

The amazing son in law - Charlie Wade Chapter 7196

charlie Wade also got out of the car with Pete Roger and the driver.

When Sanjing Yoshitaka saw charlie Wade, he was like a child who had been lost for many years and saw his father. He excitedly held charlie Wade's hand and choked up and said, "Mr. Wade...you...you saved my life!"

charlie Wade smiled indifferently and said, "Mr. Sanjing, I'll leave this person to you for the time being."

Sanjing Yoshitaka looked at Peter Roger, gritted his teeth in hatred, and said coldly, "Damn it! Dare to kill people on the territory of the Sanjing family, I will make sure you die without a burial place!"

Peter Roger was frightened by Sanjing's fierce appearance, and quickly turned to look at charlie Wade for help.

charlie Wade said to Sanjing Yoshitaka, "Mr. Sanjing, you can't kill any of these people, and you must protect them well. Don't let them make any more mistakes on the existing basis, and don't let this matter spread to outsiders."

"Ah?!" Mitsui Yoshitaka said in surprise: "Mr. Wade, why... why did you spare their lives?! Bastards like this should be killed, not a single one should be left alive!"

charlie Wade frowned at him and said coldly: "I said, you must protect them well, do you understand?"

Mitsui Yoshitaka saw that charlie Wade's expression was a little gloomy. Although it was difficult to understand and he was very indignant, when he thought that charlie Wade saved Tawanna and Trevor, he helped himself a lot, and there was Fei Kexin next to him, so he had to nod and said: "Everything... everything will be subject to Mr. Wade's instructions..."

charlie Wade looked at him, and said coldly: "I have dealt with you Japanese a lot. To be honest, I haven't met many Japanese who really have a spirit of contract, so I must say the ugly words in advance. Since you promised me, you can't change your mind at any time. Otherwise, no matter where you are, I will make you pay the price!"

Mitsui Yoshitaka saw charlie Wade's face full of murderous intent, and his heart was inevitably uneasy.

It's not like he hasn't seen people who kill people without warning, but no matter how vicious those people were, they didn't seem to be as murderous as charlie Wade.

At this moment, he was very curious about charlie Wade's identity. He didn't know why this young man was so murderous, and he didn't understand why this young man could make Fei Kexin treat him with such respect.

Because he was completely suppressed by charlie Wade in terms of momentum, he could only say respectfully: "Mr. Wade, don't worry, since I promised you, I will never break my promise."

"Okay." charlie Wade nodded slightly, then looked at Pete Roger and said: "From now on, Mr. Mitsui will be responsible for your safety and daily life. I am not interested in who is behind you, so you don't have to tell me, you just need to live well, and the agreement between us will be fulfilled."

Pete Roger was truly full of admiration for charlie Wade at this moment, and hurriedly said: "Thank you, Mr. Wade! Thank you!"

charlie Wade turned to look at Mitsui Yoshitaka, and said: "I just asked you to ensure their safety and keep confidential everything that happened today, so you must not embarrass them or force them to say things they don't want to say. Treat them like guests of honor, understand?"

Mitsui Yoshitaka was depressed. These people almost made him show his anger, and charlie Wade asked him to treat these people like guests of honor, which he was unwilling to do in his heart.

However, with charlie Wade's aura pressing here, he did not dare to have any doubts, so he could only nod and say: "Mr. Wade, don't worry, I will definitely follow your requirements."

charlie Wade hummed, and then said: "Some people inside are injured, but they are not dead yet. You are responsible for treating the injured; for the disabled, you are responsible for arranging people to take care of their food and daily life."

"Okay!" With the previous vaccination, Sanjing Yoshitaka was no longer surprised by charlie Wade's request. As long as charlie Wade did not let him worship them as his own father, he could accept it.

Then, charlie Wade looked at Tawana, then looked at the others, and then said: "Okay, next, I will tell you what everyone will do next."

Everyone hurriedly looked at charlie Wade, wondering what arrangements he would make next, especially Tawana, who seemed very nervous and uneasy.

charlie Wade said calmly: "Mr. Mitsui is responsible for blocking all news. Immediately settle everyone and drive away the vehicles. No traces should be left. From now on, this matter should be treated as if it never happened."

