

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7386

The phrase “plastic surgery face” or the idea that someone’s cosmetic work has been “ruined” stems from the irreversible damage caused by excessive procedures.

But now, charlie Wade was offering a way to reverse aging by twenty years with just one Rejuvenation Pill. The implications were nothing short of extraordinary.

This was, without a doubt, the most advanced form of medical beauty in the world—nothing else could compare.

However, when Angie considered that a single Rejuvenation Pill was worth hundreds of billions of dollars, she didn’t dare to show any expectation.

After all, it was simply too expensive.

So expensive, in fact, that even thinking about accepting it felt excessive.

At that moment, Orrin sun spoke up, “charlie, you already saved my life once, and I am deeply grateful. How can we possibly accept such a priceless gift from you now? You should keep these two Rejuvenation Pills for the future—they could be of great use to you!”

charlie Wade responded earnestly, “Uncle sun, the reason Rejuvenation Pills fetch such astronomical prices is because they are so rare. At an auction, there’s usually only one available, which naturally drives the price up.”

He paused briefly before continuing, “But if there were 10 or 20 Rejuvenation Pills up for auction at the same time, their value would drop significantly. Once they lose their scarcity, people won’t fight so desperately to obtain them.”

With a smile, charlie Wade added, “For me, Rejuvenation Pills aren’t a finite resource that disappears once used. If I want more, I can have more. The only reason I don’t mass-produce them now is that I simply choose not to. So please, don’t stand on ceremony—just accept these two pills!”

Orrin sun waved his hands repeatedly, insisting, “That won’t do, charlie. You have already shown great kindness to our family. No matter what, we can’t accept such an expensive gift.”

charlie Wade replied seriously, “Uncle sun, if you say that, you’re being too formal. To me, you and Aunt Angie hold the same status as my own parents. So these pills aren’t a mere gift—I’m honoring you both as a junior should. This is my filial duty. You wouldn’t refuse that, would you?”

At this moment, Stefanie sun was filled with excitement.

Unlike her parents, who felt indebted to charlie Wade and were too embarrassed to accept such a costly gift, she had a different perspective altogether.

But Stefanie sun had long considered herself to belong to charlie Wade. She was his, so why should she be reserved with him?

Besides, as their daughter, she naturally wished for her parents to remain healthy and youthful forever.

How could she allow them to refuse such an incredible opportunity?

With this in mind, she immediately said, “Dad, Mom, Brother charlie Wade is giving you this gift out of kindness. You should accept it with gratitude and thank him properly. Why be so formal about it?”

Orrin sun hesitated, looking conflicted. “Oh, you silly girl, you don’t understand how valuable these Rejuvenation Pills are! We can’t just accept them so casually.”

Without another word, Stefanie sun sprang to her feet, took the two pills in her hands, and firmly placed one in each of her parents’ hands. With a serious expression and an unquestionable tone, she declared, “Dad, Mom! Just think of these two Rejuvenation Pills as Brother charlie Wade’s betrothal gift to you both in advance for marrying me. If you won’t even accept the betrothal gift, how do you expect to marry off your daughter in the future?”

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7387

Stefanie sun referred to the Rejuvenation Pill as a betrothal gift, leaving the couple momentarily stunned.

charlie Wade, on the other hand, felt a bit awkward.

However, given the circumstances, he knew there was no way to explain, let alone correct, Stefanie sun’s statement.

If he remained silent, the couple would accept the Rejuvenation Pill without hesitation, making it a relatively acceptable temporary solution.

As for the marriage agreement, charlie Wade felt his only option was to keep delaying it. At that moment, he felt like an ostrich burying its head in the sand—escaping rather than facing a situation he couldn’t resolve.

The couple turned to look at charlie Wade. Seeing that he neither objected nor spoke, they felt somewhat reassured.

They understood his mindset and situation. Publicly acknowledging his engagement to Stefanie sun was still a difficult step for him.

For now, his silence—neither denying nor refuting Stefanie sun’s words—was already a rare concession.

