

The amazing son in law - The Amazing Son In Law

Chapter 7144

Yun Ruge had contemplated going to war against the Poxing Society. She possessed a self-destruct formation left by Sara in the Niwan Palace, which could turn her into a human bomb if necessary. However, after some reflection, she realized that given her understanding of the Poxing Society, encountering Sara was unlikely. At best, she would only be able to vent her frustrations on the Wu family's descendants.

Ultimately, Yun Ruge decided against seeking revenge.

Noticing the surprise in her expression, Charlie Wade said, "I'm sorry, Miss Yun. I've been preoccupied lately and haven't had a chance to visit. Are you settling in well here?"

Snapping back to reality, Yun Ruge replied respectfully, "Thank you for your concern, Mr. Wade. I'm doing fine. Don Albert and the others have been very attentive and meet my needs promptly."

Charlie Wade nodded, his expression turning apologetic. "Miss Yun, there's something else I feel ashamed about. I haven't yet found a way to remove the poison from your body, but please rest assured that I'm doing everything I can to find a solution."

Yun Ruge felt touched by his sincerity. "Mr. Wade, your care means a lot to me. I've come to terms with the situation regarding the poison and can accept whatever outcome arises. Please don't worry too much about it."

Charlie Wade smiled, shifting the conversation. "By the way, I recently took down a base of the Poxing Society in Morocco and met a woman there who looks strikingly like you. She's a deputy in the Right Army Governor's Office of the Poxing Society. Remarkably, she's only in her twenties but has already attained a high level of understanding."

"She reached enlightenment at such a young age?" Yun Ruge exclaimed, astonished. "I had no idea such a genius existed within the Right Military Governor's Office..."

"This woman is from a branch of the Wu family and has drawn Sara's attention due to her talents. Like you, she is also poisoned. However, she has decided to work with me. Since I don't currently have any tasks for her, I plan to let her settle in Aurous Hill. If you're interested, perhaps you two could meet and become friends."

"Absolutely!" Yun Ruge replied, her enthusiasm palpable. "A genius like her must have valuable insights into cultivation. Communicating with her could greatly enhance my own growth. Plus, sharing similar experiences can foster mutual understanding."

Charlie Wade nodded. "I'll arrange for someone to bring her to the Champs Elysees and introduce you."

As he spoke, he added, "By the way, her name is quite similar to yours—Song Ruyu."

"Song Ruyu..." Yun Ruge smiled. "What a fitting name! It feels like fate."

Curious, she then asked Charlie Wade, "Mr. Wade, could you share more about your experiences in Africa during this trip?"

Charlie Wade obliged, detailing his adventures. Yun Ruge listened intently, unable to suppress her applause during the more thrilling moments. After hearing about Song Ruyu's situation, she sighed, "Sara's control is truly terrifying. This woman hasn't even met Song Ruyu, yet Sara has already forced poison upon her, fearing she might lose control."

Charlie Wade replied, "It seems the only ones in the entire Poxing Society who remain unpoisoned are the Wu family. Yet even without the poison, they're still heavily reliant on Sara's influence. The Wu family commands tens of thousands of death warriors and cavalry guards, all effectively controlled by her. If they ever defy her, she has the means to ensure they meet a grim fate."

Yun Ruge nodded in agreement. "Sara resembles the Chongzhen Emperor—she trusts no one but herself, maintaining absolute control over everything."

She added, "Fortunately, Song Ruyu hasn't crossed paths with Sara yet; otherwise, Sara would surely set a self-destruct formation in her Niwan Palace."

Charlie Wade continued, "For now, her greatest threat is the inability to detoxify. I hope you both can collaborate to explore the nature of this poison. As those affected, you'll have insights that might help uncover its essence. If you can pinpoint the root cause, I might discover a way to resolve it."