Mitsui Yoshitaka immediately said: "No problem, Mr. Wade, I will arrange for someone to deal with it."

charlie Wade continued: “Pete, I don’t know if Pete Roger is your real name, but from now on, you must cut off all contact with the outside world and obey Mr. Mitsui’s arrangements.”

Pete Roger said respectfully: “Okay, Mr. Wade, and my real name is Liam Smith, and I have served in the United States Marine Corps...”

charlie Wade nodded, turned to look at Tawanna, and said: “Ms. Sweet can take a rest now and prepare for tonight’s performance. In addition, this matter must not be told to anyone, including your parents.”

When Tawanna heard this, she burst into tears and choked, “I don’t want to have a concert! Cancel the concert!”

“Cancel?” Mitsui Yoshitaka suddenly felt overwhelmed. Everyone knew that this performance was promoted by the Mitsui family. He also specially organized today’s high society party. Tens of thousands of spectators outside have begun to arrive and wait for admission. At this time, Tawanna suddenly said to cancel the concert. It would be difficult for the Mitsui family to explain to everyone! So

, he could only patiently persuade: “Hey, Miss Sweet, how can you cancel a concert a few hours before the performance? Many fans from other places and even foreign countries have already arrived. Cancelling it at this time will also have a great impact on your reputation!”

Tawanna cried and said, “I almost died, and you still want me to hold a concert... I don’t care about anything now, I just want to go back to the United States!”

“Go back to the United States?” charlie Wade on the side said coldly: “The people who want to kill you are in the United States. I won’t stop you from going back to die, but you can’t go back today! You must finish tonight’s performance honestly! I already have the song list. When the time comes, I will check the song list. You can’t sing one less song!”

Mitsui Yoshitaka was stunned by how firm and commanding Charlie Wade was as he dealt with Tawanna. He thought to himself, “A superstar like her, known for her fiery temper—how does he dare threaten her instead of persuading her? She earns hundreds of millions effortlessly every year. Sure, she’s not as rich as the chaebols, but she doesn’t have a family to support. Most of her fortune is hers to enjoy, aside from the small amount she gives her parents. Such a carefree life! Canceling a concert might cost her a few million at most, so why would she bow to him when she’s angry?”

Tawanna, meanwhile, was fuming at Charlie Wade’s domineering tone.

For years, she had basked in fame and admiration wherever she went. Even someone as influential as Bill Gates had once called himself her fan. Yet now, standing before Charlie Wade, she felt less like a star and more like an employee being bossed around. Her pride took a massive hit.

“First, let me make one thing clear—I’m not here to help you, so don’t overestimate yourself.

Second, I don’t care how powerful or important you think you are in Japan. To me, you’re nothing.”

Mitsui Yoshitaka felt a wave of humiliation wash over him. He didn’t fully understand Charlie Wade’s background, but one thing was certain: Charlie Wade couldn’t care less about him.

In the past, when Mitsui received help, a simple, “I’ll remember this,” from him was enough to make others feel indebted, as if they owed him a favor. But now, that air of authority seemed meaningless in front of Charlie Wade.

When Tawanna finally agreed to continue the performance, Mitsui Yoshitaka let out a long sigh of relief.

He had been worried that her fiery temper might cause her to quit on the spot. Knowing her personality, he was certain that if she truly felt provoked, not even Universal’s boss could stop her. Tawanna had already amassed enough wealth and influence to walk away without a second thought. If the company pushed her too far, she could easily take a break, inconveniencing everyone else but herself.

What’s more, if she went public and told her fans that the record label had forced her into something against her will, the backlash from her loyal followers could spell disaster for the company. For this reason, even Mitsui Yoshitaka was careful not to pressure her too much.

What surprised him, however, was how quickly Charlie Wade’s firm, no-nonsense attitude had gotten Tawanna to back down.

“Okay...” Tawanna nodded hesitantly. Charlie Wade's words gave her some reassurance, and she found herself beginning to rely on him. After a brief pause, she asked, “Mr. Wade, if someone in the U.S. really wants to kill me, what should I do? I can't stay in Japan forever. Eventually, I'll have to go back. Won't that be dangerous?”

Charlie Wade responded calmly, “The person trying to kill you is likely someone you've been closely connected to. Things have shifted—some are sacrificing pawns to save themselves, while others, fearing consequences, are cutting ties with those closest to them to create a ‘firebreak.’ Even if you're not directly involved, you know too much, and that's why they see you as a threat.”
