

The Amazing Son In Law / Super Hero Charlie Wade - Charlie Wade Chapter 7298

Don Albert was caught off guard by Charlie Wade's firm stance on the matter.

Although he understood that Charlie Wade had always been kind to him, as a grown man, he couldn't help but feel a little undeserving of such generosity.

So, he said to Charlie Wade, "Master Wade, ever since I've known you, not only have you saved my life, but you've also helped me in countless ways. Heaven Springs has gained immense fame because of you, and with this foundation, everything has become much easier than before. I'm already deeply grateful—how could I possibly use that money for my own benefit?"

Charlie Wade responded sternly, "Don Albert, there's no need to be so modest with me. What I choose to give you is, in my eyes, what you truly deserve. If it wasn't deserved, I wouldn't give it to you, even if you asked."

Feeling embarrassed, Don Albert replied, "Master Wade, I understand your point. It's like a generous boss who wants to keep giving raises to his employees, but I feel like I've done so little. What I've received so far is already more than enough—I don't feel worthy of any more."

As he spoke, Don Albert recalled something Isaac Cameron had told him and said with emotion, "On top of that, Mr. Isaac mentioned that you helped clean up my less-than-glorious past. That was an incredible favor, and I haven't even had the chance to thank you properly."

Charlie Wade smiled and said, "Don Albert, have you ever heard of companies where even the cleaning staff became millionaires after the company went public?"

Don Albert shook his head in disbelief. "Is that even possible? I've never heard of such a thing."

Charlie Wade explained earnestly, "It's not outrageous at all. The cleaning staff are employees, too. If they worked tirelessly for the company from the beginning and stayed loyal through its growth, they're considered veterans. Before the company goes public, they may be allocated a portion of stock options. That's why, once the company goes public, even the cleaning staff can end up with a net worth exceeding a million or more."

At this point, Charlie Wade spoke again, "Of course, I'm not comparing you to the cleaning lady. Over this period, you've been the one who has served me the most. Now that there's a great opportunity to help you achieve your career ambitions, why wouldn't I support you?"

Don Albert was deeply moved, and tears slipped down his cheeks. He sighed, "It's Don Albert's fortune to have met Master Wade."

Charlie Wade smiled and said, “There’s no need for formalities. As I’ve said before, the most important thing for you now is to seize this opportunity, strike while the iron is hot, and work hard to maximize the benefits.”

After thinking for a moment, Don Albert said, “Master Wade, how about we consider this money your investment in Heaven Springs? I’ll give you 51% of the shares.”

Charlie Wade shook his head and replied, “This $50 million isn’t an investment from me; it’s a gift to you as startup capital. I’ve calculated that with $50 million, you can build a strong team, establish a complete brand, and open several branches in first-tier cities. Once your business is on the right track and performing well, you’ll have the option to raise funds independently or allow the Wade family to invest in you.

“At that time, I can use the money to purchase shares, helping you grow even faster. If you manage to take Heaven Springs public, like Haidilao Hotpot, the Wade family, as an early shareholder, will also profit significantly. Isn’t that how capital operations work?”

“As long as you’re willing to try and take the first step, everything is possible. But if you hesitate or procrastinate, success will definitely remain out of reach.”

Don Albert hesitated and said, “Master Wade, I understand what you’re saying, but I’m worried I don’t have the ability to succeed. If I mess things up, I won’t just waste your money—I’ll embarrass you as well.”

Charlie Wade smiled and said, “If Tawana hadn’t visited Heaven Springs, the chances of you failing might have been high. But now, with such a solid foundation, as long as you put in the effort, you won’t mess it up.”

He continued, “Don Albert, once the company goes public, it could have a market value of tens of billions of dollars. What’s fifty million dollars compared to that? If you make this happen, it will benefit both you and me. So from now on, stop hesitating and get started!”

Don Albert thought for a moment, then nodded firmly. “Master Wade, since you have such confidence in me, I will give it my all to make this a success!”

“That’s more like it!” Charlie Wade said with satisfaction. “Tawana will frequently perform in China in the future. As a half-Aurous Hill native, she’s grateful to the city, and I’ll make sure Aurous Hill is the first stop for her concerts here. Whenever she arrives, I’ll invite her to visit your Heaven Springs for support. If your branches are in cities where she’s performing, I’ll ensure she visits them as well. With her influence, you won’t have to worry about attracting traffic—just focus on doing your best.”

“Understood!” Don Albert replied enthusiastically. “Master Wade, your guidance means everything to me. I won’t let you down!”

Charlie Wade smiled, about to respond, when his phone rang.

He glanced at the screen and saw it was Steve Rothschild calling.

Answering the call, Charlie Wade smiled and asked, “Steve, what brings you to call me so early in the morning?”

Steve laughed and said, “Mr. Wade, I’ve just arrived in Aurous Hill, and this time, I’m not leaving anytime soon!”

“Again?” Charlie Wade chuckled and said, “You’ve been visiting quite often lately. When did you arrive? Why didn’t you let me know in advance?”

“Just landed!” Steve replied promptly. “I just got off the plane, and I have something important to tell you. This time, I’ve brought someone along with me.”

Charlie Wade asked curiously, “Who’s this person you’ve brought? Another relative from a collateral branch of your Rothschild family?”

“No, no!” Steve laughed. “The person I brought this time is Matt Finkelstein—the one who secretly approached Tawana a few days ago. I’ve already told him that from now on, wherever I go, he’ll follow.”

Charlie Wade laughed and said, “With him joining you, I imagine a lot of people in the U.S. are going to have sleepless nights.”

“Haha!” Steve laughed heartily. “Over the past few days, I’ve been asking him all sorts of questions. That group he was involved with really played dirty. Honestly, every one of them deserves to be locked up at your dog farm, Mr. Wade. Now that I’ve got my hands on their secrets, those bastards will definitely be shaking in their boots every time they see me.”

Charlie Wade said, “I’m at Heaven Springs right now. If you’re free, bring him over here.”

“Perfect!” Steve said eagerly. “I actually called to ask when you’d be available. I’ve been wanting to treat you to a meal!”

Charlie Wade replied, “Come to Heaven Springs. We’ll eat and talk here.”
