

The amazing son in law - The Amazing Son In Law

Chapter 7155

charlie Wade understood what Aurora meant and smiled, "Any reasonable thing must be carried out within a reasonable range to be truly reasonable. If it exceeds the reasonable range, it will inevitably be distorted or even counterproductive."

Aurora agreed and said, "Master Wade, I actually think so too. I don't necessarily want the organizing committee to respect my personal opinions, but if the competition they organize makes me feel uncomfortable, I will no longer sign up for the competition in the future."

Aurora stuck out her tongue helplessly and complained, "In fact, I didn't want to participate a long time ago. I always feel that this kind of competitive competition does not improve real combat ability. Martial arts is more direct and straightforward, and there are not so many constraints of rules and regulations. It's just that my dad insisted that I participate. He said that while I am still a university graduate, he wanted me to win a few more championships, so that I can not only join the national team to participate in the Olympics in the future, but also apply for graduate school at top universities such as Peking University and Tsinghua University. He is a face-loving person, so he hopes that I can go to Peking University and Tsinghua University for graduate school."

charlie Wade smiled and said, "Your father wants his daughter to become a phoenix, which is understandable. He has earned enough money for the family, and he certainly hopes that you can become more and more outstanding in the future." Aurora nodded gently, "Master Wade, I understand what you said, but sometimes I feel that if I want to take a real professional route in a certain field in the future, I can't set too many goals in the same period but in different directions. Athletes who apply for graduate school at Peking University and Tsinghua University are mostly there to gild their resumes, and there are more MBAs and fewer sports-related majors, but in fact, these are things that can only be done after retirement, otherwise it will just be a formality. Aurora does not expect to become a professional athlete in the future, but hopes to immerse herself in martial arts. If I go to school, I will have to stay in school for two or three years or even longer, which will naturally have a great impact on my martial arts practice..."

charlie Wade smiled and said, "The sports career of an athlete is generally a golden period of more than ten years or even several years. After the golden period, they will gradually fall behind in competitive sports. Therefore, in order to get good results, they must take time off from work for training and devote all their time in the golden period to training as much as possible."

Speaking of this, charlie Wade said, "But martial arts is different. Martial arts is climbing an endless ladder. For most people, they will never see the end of it in their entire lives. "Head, if you want to take this path, you must keep a calm mind. You are only 20 years old, and you can still walk the martial arts path for at least 50 to 60 years. During this process, you cannot immerse yourself completely in martial arts. In that case, in a lifetime, there is actually very little time that is truly meaningful, rewarding, or can feel happy and blissful. Although reading is of little help to martial arts, it still has many benefits for life. As long as you are not particularly opposed to reading and happen to have the conditions to read, I suggest you give it a try."

Aurora was touched by charlie Wade's words. Although she was obsessed with martial arts, the content of charlie Wade's suggestion was also very important. In a lifetime, it is most important to make life fulfilling and happy. If all your energy is used to be obsessed with martial arts, you may leave many regrets in your life.

So, she nodded very seriously and said, "Aurora must keep Master Wade's teachings in mind. It is a good choice to continue studying after graduating from undergraduate school. However, in that case, if you want to apply to higher education institutions such as Peking University and Tsinghua University, you may have to win more awards!"

charlie Wade smiled and said, "I remember you have been admitted to the national team before, right?"

"Yes." Aurora said, "I am still participating in the college competition. Next year, the national team should arrange for me to participate in the official world championships. The official world championships are not as limited as the college competition. There will be more masters at that time. If you can get a good ranking in the world championships, you will have a chance to be recruited by the Olympic team."

charlie Wade nodded and said, "At least bring back an Olympic championship and use it as your own stepping stone. At that time, you can choose to continue the competition or retire to study according to your own preferences. If there is anything you need my help with, I will do my best."

Aurora said excitedly, "Thank you, Master Wade! But Aurora will do her best to win an Olympic championship first! Otherwise, how can I be worthy of Master Wade's care and concern!"

charlie Wade smiled and nodded lightly.

He admired Aurora's character. Aurora had the innate pride of a rich girl, but she didn't think highly of herself. She was confident when she should be confident and humble when she should be humble. She didn't argue with others, and she didn't waste time on herself. Such people were actually rare in today's impetuous society.

charlie Wade waited until he saw Aurora go on stage to receive the award, then he said goodbye to her on his phone and left the martial arts hall alone.
