Chapter 7157

The next day.

charlie, who had nothing to do, was dragged by his wife to go shopping with Loreen for the whole morning.

At noon, Loreen hosted charlie and Claire to eat at a very famous sushi restaurant in Tokyo. The chef was a weird old man with a strange temper. It was said that the meal was very expensive and it was difficult to make an appointment. But charlie had three obvious feelings after eating: first, the place was not a little bit shabby; second, it didn't taste the legendary amazing taste; third, it was indeed not full.

After dinner, they went back to the hotel to put down the things they bought while shopping. Loreen urged charlie and Claire to change into more formal clothes and prepare to attend the private party before the concert.

Since it was a party organized by the Mitsui family, as the host, they provided pick-up and drop-off services for the invited guests, and all chose Toyota's Lexus LS series sedans. After charlie and the other two were ready, they took the Mitsui family's special car directly to Tokyo Dome.

Although there were still several hours before the evening concert, a large number of fanatical fans had already gathered at the dome. They gathered in front of the square, waving flags and shouting, or playing the piano and singing. The atmosphere was extremely warm. Moreover, it was said that for every concert of Tawanna Sweet, there were at least tens of thousands or even hundreds of thousands of fans who could not buy tickets to listen to the entire concert around the venue.

From the performance of these fans, it can be seen that Tawanna Sweet is indeed the most popular and best-selling female singer in the world today, and almost no one can match her.

Fortunately, the staff on the scene isolated a special passage in advance, so that the vehicle that charlie and his party were riding in could drive smoothly into the dome.

When they arrived at the parking lot inside the dome, there were already many Lexus cars of the same model parked on the scene. Many guests got out of the car one after another and walked to the inner field under the guidance of the etiquette lady.

Loreen was obviously very excited at this time. As soon as she got off the car, she began to look around. After seeing a young woman on the inside of the entrance, she shouted in English: "Sachiko! I'm here!"

The young woman heard the voice and immediately looked over. When she saw Loreen, she screamed happily and trotted all the way.

When she ran to Loreen, the two hugged each other at the same time. The young woman smiled and said, “Long time no see Loreen! How are you doing recently?”

“Fine!” Loreen nodded, and then introduced charlie and Claire to her: “Sachiko, let me introduce you, these two are my good friends!”

Sachiko looked at the two, nodded and smiled: “You should be Mr. charlie and Mrs. Wade! It’s our first meeting, please take care of me!”

charlie was not surprised that she could call out his name. After all, the invitation letters Loreen got were all real-name based, and she must have given her and Claire’s names to the other party in advance. The social atmosphere in Japan is relatively male-dominated, so although she knew her own and her wife’s names, she only called her own full name and called her wife Mrs. Wade.

So charlie smiled and said, “Hello, Miss Sachiko.”

After that, he gently embraced Claire and smiled, “This is my wife, Claire.”

Sachiko was surprised to see charlie specially introduce Claire. Her first impression of him was greatly improved. Apart from anything else, this alone showed that charlie attached great importance to his wife.

Loreen was also very envious at this time. She had long been in love with charlie, so she naturally envied Claire. Now she could see charlie’s attention to Claire in every detail, which made her feel even more surprised. After slightly adjusting her mentality, Loreen said to charlie and Claire, “Sachiko’s full name is Sasaki Sachiko. Her mother and my mother were college classmates, and we have known each other for many years.”

Sasaki Sachiko stepped forward and took Loreen’s arm, smiling and said, “My mother also said that she would go to China in a while. She said that she would go to see my aunt at that time. If I have time, I will go with her!”

“That’s great!” Loreen said happily, “Be sure to tell me in advance if you come to China. As the host, I will make clear arrangements for you! Stay at my house and we can sleep in the same bed!”

Sasaki Sachiko nodded and smiled, “I wanted you to live with Mr. and Mrs. Wade at my house this time, but you said you had already booked a hotel.”

Loreen looked at charlie and smiled, “You don’t know, charlie is very patriarchal. He is most afraid of owing favors to others, especially women. I told my friend that I got tickets for the concert, and he immediately booked the plane tickets and hotel.” charlie didn’t care about Loreen’s teasing, but looked at Sasaki. Sachiko Sasaki said, “Ms. Sachiko, my wife has always liked Tawana Sweet. Thank you for the ticket, which allowed her to see Tawana’s concert as she wished.”

