

The Amazing Son In Law / Super Hero Charlie Wade - Charlie Wade Chapter 7306

“Exactly,” charlie Wade replied with a smile. “That’s why Steve will also extend the invitations. With his influence, they won’t dare refuse. Once they arrive, bring Matt to the banquet as well. Seeing him there will leave them even more unnerved.”

charlie Wade continued, “I suggest hosting the banquet at Heaven Springs. Once everyone is seated, you can have them all ‘contribute’ a little. Ideally, they’ll leave Aurous Hill in tears. This way, not only will they abandon any ill intentions toward you, but they’ll also compensate you for the mental anguish they’ve caused.”

Tawanna gasped, “Mr. Wade... you’re suggesting I ask them for money?”

“Compensation!” charlie Wade said firmly. “They must pay you for the mental damage they’ve caused, and they owe me as well. I killed so many people in Japan, which was extremely stressful. Plus, when they come to Heaven Springs and sit down for dinner, shouldn’t they cover the cost? Heaven Springs is about to open a branch, so asking them to pay tens of thousands for the meal isn’t unreasonable.”

Tawana didn’t fully understand charlie Wade’s approach, but Steve grasped it immediately. He nodded and said, “Mr. Wade, those people know they’re in the wrong, so they’ll certainly agree to pay. With me involved, I’ll make sure they ‘lose some flesh.’”

Tawana, feeling uneasy, said, “Mr. Wade... I... I’m not really short on money. I’m making plenty now, and I don’t need their money...”

charlie Wade replied seriously, “You don’t get it. Spending money you’ve extorted is always more satisfying than spending your own.”

The day before Tawana’s first concert in Aurous Hill, many wealthy Americans and prominent figures suddenly received formal invitations from her team.

The invitation’s message was simple and direct. Tawana announced that she was holding her first solo concert in China and, to celebrate its success, had arranged a banquet at Aurous Hill’s Heaven Springs, inviting them to attend.

Every recipient of the invitation, without exception, was someone who had hoped for Tawana’s demise.

To them, Tawana’s boldness in sending the invitation was astonishing. Knowing they wanted her dead and still daring to invite them to a celebration banquet seemed like outright provocation.

After conferring privately, the wealthy and influential individuals agreed to ignore Tawana’s invitation.

However, to their surprise, they soon received another invitation—this time from the Rothschild family.

Steve Rothschild formally invited them in his own name to attend Tawana's celebration banquet in China.

This stunned the wealthy and influential individuals. None of them had anticipated that Steve, the second-in-command of the Rothschild family, would actually attend Tawana's celebration banquet!

Steve's earlier move to protect Matt Finkelstein had already left them deeply unsettled. Now, with Steve openly siding with Tawana, didn't this spell disaster for them?

Even if they didn't dare make a move in China, going there might very well mean being metaphorically skinned alive!

Tawana's first concert in Aurous Hill is fast approaching.

Over the past two days, the citizens of Aurous Hill have clearly felt Tawana's influence.

The city is noticeably busier. Hotels are fully booked, rental cars are completely unavailable, and the roads are significantly more congested, with traffic jams persisting throughout the day, not just during the usual rush hours.

Aurous Hill's renowned tourist attractions have also become crowded, filled with out-of-town and even international visitors taking photos and checking in at various spots.

Official reports indicate that Aurous Hill has welcomed approximately 400,000 to 500,000 out-of-town tourists in the last few days. Many more have already booked tickets and flights but have not yet arrived.

Initially, Charlie Wade was puzzled. With only 100,000 to 200,000 tickets sold for the four concerts combined, how could there be such an influx of tourists?

Later, he discovered online that many fans, despite being unable to purchase tickets, flocked to Aurous Hill simply to experience the atmosphere and express their admiration for their idol.

It's also reported that on the day of Tawana's concert, more people will gather outside the venue to listen than those attending inside.

Many fans are so devoted that they're willing to fly in just to spend the night outside the venue and listen to the performance from there.

This demonstrates the immense appeal of Tawana and the significant economic impact her popularity generates.

Jacob, who usually drives his Cullinan everywhere—even to buy a couple of onions from the vegetable market—has been frustrated by the traffic over the past two days.

On the morning of the first concert, Jacob vented at home, “This damn concert! The entire city is gridlocked. Normally, I’d get to work in 20 or 30 minutes. Now it takes over an hour!”

charlie Wade chuckled and suggested, “Dad, there are a lot of tourists these days. If driving is too much hassle, why not take the bus or subway instead?”

Jacob said gloomily, “I haven’t taken the bus or subway in ages. I feel like squeezing into the subway with those losers is beneath my status.”

charlie Wade smiled helplessly.

