Chapter 7173

After seeing the Internet full of content that was unfavorable to her, Tawanna realized that she must hurry up to restore her reputation and cut off ties with that woman as soon as possible.

That woman, if she loses, she loses.

And she must not be dragged into the quagmire by her failure! She must find a way to save herself as soon as possible!

Therefore, she planned to take advantage of today's party to publicize her support for the LGBT community. She has always spared no effort. That woman was before the election, during the election, and she still was after the election failed.

In this way, she can convey a strong message to the outside world: she supports that woman not because she supports her position, nor because she is afraid of being exposed to any secrets, but simply because she has a sincere love for LGBT.

So she must seize today's opportunity, first use this party to manage some materials to stabilize the situation, and after the concert officially starts in the evening, she will once again reiterate her support for LGBT in front of tens of thousands of fans, and then fight to save the situation.

At this time, Mitsui Yoshitaka accompanied Charlie Wade and others to Tawanna.

His wife and daughter, as well as Tawanna and her boyfriend, had already sat down at the main table, so there were only two seats left at the main table. Seeing that he had invited four more people, Mitsui Yoshitaka came to the table first and said to his daughter, Mitsui Xinmei: "Xinmei, you and your mother should sit at the next table first. Dad will go over to accompany you later."

Mitsui Yoshitaka planned to directly put Charlie Wade and the other four at the main table, let them sit with Tawanna and the couple, and his family of three and Kelly sat next to each other. In this way, when Fei Kexin arrived, she would naturally sit at the table where he was, which would also make it convenient for him to talk about business with Fei Kexin.

As for Tawanna, he himself had no interest in it. It was nothing more than that his daughter was happy. Tawanna's concert in Tokyo would last for three consecutive days. Until the end of the last concert, she and her boyfriend Trevor would live in the Mitsui family's manor. So in Mitsui Yoshitaka's view, his daughter had plenty of time to get familiar with Tawanna and cultivate friendship, and didn't care about this small party.

Mitsui Xinmei naturally understood her father's intention. Although she was a fan of celebrities, she was not a playboy and she knew that her father's business was more important, so she stood up and said to Tawanna and Trevor, "I'm sorry, I'll sit at the next table first. I have arranged a celebration banquet at home tonight, and we will talk then."

Tawanna didn't like today's occasion, and she was in a very bad mood after hearing the bad news. She thought that the call just now would be able to soothe her emotions, but she didn't expect that everyone present turned a blind eye to what she said, which made her feel extremely bad.

At this moment, she didn't want to be polite to anyone, nor did she want to talk to anyone, but even so, she still had to give Mitsui Xinmei face. On the one hand, the Mitsui family was a shareholder of Universal Music, and on the other hand, Mitsui Xinmei was really very good to her.

So, she forced herself to show her signature smile and said, "Xinmei, please wait a moment. I will join you when I am done."

Sanjing Xinmei nodded and smiled, then stood up with her mother and sat down at the next table.

Sanjing Yoshitaka looked at Tawanna and said, "Ms. Sweet, let me introduce you. This is Mr. Wade and Mrs. Wade. They are good friends of Miss Fei, the chairman of the Fei Group. Miss Fei will be here soon." "

Miss Fei?" Tawanna was a little dissatisfied. She knew Fei Kexin's name and her background. She knew that her assets were nothing compared to Fei Kexin.

However, she was the protagonist of today's party. As the protagonist, she had just been ignored. Now Sanjing Yoshitaka was visibly excited when he heard that Fei Kexin was coming, which made Tawanna feel even more indignant.

She had to give face to Sanjing Yoshitaka because Sanjing Yoshitaka was also one of her bosses, and even her boss's boss.

But Fei Kexin is not her boss, nor is she a shareholder of Universal Music, and she is not even in the entertainment industry. Why should she steal her limelight?

However, although Tawanna was very dissatisfied, she couldn't show it on her face. Besides, her boyfriend had already started recording secretly, so she had to ensure that everything she did was impeccable.

So, she smiled and stretched out her hand to Charlie Wade and Claire, and said politely, "Mr. Wade, Mrs. Wade, hello!"

Claire didn't expect Tawanna to take the initiative to shake hands with her. She was so excited that she forgot to stretch out her hand. Instead, Charlie Wade stretched out his hand and shook her lightly. Then he took the initiative to introduce his wife, saying, “Miss Sweet, this is my wife, Claire.”

After charlie Wade’s introduction, Claire finally came back to her senses, and hurriedly stretched out her hand to shake hands with Tawana, and said excitedly, “Hello, Miss Sweet, I’m your loyal fan!”

After that, she thought of Loreen on the side, and hurriedly said, “By the way, this is my good friend Loreen, she is also your loyal fan!”

Tawana smiled very decently and stretched out her hand to Loreen, Smiled and said, “Hello, Miss Loreen!”