Sachiko Sasaki looked at charlie and smiled, “Mr. Ye is too polite. Loreen’s friends are Sachiko’s friends. When you two come to Japan in the future, you can find Sachiko for any help you need, especially in Tokyo. Sachiko is still capable.” Sachiko

Sasaki said this with good intentions, but she didn’t know that charlie’s visit to Tokyo was not as simple as an ordinary tourist. After all, charlie was the initiator behind the Tokyo brawl that shocked the whole of Japan.

In other words, charlie is still the murderer that the Tokyo Metropolitan Police Department is racking their brains to find, because they still don’t know who killed those ninjas who died miserably or even frozen into popsicles.

Although the whole incident has been settled, and the Takahashi family and the Matsumoto family also perished in that turmoil, the person who rescued the Su brothers and sisters, killed many ninjas, and saved Ito Nanako from death has always been a mystery to the outside world.

If it weren’t for that mysterious person, the banks brothers and sisters would have died in that incident, and the Ito family and the Takahashi family would have been destroyed by the mastermind behind the scenes, Matsumoto Yoshito, and how could the Ito family be the only one in power now?

However, the Ito family has never mentioned this, and no one knows what the secret behind the incident is.

However, charlie naturally did not have any arrogant thoughts. Facing Sasaki Sachiko’s kindness, he immediately expressed his gratitude and said with a smile: “Then thank you Miss Sachiko for your care!”

Sasaki Sachiko bowed slightly to charlie, and then said to the three of them: “It’s almost time, let’s go in first. There are many well-known figures in Tokyo attending the party this time. While the eldest lady and Tawanna are not here yet, I will introduce some of them to you first. When the eldest lady comes, I will introduce her to you if there is a chance.”

Loreen asked her in a low voice: “Are you talking about the eldest lady of the Mitsui family?”

“Yes.” Sasaki Sachiko covered her mouth with her hand and said softly: “The eldest lady is the heir to the core lineage of the Mitsui family. Her father is the most powerful figure in the Mitsui family. Tawanna Sweet and Tawanna's boyfriend stayed at the eldest lady's manor last night. They will come together later!"

Chapter 7159

Because Tawanna Sweet is so well-known, her concert in Tokyo not only attracted many Japanese upper-class people, but also many top Japanese stars.

So Claire and Loreen quickly recognized many Japanese stars who were invited to the scene, and they were well-known singers and actors.

charlie Wade saw that the two of them said the names of these stars like the back of their hands, and he felt a little bored.

charlie Wade never chased stars, so he had no interest in these Japanese stars or Tawanna Sweet who was about to arrive. As for the Japanese upper-class people at the scene, charlie Wade had even less interest. He himself was not a person who liked to curry favor with the powerful and make friends with the rich. What's more, these Japanese dignitaries at the scene, no matter how powerful they were, could not catch his eye. After all, even the Rothschild family father and son had to look at his face and mood, so these Japanese tycoons in front of him naturally seemed insignificant.

Interestingly, although there were mostly Japanese people at the scene, everyone spoke English by convention. Even those with a heavy Japanese accent spoke English and hardly spoke Japanese. This surprised charlie Wade a little. But he soon figured out the reason. The Japanese have always admired the West, especially the United States. Since the Meiji Restoration, wearing suits, ties, eating Western food, and speaking English have become the favorites of the powerful class. It is understandable that they speak English in occasions like today.

Sasaki Yukiko led the three people to walk around the venue. When they met some acquaintances, they smiled and greeted them, and introduced charlie Wade and the other two to each other.

charlie Wade discovered a small detail. It seemed that the people that Sasaki Yukiko took them to meet were all outside the head of the party. There were more than a dozen people standing and chatting in the core area of the venue. Sasaki Yukiko hesitated several times and finally did not take the three people there.

charlie Wade speculated that Sasaki Sachiko herself might not be able to get these heads. She went up to say hello by herself, which was already awkward. If she brought a few strangers, the atmosphere would be even more awkward.