His father-in-law was a classic example of the saying: it’s easy to adapt to luxury, but hard to return to simplicity.

Once Jacob got used to driving a Cullinan, even offering him a Bentley Bentayga wouldn’t satisfy him.

Claire packed her things and prepared to leave. Before heading out, she asked charlie Wade, “Honey, what time should we head to the venue this afternoon?”

charlie Wade replied casually, “Up to you. The concert starts at 7:30 and ends at 10:30. I’ll go early to check the Feng Shui and offer any necessary guidance.”

Claire thought for a moment and said, “Then I’ll aim to get there around 4 or 5 o’clock. I’ll call you when I’m close, so you can come to pick me up.”

“No problem,” charlie Wade agreed. Then he asked, “How are you getting to the company?”

Claire said, “I’ll grab a shared bike. With the traffic now, biking is much faster than driving.”

charlie Wade, concerned, said, “It’s a bit cold today. Make sure you dress warmly and stay safe while riding.”

Claire nodded. “Don’t worry, I’ll be fine.”

She then turned to Jacob and asked, “Dad, want to ride a bike with me?”

Jacob quickly shook his head. “No way. I’d rather squeeze into the subway. At least it’s warm, even if it’s crowded.”

Claire chuckled and asked, “Do you want to leave together?”

“Sure,” Jacob replied, putting down the Cullinan keys to change his shoes and head out.

Before leaving, Jacob turned back and slipped the Cullinan keys into his pocket before heading out.

charlie Wade, curious, assumed his father-in-law had changed his mind and was going to drive after all. Looking out the window, he saw Jacob walking out of the courtyard with Claire instead.

Puzzled, charlie Wade wondered why his father-in-law went back for the car keys if he wasn’t driving.

Then, noticing how Jacob dangled the keys on his belt loop, it became clear: even if he couldn’t drive the Cullinan, carrying the keys was enough to show off.

Seeing this, charlie Wade could only sigh inwardly: Classic you...

Not long after, charlie Wade left home as well.

He also rented a shared bike and rode to the Olympic Center.

It wasn’t Feng Shui that he truly cared about regarding Tawana’s concert. The main reason for his visit was that the event was exclusively sponsored by Bruce Automobile. charlie Wade wanted to ensure there were no safety concerns at the venue, particularly as the audience began arriving in the afternoon.

With many people holding high-priced tickets, ticket and identity verification would be critical. Tight security and proper checks could eliminate opportunities for scalpers and resellers. charlie Wade wanted to personally observe how this process was handled.

When he arrived at the Olympic Center, the area outside the venue was already teeming with people.

He couldn’t understand why such a massive crowd had gathered so early, considering the show wouldn’t begin until the evening.

After making his way through the staff entrance and entering the venue, Tawana’s agent greeted him and led him to the performance area.

The stage was fully constructed by this time. It featured a T-shaped design, and the background extended nearly to the ceiling of the entire venue. The towering backdrop was actually an assembled front LCD screen.

Tawana stood at the front of the elevated platform. The on-site camera captured her full-body image, projecting it onto the massive LCD screen behind her. On the screen, she appeared like a towering mecha from a science fiction movie, dozens of meters tall.

A large group of staff members communicated with Tawana through intercoms. She didn't use a microphone but relied on the intercom clipped to her waist to confirm positions and other details with the crew.

The agent turned to charlie Wade with a smile and said, "The fans outside are incredibly excited. Earlier, just testing the microphone by saying 'check' caused the fans to erupt in cheers. The noise was so loud that it made it difficult for us to hear each other. We don't dare to transmit any sound through the venue's system right now."

charlie Wade smiled and replied, "That's understandable. This is Tawana's first concert in China, so it's a significant moment for her fans. I was surprised, too, when I arrived earlier and saw so many people already gathered here. They must be exhausted, but they all seem so happy. That's the power of an idol."

The agent nodded and asked, "Mr. Wade, would you like to stay here or head backstage to rest? Mr. Kennedy is back there."

The "Mr. Kennedy" the agent referred to was Trevor Kennedy, Tawana's boyfriend.

charlie Wade replied without hesitation, "You go ahead with your work; don't worry about me. I'll just stay here."

The agent handed him two badges and explained, "Mr. Wade, these badges are exclusive to special consultants. They contain anti-counterfeiting chips, allowing you and your wife to access any area of the venue freely. They're valid not only for today's concert but for the next 19 concerts in this tour as well."

charlie Wade took the badges with a smile and said, "Thank you."

The agent added, "If you need more badges, let me know, and I'll arrange them for you. If there are any issues with these, just inform me, and I'll replace them while invalidating the old ones."

"Understood," charlie Wade replied.
