of the California College and the first Chinese student."

charlie Wade nodded as if he was not surprised, and said with a smile: "I guessed that you must have some connection with this school."

After that, charlie Wade asked her: "By the way, in which year did you study at that California College?"

Lin Wan'er (Alani) thought for a long time, and said uncertainly: "It's been a while, and I don't remember it very clearly, but it was before the Civil War, because I left North America after the Civil War broke out. "

As she spoke, she hesitated and said, "It should be 1854 or 1855..."

charlie Wade couldn't help coughing twice, and said awkwardly, "Ahem... I knew this would be a long time ago, but I didn't expect it to be so far away..."

Lin Wan'er (Alani) smiled and said, "Although you think it's a long time ago, even at that time, I was already more than 200 years old. It was also around that time that many state universities were established in the United States. I was really bored, so I applied to some schools to study. Because my appearance has not changed, I dare not study in college for too long. I can only finish the courses as quickly as possible, and then move to the next place and find the next university, just as a pastime on the road to escape."

As she spoke, Lin Wan'er (Alani) said, "By the way, there is a photo of the first batch of students and teachers in the historical archives of this school. I am in it, but the photo is too old and the clarity is not enough. I guess you won't recognize me when you see it."

charlie Wade was able to recognize Lin Wan'er (Alani) because Lin Wan'er (Alani) said she was here, otherwise he would not be able to tell by just looking at the photo.

After carefully looking at the group photo, charlie Wade asked her in surprise: "It seems that there are only a few female students in this school."

"That's right." Lin Wan'er (Alani) said, "In that era, men and women were still very unequal. Women's social status was not high, and they were not valued by their families. Only a few could go to university." As she spoke, Lin Wan'er (Alani) came over to take a look, and pointed at one of the middle-aged white men and said to charlie Wade, "This was a very prestigious professor in the school at the time, and one of the co-founders of the university. But in fact, he was an orphan adopted and raised in the UK. When I brought him from the UK to North America, my public identity became his adopted daughter. When I later went to Japan, he also wrote the recommendation for me." "Let me go to Japan to study."

charlie Wade couldn't help but sigh: "Miss Lin's life is so colorful."

Lin Wan'er (Alani) smiled and said: "Young Master is destined to be able to seek immortality in the future, and then you can also experience that kind of colorful life."

charlie Wade shook his head and said: "Society is progressing too fast. Even if I live forever and don't have to hide from Sara like Miss Lin did in the past, I will have to try my best to hide from the whole world at that time. It is no longer possible to travel around the world with different identities and integrate into the life of these places like Miss Lin did in the past."