At this moment, a young woman in a high-end evening gown saw Sasaki Sachiko, walked up with a smile on her face, and said, “Sachiko, I see you running back and forth like a headless fly. Are you handing out business cards everywhere?”

Sasaki Sachiko looked at the other party and said unnaturally, “Miki, I’m introducing my friends to some familiar guests.”

“Your friends?” The woman called Miki looked at Charlie Wade, then at Claire and Loreen, and said, “Your friends should not be Japanese, right?”

Although the appearance of Japanese, Chinese and Koreans is similar, a careful woman can see the difference at a glance. Men and women in each country have their own dressing characteristics, and the differences can be quickly discovered after careful study. Claire and Loreen are both light-makeup OL style. Whether it is their hairstyle, makeup characteristics or even manicure style, they are quite different from the style of Japanese girls. Charlie Wade never wears makeup, and he hasn’t even trimmed his eyebrows. In the eyes of Japanese women, he is obviously not a local man. No matter whether local men are handsome or ugly, their eyebrows and hairstyles must be carefully designed and maintained.

Sasaki Sachiko didn’t want to talk much to Miki, so she responded, “Yes, these friends of mine are all from China.”

Miki looked at Charlie Wade and asked curiously, “What is this gentleman’s name and where he works?”

Charlie Wade said casually, “My last name is Wade, and my given name is Charlie Wade. I’m an unemployed vagrant, so I can’t say I’m successful anywhere.”

Miki looked at Charlie Wade in surprise, and then looked at Claire who was arm in arm with Charlie Wade. Although the two were not dressed very formally, and did not wear any high-end jewelry or watches that could be seen at a glance, their temperament was indeed very good, so she thought he was a prominent person from China. She didn’t expect Charlie Wade to say that he was an unemployed vagrant, which made her a little unconvinced.

So, she smiled and said, “Mr. Wade is really modest. For this party, Sachiko and I only have three invitations. The family asked us to make the best use of these three invitations to invite big people with good strength and status. Sachiko gave the invitations to you. I think you must have a very impressive background. How could Mr. Wade be a vagrant?”

Charlie Wade was a little surprised by Miki’s straightforwardness. Shouldn’t such words be said in the heart? Why did Miki say it directly?

However, Charlie Wade was too lazy to think too much, so he said, “I am indeed a vagrant. I usually look at Feng Shui for others every now and then to earn some commissions. If Miss Miki has any related needs, please take care of me.”

Miki realized that Charlie Wade should not be modest.

She frowned and smiled playfully: "I've heard of Feng Shui. It seems to be a feudal superstition in China. There are similar Feng Shui masters in Japan, but most of them are of the lower class. The upper class in Japan doesn't believe in these imported things."

After that, she turned and asked Claire on the side: "I wonder where this lady is doing?"

Claire said: "I opened my own design studio, and it's just started not long ago."

Miki asked: "Design studio? Where is it? China?"

"Yes." Claire said: "In Aurous Hill."

Miki thought Claire was a well-known Chinese designer, but she didn't expect that she opened a design studio in Aurous Hill. Aurous Hill is just a second-tier city in China. She would not even look at a well-known design studio in Tokyo, let alone a female designer in Aurous Hill who has just started and is unknown.

Chapter 7160

So, she said with a smile: "Today's party has invited a top designer, who was personally invited by the head of the Mitsui family. I wanted to introduce you to her, but I think the gap between you is too big, so forget it. It's better this way, so you don't feel uncomfortable."

After that, she turned her eyes to Sasaki Sachiko with a bit of sarcasm, and said with a curled lip: "Sachiko, you wasted three precious places and invited these unpresentable friends. Have you ever thought about how to explain to grandpa?"

"There's nothing to explain." Sasaki Sachiko said lightly: "Since grandpa gave me three invitations, it is my freedom to invite anyone."

After that, Sasaki Sachiko said again: "What's more, you are not qualified to comment on my friends!"

Miki scolded: "Idiot! Grandpa gave you three places so that you can invite people who are well-known and helpful to the future development of the family! Not for you to use them to invite some insignificant friends to come and see the world! Do you know that Tawana has always been very picky about social circles? If she knew that some insignificant people had sneaked into the party that the Mitsui family carefully prepared for her, where would the Mitsui family put their face?"