Noticing her parents’ softened stance, Stefanie sun seized the opportunity and urged, “Dad, Mom, the Rejuvenation Pill is a token of charlie Wade’s goodwill. You should accept it and take it immediately. Don’t store it away—this pill is priceless and holds immense value to some people. Keeping it could create unnecessary risks.”

To Stefanie sun, her greatest concern was her parents’ well-being and charlie Wade.

Seeing her parents take the Rejuvenation Pill would bring her immense joy. Not only would it enhance their health, but it would also improve their quality of life.

However, if they accepted the pill but hesitated to use it, it would become an uncertain risk rather than a blessing.

If someone with ill intentions learned about the Rejuvenation Pills, they might take extreme risks to obtain them, putting her parents in great danger.

Although Stefanie sun was confident that her parents wouldn’t use the pills for profit, if they fell into the wrong hands and were exploited for financial gain, it could have serious negative consequences for charlie Wade.

charlie Wade was able to auction a Rejuvenation Pill for hundreds of billions of dollars due to its extreme rarity. If two more pills appeared on the market, it would undoubtedly disrupt its exclusivity and devalue it.

To Stefanie sun, the best solution was for her parents to accept the Rejuvenation Pills and take them immediately.

Additionally, doing so might also ease their eagerness to push charlie Wade into marriage, allowing him some breathing room.

Angie hesitated, unsure how to handle such an important decision. She glanced at her husband for guidance.

Orrin sun remained deep in thought for a long time before finally nodding and saying, “Since this is charlie’s intention, we must not let him down. Besides, the Rejuvenation Pill holds great significance for us. If we can extend our lives, we can not only enjoy more good years but also spend more time with you, ensuring you won’t feel lonely.”

With that, he picked up one of the pills and turned to his wife. “Angie, this pill is priceless. We must not let it go to waste or become a liability. Let’s follow charlie and Stefanie’s advice and take it.”

Angie gently nodded.

For her, the Rejuvenation Pill meant a chance to regain youth, improve her health, and live longer. For their family, it also meant she could spend more time with her husband, daughter, and charlie Wade—their future son-in-law.

She naturally wanted to take the pill, but its immense value made her hesitant to accept it without feeling deserving.

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7388

However, since her daughter insisted and charlie Wade offered no objections, she decided to fully embrace it as a betrothal gift.

The couple exchanged glances, each holding a pill in their hands before swallowing it together, their hearts filled with excitement.

Having shared a deep bond for so many years, the thought of gaining more than a decade together brought them immense joy.

Almost instantly after taking the Rejuvenation Pill, their appearance and physical condition underwent a dramatic transformation.

Angie had always maintained herself well, making it difficult to tell that she was over fifty.

Now, after taking the pill, she radiated youthful energy, appearing no older than thirty. The striking resemblance between her and Stefanie sun became even more apparent—they now looked more like sisters than mother and daughter.

However, the most remarkable change wasn’t just in their appearance but in the way their bodies felt. It was as if a heavy burden had been lifted, one that had accumulated over decades. Aging often comes gradually, making its weight feel normal over time, but the pill instantly erased the toll of the past twenty years, leaving them feeling weightless and revitalized.

Orrin sun stared in astonishment at his now much younger-looking wife, unaware that he himself had transformed into a man who appeared to be in his 30s.

Both were overwhelmed by the incredible changes in each other, and in that moment, they felt as if they had been transported back to the days when they first fell in love and started their family.

Tears welled up in Angie's eyes as she looked at her husband, her voice trembling with emotion. "Husband, you look so much younger... just like when Stefanie was born."

Orrin sun, equally moved, responded, "Wife, so do you! You don't look like Stefanie's mother—you look like her sister."

Angie gently touched her smooth, firm skin in amazement. "Have I changed that much? If I go out and run into friends and acquaintances, how will I explain this?"

Orrin sun smiled and said, "Just tell them we tried a new medical beauty treatment, but it's still under a confidentiality agreement and hasn't been officially released yet."

Angie hesitated and asked, "Will they believe that? What if they want to try it themselves or ask us for a contact?"