Loreen was a little flattered and quickly said, “Ms. Sweet, I have liked you for a long time!”

Tawana said with great satisfaction, “Thank you very much for your support. I can’t get to where I am today without you and all the fans who support me behind me. I also hope that you can support LGBT and all sexual minorities like me. In the past two years, you can see that I have been making public appeals on various occasions. In the final analysis, I hope that everyone can pay attention to the existence of this group, respect their legitimate rights and interests, and provide them with better social security.”

After that, she looked at Claire and asked her very seriously, “Ms. willson, are you willing to support LGBT like me and spare no effort?”

“I..” Claire was a little embarrassed for a moment. She was not interested in these things abroad, and had never thought about whether she supported or opposed this movement, but she didn’t expect that Tawana would directly ask her whether she supported LGBT, which made her suddenly at a loss as to how to answer.

If she said she didn’t support it, it would be against Tawana’s values. There is an old Chinese saying that you should not hit a smiling person. Tawana was so polite, so she certainly couldn’t completely contradict her.

After thinking for a moment, she reluctantly said, “I will try my best...”

After saying this, Claire felt a little uncomfortable. This kind of hypocritical statement has long been commonplace for many people, but for her, it was still like a thorn in her throat, making her feel uncomfortable.

Tawana was very happy to see Claire expressed his attitude, and immediately said: “On behalf of hundreds of millions of LGBT people around the world, I thank you for your support!”

Then, she looked at Loreen and asked expectantly: “Ms. Loreen, what about you?”

Loreen did not have as much psychological burden as Claire, and she blurted out without thinking: “Of course, let’s work together!”

Tawana’s eyes lit up and she said excitedly: “Great! Miss Loreen has such a firm attitude, is she also a member of the LGBT?”

Loreen immediately raised her hands and shook them at the same time, blurting out: “I’m not, my sexual orientation is very normal, just like you, I like men.”

Tawana was slightly stunned, then looked at her boyfriend Trevor beside her, then looked at Loreen, and smiled: “Ms. Loreen, I want to correct you. In fact, any sexual orientation is normal. Every orientation is human nature. We should look at each of them with an equal eye.”

“Yes, yes, that’s what I meant, but I didn’t express it very accurately.” Loreen finished speaking, and couldn’t help complaining in her heart: “You are really good at finding loopholes in other people’s words. Fortunately, your sister Loreen is not in the United States and has not been photographed by the media. Otherwise, I don’t know how many hats will be put on my head. At that time, I will be splashed with dirty water, and I can’t wash it off even if I jump into the Amazon River.”

Tawana was very satisfied with her performance just now. Thinking that her boyfriend had taken a video for her, after this video was sent out, it would definitely prove from another perspective that her support for LGBT was from the heart and she never had any selfish motives.

Tawana, who had already won two cities in a row, set her sights on charlie Wade again.

She felt that now was a good time to seize the opportunity, so she asked charlie Wade: “Mr. Wade, I don’t know what your attitude is towards LGBT? Do you support or oppose it?”

“Me?” charlie Wade couldn’t help but frowned.

He felt that Tawana was a little strange. Normally, when a friend introduces you to other friends, you shouldn’t grab the other person and force him to ask about his attitude on something. This is indeed offensive and lacks the most basic etiquette. Tawana has been in the entertainment industry for so many years and has become a top star. It is impossible for her to not understand this principle. So she asked again and again, and there must be other purposes.

At this time, charlie Wade found out of the corner of his eye that although Tawana’s boyfriend seemed to be playing with his mobile phone with both hands, the camera was always facing him and Tawana. At this moment, he probably understood Tawana’s intention .

So, he said calmly: “LGBT is like immigration in the United States. It is a very complicated issue. How can you express your support or opposition casually?”

Tawana was immediately happy when she saw that charlie Wade did not express his attitude to support her.

If you always say something and the other party says that you are right, then there is nothing explosive about such a video, and it can't highlight your passion. It is to meet a thorny head like charlie Wade. Only by smoothing out all the thorns of this thorny head can you prove your enthusiasm and ability.

So, Tawana asked righteously: "Why can't we use support and opposition to express our views? Support is support, opposition is opposition. You just need to tell me your true thoughts. What's so difficult about that?"

charlie Wade smiled and asked her: "Then let me ask you, your immigrants in the United States not only come from hundreds of different countries, but also have legal immigrants and illegal immigrants. Let's not talk about legal immigrants for now. Among illegal immigrants, there are those who illegally stay in the United States and those who enter the country illegally. Among these people, there are those who work diligently and make real contributions to the United States, and there are those who burn, kill, rob and do all kinds of evil to Americans in the United States, and there are those who do nothing in the United States and live on relief every day. In fact, there are tens of millions of illegal immigrants with tens of millions of different backgrounds, just like you divide people's personalities into hundreds of types. How can such a complex issue be expressed with support and opposition? If you think it's okay, then let me ask you first, do you support those illegal immigrants who stay in the United States?"