Loreen's expression suddenly became a little angry. She didn't expect that Miki had been playing tricks on the three of them, especially Charlie Wade and Claire, who were called by herself. She called them to meet the stars, but she didn't expect that she didn't see the stars, but was insulted by this crazy woman first.

Claire was not easily angered, so she just felt a little embarrassed in this situation. According to her personality, she felt that she should quickly avoid this aggressive woman.

As for Charlie Wade, he had seen people who liked to show off and pull down others in the past two years, so he didn't want to pay attention to Miki's sarcasm.

He speculated from Miki's attitude towards Sasaki Sachiko and some information in her words that Miki and Sasaki Sachiko should be cousins, their grandfather is the same person, and there must be some kind of competition between the two, so Miki deliberately wanted to pull down Sasaki Sachiko in this situation.

Sasaki Sachiko didn't know how to refute Miki's provocation for a while. She didn't want to argue with Miki, nor did she want to embarrass her good friend Loreen, Charlie Wade, and Claire, so she quickly said to the three of them: "Let's go over there and have a drink! Come, this way, please!"

Seeing that Sasaki Sachiko was about to escape, Miki sneered, "What? You're going to run away just because I said so? I'm telling you, Sachiko, I'll tell Grandpa about this as soon as I get back. You'd better pray that these low-class friends you invited won't make Tawana uncomfortable, otherwise, you, the eldest granddaughter, will be the shame of our Sasaki family!"

After that, Miki turned around and left here without waiting for Sasaki Sachiko to speak, and walked towards the core circle in the middle.

Sasaki Sachiko quickly apologized to the three people, "I'm so sorry, Ruolin, Mr. Wade, and Mrs. Wade! Miki is my cousin, she has always been strong and often offends people with her words. Please don't take it to heart!"

Claire and Loreen both said that it was nothing, but Charlie Wade's attention was still on Miki Sasaki.

At this time, Miki Sasaki had just arrived at the periphery of the core circle. Her arrogance just now was swept away, replaced by a humble smile. After bowing to many people in succession, she stood beside the crowd with a smile, listening to other people chatting, without saying a word.

Charlie Wade only realized at this time that there was a familiar face in this party full of strangers.

So he pointed at the woman in the crowd and asked Claire: "Wife, who do you think that person is?"

Claire looked in the direction of charlie Wade's finger and suddenly widened her eyes: "Oh my God, it's Kelly!"

The Kelly in Claire's mouth is Kelly West, the most famous female designer in the world and one of the most famous designers in the world.

When Claire was able to go to the United States to participate in the master class of the Rhode Island School of Design, it was Kelly West who approved a place for her.

The reason why Kelly West was so good to Claire was not because she and Claire were so compatible, but mainly because of Fei Kexin's face.

Fei Kexin is now very powerful. She is the head of the Fei family. Although the strength of the Fei family is not as strong as that of the An family, let alone the Rothschild family, its overall strength is far above that of the Ito family, and it can also compete with the entire Mitsui family. You know, the Mitsui family is now equivalent to a large federal government. For the federal government, although they nominally control the entire country, the states also have great power. Although the core family of Mitsui leads the entire Mitsui Group, the states below are not what they want.

But Fei Kexin is different. The entire Fei family belongs to her. Although the other members of the Fei family also have the surname Fei, the assets they control belong to the Fei family from a legal perspective. If anyone of them is disobedient, Fei Kexin can make them get out directly.

At this time, Claire obviously didn't expect to see Kelly West here. She was surprised and suddenly remembered what Miki Sasaki said just now, and said with emotion: "It turns out that the great designer Miki Sasaki mentioned is Kelly..."

charlie Wade smiled and said, "Let's go and say hello to an old acquaintance!"

Claire hurriedly said, "There are too many people, so forget it, husband. I guess Kelly is talking to someone else. Let's go and say hello when she is alone."

charlie Wade shook his head and said, "What can Kelly talk about that is more important than your face? Let alone her, even if Fei Kexin is here, she has to be your foil today!"