Orrin sun replied nonchalantly, "Whether they believe it or not is their concern. If they do, we can simply say we signed a confidentiality agreement and can't disclose any details. If they don't believe it, what can they do? At our age, we should live for ourselves and our children, not worry about what others think."

Angie felt much more at ease and smiled. "You always see things more clearly than I do."

At that moment, Orrin sun turned to charlie Wade and sighed. "charlie, there's no need for me to thank you with empty words. Uncle sun won't say anything formal."

charlie Wade nodded with a smile. "Uncle sun, no need for politeness between us."

Stefanie sun chimed in, "We're family—why be so formal?"

Orrin sun then asked charlie Wade with some concern, "charlie, if your grandfather asks about me tonight, what should I say?"

He knew that Lord Wade had always longed for a Rejuvenation Pill.

Yet, despite being charlie Wade's grandfather, he had never received a full pill from him.

charlie Wade clearly held some resentment toward the old man. Although much of it had faded over the past two years, it hadn't completely disappeared.

charlie Wade didn't shy away from the topic and smiled. "Uncle sun, the moment he sees you, he'll understand everything without a word."

Then, he continued, “My grandfather isn’t a bad person, but he hasn’t always been good to me. He made some mistakes in the past, and while I don’t completely shut him out, I also don’t want to raise his expectations too much. But don’t worry, Uncle sun—I have my own plans.”

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7389

In the afternoon, charlie Wade arrived at the Wade family home with Stefanie sun and her parents.

charlie Wade’s aunt, Cynthia Wade, had been busy all day preparing for the family dinner.

Ever since charlie Wade had defeated Abbas at Yeling Mountain, Cynthia Wade had been searching for an opportunity to mend her relationship with her nephew. Today provided the perfect chance to showcase her capabilities, so she spared no effort in making the evening a success.

As the only second-generation Wade family member invited, she took great pride in the occasion. If she could establish herself among charlie Wade’s father’s generation, she might gain greater access to the family’s resources in the future.

After all, charlie Wade had long been disappointed with his uncles and cousins, making this a crucial opportunity for her to solidify her position.

Lord Wade, who had always doted on his daughter, was no longer the head of the Wade family, but he still wished to support Cynthia Wade in her endeavors.

Once the lavish family dinner was ready, charlie Wade drove a business car to the Wade family home with Stefanie sun, while Orrin sun and his wife followed in another vehicle.

As their cars entered the estate, Cynthia Wade supported the elderly patriarch as they made their way to greet the guests in the courtyard.

Though the old man was in good health and didn’t need assistance, Cynthia Wade was eager to present an image of a devoted daughter and a harmonious family in front of charlie Wade and the Sun family.

Not only that, but the usually stern-faced Cynthia Wade put on an eager, almost exaggerated smile, so much so that her expression seemed slightly stiff from maintaining it.

As charlie Wade stopped the car and stepped out with Stefanie sun, Cynthia Wade quickly helped the old man forward. The moment she saw them, she greeted them warmly.

“Ah, charlie is here! And Stefanie , too!” she said enthusiastically.

charlie Wade nodded slightly, while Stefanie sun smiled sweetly and greeted her, “Hello, Aunt wade!”

Having been close to the Wade family since childhood, Stefanie sun had always followed charlie Wade’s lead in addressing them. She called the old patriarch “Grandpa wade” and referred to charlie Wade’s uncles and aunts the same way he did.

Smiling warmly, Cynthia Wade said to Stefanie sun, “Stefanie , I’ve been looking forward to the day you call me ‘Aunt’ directly. ‘Aunt wade’ sounds so distant!”

Her words made Stefanie sun blush slightly.

For now, since she was still following charlie Wade’s way of addressing people, she had to include their surname. Only after they were truly married could she drop the formality and simply call her “Aunt.”

charlie Wade, already accustomed to the subtle pressures from both the Ye and sun families, remained indifferent. Instead of responding, he turned his attention to the Rolls-Royce behind him.

Orrin sun pulled up beside charlie Wade’s business car and stepped out with his wife.

“Uncle wade, Cynthia ,” Orrin sun greeted them with a friendly smile.