How can such a complex issue be expressed with support and opposition? If you think it's okay, then let me ask you first, do you support those illegal immigrants who stay in the United States?"

Tawana never expected that charlie Wade would ask her a question instead of answering it.

The issue of illegal immigration is almost as sensitive as LGBT, so she dared not say anything politically incorrect, otherwise she would be attacked.

So, she said with a serious face: "I think the immigration issue should be left to the US government. The United States has special laws to solve such problems. As long as they ensure fairness and justice in the law enforcement process, it will be fine." After that, she couldn't help but look at charlie Wade with some pride and asked him: "So what is Mr. Wade's attitude towards LGBT?"

charlie Wade smiled and said: "If you insist on leaving everything to the law, then you don't need to ask me about LGBT issues, let alone come out to appeal for anything. Isn't there a law for everything, right? Leave things that can be solved by the law to the law, and we should do what we should do, and don't get involved in legal matters."

"..." Tawana was speechless for a moment. She didn't expect that she played tricks, and charlie Wade followed suit.

Moreover, she could hear that charlie Wade's words seemed to accuse her of meddling in other people's business.

Just when she didn't know how to respond, charlie Wade said again: "In fact, it is unfair for you to say that leaving the issue of illegal immigration to the law is also unfair. At the very least, the position you personally put when treating LGBT and illegal immigrants is unfair."

"It's not unfair!" Tawana immediately retorted: "What I mean is that every group should be fully respected, and then adapt to the corresponding laws and regulations, which will be safer."

charlie Wade smiled and said: "You celebrities often stand up and call on American states to amend legal provisions for LGBT, but I have never heard of you standing up and calling for amendments to legal provisions for illegal immigrants. You ask the government to provide equal rights for LGBT, which is very good, very humane and very American, but why do you treat LGBT and illegal immigrants differently? Aren't illegal immigrants worthy of your appeal and amendment of legal provisions for them? The reason why you treat LGBT and illegal immigrants differently is just because illegal immigrants do not have American citizenship? If your so-called equality is based on having American citizenship, then isn't this equality a bit too frivolous?"

"Uh..." Tawana was stumped by charlie Wade's series of tricky questions. Although she has been a big name in the entertainment industry for many years and her singing skills are world-class, it can be seen from the fact that she can deliberately influence the values of fans as an idol that she is not the kind of person who truly believes in Li Jufu. What is Li Jufu? It means that any point you put forward must be convincing. If you just shout at the top of your voice and say you want this and that, but you can't say four, five, six, it's basically no different from being a hooligan.

After thinking for a long time with a depressed look on her face, Tawanna said, "You know, the meaning of the LGBT group is broader. We support LGBT, not just the LGBT in the United States, but the LGBT in the world."

charlie Wade nodded and said, "Yes, the illegal immigrants I mentioned are not just illegal immigrants in the United States, but illegal immigrants in various countries around the world, so what is the difference between them?"

Tawanna glanced at charlie Wade dimly, thinking that he would be easily incited by her like the previous two ladies, and then say a few words of support, and the matter would pass perfectly, but who would have thought that this guy would be a stubborn person, and he would never stop arguing with her.

Seeing that she was speechless for a while, charlie Wade said, "Ms. Sweet, if my question just now is difficult to answer, then you don't have to answer me, but I have a question that I need you to give me a clear answer."

Tawanna hurriedly said, "Tell me."

charlie Wade asked her, "In your eyes, are illegal immigrants and LGBT equal? You just need to answer me, yes, or no."

Tawanna was a little entangled again.

It's nonsense to say that they are equal.

Most Americans don't like illegal immigrants.

Or it can be said that most people living in their own country do not like illegal immigrants who sneak into their country.

But although this is true, it cannot be said that way.

In the West, you cannot say many people and things you don't like.

It's like as a woman, you don't want a man dressed as a man to go into the women's restroom with you. This logic is normal and 100% correct, but you can't say it.

As long as you say it, a lot of saints will jump out and criticize you: He is already pitiful for dressing up as a woman, and he has to squat to pee in the women's restroom. It's so hard, but you don't let him go to the women's restroom. Do you have a conscience?

Tawanna grew up in this environment and grew into a superstar. She knows the ins and outs of it very well.

So, she could only say against her will: "I think illegal immigrants and LGBT are equal. After all, we are all human beings, and humans should be treated equally."

charlie Wade nodded and said, "It's great that you have such an attitude. I think someone should record our conversation and post it online to let everyone know that you are also very supportive of illegal immigrants. And I remember that you openly support LGBT in almost every concert. I admire and agree with your approach. But since in your eyes, illegal immigrants and LGBT are equal, why haven't I heard you speak out for illegal immigrants in public at your concerts before?"
