Super Hero Charlie Wade - Charlie Wade Chapter 7225

The Iga Ninja, known as the largest ninja clan in Japan, joined the Tokyo Rebellion, but their forces were nearly annihilated by charlie Wade.

Realizing the danger, they shifted their loyalty to the Ito Family just in time, narrowly escaping complete destruction.

Since the Tokyo Rebellion was a covert conflict, the public remained unaware that the Iga Ninja had sworn loyalty to the Ito Family afterward.

At first, their pledge to the Ito Family was merely a strategic delay. However, after witnessing charlie Wade's power on Ye Ling Mountain, they became genuinely loyal to the Ito Family.

When the Americans approached the Iga Ninja, they offered a staggering $1 billion reward for a secret mission.

Upon hearing the offer, Hattori Hanzo, the Iga Ninja leader, immediately saw it as a rare chance to gain immense wealth.

Completing this mission would secure the Iga Ninja's financial stability for decades — truly a golden opportunity.

However, when Hanzo learned the target was to be killed on Mitsui territory, he abandoned the plan. He knew that Nanako Ito, the head of the Ito Family, and Mitsui Shinmi, the Mitsui heiress, were close friends.

Hanzo understood he couldn't assassinate someone on the property of the clan leader's friend, even for such a reward.

It wasn't that Hanzo didn't desire the money; he simply knew that with charlie Wade's presence, even $10 billion wasn't worth the risk. Pursuing it could lead to their destruction.

Without hesitation, Hanzo informed Nanako Ito of the impending threat.

Nanako, deeply concerned for her friend's safety, took immediate action.

Knowing that charlie Wade was in Tokyo with his wife to attend Tawana's concert, she urgently sought his assistance.

Despite the Mitsui family's immense wealth, a $1 billion bounty was too tempting for many to ignore.

The reward was so large that countless desperate individuals would risk everything for it.

For those willing to risk their lives for $100,000, a $1 billion prize was an unimaginable incentive.

charlie Wade never anticipated that the United States would escalate matters to this extreme.

Those who want Tawana dead are relentless.

charlie Wade, on the phone with Ito Nanako, asked, “Nanako, how was the secret arrangement of the $1 billion?”

Nanako replied, “The entire $1 billion has been converted into Bitcoin. The Bitcoin is now listed on the largest underground network trading platform. The mission details are clear: whoever kills Tawana will receive the $1 billion in Bitcoin. Even if they die in the attempt, as long as it’s confirmed that they killed her, the money will be recorded in their name and passed on to their legal heirs.”

She continued, “This platform is highly reputable in the underground world. They’ve acted as intermediaries and referees for countless similar operations, so their credibility is solid. From the $1 billion, 5% will cover the platform’s fee. They will also verify everything fairly to confirm who killed Tawana. I believe many assassin groups and gang organizations in Japan have already heard the news. The temptation is too strong; they’ll fight to the death, even if it means dying with Tawana. The chance to give their families a lifetime of wealth and prestige is worth it to them.”