Lord Wade and Cynthia Wade, father and daughter, were momentarily speechless as they looked at the couple.

It was impossible not to notice—the two appeared strikingly youthful.

They looked like a couple in their early 30s, with well-maintained physiques and an air of elegance. One could easily mistake them for celebrities.

Cynthia Wade was taken aback. Angie was the same age as her, yet she looked remarkably well-preserved. How had she managed it?

Lord Wade, however, quickly grasped the truth.

His heart tightened with envy as he thought, It seems the sun couple have already taken the Rejuvenation Pill. And judging by their appearance, it must have been a full dose—not just half a pill.

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7390

For the longest time, he had dreamed of obtaining the Rejuvenation Pill himself. Despite all his efforts to impress charlie Wade, his wish had yet to be fulfilled.

Yet all he had managed to obtain at the auction was half a pill. And at his age, even that had been hard to come by.

Meanwhile, Orrin sun and Angie were only in their early fifties, yet they had each received a whole Rejuvenation Pill.

It wasn't just unfair—it was unnecessary.

charlie Wade had only given him half a pill when he was on the verge of death. Yet Orrin sun and his wife, who had never faced such dire circumstances, were generously treated by charlie Wade time and time again.

The more he thought about it, the more frustrated Lord Wade felt.

However, he didn't dare reveal his disappointment in front of charlie Wade. Forcing a smile, he greeted them warmly. "Ah, Orrin sun, Angie, the two of you have maintained yourselves so well! You don't look middle-aged at all—you look as young as ever."

Cynthia Wade, full of envy, quickly approached Angie and asked with a smile, "Angie, what's your secret? How do you and Brother sun maintain your looks? Teach me! I spend a fortune on skincare and treatments all year round, but my results are nowhere near yours."

For a moment, Angie felt awkward, unsure of how to respond.

She and her husband had previously agreed that if anyone asked, they would attribute their transformation to an exclusive, unreleased medical beauty treatment to deflect suspicion.

But this time, it was charlie Wade's aunt asking, and charlie Wade himself was standing right there. Lying in front of him didn't seem like the best idea.

She hesitated before saying awkwardly, "Well... this... it's not something that can be explained in just a sentence or two..."

Cynthia Wade quickly interjected, "Oh, come on! If you can't say it outright, at least give me a contact! I don't care how much it costs—I'll pay anything, as long as I can achieve the same results!"

Lord Wade sighed inwardly. Cynthia , Cynthia ... if only you knew how priceless the Rejuvenation Pill is. If you did, you would never say such a thing. Even if you sold the entire Wade family, you might only be able to afford one.

So, he discreetly signaled to Cynthia Wade with a wink, urging her to stop asking questions. Then, using his fingers, he lightly traced the words Rejuvenation Pill on the back of her hand.

The moment Cynthia Wade realized what he had written, she was stunned.

She was well aware of the Rejuvenation Pill—her father had mentioned it to her before.

At the auction, the An family had offered more than 300 billion US dollars for it, yet they still failed to secure one.

A wave of shock surged through her. How could the Sun family possibly afford something like this? Even the Wade family couldn't afford such a miraculous medicine, yet the Gu couple had both taken it.

But as her gaze shifted to Charlie Wade, who stood quietly to the side, she immediately understood.

The Sun family itself likely didn't have the financial power to obtain the Rejuvenation Pill—but Charlie Wade had always treated them exceptionally well. It was now obvious that he must have gifted it to them.

At this realization, Cynthia Wade felt a tinge of disappointment.

As Charlie Wade's aunt, she should have been one of the closest people to him.

Yet, she had been too arrogant in the past, even offending him in Jinling, which had strained their relationship. Now, it seemed her chances of ever obtaining a Rejuvenation Pill were slim.

A sense of regret washed over her. If only I had known back then how powerful my nephew would become, why did I insist on acting so superior in front of him and his mother?

Charlie Wade, noticing the jealousy in both his grandfather and aunt, simply smiled and said calmly, "Grandpa, Aunt, let's not stand around chatting in the yard—it's quite cold. Let's head inside and talk."
